PREFACE TO THE SECOND EDITION.

The first edition of this book was published in May 1933 and was exhausted within a couple of years. Owing to limited time at my disposal I could not bring out the second edition earlier, although there was a pressing demand for the same. I beg to take the opportunity of expressing my sincere gratitude to the members of the Bench and the Bar and the Police Officers all over British India and Native States for their warm appreciation of the humble work.

When I published the first edition, it was my desire that, should a second edition of the work be ever called for, I should present it in a much more comprehensive form.

The warm reception accorded to the first edition and hundreds of unsolicited testimonials received by me, encouraged me to make the book as complete an Encyclopædia of Criminal Law as possible.

The chief difficulty of how to find the law in an easy manner was solved in the first edition. The arrangement of the book has been extolled by our generous readers, and the book has been described by some as "Veritable Teacher."

The Case Law has now been brought up-to-date.

The chief characteristic of the present edition is the addition of numerous headings pertaining to Medical Jurisprudence. Copious references from Medical Jurisprudence by Taylor, Modi, Ryan, Lyon, etc., under the headings of age, hanging, identification, suffocation, rape, unnatural offence, putrefaction, poison, strangulation, wound, etc., have been given. Extracts from Will's Circumstantial Evidence, Criminal Investigation by Dr. Hans Gross (The father of Criminology) and Law of Evidence by Best, Wigmore, Taylor, Plippsen, Woodroffe, Monir, etc., have been given in extenso under appropriate headings and sub-headings.

The books have been thoroughly revised and recast.

If any one of my numerous readers will be kind enough to point out any omission or will make any definite suggestion for improvement, the criticism or the suggestion shall be thankfully received and carefully considered.

I must take this opportunity of most respectfully expressing my sense of immense gratitude to the Hon'ble Mr. Justice Jai Lal for his kindly writing foreword to the work and to Hon'ble Sir Douglas Young, Chief Justice, Lahore High Court, for his kind permission to dedicate this humble work to His Lordship.

My thanks are also due to Messrs. Harbans Lal Chopra, M.A., LL.B., Member, Lahore and M. L. Puri for having kindly assisted me in going through the proofs.

PREFACE TO THE FIRST EDITION.

The author of this humble work conceived the idea some twelve years back of presenting the legal profession a Ready Referencer and a consolidated and complete law on every point.

The work of this nature, on the ambitious lines proposed by the author, made an extremely heavy demand on his limited spare time.

The present work has been cast on lines different from its several predecessors available in the market and it has been endeavoured to present it in a manner as to elucidate the law in its various aspects and to make it more easily intelligible. It would be no exaggeration to say that it is an Encyclopaedia of Criminal law.

The subject and sub-headings given in the book would constitute an unerring guide to find the required reference in a breath of time. With bare Act and this work in hand, a lawyer can be master of Criminal law. The sectional index is given at the end to offer greater facility to the readers to find out the required law point.

The Courts would find this work an excellent compendium in which all knotty and intricate questions, which frequently crop up during the course of Criminal trial have been solved with great lucidity and clearness. A layman can also supplement his knowledge of law on each and every point by reference to this book. I hope, the book will be found very useful and indispensable to the members of the Bench and the Bar, the Police and the public.

Criminal Practice

The Hon'ble Sir C. C. Ghose, Kt., Acting Chief Justice of Bengal.

I have had occasion to use your book "Criminal Practice" within the last few days and I am able to say that in my opinion you have turned out a most conscientious piece of work. Your industry and ability in preparing a work of this description deserve the widest recognition and I trust that your book will have a large and a ready sale. You have collected under appropriate heads the various points which strike the busy practitioner engaged in Criminal work. Your notes are concise and to the point and I further observe that many points have been noted by you which are not to be found in the standard Editions of the Criminal Procedure Code.

I wish you all success.

The Hon'ble Sir S. M. Sulaiman, Kt., M.A., LL.D.,
Chief Justice, Allahabad High Court.

Your book "Criminal Practice" is an exhaustive treatise on the Criminal case law. The various subjects and their sub-heads have been so carefully arranged that they furnish an easy reference to any point of law requiring consideration. The work must have involved a considerable amount of labour and time of yours and I am sure it will be found useful to the legal profession.

The Hon'ble Mr. Justice Jai Lal, R. B., B.A., Judge, High Court, Lahore.

"The book is bound to be useful to the Bench and the Bar."

The Hon'ble Mr. Justice S. S. Patkar, Judge, High Court, Bombay.

"Criminal Practice" is a digest of Criminal law and presents in a compendious form the law on all the important questions arising in Criminal cases. The alphabetical arrangement of the different topics is likely to facilitate ready reference. The book will be found useful to the judiciary and the legal profession in dealing with Criminal cases.

The Hon'ble Mr. Justice Oma Shankar Bajpai, Judge, High Court, Allahabad.

I have gone through portions of Prem's Criminal Practice and I found the book quite useful. The author has departed from the orthodox method of grouping cases section-wise and has followed better method of grouping cases subject-wise. The digest is fairly exhaustive and accurate and in my opinion Mr. Daulat Ram Prem has supplied a long-felt want for an exclusive Criminal digest which is handy and yet so serviceable. I am sure the book will be found useful both by the Bar and the Bench.

R. S. Topan Ram, P. C. S. (Retd.), Chief Judge, Jodhpur.

It contains copious references on all the necessary topics of the Criminal Law and Procedure. He seems to have taken great and careful pains in preparing the book. It is very useful and handy and should be in the hands of the presiding officers of Criminal Courts, members of the Bar and the Police.

B. R. Puri, Esq., M.L.A., Advocate, High Court, Lahore.

Allow me to congratulate you on the excellent publication which you have brought out. It is an exhaustive work which shows a great deal of labour. For a criminal lawyer the book appears to me to be almost indispensable. The printing and the get up of the book is all that is desired.

I wish the publication every success which I have no doubt it amply deserves.

Sir Tej Bahadur Sapru, K.C.S.I., Advocate, Allahabad.

I have been much impressed with the pains you have taken over collecting and arranging the material. In my opinion it should prove to be very useful to a busy practitioner who wants to find out easily the relevant authorities on any particular subject.

Judicial Member, Council of Administration, Faridkot State.

Your Criminal Practice is a very useful publication and has proved a great help to me.

Review by Criminal Law Journal and Indian Cases.

Mr. D. R. Prem's Criminal Practice is an exhaustive Compendium of the Criminal Law and procedure of India on all important questions arising in criminal cases. Nearly a thousand closely printed pages with exhaustive references speak eloquently to the indelible industry and perseverance of the compiler. And there is the testimony of the Hon'ble Mr. Justice Jai Lal of the Lahore High Court as to the generally copious and correct nature of the references. The arrangement of headings and sub-headings is satisfactory. The author has arranged the heading and the sub-headings according to the subject dealt with thus affording increased facility to the busy lawyer. The sectional index is given at the end.

Review by All India Reporter.

The book has been written after great pains. The references are copious and the book would be of much use both to the Bench and the Bar. The headings and sub-headings would facilitate the work of lawyers to trace any decision on the particular subject in a very short time. The sectional index at the end would be of much use to find out the heading under which the case is digested from the subject. The book would be welcomed by the legal profession.

The Hon'ble Sir B. B. Ghose, Kt., Law Member, Government of India.

Your treatment of the book has been entirely different from those of other similar books. It shows your industry and thoughtfulness to make the book useful to the profession. Your references are full and they seem to have been carefully analysed and classified. I am sure the book will receive recognition which is undoubtedly due to it.

Review by Indian Criminal Reports.

The headings and sub-headings are well chosen and suggestive and cross references are exhaustive. References to the relevant sections of the Statute given in the bracket are very useful. The radio decidendi is stated briefly and to the point. The printing and get up are good. A nice, helpful and magnificent work for the good of the profession.

Dayaram K. Ajwani, B.A., LL.B., Khairpur.

"Criminal Practice" has been of great help to me and I am now of opinion that the book is indispensable to a criminal pleader.

Dewan Harish Chandra Gupta, B.A., LL. B., Pleader, Rawalpindi.

I am using "Mr. Daulat Ram Prem's Criminal Practice" as a book of reference for over a year. I have always found it to be a never failing and time saving guide. The learned author has arranged the rulings in a simple and lucid style, under most appropriate headings. The book is bound to be very useful both to the Bench and the Bar. The author is to be congratulated on his successful efforts. The paper, print, binding and the general get up of the book are also very superior. Every criminal lawyer should have this book under his pillow.

"Justice", Lahore.

There is no exaggeration if we say that by compiling the book under review, the author has presented the legal profession with an encyclopaedia of Criminal Law. It is the first book of its kind and is a standard work on the subject. It is a departure from the old system of grouping case law under sections of the Acts. It can be used as a legal dictionary on account of its excellent alphabetical arrangement. The author has turned out a conscientious piece of work. He has collected under appropriate heads and sub-heads the various points which facilitate the work of a busy lawyer to trace case law on the particular subject in a very short time. The sectional index at the end is of much use. The work is a clear proof of author's industry and his honest desire to make the Criminal Law and presents in a compendious form the law on almost all the important questions that arise in a criminal trial. The book seems to be indispensable for criminal lawyers.

The Malayan Law Journal, Singapore.

There is no doubt that the Criminal Practice and Extradition Manual occupy an important place among the standard publications on Criminal Law. In our opinion these works will find a ready sale.

M. Noor-ul-Hoda, Advocate, Arrah.

I have used Prem's Criminal Practice for some time now and I consider that it is quite useful and a distinct improvement on the Criminal digests we have in the market.

CRIMINAL PRACTICE

A

ABANDONMENT OF CHILD.—S. 317, Penal Code.

—1. Essentials and Evidence.

1. Concealing an illegitimate child in a bush is abandonment. 24 I. C. 837.
2. Abandoning an illegitimate new born child 200 yards from the village, which died, amounts to abandonment. 23 P. R. 1866, 24 M. 662, 1 Weir 332.
3. Abstaining from giving nourishment to child and keeping custody is not abandonment. 18 P. R. 1870.
4. Mere neglect or temporary abandonment is not sufficient. 55 I. C. 205.
5. Actual harm to the child is immaterial. 24 M. 662.
6. Exposure or leaving must be in any place. If the child is left with another wholly unable to take care of it, S. 317 does not apply. 18 A. 364, 24 M. 662 Dist.
7. Mother of an illegitimate child gave the new born child to her sister, who left it in the compartment of train. Both were guilty. 41 B. 152.
8. Where a mother of two children left her husband's house owing to ill-treatment, she is not guilty under S. 317. 4 P. R. 1879 Cr., 5 P. R. 1878 Cr.
9. Person having the care of the child for the time being and abandoning it is guilty. 37 I. C. 306.

—2. Intention.

1. Intention is the gist of the offence. 33 P. R. 1872, 5 P. R. 1878, 18 A. 364.
2. Exposing or leaving the child in any place must be with the intention of wholly abandoning it. 55 I. C. 205.
3. The only intention to complete the offence is of wholly abandoning the child. 1 Weir 332.

—3. Procedure.

If the abandoned child dies, conviction must be for murder. 2 A. 349.

—4. Sentence.

A young girl of 18 put her illegitimate child naked in a hole in a brick kiln and which was found covered with ants. Held, S. 562, Cr. P. C., should not be applied and High Court sentenced her to 2 years' rigorous imprisonment. 1935 Pesh. 48 = 1935 Cr. C. 349.

ABATEMENT :—See Death of Complainant, Absence of Complainant.

—1. of Appeal—S. 431, Cr. P. C.

1. An appeal abates on the death of appellant except one against fine. 16 P. R. 1878 Cr., 6 P. R. 1893 Cr., 2 B. 564, 19 B. 714. See 24 P. R. 1908; 8 P. R. 1919.
2. But High Court can examine the record of the case with a view to revision and rectification. 2 B. 564.
3. After the death of appellant, the question of refund of fine to the legal representative was referred by the High Court to the Local Government for redress. 19 B. 714.

Abatement.—(concl'd.)

—2. of Prosecution.

1. On the death of complainant criminal proceedings under S. 323, I. P. C., do not abate. 1924 A. 666 (2)=81 I. C. 719, 44 M. 417, 2 L. 27=1922 L. 227, 4 L. 7 26 P. R. 1917 and 25 P. R. 1919 overruled.
2. But a defamation case under S. 500, I. P. C. abates. 10 P. R. 1908 Cr.=7 Cr. L. J. 290=112 P. L. R. 1908.
3. In summons cases proceedings abate on the death of complainant. 51 M. 339. See 93 I. C. 891. 1932 Nag. 72=137 I. C. 91=33 Cr. L. J. 407=28 N. L. R. 49.
4. A son cannot be made party in place of deceased father. 21 C. 404.
5. In non-cognizable cases Magistrate can allow the complaint to continue by a proper complainant, if the original complainant dies. 93 I. C. 891=1926 B. 178, 28 Bom L. R. 288=27 Cr. L. J. 491.
6. If a servant filed a complaint on behalf of his master another complainant can be substituted, if he dies. 1926 B. 178=93 I. C. 891=27 Cr. L. J. 491, 18 C. W. N. 1211.
7. Criminal proceedings under S. 498, I. P. C., do not abate on the death of the husband. S. 89 of the Probate and Administration Act does not apply to criminal prosecution. 4 L. 7=1924 L. 72=71 I. C. 77, 44 M. 417.
8. A personal action dies with the person. Wharton's Law Lexicon, P. 27.

—3. of Revision :—

1. Revision against an order under S. 250, Cr. P. C., does not abate on petitioner's death. 24 P. R. 1908 Cr. See 6 P. R. 1893 Cr.
2. Revision against a sentence of fine does not abate. 8 P. R. 1919 Cr. 1936 A. 313.
3. Revision against an order under S. 145, Cr. P. C., abates on the death of the petitioner. 23 P. R. 1919 Cr.

ABDUCTION :—Ss. 362-364-365-366-369, I. P. C.

—1. Abetment of.

1. A woman cannot abet her own abduction. 40 P. R. 1866 Cr., 11 P. R. 1883 Cr., 6 P. R. 1871 Cr., 14 P. R. 1875 Cr., 5 P. R. 1871 Cr.
2. A person whose tonga is used for abducting a girl is only accessory after the fact and is not guilty unless a previous conspiracy is proved. 1930 L. 163=31 Cr. L. J. 131.
3. A young girl of 13 helping her brother should not be convicted of abetment. 13 P. R. 1916 Cr.
4. If persons who were present at the time of abduction did not do any overt act in furtherance of the act of kidnapping, they are not guilty. 1932 Oudh 771.
5. If a husband sells wife for immoral purpose to accused proof of charge of abduction of offence under S. 366 against accused is permissible if there was bargain before, in pursuance of which the girl was abducted. 28 Cr. L. J. 108=97 I. C. 236.

—2. Attempt at.

Accused came on the roof of a house and awakening a woman sleeping, asked her to accompany them. On her refusal they lifted her. She raised an alarm and accused dropping her ran away. Held it amounted to attempt to abduct. 1925 L. 512=86 I. C. 1007=26 Cr. L. J. 943=26 P. L. R. 119.

—3. Burden of Proof.

1. It is a justifiable presumption that when a woman is abducted or kidnapped, it is with one or other of the intents specified in S. 366. It is for the accused to explain away incriminating circumstances. 1930 L. 163=120 I. C. 605=31 Cr. L. J. 131, 123 I. C. 523. Contra 99 I. C. 121=1925 L. 184.
2. For a conviction under S. 366 it is not necessary to prove that woman was compelled to move from place to place. 1926 C. 329=27 Cr. L. J. 263.

3. Onus of proving age is on prosecution. 1931 L. 401=32 Cr. L. J. 1041.
4. If the accused pleads marriage, prosecution must prove that the woman was abducted with the intention of forcing or seducing her to illicit intercourse. 1934 Sind 119=151 I. C. 934.
- 4. By Mother or Father or Guardian. See Kidnapping—14.
A mother cannot have the custody of her minor children adversely to that of the father. If mother and accused take away minor from father in order to marry her against his wish, the accused is guilty. 1934 Oudh 89=35 Cr. L. J. 469=147 I. C. 670, 1925 C. 578=26 Cr. L. J. 290 and 8 C. 969 Rel. on, (1905) 1 Weir 348 Dist.
- 5. Charge.
 1. In case of a charge of abduction, notice of the charge of kidnapping is not a fair charge. When accused is charged with kidnapping only, the Judge should not leave the jury to convict the accused of abduction. 1927 C. 200, 117 I. C. 862=30 Cr. L. J. 857.
 2. An appellate Court cannot alter a charge under S. 376, I. P. C., into one under S. 366, I. P. C. 8 Bom. L. R. 120=3 Cr. L. J. 240.
 3. Where the accused was charged with "kidnapping or abduction" the charge was defective. 1927 C. 644=104 I. C. 245=28 Cr. L. J. 805.
 4. Accused charged under S. 366 can be convicted of rape. 1932 A. 580=141 I. C. 127=34 Cr. L. J. 100.
 5. Accused should be charged separately for kidnapping and abduction. But the omission in splitting up the whole thing into two parts will not vitiate trial in the absence of prejudice to accused. 1934 C. 85=35 Cr. L. J. 487=147 I. C. 882, 57 C. 1074=1930 C. 909 and 1927 C. 644=28 Cr. L. J. 805 Rel. on. 1933 C. 194 Ref. 1933 C. 563, 1927 C. 200, 1934 Pat. 170.
- 6. Concealing an abducted woman :—S. 368, I. P. C. See concealing an abducted woman.
- 7. Consent of abducted woman.
 1. If a grown up girl of 19 submits herself to be carried away and raped and does not complain even when left alone there is a presumption of consent. 1931 L. 401=133 I. C. 560=32 Cr. L. J. 1041.
 2. Where a married woman of 25 years was dissatisfied with her husband and there were circumstances to show that it was a case of elopement, conviction under S. 366 is not justified. 2 L. L. J. 536.
 3. Consent obtained by misrepresentation is no consent. 17 P. R. 1916 Cr.
 4. Where it was not likely that the girl herself eloped with some of the accused and on missing her the parents got up the story against her paramours, conviction under S. 366 is improper. 1925 L. 274=6 L. L. J. 622.
 5. S. 366 does not cover a case of elopement or removal of the girl with her consent. 42 B. 391, 2 L. L. J. 536, 1925 L. 274.
 6. Where a widow was removed by force and soon gave up resistance and accompanied the accused—her paramour willingly, the accused was not guilty. 72 I. C. 533=24 Cr. L. J. 421=1924 L. 218.
 7. A conviction under S. 366 is not bad for the reason that accused had intercourse with the woman before abduction. 1930 M. 980=129 I. C. 463.
 8. Where the abducted woman has voluntarily lived with the accused for a couple of months before abduction as his wife and whom the accused intended to marry, he was not guilty. 1924 L. 218=72 I. C. 533=24 Cr. L. J. 421.

14. A girl was led by false representation by accused to his house that he was a constable and would take her to a Police Station. Held it amounted to abduction. 1923 L. 158=73 I. C. 510=24 Cr. L. J. 622
15. Where a Hindu mother-in-law forced her minor daughter-in-law to marry a person against her will, she was guilty. 30 P. L. R. 573=1929 L. 713=1929 Cr. C. 305.
16. A Muhammadan girl of 10 years was married to accused against her will and without the consent of the guardian for marriage; the person marrying her is guilty. 26 Cr. L. J. 290=1925 C. 578=84 I. C. 434.
17. Where accused by promise of marriage induced a woman to leave her house but does not marry her, he is guilty. 4 A. L. J. 482=6 Cr. L. J. 9.
18. The most important witness in abduction case is the abducted woman herself and where she is not forthcoming and the other witnesses are not of a reliable type the prosecution evidence must be carefully scrutinized. 28 Cr. L. J. 277.
19. Where two girls under 16 years of age ran away from their house and a woman sheltered them with a view to prostitute themselves, she was guilty under S. 366. 34 A. 340=9 A. L. J. 307.
20. Abduction of woman with intent to compel her to marry another is an offence under S. 366. 45 C. 641, 2 C. W. N. 17.
21. A woman was caught hold of by accused who dragged her a short distance and was rescued by people. Held that in the absence of evidence of intention, the accused was not guilty under S. 366 but under S. 354 only. 109 I. C. 127=29 P. L. R. 444.
22. The inducement to leave must have for its object seduction by another person and not by the person who himself induces the person to leave. 1930 A. 497=125 I. C. 577.
23. A brother and sister under 14 years of age abducted a minor girl, whom the brother raped. The brother is guilty under S. 366 but the sister is innocent as she was only employed as a decoy duck and could not possess the intent specified. 13 P. R. 1916 Cr.
24. Seduction applies to first act of illicit intercourse. The act of seduction must be subsequent to kidnapping. 1932 A. 409=33 Cr. L. J. 669=54 All. 756.
25. Where a person was found at the door of a house and did no overt act, while the accused caught hold of woman's hand and kidnapped her, he is not guilty. 1933 Oudh 62=34 Cr. L. J. 377.
26. A girl abducted from Moradabad was found at Delhi. A constable on suspicion took her and her companion to Thana and made a report. Sub-Inspector of Delhi recorded her statement. The statement is inadmissible in evidence, as the Delhi Sub-Inspector had jurisdiction by virtue of Ss. 156 (1) and 181 (4) Cr. P. C. It fell under S. 162, Cr. P. C. 1933 A. 665
27. "Seduction" means persuading to have sexual intercourse. Mere fact of girl's previous unlawful intercourse is immaterial as she may have resumed purity at the time. 1933 C. 718. 1929 A. 270=30 Cr. L. J. 529. 9 Pat. 647=1929 Pat. 651, 57 C. 1074=1930 C. 209. Rel. on 54 A. 756 and 2 Cr. L. J. 476 not foll.

2. S. 109 does not apply to abetment of breach of by-law under a local Act. 1929 Rang. 75. See 24 C. W. N. 196.

—38. Out of British India.

1. A foreign subject, resident in foreign territory, instigating the commission of an offence which, in consequence, was committed in British territory, is not amenable to the jurisdiction of British Courts. 10 B. H. C. R. (Cr. C.) 356, 20 P. R. 1878.
2. S. 188 Cr. P. C. has no application when offence of abetment has been committed outside British India. 19 B. 105. See 24 B. 287.

—39. Presence of abettor.—S. 114 I. P. C. See—11.

1. To come within S. 114 I. P. C., the abetment must be complete apart from the presence of the abettor at the scene of offence. 106 I. C. 584=1927 M. 1115=29 Cr. L. J. 72, 42 C. 422, 1925 M. 364. 1932 L. 483=138 I. C. 191, 51 M. 263, 1933 Rang. 236, 1934 L. 813, 27 C. 566.
2. Where a person who abets the commission of an offence is present and helps in it, he is guilty of the offence and not merely of abetment except in a few cases like rape or bigamy where the person committing the offence alone can be guilty of the offence. 1927 M. 97=97 I. C. 958=27 Cr. L. J. 1198. 7 Rang. 329=118 I. C. 637, 1933 M. 123=34 Cr. L. J. 90.
3. S. 114 is evidentiary and not punitive. It applies to a case where a person abets the commission of an offence some time before and is again present at the time when offence is committed. 1925 P. C. 1=52 C. 197=85 I. C. 47, 97 I. C. 958=1927 M. 97, 1925 M. 364=82 I. C. 262.
4. The words of S. 397, I. P. C., are not such as to exclude the operation of Ss. 114 and 34 of the Code. 82 I. C. 45=25 Cr. L. J. 1181=1925 Nag. 136.
5. One accused not joining in attack with the same intention as the others. S. 114 cannot be applied. 1923 L. 170=5 L. L. J. 414.
6. Where a woman was at the time of murder sitting on a charpoy at a distance of eight yards and was urging the assassins to kill her victim, she is guilty under S. 302 read with S. 114. 27 P. L. R. 716=28 Cr. L. J. 85.
7. Decoying deceased into the clutches of murderers is abetment of murder. 65 I. C. 17=23 Cr. L. J. 481=1922 Oudh 202, 6 A. 509.
8. S. 114 resembles S. 34 in this, that it rather regulates procedure and punishment than creates an offence. 81 I. C. 353=1924 C. 257=25 Cr. L. J. 817.
9. Persons assisting an accused to commit murder whether by themselves assaulting the deceased or by preventing his friends from helping him are guilty of the same offence as the accused. If they merely go to the spot with some innocent intention and the accused suddenly commits a murder without their assent and possibly contrary to their wishes, they can be guilty of the offence, if any, which they themselves commit. 104 I. C. 342=1927 Oudh 321=26 Cr. L. J. 802.

3. Where a party summoned to appear at 11 A. M., appeared at that time but did not wait till 2 P. M. when the court commenced to sit, there is sufficient appearance, 1927 M. 393=99 I. C. 944.
4. If a complainant is present in another room of the court by mistake, the complaint should not be dismissed. 37 I. C. 312, 61 I. C. 59.
5. When particular place to appear is not specified, accused cannot be acquitted under S. 247, 1882 A. W. N. 229.
6. Complainant not appearing owing to non-service of notice and ignorance of the postponed date, cannot be said to be absent within the meaning of S. 247. 52 M. 695.
7. Non-appearance on a date that it was holiday is not a sound excuse and the magistrate must proceed under S. 247, 1923 M. 439=52 I. C. 885.

—3. Fresh trial. S. 403, Cr. P. C.

1. Acquittal under S. 247 for absence of complainant bars further trial. 1929 C. 189=116 I. C. 174, 34 M. 253, 1923 A. 360, 99 I. C. 855, 40 M. 976, 61 I. C. 59.
2. The Code does not make any distinction between acquittals after trial and acquittals under Ss. 247, 345, 494 Cr. P. C. at the initial stage of the case. 1921 Pat. 311=61 I. C. 59, 40 M. 976, 29 M. 126 Dist.
3. The word "tried" in S. 403 does not necessarily import a decision of any case on the merits. 99 I. C. 855, 1923 A. 360.
4. Accused cannot be tried for theft in case of acquittal under S. 247 for mischief under S. 426 on the same facts. 1923 C. 407=76 I. C. 293.
5. Where summons are issued to accused but the complainant does not appear even through summons have not been served, fresh complaint is barred under S. 403, Cr. P. C. 1935 C. 491=36 Cr. L. J. 1238.
6. Where the complainant is absent on a date not fixed for hearing 42 C. 365 or when he had notice of the adjourned date (1918 M. 1158) and being absent the accused was acquitted, the acquittal is nullity. But it must be set aside before the case can proceed. 1935 C. 491 (494)=36 Cr. L. J. 1238.
7. The fact that complainant mistook the date will not entitle him to bring fresh complaint if accused is acquitted under S. 247. 1934 L. 211 (2).

Absence of Complainant.—(contd.)

—4. Object.

The object of S. 247 is to prevent the complainant from being dilatory in prosecution of the case and if he is not present when the case is called on for hearing, the accused is entitled to acquittal. 49 M. 883=1926 M. 1009=96 I. C. 652.

—5. Procedure.

1. If a warrant case is tried as a summons case, complaint cannot be dismissed for absence of complainant. 28 C. 652, 28 C. 211.
2. But if summons case is tried as warrant case, the acquittal of accused for absence of complainant is legal. 1923 M. 439=72 I. C. 885=24 Cr. L. J. 469.
3. If the same transaction gives rise to two offences—one summons case and the other warrant case, the procedure of warrant case shall apply. 41 M. 727, 11 C. 91, 39 M. 503, 63 I. C. 619, 22 B. 711 (713).
4. The right to an order of acquittal accrues to an accused upon two conditions and is dependant firstly on the absence of the complainant and secondly on the court not adjourning the case. 1926 C. 102=87 I. C. 970, 1923 C. 725=77 I. C. 892.
5. S. 247 authorizes the court to adjourn the case to enable the complainant to appear but cannot dispense with his presence except when he is a public servant. 1926 L. 628=96 I. C. 878=27 Cr. L. J. 1022.
6. If the case is not taken up, accused cannot claim to be acquitted. 1926 C. 102.
7. Accused is not acquitted automatically for absence of complainant. 1923 C. 725.
8. A court which has acted under S. 247 has no power suo motu to restore the case and cancel the acquittal. 1903 M. W. N. 190, 1927 M. 473=100 I. C. 238; 73 I. C. 240.
9. Dismissal of complaint has the effect of acquittal of an accused who is not summoned. 34 M. 253, 45 A. 58. Cont. 40 M. 976, 95 I. C. 388, 74 I. C. 1054.
10. It is immaterial whether summons was served on the accused or not. 4 Pat. L. T. 15.
11. Absence of accused is immaterial for applying S. 247. 53 B. 693, 34 M. 253.
12. When case is called on wrong date and complaint is dismissed for absence of complainant, the magistrate can proceed with the case on the date fixed. 18 C. W. N. 1188. 42 C. 365, 1927 C. 702.
13. Where complainant is absent, the magistrate may acquit accused or adjourn the case. 22 C. W. N. 199.
14. S. 247 does not apply to proceeding under S. 107, Cr. P. C. 101 I. C. 607.
15. The complaint cannot be revived after acquittal. 1924 C. 96, 99 I. C. 326.
16. Accused were summoned under S. 426, I. P. C. and acquitted for absence of complainant. The trial of the accused under S. 379 on the same facts, and reviving of the complaint by District Magistrate is illegal. 1923 C. 407=25 Cr. L. J. 149.

—6. Revision.

1. High Court only can set aside order under S. 247, if the order is improper. 1924 C. 96=73 I. C. 940, 1927 M. 172=99 I. C. 323, 52 M. 695.
2. District Magistrate cannot set aside order under S. 247, as it is one of acquittal. 77 I. C. 295=1925 Oudh 44=25 Cr. L. J. 359.
3. High Court will not interfere in revision, when there is no error of law on the face of record. 100 I. C. 238, 38 M. 1028, 1925 M. 1009, 1927 M. 473.
4. High Court will not ordinarily interfere in revision in the case of acquittals but this rule does not properly apply to one under S. 247. 1924 Oudh 64=25 Cr. L. J. 794

plainant is reduced to that of a witness and he cannot be burdened with costs for adjournment. 1924 L. 627=76 I. C. 23=25 Cr. L. J. 87. 5

2. There can be no discharge under S. 259 after a charge has been framed. 1925 Oudh 314=84 I. C. 944, 1925 Oudh 306=84 I. C. 323, 1930 A. 795=1930 Cr. C. 1017, 1933 Pesh. 78, 1933 C. 358.

2. Delay to appear.

Where a case was fixed at 7 A. M. after the prosecution has been closed and the pleader for the complainant was present but the complainant arrived late, held that the order of dismissing the complaint was improper. 1927 M. 139=98 I. C. 607=27 Cr. L. J. 1391.

—3. Fresh complaint.

1. A complaint dismissed under S. 259 can be revived on a fresh complaint as it is not an acquittal. 87 I. C. 923=1925 Nag. 432, 28 M. 310, 29 M. 126, 28 C. 652, 1929 B. 134, 29 C. 726.
2. In a case under Sec. 406-471, I. P. C., the Magistrate cannot discharge the accused under S. 259, Cr. P. C. as the offence under S. 471 is triable by Court of Sessions. Fresh complaint after the dismissal of the first is not competent. 1935 B. 76=154 I. C. 325=59 B. 171.
3. If accused is discharged on account of the absence of complaint, fresh complaint on same facts is not barred. 1934 Nag. 215, 23 C. 983, 24 C. 286, 22 A. 106, 23 C. 652, 29 C. 726, 28 M. 310, 29 M. 126.

—4. Presence of pleader.

When the pleader of the complainant is present, the complaint cannot be dismissed if the complainant is absent. 1923 C. 403.

—5. Procedure.

1. Where a person is prosecuted by police for a non-compoundable warrant case, the case should not be dismissed for want of prosecution. 1927 Oudh 352 (1)=104 I. C. 256=28 Cr. L. J. 816.
2. A magistrate must proceed with the trial of a non-compoundable case after framing of charge, regardless of the fact whether the complainant does or does not attend. 1924 L. 627=76 I. C. 23=25 Cr. L. J. 87.
3. In non-compoundable case it is only the Public Prosecutor who can withdraw the prosecution. 64 I. C. 273=22 Cr. L. J. 753.
4. If after discharge under S. 259, court takes up the complaint, the trial should be de novo. But if the court omitted to take down sworn statements and the accused is not prejudiced, the trial is not illegal. 1929 M. 260=115 I. C. 64=30 Cr. L. J. 403.
5. When a summons case and a warrant case are tried together, the procedure should be of warrant case and if the complainant is absent the order of discharge does not amount to acquittal even in respect of offence triable as summons case. 41 M. 727 following 22 B. 711.
6. When complainant is absent, a magistrate has no authority to strike off a case. The order of striking off is not tantamount to discharge under S. 259. 23 I. C. 182=15 Cr. L. J. 230.
7. Where complainant was prevented from appearing, the accused should not be discharged. The court in such a case should see whether the complainant's absence raises a prima facie case against the accused. There is a presumption that he does not wish to proceed with the prosecution. 12 Cr. L. J. 184=9 I. C. 1007.

5. Revision.

If the magistrate refuses to dismiss a complaint under S. 259, the order cannot be interfered with in revision. 1933 Oudh 430=35 Cr. L. J. 121.

1. Accused must prove circumstances to bring an act within the purview of S. 80. 19 C. W. N. 1043=31 I. C. 164, 49 C. 732, 59 I. C. 49.

2. A person trying to hit another who was carrying a child, hit the child, cannot plead accident as he was not doing a lawful act. 1924 Oudh 228=24 Cr. L. J. 789.

3. A person who had gone to shoot pigs, missed the boar and the bullet bit his companion. Held, it was neither a rash nor negligent act but accident. 1927 L. 880=29 P. L. R. 45, 1931 L. 54=130 I. C. 654=32 Cr. L. J. 587.

4. The prisoner went out to shoot along with the deceased in the jungle. They agreed to take up certain position and lie in wait for game, which was done. After a while the accused heard a bostle and believing it was porcupine, he fired in that direction but hit the deceased. The accused was shooting with an uncensed gun but it was held that the case was one of pure accident. 3 Bom. L. R. 678, 25 B. 680, 1926 B. 134.

5. The word accident is not defined in Indian Motor Vehicles Act. Ordinarily it means an event which takes place without one's foresight or expectation, e. g. falling of motor car in the channel, bursting of tube or the puncture of tyre. But law does not recognize them. The accidents which come within the purview of the Act are those which result in some injury, annoyance or danger to public, 1928 M. 364=51 M. 504.

6. Voluntary intoxication short of a proved incapacity to form intent necessary to constitute the crime cannot be pleaded when the accused gave an iron shod dang below on the head of deceased. 1932 L. 283 (1)=33 Cr. L. J. 378.

7. Accident is an extraordinary incident, something not expected. Wharton's Law Lexicon P. 18.

4. Corroboration—extent and nature.

1. Approver's story should be corroborated not only as regards the facts of the case but also as regards the identity of each accused. 1930 N. 97=120 I. C. 721=31 Cr. L. J. 153, 1928 L. 30=102 I. C. 500=28 Cr. L. J. 564, 1927 L. 10=98 I. C. 190, 67 I. C. 343, 1930 C. 430.
2. Corroboration may be of circumstantial evidence. 118 I. C. 423, 1930 Oudh 353, 106 I. C. 721, 1931 A. 31=55 A. 91=34 Cr. L. J. 489, 1935 A. 86=152 I. C. 934=36 Cr. L. J. 205, (1916) 2 K. B. 6. But must be independent. 1935 L. 125=15 L. 673. (Case Law discussed)
3. It is very difficult to vary the standard of corroborative proof required in the case of various approvers. 102 I. C. 500=1928 L. 30=28 Cr. L. J. 564.
4. Corroboration is required with respect to each individual accused. 1928 Pat. 630=113 I. C. 329=30 Cr. L. J. 137, 1921 L. 213, 120 I. C. 721, 1923 L. 385=76 I. C. 716.
5. Corroborative evidence need not be sufficient in itself to base a conviction on. 1927 L. 581=103 I. C. 49=23 Cr. L. J. 625.
6. Amount of corroboration of an approver's evidence must depend upon the view which the Court takes of the approver's character or of his general demeanour in the witness box. 5 Pat 63=1926 Pat. 232=93 I. C. 884=27 Cr. L. J. 484.
7. Corroboration must be independent of the accomplice or of the co-confessing accused. 25 Cr. L. J. 1067=1925 Nag. 78, 1935 C. 513=36 Cr. L. J. 1115.
8. Direction to Jury that if the approver was corroborated on some points, they might believe him on other points on which he is not corroborated is not misdirection. 52 C. 595=1925 C. 872=26 Cr. L. J. 1037.
9. Defence being false is no corroboration of approver. 3 L. 144=23 Cr. L. J. 513.
10. Corroboration must be by independent evidence. 1930 Oudh 353.
11. It is not necessary that an accomplice should be corroborated in every material particular. 56 C. 160, 52 C. 595, 1926 A. 70=96 I. C. 127.
12. The extent of corroboration varies with circumstances of each case, including the character and antecedents of the approver or the degree of suspicion attached to his evidence. 1929 L. 850=1929 Cr. C. 626.
13. One accomplice's evidence is not corroboration of the testimony of another accomplice. 67 I. C. 343, 47 A. 39, 3 L. 144, 1927 Oudh 369 (2), 2 P. R. 1920, Cr. 20 P. R. 1919 Cr., 8 A. 306, 14 B. 331, 1923 L. 76=68 I. C. 821, 49 I. C. 607, 14 P. R. 1894 Cr., 1929 L. 850, 1936 P. C. 242. But see 1935 C. 513=36 Cr. L. J. 1115.
14. One approver can corroborate the other but the corroborative value will be diminished if they had ample opportunity of consultation. 1923 L. 666.
15. Where there is nothing outside the confession of the co-accused, the accused must be acquitted. 48 A. 409=1926 A. 377=95 I. C. 74=27 Cr. L. J. 746.
16. Where approver's story is not sufficiently corroborated by the evidence as to recovery of stolen property incapable of identification, the accused should not be convicted. 1925 L. 44=84 I. C. 1052=6 L. L. J. 280=26 Cr. L. J. 412.
17. The testimony of accomplices, who are victimised by police officer into offering them illegal gratification or have not willingly done so, require a much slighter degree of corroboration. 53 B. 479=1929 B. 296=31 Cr. L. J. 65.
18. Although confession of a co-accused may be taken into consideration against another under S. 30, Evidence Act, it would be unsafe, if not illegal, to rely on it without further corroboration. 1929 L. 338=115 I. C. 1, 1929 M. 285=118 I. C. 512.
19. Where material discrepancies occur between the statements of corroborating witnesses before the police and the Court, there is no corroboration. 36 P. W. R. 1910 Cr.

20. Where the statement of deceased accomplice is not made in the presence of accused little weight is to be attached to it as corroborative evidence. 9 I. C. 978.
21. The evidence of corroboration must be independent testimony which connects the accused with the crime. The evidence may be circumstantial. 1935 A. 477=154 I. C. 812, 1933 A. 31=55 A. 91=34 Cr. L. J. 489, Rex v. Baskerville (1916) 2 K. B. 658=115 L. T. 453, 1935 A. 86=152 I. C. 934=36 Cr. L. J. 205, 1935 L. 125.
22. Corroboration need not be in the form of particulars, satisfying court of the facts connected with the crime is sufficient. It may be in the form of particulars, connected with the crime =15 L. 673 =155 I. C. 197. (Case Law discussed).
23. Even a slight corroboration is sufficient if the court is satisfied about the genuineness of the accomplice's story. 14 L. 111=1932 L. 621=33 Cr. L. J. 916.
24. Corroboration of approver's evidence is not material when there is independent evidence of conspiracy. 1935 C. 515=35 Cr. L. J. 1115=157 I. C. 387, 9 Rang. 404 Foll.
25. Accused pointed out spot where dead body was buried. Corroboration of approver's evidence was regarding motive only. The offence under S. 201 and not S. 302 is made out. 1934 L. 23 (2)=147 I. C. 215.
26. Evidence of accomplice cannot be corroborated by another accomplice. 1934 M. 248=35 Cr. L. J. 1040.
27. Corroboration regarding corpus delicti and identity of accused is necessary. 1933 A. 31=55 A. 91.

—5. Corroboration.—What is.

1. Production of stolen property by accused is a material corroboration of the evidence of an approver. 76 I. C. 698, 82 I. C. 707=1924 L. 727=25 Cr. L. J. 1347.
2. Where several persons make confession, the fact that particular person is named by more than one is not sufficient corroboration. 65 I. C. 622=23 Cr. L. J. 158.
3. That the accused had a very strong motive to murder is not a sufficient corroboration. 1921 Pat. 406, 48 A. 409=1926 A. 377.
4. Where an approver stated that there was a murderous conspiracy to which accused was a party and was supported by the evidence of his obtaining murderous weapons held, it is sufficient corroboration. 1924 L. 357=69 I. C. 462.
5. Identification by three persons and recovery of stolen property with the accused is sufficient corroboration. 25 Cr. L. J. 785=1924 Oudh 314.
6. Blood stains on the accused's shirt is not sufficient corroboration even if there is a motive to murder. 1925 L. 526=86 I. C. 811=26 Cr. L. J. 875.
7. Mere fact that accused were seen with the approver a few days before dacoity is not a material corroboration. 1924 L. 727=82 I. C. 707, 1925 L. 426, 2 P. W. R. 1916 Cr., 86 I. C. 69.
8. The evidence of a witness who supports approver is a corroboration even if the evidence was known to the police before the approver was examined by them. 1926 C. 374=88 I. C. 458.
9. Verification of approver's confession is a corroboration of his evidence in Court. 52 C. 595=1925 C. 872=87 I. C. 925=26 Cr. L. J. 1037=42 Cr. L. J. 501.
10. Corroboration may be of circumstantial evidence. 106 I. C. 721=1927 Oudh 369.
11. Where the corroborative evidence consisted of a witness who said he identified the dacoits but omitted to name them in the first information report, held, it is no corroboration. 114 I. C. 623, 8 A 306, 1925 Nag. 78. 1922 Nag. 172.
12. Where the evidence of approver was fully corroborated with regard to theft and it was proved that persons committing theft were the same who committed murder, held, it is sufficient corroboration even if he exculpates himself from murder. 1930 Pat. 164=127 I. C. 566=32 Cr. L. J. 5=1930 Cr. C. 260.
13. The evidence of an accused person's conduct may be used as corroboration of an approver's story. 10 L. 265=1923 L. 681=29 Cr. L. J. 851.

14. The production of stolen property by the accused even from a place which is not in his possession may be accepted as material corroboration. 111 I. C. 447, 1923 L. 389=76 I. C. 819.
 15. Where the only corroborative evidence is that of the approver's son who parrot-like repeats what he is tutored to say is not sufficient. 1929 L. 587=122 I. C. 91.
 16. Confession of an accused is no corroboration of approver's testimony. 1928 C. 745=116 I. C. 174=30 Cr. L. J. 586.
 17. Production of a spear from a field by the approver and blood stains on accused are not sufficient corroboration. 1927 L. 78=99 I. C. 929=88 Cr. L. J. 193.
 18. The evidence that accused was seen talking to the deceased on the evening on which he disappeared is not sufficient corroboration. 1925 L. 600=88 I. C. 453=7 L. L. J. 528.
 19. Stolen property being found in the possession of accused is a sufficient corroboration. 26 Cr. L. J. 693=1925 L. 426=86 I. C. 69, 26 P. W. R. 1915 Cr.
 20. Where some common things were found at the search of accused's house and some other things not mentioned in F. I. R. along with a gun or sword, held it was not sufficient corroboration. 1923 L. 385=76 I. C. 716=25 Cr. L. J. 252.
 21. Discovery of blood in convict's house and on his finger nails and his suspicious conduct on the day of murder furnish an adequate corroboration. 1921 L. 392=4 L. L. J. 405.
 22. The merits of the case, to decide which in favour of the bribe giver a Judge accepts are sufficient corroboration of the former, who is really an accomplice. 3 P. W. R. 1919 Cr.
 23. Being found in the company of the approver shortly after the offence is very strong indication of the fellowship of crime. 21 P. W. R. 1917 Cr.=18 Cr. L. J. 852=41 I. C. 820.
 24. Previous statement of an accomplice may mean corroboration. 2 P. R. 1917 Cr.=18 Cr. L. J. 29=36 I. C. 861, 35 M. 247, 26 B. 193. Cont. 35 M. 307 F. B.
 25. The confession of one of the prisoners cannot be used to corroborate the evidence of an accomplice against the others. 11 B. H. C. R. 196.
 26. The fact that accused tells lies is no corroboration of approver's story. 1935 A. 162=1935 Cr. L. J. 214.
 27. An identification of accused by witness may be sufficient corroboration of approver's evidence for convicting him, but if the identification is not satisfactory such corroboration is not sufficient. 1935 A. 162=1935 Cr. L. J. 214.
 28. Evidence of accomplice can be used for corroborating the approver. 1935 Rang. 491. 1931 Rang. 235 Rel. on.
 29. Recovery of ordinary clothes not bearing any special mark of identification is no corroboration. 1934 L. 525.
 30. Recovery of identifiable ornament is sufficient corroboration. 1934 L. 525.
6. Discrepancy between evidence of approver and of witness.
When there is a serious discrepancy between the evidence of approver and the witnesses it cannot be acted upon either as corroboration or by itself. 1935 A. 162.
7. Evidence.—Value of—
1. Accused sent up for trial as accomplice, cannot be examined as witness. 12 P. R. 1902 Cr., 21 P. R. 1904 Cr.
 2. A discharged accused is a competent witness. 16 B. 661.
 3. Evidence of accomplice is inadmissible against co-accused which is given as accused person. 38 P. R. 1867 Cr., 12 P. R. 1902.
 4. Evidence of an accomplice requires corroboration. 1930 A. 29=120 I. C. 257, 1930 A. 740, 1929 L. 850, 1921, P. 406, 1920 P. C. 15.
 5. Confession implicating co-accused requires corroboration if co-accused is to be convicted on it. 1933 Pat. 335=123 I. C. 393=31 Cr. L. J. 472, 33 C. 559, 15 B.

66, 38 B. 156. 1924 O. 65.

6. S. 114, ill. (b), provides that a Court may presume that the evidence of an accomplice is unworthy of credit unless corroborated. "May" is not "must" and no Court can make it must. 1929 C. 822=1929 Cr. C. 669.
 7. The evidence of an accomplice must be received with suspicion, although he allows himself to be convicted on it. 1928 C. 233.
 8. The rule of caution that an accomplice's testimony should be corroborated is now regarded as a rule of law. 1927 L. 581=23 Cr. L. J. 623.
 9. Court should exercise judicial discretion in considering whether an accomplice is or is not worthy of credit. 8 Pat. 235=1928 Pat. 630=9 P. L. T. 672=113 I. C. 329.
 10. The evidence of an approver is open to grave suspicion. 52 I. C. 49.
 11. It is unsafe to act on the uncorroborated evidence of an accomplice even though he is a mere relative of the accused. 19 P. L. R. 1911.
 12. Provisions of S. 133 and S. 114 (b) amount to a direction to all Judges and magistrates that a fact cannot be held proved within the meaning of S. 3 if the witness is unreliable. All accomplices are not unreliable. 14 Cr. L. J. 262=19 I. C. 534.
 13. An approver is a man of the lowest character who wants to save his skin by throwing his friends and associates to wolves. His evidence must be received with caution. He can easily substitute an innocent person for the real offender. 1931 L. 408=132 I. C. 185=32 Cr. L. J. 818.
 14. Where in the case of conspiracy to commit an offence under U. P. Excise Act, the accomplice was first put on trial and later on examined against the principal accused, held, that his statement is not inadmissible in evidence. 1932 A. 73=137 I. C. 73=33 Cr. L. J. 373.
 15. Approver's statement is subject to suspicion but of great value in certain cases. 1935 A. 477.
 16. If there is any fear in the mind of approver that failure to establish the case for prosecution will result in his own prosecution, it is not likely to lead to truthful evidence being given. 1935 C. 473=157 I. C. 840=36 Cr. L. J. 1248.
 17. Wife was consenting party to her husband's murder. Her evidence is that of accomplice and requires corroboration. 1934 L. 171, 20 P. R. 1919 Rel. on.
 18. If approver was examined last of all and the Counsel was unable to question corroborative witnesses properly, the opinion of assessor loses much value. 1934 L. 171.
 19. If the approver is falsely implicating two persons and is adding accusation against others which he never made in his first statement, the effect of his testimony is weakened. 1933 A. 31=55 A. 91.
 20. Accomplice is unworthy of credit
 - (a) because he is likely to swear falsely in order to shift the guilt from himself;
 - (b) because, as participator in the crime, he is an immoral person;
 - (c) because he gives his evidence under the promise of pardon or in expectation of implied pardon. This hope would lead him to favour the prosecution. 14 B. 115.
 21. Confession of an accomplice to Police, doing before trial, criminating himself and others is relevant under S. 32(1). 1925 L. 54=25 Cr. L. J. 130.
- 8. Not given pardon under S. 337, Cr. P. C.
- An accomplice should be granted pardon or the case should be withdrawn against him under S. 494, Cr. P. C. Police have no right not to charge persons against whom there is evidence because they require pardon or threat. 1935 B. 140=37 Bom. L. R. 179.
- 9. Retracted confession.—See Confession—2.
1. A retracted confession is not alone sufficient to establish a conviction of co-accused, although admissible in evidence against him. 114 I. C. 771=33 Cr. L. J. 360.

2. A retracted confession is not the testimony of an accomplice within the meaning of S. 133. Very fullest corroboration is necessary, far more than would be demanded for the sworn testimony of an accomplice. 1925 C. 405=84 I. C. 712=26 Cr. L. J. 360, 28 C. 689, 38 C. 559.
3. A retracted statement of an approver is admissible against an accused person. 61 I. C. 528=22 Cr. L. J. 400.
4. As a matter of prudence no conviction should be based upon a retracted confession. 22 Cr. L. J. 200.
5. If an accused is tendered pardon and it is subsequently withdrawn, such accused should not be jointly tried with other accused. 1935 Oudh 226=35 Cr. L. J. 889.

ACCUSATION.

Accusation is the formal charging of a man with any crime. Wharton's Law Lexicon. P. 21.

ACCUSED.—

—1. Absence, absconding, admission, conduct, identification, etc. etc., of—
See under these Headings.

—2. Association with co-accused.

1. Mere association of an accused with his co-accused is not sufficient to have conviction, when it is found that he was not aware exactly about their activities, though his association raises a strong suspicion of his guilt. 99 I. C. 1009=27 P. L. R. 441=28 Cr. L. J. 209.
2. No inference of complicity in crime can be drawn from the fact of friendship between accused who are co-villagers. 1922 Pat. 88.
3. Where persons from long distances are found in the company of dacoits who were making preparations for dacoity and are unable to account for their presence, the inference that they belonged to the party is inevitable. 1933 Oudh 53=34 Cr. L. J. 101.
4. Casual association with burglars is no proof of association in burglary. 1934 Sind 159.

3. Definition of—S. 4, Cr. P. C.

1. A person over whom magistrate exercises jurisdiction is an accused. 23 C. 493, 16 B. 651, 15 P. R. 1900, 24 P. R. 1903, 21 P. R. 1904, 42 P. R. 1905=131 P. L. R. 1905.
2. A person proceeded against under S. 110, Cr. P. C. is not an accused within the meaning of S. 437, Cr. P. C. 27 C. 662, 15 133 contra 21 A. 107, 24 A. 148.
3. It includes persons required to furnish security for good behaviour. 24 P. R. 1903, 33 P. R. 1905. See 6 P. R. 1911, 5 P. R. 1914, 42 P. R. 1905.
4. A person charged with an infringement of the law for which he is liable to be punished is an accused. 41 C. L. J. 357, 41 C. L. J. 479.

8. Not taking part in the trial.

1. If accused is not taking part in the trial, he cannot say the court omitted to follow such and such procedure, unless he can produce clear evidence about such omission. 129 I. C. 165=1931 Oudh 73=32 Cr. L. J. 330=1931 Cr. C. 129.

2. If the accused who was not taking part in the proceeding afterwards asked court to recall witnesses for cross-examination but refused to cross-examine them as he could not get copies of statements and cited them as defence witnesses. The court cannot refuse to recall them. 1931 L. 186=134 I. C. 580=32 Cr. L. J. 1202.

9. Right of.

1. To be defended by pleader. S. 340 Cr. P. C., 15 P. R. 1900 Cr. 47 A. 147.

2. To be heard by counsel or agent in appeal. 31 P. R. 1870 Cr., 59 P. L. R. 1900.

ACTS DONE IN FURTHERANCE OF COMMON INTENTION. S. 34, I. P. C.

1. Acquittal of some of the accused.

If some accused were acquitted under Ss. 467-193-34, I. P. C. and the rest were convicted under Ss. 467-193, the conviction is invalid. 58 C. 822=1931 C. 625.

2. Applicability of S. 34.

1. S. 34 does not apply to S. 304, Part 2, I. P. C. 1925 C. 913=86 I. C. 475=26 Cr.

Acts done in Furtherance of Common Intention—(contd.)

9. On a charge under Ss. 304-149, a conviction under Ss. 304-34 is legal. 1934 M. 565, 54 M. 25, 1929 Pat. 11, 52 C. 197, 47 M. 746 and 49 B. 84. Foll.
10. S. 34 does not apply to sudden quarrels. 1935 Pesh. 41=1935 Cr. C. 250.
11. Absence of specific mention in the charge sheet does not make conviction invalid, if no failure of justice is occasioned. 1934 L. 227=151 I. C. 741.

3. Constructive responsibility.

1. A court is not to presume that every person who is proved to have been present in a riot at any time or to have joined it at any stage during its activities is in law guilty of every act committed by it from beginning to end. 1923 M. 369.
2. If there is renewal of activities of a riotous mob after one hour, it must be shown that they were present during the second riot or that the second riot was a continuation of and a likely result of the first. 73 I. C. 147=1923 M. 369=24 Cr. L. J. 531.
3. Because a person is an important personage among the riotors he cannot be held responsible for all that his comrades did in the course of riot. 1923 M. 369.
4. If there was no common intention to cause hurt and the fatal blow was an unpremeditated act springing from his mind alone, then the other persons who may have struck a blow or two are not liable constructively of murder. 12 L. 442.
5. Where several accused of whom B and M were two, invaded the compound of L with a view to insult females by way of retaliation and were armed with gandas and one of them struck the blow and killed D. Held that in order to make B and M equally liable for murder, it must be proved that both of them struck the deceased. They were liable under Ss. 325-109, I. P. C., 24 P. R. 1919 Cr., 41 C. 1072, 21 P. R. 1919 Cr.
6. Accused incited others to cut deceased and he was cut resulting in death. Held, he was guilty under Ss. 302-34. 1933 Rang. 236, 1925 P. C. 1.
7. Fatal injury was caused by some of the accused in a sudden fight. The author of injuries was not known. All accused should not be convicted unless S. 34 applies. 1933 L. 865.

4. Criminal act.

1. A criminal act means that unity of criminal behaviour which results in something for which an individual would be punishable if it were all done by himself alone, that is, in a criminal offence. 27 Bom. L. R. 148, 27 Cr. L. J. 827, 52 C. 197 overruling 41 C. 1072 and 50 C. 41.
2. "Criminal act done by several persons" includes the case of number of persons acting together for a common object and each doing some act in furtherance of the final result, when various acts make up the final act. 1924 C. 257=81 I. C. 353.

5. Deadly weapon carried by some—

1. Where one or more members of an assembly carries deadly weapon and where the carrying of a deadly weapon is in prosecution of common object the others are liable under S. 148 or S. 149. 1926 M. 741=96 I. C. 158=27 Cr. L. J. 894, 22 C. 276 Expl.
2. If one of the party of dacoits carries a deadly weapon it cannot be said that it would increase the gravity of the offence in the case of his associates who were not similarly armed. 1927 L. 149=99 I. C. 49, 1923 L. 104 foll. 16 P. R. 1901 and 15 P. R. 1901 not foll. 52 B. 168, 98 I. C. 181.
3. If a deadly weapon is carried without the knowledge of the other members of the assembly for the private ends of a particular individual, the other persons would not be guilty under S. 148. 27 Cr. L. J. 894=96 I. C. 158.
4. S. 34 does not apply to dacoits who had no weapons. 130 I. C. 267=1931 P. 49.
5. When the common intention is to cause grievous hurt and blow on the head is given with chhavi by one accused, causing death, the accused are guilty under Ss. 326-34. 1935 L. 97.

6. Distinction between common object or common intention under S. 34.

1. The object of an assembly as a whole may not be the same as the intention which several persons may have when in pursuance of that intention they perform a

Acts done in Furtherance of Common Intention.—(contd.)

18. Where a fight in response to a challenge resolves itself into two single combats the principle of joint responsibility under S. 34 does not apply. 1930 L. 485.
19. In case of joint assault, the accused are responsible for the injuries to the extent to which they had common intention to cause those injuries. 61 I. C. 522.
20. Where grievous hurt is caused in furtherance of common intention, all are guilty under S. 325 but one man cannot be convicted under S. 326. = 30 Cr. L. J. 167.
21. If grievous hurt is the result of the aggregate of several simple injuries caused by accused they are guilty under S. 325 read with S. 34. 133 I. C. 455.
22. Where a number of persons armed with dangs and chhavis go to forcibly carry off girl, all are guilty of grievous hurt if it is caused to the friends or relatives of the girl in attempting to save her. 1925 L. 565 = 88 I. C. 273.
23. Where all accused came on the spot armed before murder is completed and the murder is a pre-arranged one and the accused has part assigned to him beforehand such as keeping away the intruders, it is no defence that he did not give any blow, nor his presence can be considered accidental. 1930 Pat. 545 = 11 Pat. L. T. 787 = 32 Cr. L. J. 66 = 128 I. C. 114, 52 C. I. 197.
24. In absence of common intention none of them can be guilty of murder, unless it is proved that he actually struck the fatal blow. 1930 Sind 99 = 120 I. C. 520 = 31 Cr. L. J. 117 = 24 S. L. R. = 1930 Cr. C. 282.
25. A murderer of a person who ran away from the scene of robbery cannot be said to be in furtherance of common intention. 1929 L. 338 = 115 I. C. 1.
26. Four persons went to the house with the common intention to rob and if necessary to kill any person resisting or raising alarm, they are all guilty if death is so caused. 1927 L. 765 = 104 I. C. 630 = 28 P. L. R. 583, 89 I. C. 719.
27. If the common intention is to give thrashing and one of the accused gives spear blow, others are not liable. 86 I. C. 150 = 26 Cr. L. J. 710.
28. Where four persons armed with deadly weapons pursued and killed a man, all are guilty of murder. 1924 L. 415 = 69 I. C. 449.
29. If a man joins another to assault a person, even though the original intention may be to cause harmless injuries and he sees his companion causing death, he is guilty under S. 304 read with S. 34 if he does not interfere with the action or assist the deceased. 1929 P. 65 = 114 I. C. 222 = 30 Cr. L. J. 276.
30. Several persons assaulted A with chhavis, on a quarrel over turn of water, who died of injuries. It was not certain as to who caused the fatal blow. Held, all are guilty under S. 326 read with S. 34. 1924 L. 216 = 24 Cr. L. J. 401.
31. If five men assaulted at one and same time, each of them seeing that the other four are assaulting also, they may be regarded as having common intention to beat the victim of the assault, though impulse to assault may have arisen independently. 1931 Rang. 321 = 1931 Cr. C. 1007.
32. If there was no common intention to cause hurt and the fatal blow given was an unpremeditated act, others are not liable although they gave some blows as well. 12 L. 422 = 1931 L. 749 = 134 I. C. 793 = 32 Cr. L. J. 1219.
33. Where all accused joined in beating the deceased to death mercilessly, but it was not shown who inflicted the fatal blow the accused may be sentenced to transportation for life. 1932 L. 189 = 137 I. C. 282 = 33 P. L. R. 1.
34. Whether an act is done in furtherance of common intention is a question of fact and it can be inferred from the circumstances. 1935 Rang. 89 = 13 Rang. 210 = 154 I. C. 881. 1924 C. 257 = 25 Cr. L. J. 817 (F. B.), 1925 P. C. 1 = 52 C. 197, 1931 Rang. 1 = 32 Cr. L. J. 495, 1933 Rang. 236 = 35 Cr. L. J. 41 = 146 I. C. 392, 49 B. 84 = 1924 B. 502, 55 A. 607 = 1933 A. 528 Rel. on.
35. Two persons making concerted attack on deceased are both guilty although it is not proved that one of them struck any blow. 1933 L. 313 = 34 Cr. L. J. 724.
36. Where the common intention was to commit robbery but one of the accused shot down the deceased. Held, others were constructively guilty under S. 302. 1933 L. 819. 1925 P. C. 1 101 21 P. R. 1919, 52 F. C. 395 and 41 C. 1072 overruled by 1925 P. C. 1.

37. When two or more persons set on another with hatchet and dangs, S. 34 applies. 1933 L. 927=34 Cr. L. J. 911.
38. Accused attacked with lathis a person on inimical term with them, as soon as they saw him, S. 34 applies. 1936 A. 437, 35 A. 560 Ref. 9 A. L. J. 180 and 1931 L. 523 not foll.

10. Killing while retreating.

Two persons went armed with guns to commit robbery. Large number of shots were fired by them while retreating and trying to escape. One of the pursuers was killed by a shot from one of them. Held, that the other was guilty under S. 302 read with Ss. 34 and 114. 1934 C. 10=61 C. 190.

11. Presence at the occurrence.—Liability. See abetment 36. S. 114 I. P. C.

1. The mere presence of a person on an unlawful occasion does not raise a presumption of that person's complicity in an offence then committed. 14 B. 115, 1923 M. W. N. 104=1923 M. 369 (2)=73 I. C. 147=24 Cr. L. J. 531.
2. A man is not liable if present at the scene, if he takes no part in it and does not act in concert with the offenders, merely because he did not endeavour to prevent it or to apprehend the felon. (1866) 5 W. R. (Cr.) 45.
3. When four persons are present at the commission of murder all are guilty even if two of them are alleged to have taken no part in it. 52 C. 197=1925 P. C. 1, 1929 L. 338=30 Cr. L. J. 385=115 I. C. 1.
4. Where both master and servant were present at the sale of ganja in contravention of the terms of license and servant received the money, he was guilty by operation of S. 34. 29 C. 496.
5. Where all accused came on the spot armed before murder is completed and it was a pre-arranged murder and the accused was appointed to keep off the intruders, he cannot plead that he is not liable as he did not strike the blow on the deceased. His presence cannot be considered accidental. 1930 P. 545=32 Cr. L. J. 66.
6. When three men fired at the postmaster but there were only two wounds, all are guilty of murder. 52 C. 197, 29 C. 495, 35 C. 693, 35 A. 329, 21 C. 263, 41 C. 154.
7. Where four persons took out a woman with the intention or knowledge that one of them should kill her, all are guilty if she is killed by one. 1927 Sind 85.
8. Persons who are present at the murder and thereby give moral support to it are equally guilty as the murderers. 47 A. 276=1925 A. 185=85 I. C. 130=26 Cr. L. J. 450.
9. Where the only evidence against the accused was that they were found near the scene of occurrence and there was no evidence that they conspired to kill the deceased, they were not guilty. 1932 L. 254 (2)=137 I. C. 65, 1934 L. 813.
10. Where one of the accused is present when the fatal blow is struck and shares with the others the intention to cause death, he can be convicted of murder. 8 Rang. 603.
11. Accused was charged with murder. He came to the spot armed with lathi but did not give blow although others killed the deceased. Held, he could be convicted under Ss. 325-109. 132 I. C. 529=32 Cr. L. J. 905 1931 Oudh 274.

12 Series of acts.

1. S. 34 contemplates series of acts done by several persons, some by one of those persons and some by others, but all in pursuance of common intention. All will be equally liable. 1935 C. 529=157 I. C. 529=39 Cr. L. J. 1220, 52 C. 197 foll.
2. Where the accused who was in company of others, who had fired shots did not try to run away or prevent his companions from doing it but was seen putting his hand in the belt where lay a dagger to wound those who were surrounded by him. Held, he was guilty of murder like his companions. 1935 C. 529=157 I. C. 529=39 Cr. L. J. 1220, 52 C. 197 foll.

11. Evidence given by accused, on his own behalf in extradition proceedings, is an admission by an accused and is admissible under S. 21. 112 I. C. 50=29 Cr. L. J. 962=1929 Sind 15.
 12. Statement of accused on oath at Coroner's inquest is admissible at his trial. 50 B. 111=1926 B. 151=28 Bom. L. R. 111=93 I. C. 690=27 Cr. L. J. 466.
 13. An accused in a criminal proceeding cannot be deemed to have admitted any fact not denied by him in such proceeding. 41 C. 173.
 14. When it is proved that accused soon after the occurrence made a statement incriminating himself, the reasonable inference is that it was true representation of actual facts in the absence of rebutting evidence. 26 I. C. 654=16 Cr. L. J. 62.
 15. When the accused admitted that he obstructed the road under mistake without admitting that danger or injury was caused to any person, he cannot be convicted under S. 283, I. P. C. 1925 L. 153=81 I. C. 195=25 Cr. L. J. 707.
 16. The statement made by an accused, although it may amount to an admission in his favour, is relevant otherwise than an admission as negating any inference of guilt which may be drawn against him in consequence of his silence when he was apprehended. S. 21, Cl. (iii), Evidence Act. 1935 Sind 145 (165).
3. By conduct.
1. A statement may be made otherwise than by word of mouth or writing. 1926 Rang. 112.
 2. Such a statement can hardly be called as an oral or documentary statement. 1931 A. 9=32 Cr. L. J. 1006.
4. By Pleader.
1. A pleader can admit facts, so as to dispense with the necessity of further proof in a criminal case at the appellate stage. 52 B. 686=1928 B. 241=112 I. C. 110.
 2. Court can act on the plea of guilt by pleader, if the personal attendance of accused is dispensed with under S. 205. 50 B. 250=1926 B. 218=27 Cr. L. J. 440.
 3. Where in an Excise case the Excise Analyst was not produced and only his report was admitted, the Sessions Judge on appeal wanted to call him as witness under S. 428 Cr. P. C. but the pleader admitted that the report was correct and the parcel contained cocaine, held, that even if the admission could not legally be acted upon, the irregularity was curable under S. 537, Cr. P. C. 52 B. 686=1928 B. 241.
5. By witness.
1. Statement of a person to police before he is charged for an offence is an admission and is admissible against him. 1928 Pat. 473=111 I. C. 721=29 Cr. L. J. 913.
 2. Before an admission can be used against a party, it must be put to him and an opportunity afforded to him to explain if it is capable of explanation. 31 P. L. R. 243=1930 L. 991=123 I. C. 278=11 L. 410=12 L. J. 161.
 3. If the admission is not put to the party making it under S. 145, Evidence Act, the admission is not legal evidence and cannot be used against the party making it. 1930 L. 695, 1915 P. C. 7, 21 C. W. N. 280, Ref. 31 P. R. 1903 Diss.
 4. Admission in a civil suit about a document that it is genuine cannot be regarded as confession in the trial for forgery. 1929 C. 539=1929 Cr. C. 194, 37 C. 467.
6. Collective.—By number of persons.
- Admission by six accused together is inadmissible unless witness can say particular words of each accused. 6 L. 437=1925 L. 418=90 I. C. 145=26 Cr. L. J. 1489.
7. Distinction between confession and—
1. "Admission made at any time by a person charged with a crime stating or suggesting the inference that he committed that crime is a confession. Stephen's Digest, Art. 21, 16 P. R. 1889 Cr., 20 P. R. 1905 Cr., 6 A. 509 (539); 6 B. 34, 14 B. 200 (263).
 2. Statements containing admissions damaging to the accused have been held to amount to confession. 1925 P. 520=40 B. 122, 1930 Sind 190 B. 604=153 B. 65, 50 B. 175, 23 Cr. L. J. 355, 43 C. 603, 42 I. C. 107, 1906 Cr., 20 P. R. 175 Cr., 19 B. 34, 13 B. 33, 14 P. 282; 6 A. 1.

3. The test is that if the prosecution relies on the truth of the statement, the statement would be confession ; otherwise, an admission. 1930 Sind 225=126 I. C. 449 ; 46 B. 961 ; 41 C. 601 ; 1923 B. 65=24 Cr. L. J. 870 ; 1925 Sind 237=26 Cr. L. J. 778 ; 1922 A. 24=23 Cr. L. J. 193.
4. A report made by accused to police will be inadmissible if prosecution relies on the truth of it. 1933 L. 899.
5. "If police is given in evidence to show that he gave a statement to the police, one given by him in court, the statement will be admissible." 1930 L. J. 530.
6. The test is whether statement as a whole suggests a necessary inference of guilt. If it does, it is confession. 7 A. 646 ; 16 P. R. 1886 Cr., 5 Bom. L. R. 312.
8. To be accepted as a whole.
 1. When the only account of what happened on the night of murder is given by the accused himself, his admission in the statement must be accepted in its entirety and if it establishes any mitigating circumstance the accused should be given the benefit of it 1930 L. 269=121 I. C. 178=31 Cr. L. J. 226, 33 P. L. R. 287.
 2. Conviction cannot lie on the partial admission of accused in defence. 1928 Oudh 373=110 I. C. 795=29 Cr. L. J. 763.
 3. Admission to be relied upon must be taken as a whole. 1930 P. C. 245=127 I. C. 746, 1930 Oudh 370, 49 A. 707, 1932 C. 39=134 I. C. 921, 60 I. C. 482, 5 I. C. 340, 1923 Rang. 24=70 I. C. 911
 4. All the words of admission must be taken together even though they operate in favour of accused. 41 M. L. J. 525=71 I. C. 270.
 5. It is not permissible to pick out such portions of admission as are favourable to one and to neglect the rest. 1923 Rang. 24=70 I. C. 911 ; 1927 A. 385=49 A. 707.
 6. Where the admission is made subject to qualifications they must be considered. 1934 M. 100=150 I. C. 132 ; 39 B. 399 ; 12 I. C. 246, 2 C. 341 (350).
9. To Panchayat.—See Confession.—10.
10. To Police.—See Confession to police officer—S. 25, Evidence Act.
11. To Villagers.

Although evidence of admission of guilt to villagers is sufficient to justify a conviction, still the evidence that such an admission was made must be closely scrutinized. 1929 Oudh 272 = 117 J. C. 737 = Cr. L. J. 829.

12. Vague,—

In answer to a question put by Court to the accused whether three packets of cocaine were recovered from him, he replied that three packets were recovered from him but were left with him by one B. and that he did not know what these packets contained. Held, that statement does not amount to an admission that he had cocaine in his possession. 1924 A. 198=83 L. C. 904=21 A. L. J. 869=26 Cr. L. J. 200, 6 L. 437=1925 L. 418.

13. Value of

1. Admission is a statement suggesting an inference as to any fact in issue or relevant fact made by accused person. 16 P. R. 1886 Cr, 6 A. 509 (539), 6 B. 34, 14 B. 260, 20 P. R. 1905.
2. Admission by husband in the presence of witnesses that he kicked his wife, is sufficient. 8 W. R. 29.
3. Admission explained away by the accused is on the same footing as retracted confession and conviction cannot lie on such admission. 1927 L. 549=102 I. C. 492=29 P. L. R. 313.
4. In case of admission of guilt by the accused, the statement must be clearly recorded. 18 A. W. N. 1889.
5. A person is not entitled to give an undertaking to a criminal court to abstain from certain action and then file a civil suit for declaration that that undertaking was of no effect. 1925 A. 605=85 I. C. 586.

6. Admission to be relied upon must be taken as a whole. 1930 P. C. 245=127 I. C. 746, 1930 Oudh 370, 49 A. 707, 1932 C. 39, 60 I. C. 482.
7. Oral confession to a magistrate is relevant and may be proved by testimony of the magistrate. 1929 L. 794=121 I. C. 497=31 Cr. L. J. 269, 11 P. R. 1918 Cr., 1925 L. 537=27 Cr. L. J. 134=91 I. C. 806, 1922 M. 40.
8. Admission under inducement by police is inadmissible. 8 P. R. 1832 Cr.
9. Admission is not necessarily a confession. 16 P. R. 1886 Cr.
10. Admission by an agent or guardian of a minor about minor's age is of little value. 1923 R. 164=71 I. C. 140.
11. Conviction cannot lie on the partial admission of the accused in defence. 1928 Oudh 373=110 I. C. 795=29 Cr. L. J. 763.
12. Different men are differently constituted, and some though innocent deliberately abscond or make a false admission of guilt in the hope of escaping with a small punishment. 1930 Oudh 324=126 I. C. 694=31 Cr. L. J. 1081.
13. Admissions by parties to a marriage is not sufficient to prove marriage. 20 A. 166.
14. Statement of Honorary Magistrate as to what accused's father admitted or promised is inadmissible. 1935 Pesh. 73.

ADULTERATION.—Of food and drink. Ss. 272=273 I. P. C. See Cheating.—6.

1. Sale of adulterated food which is not noxious is no offence under S. 272, although it may be under S. 420 or Municipal Act. 3 C. W. N. 66.
2. To sell inferior food is not an offence. 15 P. R. 1873.
3. Adulteration with harmless ingredients is no offence. 12 B. R. 153.
4. Mixing of vegetable oil with ghee is no offence. 7 Cr. L. J. 405.
5. Person mixing pig's fat with ghee intending to sell the mixture as good or knowing it that it will be sold as such is not guilty. 46 A. 94=1924 A. 214 (1)=83 I. C. 1004.
6. "Noxious as food" means unwholesome or injurious to health and not repugnant to one's feelings. 46 A. 94=1924 A. 214, 12 C. W. N. 698.
7. Mixing of water with milk is no offence. 1 Weir 228, 1926 L. 49=89 I. C. 961.
8. Sale of grains or fodder unfit for horse to eat is no offence. 3 P. R. 1908 Cr.
9. Selling wheat with admixture of extraneous matter is no offence. 6 B. L. R. 520. Nor is the sale of grain in a closed pit. 28 A. 312=3 Cr. L. J. 208.
10. Prosecution must prove that the accused had knowledge or reason to believe that the article sold was noxious as food or drink. 1922 A. 273 (1)=77 I. C. 1001.
11. Toddy in which germs have germinated is noxious. 1 Weir 228.

ADULTERY.—S. 497, I. P. C.1. Abatement of—

The death of husband does not necessarily put an end to a prosecution under S. 497.
4 L. 7=71 I. C. 77=24 Cr. L. J. 29, 4 M. H. C. R. App. 55.

2. Abetment of—

Wife is not punishable as abettor. 36 P. R. 1881 Cr., 26 M. 463, 5 P. R. 1871.

3. Applicability of S. 497 to Europeans.

1. S. 497, I. P. C., applies to Europeans. 61 I. C. 238=22 Cr. L. J. 382.
2. S. 61, Divorce Act, does not preclude public prosecutions under S. 497. 1928 L. 50=29 Cr. L. J. 382.

4. Attempt—

1. Producing opportunity for sexual intercourse with a married woman is only a preparation and not attempt. 13 Bom. L. R. 1879 Cr.
2. Absence of complaint by husband for attempt to commit adultery is fatal. 4 N. L. J. 245.

3. Where a married woman went to visit a man but before adultery was committed she was taken away by the husband, the man was not guilty of attempt. 13 P. R. 1879 Cr., 25 P. R. 1902 Cr.

4. It is not sufficient to establish attempt that accused was found in a place where adultery might be committed or he was minded to commit it. (1889) 1 Weir 569.

5 Charge of—

1. A charge of adultery alleging commission of offence between two dates is legal where it is impossible in the circumstances of the case to assign particular date on which sexual intercourse took place. 41 C. 488.

2. If the particular dates on which the offence is committed is not known, it is enough to specify period during which it was committed. 1935 Oudh 506, 51 C. 488 and 61 I. C. 238 Rel. on.

6. Complaint of.—S. 199, Cr. P. C.

1. A husband under the age of 18 can lodge a complaint. 1922 L. 168=68 I. C. 837, 4 W. R. 31.

2. The dissolution of marriage does not take away from the complainant (husband) the right to make a complaint. 1922 L. 477=67 I. C. 734=16 P. W. R. 1922.

3. Absence of complaint by husband for attempt to commit adultery is fatal. 4 N. L. J. 245.

4. Husband's complaint is not necessary in case of house trespass with intent to commit adultery. 23 A. 82, 47 I. C. 77=18 Cr. L. J. 881 2 P. R. 1877 Cr.

5. Accused acquitted of rape, cannot be convicted of adultery, if no complaint is made by husband. 19 I. C. 716=14 Cr. L. J. 284.

6. Complaint must be made to a magistrate and not to police. 1923 M. 59=68 I. C. 624.

7. Examination of complainant on oath is not a part of complaint. 1922 M. 353.

8. Where husband refused to make charge under S. 497, the magistrate cannot convict the accused. 2 C. 415. See 38 A. 276.

9. A formal complaint of the offence must be instituted in the manner provided by S. 199, Cr. P. C. 29 C. 415, 30 C. 910, 2 P. R. 18, 1925 L. 631=6 L. 375.

10. A complaint under S. 498, 1. P. C., can be treated as one under S. 497. 64 I. C. 134=22 Cr. L. J. 742=24 Oudh C. 232.

11. S. 61, Divorce Act, is no bar to prosecution by Crown, when moved by an injured husband. 1928 L. 50=103 I. C. 381=29 Cr. L. J. 332, 1935 Oudh 506.

12. Complaint by husband headed as one under Ss. 366-368 and accusation under S. 497 as well is proper one. 1934 L. 945.

13. Complaint need not express precisely the section under which the accused is to be charged. 1934 L. 945, 20 C. 483 and 1934 A. 472 Rel. on.

7. Connivance or consent of husband to—See Enticing away married woman.—5-9.

1. The mere fact that the husband on being informed by the police that his wife had been discovered at a certain place expressed his unwillingness to take her back on the ground that she had lost her religion, was no evidence of connivance on the part of husband at her living a life of adultery with the accused. 24 A.L.J. 155=1926 A. 179.

2. Mere negligence is no connivance. 1926 A. 189=24 A. L. J. 55=27 Cr. L. J. 101.

3. If the accused enters the house of another at night to commit adultery with his wife, he is guilty under S. 451. The fact that husband was absent in the legitimate pursuit of his occupation, it may be safely presumed that he neither consented nor connived at the adultery of the wife. 1925 L. 635=89 I. C. 319=25 Cr. L. J. 1343, 22 Cr. L. J. 268=60 I. C. 666.

4. Husband was driven out by wife and he was supplanted by the accused with whom the wife lived. He preferred no complaint for 15 months. Held that it amounted to connivance at the adultery. 1934 S. 10=35 Cr. L. J. 116=143 I. C. 753.

5. Where the husband was unwilling to proceed, the Judge declined to interfere in

8. Defence—Custom.

1. Plea of ignorance of law is a good defence to a charge under S. 497, I. P. C. the language of which leaves room for such admission. 1 B. 317, 6 B. 126, 1 B. 97 (116).
2. Custom that a woman can contract second marriage cannot be pleaded. 2 B.11.C. 117.

9. Essentials and evidence.

1. Adultery per se is no offence. It must be without consent or connivance of husband. 1928 Pat. 375=111 I. C. 762=9 P. L. T. 397.
 2. Mere negligence is no connivance. 1926 A. 189=27 Cr. L. J. 101=91 I. C. 533.
 3. For a prosecution under S. 497, marriage must be strictly proved. Mere admission of parties is insufficient. 1923 Pat. 481=112 I. C. 469, 1925 Oudh 701.
 4. The evidence that both slept together for 15 days on the same bed and there was attachment is sufficient. 61 I. C. 238=22 Cr. L. J. 382=24 P. L. R. 419.
 5. Letter written by complainant's wife to accused, who did not receive it, is insufficient for conviction. 1923 C. 248.
 6. If a person convicted of an offence under S. 497 again commits adultery, he may be prosecuted again. 53 B. 69=1923 B. 530, Rat. Un. Cr. 150.
 7. Where husband omits to take any step against the accused for seven years, the offence has been condoned. 1 C. W. N. 498.
 8. It is not necessary to prove direct fact of adultery. Adultery can be inferred from circumstances. 1923 Pat. 375=111 I. C. 762=9 P. L. T. 397, 1935 Oudh 506, 22 Cr. L. J. 382, 21 W. R. 13.
 9. A complaint for adultery cannot be dismissed on the ground that the husband was deserted by the wife for one year. 38 I. C. 433=18 Cr. L. J. 321.
 10. It is not necessary that the adulterer should know whose wife the woman is, provided he knew she was married woman. (1873) 21 W. R. (Cr.) 13.
 11. Where accused after abducting a married woman lived with her in adultery and subsequently remarried her, he is guilty under S. 497 and Ss. 494/109. 24 A. L. J. 155=1926 A. 189=27 Cr. L. J. 101=91 I. C. 533.
 12. The admission of parties that they lived as man and wife leads to the inference that adultery must have been committed. (1867) 7 W. R. (Cr.) 59.
 13. Sexual intercourse is necessary ingredient of the offence. 1935 Oudh 506.
10. House Trespass to commit.—See House trespass.—14.
11. Marriage.—See Enticing away married woman.—19. Bigamy—16.
1. In a prosecution for adultery, marriage must be strictly proved. 1925 R. 328=94 I. C. 603, 1927 Oudh 140=100 I. C. 535=28 Cr. L. J. 311, 5 C. 566.
 2. Mere admission of parties about the marriage is not sufficient. 1928 Pat. 481=112 I. C. 469=29 Cr. L. J. 1045.
 3. Mere desertion of the husband by the wife for one year does not dissolve marriage 38 I. C. 433=18 Cr. L. J. 321.
 4. Where a man and a woman lived together as man and wife, there is a presumption that they were legally married, even though they belong to castes which ought not to intermarry. The doctrine of factum valet applies. 1927 Rang. 261.
 5. Cohabitation is not necessary to legally complete a marriage. 4. P. R. 1874.
 6. Marriage cannot be proved on the presumption of marriage arising from cohabitation for a number of years. 1934 Sind 10=148 I. C. 753.
12. Subsequent acts of—.
1. Evidence of acts of adultery subsequent to date of acts charged is admissible to show acts of improper familiarity. 1935 Oudh 506.
 2. If a person convicted of adultery continues his adulterous intercourse, he is liable to second conviction. Rat. Un. Cr. 150.

1. By accused in transfer application. See Transfer.

2. By convict to get rid of conviction.

1. A person cannot tender his affidavit to get rid of conviction standing against him. 19 A. 200, 23 A. W. N. 1897, 28 A. 331.
2. Accused cannot contest the propriety of conviction by affidavit containing matters not on record. 8 A. W. N. 1900.
3. Affidavit may be used to show want of jurisdiction in a magistrate, but not for affording material for reviewing the magistrate's decision on merits. 10 B. H. C. R. (Cr. C.) 102.

3. Contents of—

1. If affidavit contains statement of belief on information, it must show the source of information. 90 I. C. 703, 11 B. L. R. 1298.
2. The ground of belief must be stated clearly to enable the court to judge whether it would be safe to act on the deponent's belief. 37 C. 259, 73 I. C. 721, 14 C. W. N. 153.
3. An affidavit must contain only bare facts known to the deponent. 36 A. 13.

4. Counter—

1. A counter affidavit is admissible for deciding whether complaint is sustainable. 58 C. 1211=1931 C. 344=131 I. C. 262=32 Cr. L. J. 674.
2. An application for the transfer of a case was put in on certain alleged facts which were denied by the other party by counter affidavit and by the statement of trying Magistrate. A complaint under S. 193, I. P. C., was lodged. Held, that it was improper on such a material although an inquiry under S. 476 was proper. 58 C. 1211=1931 C. 344=131 I. C. 262=32 Cr. L. J. 674.
3. Where an application is made for transfer of a case on the ground of partiality of a Magistrate, it is highly improper for District Magistrate to make a counter affidavit swearing as to his impartiality. 25 B. 179.

5. Court before which—be sworn.

1. An application for transfer cannot be entertained if the affidavit is sworn before District Judge and not High Court. 1931 C. 710=33 Cr. L. J. 61.
2. A Deputy Magistrate has no power to administer oath to a person making affidavit to be used in the High Court and such person cannot be convicted of perjury. 5 Pat. 110, 14 C. 653, 1926 Pat. 214=93 I. C. 963=27 Cr. L. J. 499.
3. An affidavit to be used in civil courts may be sworn before any Magistrate. 8 C. W. N. 40.
4. Affidavits sworn before Presidency Magistrate, Calcutta, are not admissible in the Patna High Court. 1925 Pat. 755=92 I. C., 697=27 Cr. L. J. 313.
5. An affidavit made before a Bench Magistrate in Sind is one made before a proper person. 1927 Sind 128=99 I. C. 600=28 Cr. L. J. 168.

6. False.—See False evidence.—3. False information.—1.

7. Prosecution for False Affidavit.

1. Accused can be prosecuted for false affidavit in support of application for transfer. 6 L. 34, 3 L. 46, 1925 L. 12=89 I. C. 457, 23 Cr. L. J. 133, 103 I. C. 124, 55 A. 114. 33 A. 163 no longer good law.
2. Where an accused handed over an affidavit containing false allegations to his pleader, who filed it in court, he was not guilty under S. 182, as it was open to him to instruct his counsel not to file it. 1925 M. 123=83 I. C. 343=25 Cr. L. J. 1383.

8. Reading over—

Affidavits must be read over to the deponent. 36 A. 13

9. What is—

Affidavit is a written statement sworn before a person having authority to administer an oath. Wharton's Law Lexicon, P. 41.

Affirmation.

AFFIRMATION.—See Oaths Act.—

Affirmation is a solemn declaration without oath. Wharton's Law Lexicon, P. 42.

AFFRAY.—Ss. 159, 160 I. P. C.

1. Essential and Evidence.

1. Disturbance of the public peace is the essence of the offence. Where a Station Master and a Railway peon fought on a Railway platform, when a goods train was in the station, held, it is a case of ordinary assault. 1883 A. W. N. 197.
2. The evidence required to prove affray must prove : (a) that there was fight, (b) that it was in a public place and that (c) it led to the breach of the public peace. Parties fighting over their right to fish in a place, are guilty of affray. 21 C. 392.
3. Accused was quarrelling in a public street and no blows were exchanged when police interfered. Held, it is not affray. 1928 L. 813=116 I. C. 810.
4. Prosecution should not lodge complaint simply for exchange of abuse in a public place. 1926 L. 412=94 I. C. 888=27 P. L. R. 176.
5. If one attacks and the other defends, the case comes under S. 159. The gist of the offence consists in the terror it causes to the public. 53 A. 229=1931 A. 8.
6. For a charge under S. 160 there must be two or more persons concerned. 1933 M. 843.

2. Procedure.

1. Alteration of conviction under Ss. 147, 323 Penal Code, into one under S. 160 is not justified. 47 M. 61=1924 M. 375=81 I. C. 42.
2. Accused discharged under S. 152 can be charged under S. 160. 1933 Sind 173.
3. A person charged under S. 325 and acquitted of the charge cannot be convicted under S. 160 without first charge being framed. 1933 M. 843=33 Cr. L. J. 76.
4. In affray or party faction cases, the members of each faction should be tried separately. They can give evidence against their opponents, but cannot be compelled to do so, on the ground of implicating himself. 1 N. W. P. H. C. R. 293.
5. Where L. and M. after abuse came to blows while others also joined, and M. dies of injuries. Held L. is guilty under S. 160. 32 P. W. R. 1912 Cr.
6. Acquittal under S. 160 does not bar prosecution under S. 323. 1936 P. 503=37 Cr. L. J. 785, 1925 A. 299 Rel. on. 1921 P. 22 and 1930 P. 26 Expl.

3. Public Place. See Public Gambling Act, S. 13.

A private chabutra (platform) adjoining a public thoroughfare is not a public place, although it is exposed to public view, unless public had right of access to it. 17 A. 166.

AGE.

1. Birth certificate in Municipal register.—S. 35 Evidence Act.

1. A certificate of birth of a person is conclusive evidence of his age, unless disproved by the evidence of the party denying its correctness. 1935 Pat. 474.
2. A register of birth kept by a chaukidar, or topadar or a village munshi or in a police station is an official register. 1933 Pat. 473, 54 I. C. 166=21 Cr. L. J. 22, 52 I. C. 162, 35 I. C. 551, 1926 M. 985, 1925 M. 1005, 46 C. 152, 46 A. 637.
3. An entry as to date of birth a person made in the register of a chaukidar is admissible even if the entry was not made by the chaukidar himself but at his instance by Daffadar, provided the Daffadar has been called to prove the entry. 1933 Pat. 473, 46 A. 637, 41 M. 26, 54 I. C. 166.
4. An entry in a Municipal register of births and deaths is admissible. 59 P. R. 1901, 1934 Oudh 167.
5. Certified copies of registers of births and deaths are admissible. 46 C. 152, 46 A. 637, 1926 M. 985=95 I. C. 1005, 59 P. R. 1901.
6. A register of births and deaths kept in police station is a public document. 46 C. 152 but not a chaukidar's register of births and deaths. 36 I. C. 941.
7. Birth register is to be preferred to guardianship certificate for determining date of birth. 1933 A. 100=54 A. 1019.

2. Certificate of doctor as to—

Certificate of doctor as to age is valueless. 21 C. W. N. 257 (P. C.).

3. Consideration of—in punishment. See Sentence—2, Murder—8.

4. Data for determining.—Of child or young person.

1. The chief data for estimating age of an individual are—(1) the teeth (2) height and weight (3) some minor signs and extent of ossification. (4) The age of living can only be estimated with any degree of certainty in the young. After adult life is reached, the age can only be guessed at approximately, in the absence of a regular certificate of birth or a horoscope. Lyon's Med. Jur. 1901, Pp. 34-35.
2. As regards the age of child, a medical man has no advantage over a layman. A mother will be better authority than a Doctor. Lyon's Med. Jur. 1935, P. 83.
3. In determining age by physical signs, a wide margin must be admitted. 1934 Sind 119=150 I. C. 984.
4. If there is a difference of 2 or 3 years only it is impossible for a medical man in a rape case on an ordinary inspection to state with any degree of certainty the exact age of a person A. L. R. 1932 L. 440=1932 P. C. L. 440 Cr.
5. The evidence of Indian witnesses on question of age is notoriously often very vague and unreliable. 1935 P. C. 199.

(A) By Teeth.—

1. Teeth yield indications of age up till the thirteenth or fourteenth year, and with the 'wisdom' teeth up to the eighteenth year. Permanent teeth are 32 in number, 16 in each jaw.—
2. Generally a child of nine should have twelve permanent teeth; at ten or eleven 24; at thirteen or fourteen it will have 28. Lyon's Med. Jur. Ed. 1935, P. 84.
3. Dr. Powell notes "I have seen wisdom teeth in Hindu children aged 13 2/12, 13 4/12 and 13 9/12. A few extraordinary irregularities may be found, but such freaks do not invalidate the general rules. I have known European cut a wisdom tooth at thirty-six. Lyon's Med. Jur. 1904, P. 36.
4. In the absence of documentary proof the estimation of the age of living child must be a very loose one until it arrives at the time when dentition commences. Taylor's Med. Jur. 1928, Vol. I, P. 166.
5. The indication afforded by the wisdom teeth is notoriously untrustworthy. 1934 Sind 119=150 I. C. 984.

(B) By height and weight.

1. The ratio between these is too variable for any formula to be of much value. 'The average weight of Indian children at birth has been estimated at 5 lbs., that of English children at 6 1/2 lbs.; and during the first year after birth about one pound is gained each month. Lyon's Med. Jur. 1904, P. 37.
2. On the average a child should measure about two feet high by the end of the first year, and should weigh about twenty pounds, with proportionate increase from birth upwards. Taylor's Med. Jur. 1928, Vol. I, P. 166.

(C). Hair on Pubes and arm pits, etc.

1. This growth begins about ten or eleven years of age and in boys is attended about fifteen to eighteen by deepening of voice. Lyon's Med. Jur. 1901, P. 39, Taylor's Med. Jur. 1928, Vol. I, P. 168.
2. In the male downy hair begins to appear on the upper lip and chin at about the age of fifteen or sixteen. Lyon's Med. Jur. 1935, P. 87.

(D) Breast development.

1. The breast development in girls varies greatly in time. The average age of puberty is twelve to thirteen. But even women of twenty sometimes have not menstruated Lyon's Med. Jur. 1901, P. 39.
2. The development of breasts in girls is very vague and liable to be altered by loose habits. Taylor's Med. Jur. 1928, Vol. I, P. 169.

3. It is a mistake to think that development of breast is a sign that menstruation has been established. Lyon's Med. Jur. 1935, P. 87.

(E). By ossification.

1. Besides the dentition and bright weight, it is possible to make more extensive use also of that other precise criterion of age, namely, the progress of ossification. For table regarding points of ossification by Ogston See Lyon's Med. Jur. Ed. 1904, P. 41, and Taylor's Med. Jur. 1928, P. 167.
2. Ossification is less easily and certainly observable in the living than in the dead, the Röntgen rays enable it to be observed in the former. Lyon's Med. Jur. Ed. 1904 P. 41, Lyon's Med. Jur. Ed. 1935, P. 85.

(F). By Menstruation.

Among eastern races manstruation occurs at the age of twelve or thirteen, among Europeans about thirteen or fourteen. In exceptional cases the menstrual flow may be established at an earlier age or may not occur till 20 years of age. It is a mistake to think that development of breasts is a sign that menstruation has been established. Lyon's Med. Jur. 1935 P. 87.

(G). By X-ray.

Union of Bones and Epiphyses.

By $1\frac{1}{2}$ years the anterior fontanlles should be closed.

- " 9 " the ilium, pubes, and ischium should meet in the acetabulum.
- " 13 " these three should be united but still separable on maceration.
- " 15 " the coracoid should be united to the scapula.
- " 16 " the olecranon should be united to the ulna.
- " 16-17 " the head of the radius and the lower end of the humerus should be joined to their respective shafts.
- " 17-18 " the internal epicondyle should be united to humerus.
- " 18-20 " the head of the femur should have joined the diaphysis.

If all the epiphyses are found united, the individual is certainly over 25 years of age. The age can be accurately determined by X-Ray. Taylor's Med. Jur. 1928 Vol. P. 168.

(H). By Wisdom Tooth.—Sec—A.

The indication afforded by wisdom teeth is notoriously untrustworthy. 1934 Sind 119.

5. Entries in Hospital Register.—Certificate. S. 35 Evidence Act.

1. Entries in the Prescription Register of a Government Dispensary are admissible under S. 35 Evidence Act. 1927 Oudh 310 = 103 I. C. 512.
2. An entry as to age of a person in an inoculation or vaccination register is relevant under S. 35. 1934 C. 766.
3. A certificate as to age of a private patient does not fall within the terms of S. 35 Evidence Act. 33 I. C. 142.

6. Entries in Panda's or Bhat's Register about —S 32 (5) Evidence Act.

1. Bhat's are heralds who are interested in keeping family ~~entry~~ which is evidence if it comes from proper custody. 25 C. W. N. 908 = 66 I. C. 894.
2. Books maintained by various members of a family of hereditary bards and containing entries of domestic events relating to the family, is admissible. 46 A. 655.
3. But when such entries are on leaflets of different sizes and stitched books containing blank pages, they must be taken with great caution. 1920 L. 759, 15 I. C. 625, 30 A. 510, 89 I. C. 898.
4. Papers, books and statements of family priest are admissible. 6 L. L. J. 550.

6-A. Evidence of.

1. A man cannot give direct evidence of his age, but his statement cannot be dismissed as of no value. 63 I. C. 525, 86 P. W. R. 1910 Cr.

2. Casual statement by agent or guardian about the age of the accused is of no value. 71 I. C. 140=1923 Nag. 164.
3. Statement of age of witness at the head of deposition in no evidence of age. 25 A. 108, 80 I. C. 357.
4. A slight change in the date of birth is not necessarily to be discredited. 1924 Oudh 385=81 I. C. 484.
5. Evidence of Indian witness on question of age is notoriously often vague and unreliable. 1935 P. C. 199.

7. Finding age of a person from hair.

1. The expert can determine the age of a person by examining some of that person's hair, it is especially easy when hair is given to him with its root, for the root of a hair dissolves in a solution of caustic potash, and the younger the owner of the hair the more easily does it do so; the hair of children will dissolve immediately, but that of old people will resist the action of the solution of caustic potash for hours; with several hairs of the same person various experiments may be made and the average time necessary for dissolution of their roots be established, it may then be determined what are the persons of a known age of the person whose hair is the subject of examination may be thus determined. Criminal Investigation by Dr. Hans Gross, Ed. 1934, P. 135.
2. There are other means of determining the age of a person from the hair e.g., by the diminution of pigmentary cells, of the medullary substance, and the spaces or gaps thereby produced. Thus it can be established whether perfectly white hair belongs to a young man who is growing grey in early life or to a really old man. Ibid.
3. The hairs of the sexual part of a young girl have the tips very fine, while the tips of those of an old woman are claviform. In both sexes the hair in the arm-pits is very slender in youth and as the subject ages it will in that locality reach a diameter of '15 millimeters and even more. Ibid.

8. Horoscope.

1. A horoscope is inadmissible unless its correctness is vouchsafed by the writer. 38 M. 166, 16 M. 134.
2. Horoscope containing date of birth and prepared by a person having special means of knowledge and who is dead is admissible to prove date of birth. 6 Pat. 388=1927 P. 271, 1933 C. 51, 39 I. C. 401, 33 I. C. 637=969.
3. Horoscope brought into the Court by family Pandit was held as evidence of the proof of age. 1924 Oudh 353=83 I. C. 840=11 O. L. J. 164.
4. A horoscope is often accepted as substantive evidence of the date of the birth of the person mentioned in it, perhaps with a vague idea of reference to S. 32 Evidence Act. No part of that section can make any statement of a date in such a document a relevant fact. 1923 Nag. 164=71 I. C. 140.
5. Horoscope or birth-day book is admissible to prove age. 1916 P. C. 242. 31 I. C. 637 (P. C.), 33 I. C. 969.
6. Horoscopes are not evidence by themselves but they could be used for refreshing the memory or as statement of deceased person under S. 32 Ev. Act. 1924 Oudh 353=83 I. C. 840.
7. A statement about the date of son's birth by a father at the time of preparing a horoscope is admissible under S. 32 (5) as it was the date of commencement of relationship. 52 I. C. 456=10 L. W. 67.
8. If the horoscope represents the statement of a person who is alive at the time it is given in evidence, it is not relevant, but it may be used to refresh memory under S. 159, 160 Ev. Act. 12 Mys. L. J. 133, 1924 Oudh 353, 1923 N. 64=71 I. C. 140, 41 A. 63, 48 I. C. 400.
9. It can be used to corroborate or contradict the testimony of a witness. 43 I. C. 400.
10. A horoscope which is produced by a stranger, and when the person who made it has not been called as a witness, is inadmissible in evidence. 35 M. 166.

11. A horoscope may be admissible as an admission under Ss. 17-18. Ev. Act or under S. 35. 17 M. 134.

9. Medical Evidence of.—

1. A certificate that a person was 21, by a doctor who formed his opinion "judging by his appearance, his voice and his teeth" is worthless. 21 C. W. N. 257 (P. C.)=39 I. C. 401=1916 P. C. 242.
2. Medical evidence as to age is from its very nature based on conjectures and cannot be relied on to determine with precision the exact age of a person. 1928 L. 230=113 I. C. 53, 1931 L. 401=32 Cr. L. J. 1041=133 I. C. 560.
3. A certificate as to the age of a private patient does not fall within S. 35 Ev. Act. It is not entry in a public document in the performance of duty. 33 I. C. 142.
4. Where a Civil Surgeon reports about the probable age of a person to a magistrate on the latter's requisition, he is merely giving his expert opinion and is not making a record of his act in his official capacity for the public and the report so made is not a public document. 1923 Oudh 155=103 I. C. 817.
5. No medical witness can testify to exact age of minor, as it is always possible for medical testimony to err within a year or two of the correct age. 1 Weir 373, (374).
6. If there is a difference of two or three years only, it is impossible for a medical man on ordinary inspection to state with any degree of certainty the exact age of a person A. L. R. 1932 L. 440=1932 P. C. L. 440 Cr.
7. The effect of medical evidence is to render other evidence as to age of person probable or improbable. 36 I. C. 313.
8. After adult life is reached, the age can be guessed approximately. Lyon's Med. Jur. 1901, pp. 34-35.
9. As regards age of child, layman, e. g., mother is better authority than a doctor. Lyon's Med. Jur. 1935 P. 83.

10. Of adults.

1. After the age of twenty-five there is little, if any, scientific proof of age, whether in the living or the dead. Taylor's Med. Jur. 1928, Vol. I, P. 169.
2. It is true that common knowledge comes more or less to our aid, enabling us to make a fair approximation to the decade within which a person may be, but any closer approximation must be made with so many reservations as to be hardly worth consideration. Ibid. P. 170.
3. The tell-tale crow's-feet about the eyes may be produced by prolong suffering, anxiety or worry; white hair often comes on in quite young people from grief or shock, and often for no reason that can be estimated. Hence in the absence of documentary proof or of some very exceptional circumstantial evidence, it is impossible to swear the exact age of an adult Ibid.
4. That the person has reached adult age will be indicated by the union of all epiphyses to the bones. Ibid. P. 185.
5. An estimate based entirely on appearance may well be faulty by ten or more years. Every boy has met the old youngman and the young old one Lyon's Med. Jur. 1935, P. 88.

11. School certificate. S. 35, Evidence Act.

1. The officers of the Education Department of a state are executive officers within the meaning of S. 74, Evidence Act, and therefore the records of the acts of such officers are public documents and admissible in proof of age of scholar. 50 B. 716=1927 B. 11.
2. School certificates duly prepared according to authority are relevant. 1934 N. 44=149 I. C. 660.
3. An entry as to the age of scholar in school register is an entry in public register made by a public servant in the discharge of his duty. 1935 Oudh 41, 1934 C. 766, 1929 Oudh 113=114 I. C. 801, 1932 Nag. 117=140 I. C. 66, 1931 B. 178, 1924. Oudh 353=83 I. C. 840.
4. An entry in a school register as to the age of a scholar, which is made on information

2. Casual statement by agent or guardian about the age of the accused is of no value. 71 I. C. 140=1923 Nag. 164.
 3. Statement of age of witness at the head of deposition in no evidence of age. 25 A. 108, 80 I. C. 357.
 4. A slight change in the date of birth is not necessarily to be discredited. 1924 Oudh 385=81 I. C. 484.
 5. Evidence of Indian witness on question of age is notoriously often vague and unreliable. 1935 P. C. 199.

8. After adult life is reached, the age can be guessed approximately. Lyon's Med. Jur. 1904, Pp. 31-35.
9. As regards age of child, Lyman, c. g., mother is better authority than a doctor. Lyon's Med. Jur. 1935 P. 83.

10. Of adults.

1. After the age of twenty-five there is little, if any, scientific proof of age, whether in the living or the dead. Taylor's Med. Jur. 1928, Vol. I, P. 169.
2. It is true that common knowledge comes more or less to our aid, enabling us to make a fair approximation to the decade within which a person may be, but any closer approximation must be made with so many reservations as to be hardly worth consideration. Ibid. P. 170
3. The tell-tale crow's-feet about the eyes may be produced by prolonged suffering, anxiety or worry; white hair often comes on in quite young people from grief or shock, and often for no reason that can be estimated. Hence in the absence of documentary proof or of some very exceptional circumstantial evidence, it is impossible to swear the exact age of an adult. Ibid.
4. That the person has reached adult age will be indicated by the union of all epiphyses to the bones. Ibid. P. 185.
5. An estimate based entirely on appearance may well be faulty by ten or more years. Every body has met the old youngman and the young old one. Lyon's Med. Jur. 1935, P. 88.

11. School certificate. S. 35, Evidence Act.

1. The officers of the Education Department of a state are executive officers within the meaning of S. 74, Evidence Act, and therefore the records of the acts of such officers are public documents and admissible in proof of age of scholar. 50 B. 716=1927 B. 11.

ALCOHOL.—See Drunkenness.

1. Analysis of.

Ethyl alcohol is produced by the fermenting action of yeast on sugar, and is concentrated by distillation.—Taylor's Med. Jur. 1928, Vol. II., P. 621.

2. Percentage of—in whisky, etc.

Percentage of spirit in whisky, brandy and rum is fixed by law at 25 per cent. under proof=36 per cent.

Port, Sherry and Madeira ... about 15 per cent.

Claret, Burgandy, and similar red wines ... 10 "

Grave, chablis, and similar white wines ... " 8 "

Bear and stout ... " 3 to 6 "

Taylor's Med. Jur., 1928, P. 621. Lyon's Med., Jur. 1935, P. 624.

3. Effect of Alcohol.—Drunkenness—symptoms of.

1. The absorption of alcohol is very rapid, and it can be detected in the blood within a few minutes....It is most rapid when taken on an empty stomach, but is delayed if food is present, and particularly when a fatty substance is present in the food. Taylor's Med. Jur. 1928, Vol. II, Pp. 622-623.
2. The concentration in the blood reaches its maximum in half an hour to two hours and gradually diminishes until it is completely lost in about twenty hours. Ibid.
3. We may take it approximately correct that when the percentage in the blood reaches the neighbourhood of 0.2 per cent. the patient will be distinctly affected by alcohol, when it reaches a point between 0.2 and 0.4 per cent. he will probably be drunk, and that when a concentration of about 0.6 per cent is reached there is distinct danger of death. Ibid.
4. There is a distinct difference in the effect of alcohol on different individuals and on the same individual at different times. Ibid.
5. In the early stages where there is a simple loss of control, no precise diagnosis is possible. His conduct would be abnormal. Ibid.
6. In a more advanced stage there may be obvious signs of alcoholism. The breath smells of drink. The face may be flushed and the pupils slightly dilated....Indistinctness in speech may be noted, varying with the stage of intoxication and with the individual. Hiccup may be present. Ibid.
7. The examination of urine will prove whether a person is intoxicated by alcohol. Ibid.
8. There is first a feeling of well being and a certain slight excitation. The actions, speech and emotions are less restrained, due to a lowering of the inhibition normally exercised by the higher centres of the brain. Ibid.

4. Poisoning by.—Post Mortem.

1. Cases of alcohol poisoning are usually accidental. Ibid.
2. Alcohol may act as a poison by its vapour. If the concentrated vapour be respired it will produce the usual effects of intoxication. Taylor's Med. Jur., 1924, Vol. II, P. 629
3. The post mortem appearance in case of alcohol poisoning will be as follows:—The stomach would be found intensely congested or inflamed, the mucous membrane presenting in one case a bright red, and in another a dark red-brown colour. The brain and its membranes are found congested and in some instances there is an effusion of blood or serum beneath the inner membrane. Ibid.

Appeal.

APPEAL.—S. 423, Cr. P. C.

1. Abatement of.—S. 431, Cr. P. C.—See Abatement.

2. Acquittal without—

1. Acquittal without appeal is not competent while enhancing sentence of co-accused. 5 P. R. 1869.

2. High Court has power to acquit without appeal. 14 P. W. R. 1909.

3. Where the grounds are common to acquitted appellants and non-appealing accused, the case of the latter can be considered under Revisional powers. 6 P. R. 1867, 71 P. R. 1866.

4. Where in a trial, the magistrate took action against one of the accused under S. 562 and sentenced the others to imprisonment, the sentences were set aside in revision on the ground that trial was illegal. Held, that conviction under S. 562, Cr. P. C. could not be said to have been automatically set aside. 1931 L. 199=32 Cr. L. J. 731

3. Additional evidence on.—Ss. 428, 375, Cr. P. C.

1. The Appellate Court may take further evidence but cannot direct further enquiry. 67 I. C. 498=23 Cr. L. J. 402=12 A. L. J. 961, 4 P. 204.

2. Appellate Court can record additional evidence in case of appeal against an order for compensation. 1930 M. 483=123 I. C. 809=31 Cr. L. J. 602=53 M. 688.

3. The evidence of co-accused as witness ought not to be recorded by the appellate Court although he has not appealed. 7 L. 148=1926 L. 309=27 Cr. L. J. 463.

4. According to S. 375, Cr. P. C., additional evidence may be taken upon any point bearing upon the guilt or innocence of accused. 1925 M. 106, 1928 M. 1174.

5. When the medical evidence was not given viva voce before Jury, High Court declined to take his evidence under S. 428. 56 C. 566=1929 C. 244=119 I. C. 378.

6. Appellate Court cannot send under S. 428 a case to police for investigation. 1900 A. W. N. 130.

7. When the lower Court refused to examine certain witnesses for defence and the accused was prejudiced, additional evidence may be taken by the appellate Court. 19 M. 375.

8. The object of S. 428 is the attainment of justice even at the late stage. 1925 Pat. 526=88 I. C. 595, 7 L. 148=1926 L. 309=27 Cr. L. J. 463.

9. The Court of Revision will not interfere with an order of appellate Court allowing additional evidence. 88 I. C. 595=1925 Pat. 526=26 Cr. L. J. 1171.

10. The accused need not be examined under S. 342, Cr. P. C., after the additional evidence. 52 B. 699=1928 B. 200, 86 I. C. 459=1925 Pat. 414=26 Cr. L. J. 811.

11. Where the report about the contents of a bottle containing cocaine was vague, the appellate court ordered the examination of Excise Analyst as witness. 52 B. 686.

12. Appellate Court will take additional evidence to supply a defect in formal proof, e.g., to see if sanction for prosecution was granted by the proper authority. 42 M. 885.

13. Before taking additional evidence, court must record reasons. 42 M. 885, 7 L. 148.

14. Omission to record reasons is not fatal if accused is not prejudiced. 1930 M. 483=123 I. C. 809=53 M. 688=31 Cr. L. J. 602, 12 Cr. L. J. 240.

15. High Court has power under S. 307 read with S. 428 to call further evidence. 55 C. 566=1929 C. 244=119 I. C. 378=30 Cr. L. J. 1031.

16. If Sessions Judge thinks that evidence of some more witnesses is necessary, he may order additional evidence. 31 C. 710.

17. When there was some doubt as to the truth of identification and though the deceased was alleged to have mentioned the name of the accused to Karnam, the latter was only examined in the committing Magistrate's Court and not in the Sessions Court, the High Court directed the Sessions Judge to examine the Karnam as a Court witness. 1931 M. W. N. 731.

18. The Appellate Court acting under S. 476-B. has inherent jurisdiction to take additional evidence. 1931 Sind 115=134 I. C. 1007=33 Cr. L. J. 41, 44 M. 47=1921 M. 453=29 Cr. L. J. 372 foll. 51 M. 603 not foll.
19. Irrespective of whether the trial Court be civil, criminal or revenue, the proceedings on appeal under S. 476-B. is proceeding under the Criminal Procedure Code. The appellate Court cannot make a remand to the trial Court but it can itself make an inquiry, when the inquiry by the lower Court is defective. It cannot take additional evidence under S. 428 as that section is specially limited to appeals under the chapter in which it occurs. 1931 L. 761=135 I. C. 594=1931 Cr. L. J. 1065.
20. When first information report was not placed before the Court and the accused came to know of it at a later stage, additional evidence should be allowed by the appellate court. 1935 A. 63=152 I. C. 550=36 Cr. L. J. 117.
21. The Sessions Judge has no power to order a re-trial with the condition that evidence already on the record should be considered. The proper course would be to take additional evidence under S. 428 (1). 1935 Nag. 125 (2)=36 Cr. L. J. 740.
22. S. 428 cannot be invoked to cure an illegality, e.g., disregard of the provisions of S. 256 or S. 162, Cr. P. C., 53 B. 378=1929 B. 309, 1935 Sind 145 (179).
23. If the prosecution did not choose to examine certain eye-witnesses, the Appellate Court should not fill up the gap by summoning such witness. 1935 Oudh 402.
24. When a Sessions Judge hears an appeal against the order of Additional Sessions Judge who had decided the case with the aid of assessors or Jurors, he cannot take additional evidence. It is inadmissible and conviction is illegal. 1935 Oudh 402=36 Cr. L. J. 844, 15 A. 136 and 43 A. 125 Rel. on. 47 I. C. 274=19 Cr. L. J. 902 Dist.
25. A District Magistrate under S. 428 can order the taking of formal evidence, by lower court, in proof of a document but cannot order to hear other evidence to "complete the inquiry." 1934 L. 316=35 Cr. L. J. 1166.

4. Adjournment of.—Cost—.

S. 344 does not apply to appeals and therefore they cannot be adjourned by awarding costs. The order of cost is ultra vires. 29 P. R. 1919 Cr. 1933 M. W. N. 878.

5. Against Acquittal. See Acquittal—2.

6. Against attachment order under S. 89.—S. 405, Cr. P. C.

1. "Court to which appeal ordinarily lie" means Court to which appeals in majority of cases lie, even though in a particular instances, the appeal may lie to another Court. 11 B. 438, 22 C. 487, 32 P. R. 1919.
2. A subordinate Court getting delegated process is not—. 26 M. 656, 27 M. 124.

8. Against an order of first class Magistrate.—S. 408, Cr. P. C.

1. If some accused are sentenced to less than four years and some to more than four years, the appeal of all the accused lies to High Court, even if the accused who got more than four years do not choose to appeal. 1925 A. 160=91 I. C. 959=27 Cr. L. J. 175, 37 A. 471. 12 P. R. 1900, 5 P. R. 1916 Cr.=17 Cr. L. J. 299, 11 Bom. L. R. 544, 161 P. L. R. 1911=12 Cr. L. J. 236.
2. When two sentences of fine exceeding in the aggregate fifty rupees are passed by a Magistrate the appeal would lie to the Court of Sessions. 1925 B. 416=27 Cr. L. J. 920=28 B. L. R. 668=95 I. C. 270.
3. An appeal lies under S. 408 from an order passed under S. 552 (1), Cr. P. C. 24 P. R. 1904, 1926 B. 382, 1925 C. 329, 37 A. 31, 46 A. 823=1924 A. 765.

4. Where a case is referred to District Magistrate under S. 349, Cr. P. C., he cannot award five years' imprisonment and even if he does so, the appeal lies to the Sessions Judge. 4 L. B. R. 53=6 Cr. L. J. 29.
 5. An order awarding compensation and repayment of fine under 22, Cattle Trespass Act, is appealable under S. 408 and the restrictive provisions of S. 413 are not applicable. 46 B. 54, 1931 C. 642=33 Cr. L. J. 93=59 C. 19.
 6. Under S. 35(3), Cr. P. C., concurrent sentences cannot be aggregated together for the purpose of raising the status of the form of appeal. 3 P. L. J. 134, 33 A. 154.
 7. If a first class Magistrate with S. 39 powers awards a sentence of imprisonment for more than four years, the appeal lies to High Court. 5 P. R. 1916 Cr.
 8. If appeal is presented to the Sessions Court instead of High Court and the Sessions Judge disposes of the appeal, his proceedings are void. 1925 Rang. 39.
 9. Where an accused was sentenced by a District Magistrate under S. 121-A, I. P. C., to two years and under S. 153-A, to one year the appeal lies to High Court for both the sentences. 38 C. 214.
 10. Where a Magistrate who begins as a second class Magistrate and completes the case as a first class Magistrate, passes a higher sentence in the latter capacity, the appeal lies to the Sessions Judge and not the District Magistrate. 1927 L. 138=99 I. C. 82=28 Cr. L. J. 50, 1925 Pat. 472=26 Cr. L. J. 914.
 11. The moment a second class Magistrate is invested with first class powers, any convictions by him as a second class Magistrate would be convictions as a first class Magistrate and an appeal would lie to the Court of Sessions. 51 M. 237=1923 M. 55=53 M. L. J. 733=26 M. L. W. 655=29 Cr. L. J. 71=106 I. C. 583.
 12. Where accused was sentenced under Ss. 376-366, I. P. C., to less than four years but the aggregate of the two exceeded that term, the appeal lay to the High Court, when sentences were to run consecutively. 1930 A. L. J. 1206.
 13. If the total term of imprisonment does not exceed four years the appeal lies to the Court of Sessions and the other concurrent sentences of lesser period need not be considered by the Sessions Judge. 1927 N. 255=28 Cr. L. J. 672, 1921 C. 152.
 14. A Court of Sessions in Baluchistan has same powers over European British subjects and other persons as are held by Court of Sessions in British India and therefore can hear appeals as prescribed by Cr. 50. Right of—by combining sentences. S. 415, Cr. P. C.

1. Where two punishments such as that mentioned in S. 414 were imposed, by reason of the combination of the punishments S. 415 made the order appealable. 1932 Oudh 27=136 I. C. 248=33 Cr. L. J. 278, 33 A. 510.
2. If a first class Magistrate passes two sentences of Rs. 40 on the accused, the aggregate of the sentences should be taken into account to save the right of appeal. 134 I. C. 1196=30 Cr. L. J. 90=1931 C. 642.
3. S. 415 applies when accused is ordered to give security to keep the peace and not when required to furnish security for good behaviour. 9 Cr. L. J. 368.

51. Summary dismissal of.—S. 421, Cr. P. C.

1. Appeals which are complicated both in law and facts ought not to be summarily dismissed. 48 M. 385=1924 M. 895=19 Cr. L. J. 223, 22 Cr. L. J. 349.
2. Where the credibility of the prosecution witnesses has been impugned, summary dismissal is improper. 24 Cr. L. J. 477=1922 Pat. 552.
3. An order of summary dismissal of appeal is final. 4 B. 101; 19 B. 732; 24 P. R. 1857.
4. If appeal is dismissed for default of pleader's absence, the appellate court may rehear it on merits. 46 M. 382 (403).
5. Where there are disputed facts and large number of documents, the appeal ought not to be dismissed summarily. 61 I. C. 173, 48 M. 385=1924 M. 895.
6. If reasonable opportunity is given to appellant or his pleader to be heard, the appeal may not be postponed. 53 M. 253=1930 M. 863=127 I. C. 803, 1929 N. 150.

Appeal—(concl'd.)

7. Appeal once admitted cannot be summarily dismissed. 1924 C. 642=69 I. C. 461.
8. Pleader should not be asked straightaway to argue the appeal when presented. 53 M. 865=1930 M. 863=127 I. C. 803.
9. Appellate Court in rejecting an appeal summarily is not bound to write a judgment. 21 C. 92, 20 B. 540, 25 M. 534.
10. Appellate Court should record reasons while rejecting an appeal summarily except in exceptional cases. 1930 P. 331=125 I. C. 121, 36 A. 496, 8 A. 514, 17 A. 241, 38 A. 393.
11. No reason need be recorded in support of summary dismissal of appeal. 1929 C. 773=123 I. C. 243, 1925 L. 196=91 I. C. 55=26 P. L. R. 616.
12. Judgment, dismissing the appeal summarily, need not be elaborate but must show that the Judge has applied his mind to it. 1929 Nag. 150=117 I. C. 279=30 Cr. L. J. 791, 38 A. 393, 36 A. 496.
13. Mere order that appeal is dismissed summarily without giving any reason is bad in law. 1925 Pat. 183=82 I. C. 165, 72 I. C. 893=1922 P. 552, 61 I. C. 49.
14. Order summarily dismissing the appeal, stands on the same footing as an order under S. 424, Cr. P. C. 1929 Sind 26=111 I. C. 856=29 Cr. L. J. 936.
15. Even if appeal is filed after limitation, appellant's counsel should be heard before dismissal. 1927 B. 445=103 I. C. 109=29 Bom. L. R. 701=28 Cr. L. J. 653.
16. Reasons for summarily dismissing the appeal must be given, which will show that points raised by the appellant had been considered. 1935 Pat. 32=152 I. C. 801=36 Cr. L. J. 191. 1930 Pat. 331=31 Cr. L. J. 760 applied.
17. Where memorandum of appeal contained number of grounds admitting of arguments and the judgment simply was "Heard, I see no reason to interfere". Held, that S. 421 was not sufficiently complied with. 1935 Pat. 37=153 I. C. 152=36 Cr. L. J. 261.

52. To Privy Council—See Privy Council.53. Transfer of.—S. 407 (2), Cr. P. C.

1. The District Magistrate may delegate his work of hearing appeals, but not any revisional work. 2 Bom. L. R. 536.
2. The Court to which an appeal is transferred is not bound by any opinion as to the necessity of taking further evidence, etc. 31 M. 277.
3. If a Sub-Divisional Magistrate has issued summons to a person as a court witness, while having an appeal transferred to him, the District Magistrate on withdrawing the appeal is not bound to hear that witness, because he is not bound by the opinion of the Sub-Divisional Magistrate. 31 M. 277.
4. S. 407 (2) deals with appeals against convictions only and therefore a District Magistrate cannot transfer to a First Class Magistrate an appeal from an order sanctioning prosecution. 34 A. 244.

54. Who can file.—

1. Legal Remembrancer appointed by Government can file appeal against acquittal. 46 C. 544.
2. Private applicants or police can move District Magistrate for filing appeal. 1923 L. 163=24 Cr. L. J. 433.

55. Withdrawal of.—

A petition of appeal presented for admission may be withdrawn before it is dismissed under S. 421. 5 C. L. R. 372.

APPROVER. Ss. 337-339 Cr. P. C. See Accomplice. Pardon.—2.

1. Accomplice and—

1. Accomplice under offer of pardon is an approver. 14 P. R. 1894 Cr.
2. Approver, although a competent witness, is not divested of the character of accused until he earns discharge. 12 L. 604=1931 L. 353=32 Cr. L. J. 785.

2. Admissibility of statement of—

1. Statement made by an approver under tender of pardon is admissible at the subsequent trial. 10 P. R. 1895 Cr.
2. Where an accused was given pardon for an offence not exclusively triable by Court of Sessions or those not mentioned in the section, the statement is inadmissible. 52 P. L. R. 1902. See 45 A. 226.
3. Approver must be examined as witness in committal and subsequent proceedings of every person tried for the same offence. Non-compliance renders trial illegal. 11 L. 230=1930 L. 95=120 I. C. 489=31 Cr. L. J. 111.
4. Statement of approver may be oral, though it should always be reduced to writing. 9 L. 608=1928 L. 320=108 I. C. 514=29 Cr. L. J. 413.
5. No formal order of discharge was passed in respect of approvers but they were not mentioned as accused in the challan. Held their evidence as admissible. 1923 L. 666=77 I. C. 984.
6. Even if the pardon is invalid, it would not prevent the approver being examined in the Sessions Court as a witness, if he is not committed for trial with the other accused. 1926 A. 590=97 I. C. 367=27 Cr. L. J. 1103.
7. Prosecution is bound under S. 337 (2), Cr. P. C. to produce the approver in Sessions Court, although his pardon is withdrawn before the trial. 1931 L. 102=134 I. C. 193=31 P. L. R. 1010=32 Cr. L. J. 1126.

3. Certificate for prosecution of. See Certificate—5.

4. Commitment of. See Commitment.

5. Corroboration of. See Accomplice.

6. Detention or custody of. See Detention—5.

7. Evidence of. See Accomplice.—6.

An approver can easily substitute an innocent man for a real offender. 1931 L. 408=132 I. C. 185=32 Cr. L. J. 818=1931 Cr. C. 648.

8. Forfeiture of pardon of. See Pardon.

9. Oath to.

Administration of oath to an approver is not necessary when pardon is given. 128 I. C. 209=1931 Oudh 113=7 Oudh W. N. 972=32 Cr. L. J. 91.

10. Pardon of. See Pardon.

11. Statement of. See Accomplice.—6.

1. An approver's disclosure is in its very nature always the result of inducement or promise of pardon. But should it appear that it was extorted by undue duress, threat or violence to the extent provided in S. 24, Evidence Act, the confessional statement would have to be ruled out of order. 9 L. 608=1928 L. 320=29 Cr. L. J. 413.
2. S. 337 (1) nowhere lays down that the disclosure of facts shall be reduced to writing, the verbal testimony of the person to whom it is made is sufficient to prove the statement, though as a precaution, it is generally reduced to writing. 9 L. 608.
3. A previous statement made by accused, who was subsequently pardoned, is admissible against him. 46 A. 236=1924 A. 220=81 I. C. 604=25 Cr. L. J. 956.

Approver—(concl'd.)

4. A discrepancy between the statements of approver and witness cannot be explained away by reference to statement before Police. 1934 L. 102=35 Cr. L. J. 517.
5. Retracted statement of approver must be extrinsically corroborated. 1934 Pesh. 46. 1928 L. 320, 5 A. L. J. 691 and 59 P. R. 1905 Foll.
6. No conviction can be based on the uncorroborated testimony of an approver. 1933 L. 838.
7. An approver accepting a tender of pardon can be examined under S. 164. 35 Cr. L. J. 111=1933 L. 868, 1933 L. 321=34 Cr. L. J. 469, 1924 L. 490.
8. If approver's evidence is rejected against an accused whom he falsely substituted, his entire evidence against other accused should also be rejected. 1933 L. 871=35 Cr. L. J. 137.

12. Trial of. See Pardon.

1. Certificate of Public Prosecutor is an essential requisite under S. 339 and the absence of certificate vitiates the trial of the approver. 5 L. 379=1925 L. 15=26 Cr. L. J. 237=84 I. C. 61.
2. Action can be taken against the approver after the trial of the other accused is finished. If he has forfeited pardon during the preliminary enquiry, he cannot be committed to the Sessions along with other accused. 23 B. 493, 24 M. 321, 31 M. 272. Conf 42 C. 856, 20 A. 529, 29 A. 24, 25 B. 675.
3. If the accused has forfeited his pardon during the trial he cannot be tried at once, as he was not committed to the Sessions as accused but as witness. 14 A. 336, 1 L. 218.
4. The burden is on the prosecution to prove that the approver forfeited the pardon. 1930 M. W. N. 773.
5. Accused cannot be tried and convicted of murder, until the court trying him has recorded a finding that he has forfeited the pardon. 5 L. 379=1925 L. 15=26 Cr. L. J. 237, 1929 Oudh 256=116 I. C. 64=30 Cr. L. J. 559.
6. Approver can plead pardon as bar to his trial and can say that he sufficiently complied with the conditions of pardon. 1922 Sind 31=68 I. C. 835=23 Cr. L. J. 611, 5 L. 379=1925 L. 15=26 Cr. L. J. 237=84 I. C. 61.
7. If an approver made contradictory statements, sanction cannot be refused to prosecute him for perjury. 1933 L. 868=35 Cr. L. J. 111.

ARBITRATION.1. In compoundable cases.

1. A criminal complaint cannot be referred to arbitration and the award following it cannot be made a rule of Civil Court. 1929 L. 394=116 I. C. 215=30 P. L. R. 122=11 L. L. J. 89.
2. Parties to a case under S. 427, I. P. C., agreed to be bound by the decision of arbitrator whose award was objected to by the complainant. Held that the agreement to refer the case to arbitration is not a final settlement. 1926 C. 266=90 I. C. 544=26 Cr. L. J. 1584=42 C. L. J. 139.
3. Parties referred their disputes including a case for defamation to an arbitration. Held that until arbitrators decided the dispute, the offence cannot be treated as compounded. 1925 M. 1211=90 I. C. 666=26 Cr. L. J. 1594.
4. If a compoundable case is referred to arbitrators, the Court is not bound to wait for award though it should and the award may amount to compounding the offence. The Court will give effect to such compounding. 26 Cr. L. J. 1594=1925 M. 1211.

2. In case under S. 145 Cr. P. C. See Dispute about immovable property.3. In maintenance cases. S. 488, I. P. C.

Where an arbitrator has made an award in application to reduce maintenance, he cannot subsequently reduce it. 1934 A. 940.

4. In Nuisance cases.

As the dispute under Chapter X, Cr. P. C. (Public Nuisance) is of public nature it cannot be referred to arbitrators by consent of parties even. 61 I. C. 55=22 Cr. L. J. 327, 22 Cr. L. J. 511, 42 C. 702, 21 C. W. N. 926.

Arbitration—(contd.)

5. In Security cases. See Breach of Peace—4.

6. Sanction for Prosecution.—

Sanction for prosecution under S. 195 is requisite for offences under Ss. 193, 471, I. P. C., alleged to have been committed before an arbitrator appointed in a civil suit. 3 P. R. 1914 Cr., 17 M. L. J. 420.

ARGUMENTS.

1. By accused.

An accused has no right to personally argue his own bail application, although in special cases he can be permitted to do so. 134 I. C. 842=1931 A. 356=32 Cr. L. J. 1271.

2. By counsel in appeal. S. 421, Cr. P. C. See Appeal—30.

3. By counsel in revision. S. 439, Cr. P. C. See Revision.

4. By counsel in trial.

1. Although Code does not provide for arguments by counsel, yet opportunity for arguments must be allowed. Conviction was set aside on affidavit given to that effect. 1925 A. 282 (1)=23 A. L. J. 253=87 I. C. 796.

2. It is the duty of the Court to hear any arguments that may be offered in every criminal trial or proceedings. 1925 Oudh 228=83 I. C. 340=25 Cr. L. J. 1380.

3. The nature of defence can be ascertained not only from the statement of the accused but from the trend of cross-examination and the arguments of accused's counsel. 1930 C. 442=127 I. C. 263=51 C. L. J. 339=31 Cr. L. J. 1203.

4. When the Court is in camp, it can give judgment without hearing the pleaders who did not attend. 69 I. C. 640.

5. In an application under S. 488, Cr. P. C., the parties were examined and the case was closed for orders. Pleader for the husband appeared and wished to argue the case and file some documents. The Court ruled him out and passed judgment. Held, that the case should be retried. 31 Cr. L. J. 110=1930 N. 59.

6. Omission by party to ask for opportunity for further arguments when magistrate examined witness after close of the case and submission of arguments is a bar to raising objections as a ground of revision. 1924 C. 980=25 Cr. L. J. 1107.

7. When there are more than one accused, their counsels should all be heard after the conclusion of the whole evidence, if not, the procedure is illegal, but does not vitiate the trial in absence of prejudice to the accused. 1932 L. 103=135 I. C. 209=33 Cr. L. J. 97=33 P. L. R. 891.

8. A junior pleader is not entitled as of right to complete the arguments, left unfinished by his senior. 53 I. C. 955.

9. Magistrate's refusal to hear accused's counsel is an illegality vitiating trial. 1928 M 1234=112 I. C. 586=29 Cr. L. J. 1082.

10. Audi alteram Partem. (Hear the other side—i. e., no man should be condemned unheard). 24 Q. B. D. 712, 32 L. J. C. P. 185. Wharton's Law Lexicon, P. 87.

5. By Private Prosecutor.

1. A private prosecutor has no right to be heard. 35 C. W. N. 976=1932 C. 61.

2. A complainant cannot claim as of right to be heard in appeal. It is purely in the discretion of the Court. 29 P. R. 1886, 7 M. H. C. R. 42 (App.)

6. Cutting short.

Court cannot cut short a counsel's arguments unless irrelevant or is a repetition. 1928 L. 319=107 I. C. 763=29 Cr. L. J. 279.

7. Right of reply in appeal. See Appeal—44.

8. Right of reply in trials. S. 292, Cr. P. C.

1. Where the accused has not called any evidence on his behalf, he has the right to be heard last. 53 B. 119=1923 B. 557=30 B. L. R. 1530.

2. The putting in of deposition of witnesses made before the Committing Magistrate and the police is not adducing evidence. 31 C. 1050, 11 Bom. L. R. 177, 14 C. 245, 17 C. 930, 10 C. 1024, 14 B. 436.

3. Even if one of the accused calls witnesses, and the others do not, the prosecution is entitled to reply not merely on the evidence adduced by one of the accused, but generally on the whole case. 18 B. 364.

4. The prosecution shall be entitled to reply if the documentary evidence for the defence is adduced after the case for the prosecution is closed. 43 C. 426.

9. Undefended accused.

Where in a Sessions court an accused is unrepresented, the judge should bring to the notice of the jury the argument which would have been advanced, if he had been represented by pleader, else it will be urged that there was non-direction in the charge of the jury. 1930 Sind, 308 = 23 Cr. L. J. 172.

10. Written.

1. Written address filed by counsel do not stand higher than judge's notes of counsel's arguments. 53 B. 119 = 1928 B. 557 = 30 Bom. L. R. 1530.

2. It is open to court not to accept notes of arguments filed by pleader of the accused, but if he accepts it, it must form part of the record and should not be destroyed till the expiration of period of appeal. 1926 Sind 194 = 94 I. C. 903 = 27 Cr. L. J. 711.

3. Counsel can waive his right of oral address in favour of written one. 53 B. 119.

ARMS ACT.—(XI of 1878).

S. 1.—(i) Licence for weapon need not be with the person. 64 I. C. 275, 20 C. 444.

 7. A Judge cannot dispense with the opinion of Assessors, merely because he considers the evidence unsatisfactory. 10 A. 414.
 8. Judge is not bound to conform to the opinion of Assessors, although regard should be paid to it. 24 M. 523, 16 I. C. 326.
 9. A Judge cannot convict under S. 201, I. P. C., when opinion of Assessors was taken with respect of S. 307, I. P. C. only. 1924 B. 246=26 Cr. L. J. 394.
 10. When case is partly triable with Assessors and partly with Jury, the Judge should decide the one with the aid of Assessors and send the other to High Court if he disagrees with Jury. 50 I. C. 832=20 Cr. L. J. 352=26 M. L. T. 45.
 11. There is nothing in the Code to allow or forbid Assessors to consult among themselves. 30 I. C. 1005.
 12. Actual words of Assessors must be recorded. 1921 P. 109=22 Cr. L. J. 417.
 13. Judge cannot visit the spot after the opinion of Assessors is taken. 43 I. C. 86.
 14. When opinion of Assessors is taken, a fresh trial cannot be held if Judge finds the first trial illegal. 31 I. C. 1000=16 Cr. L. J. 824=17 B. L. R. 1074.
 15. If Assessors had been asked their opinion in a case under Ss. 395, 403, I. P. C. and gave verdict for theft only. It cannot be said that Judge did not take their opinion. 1929 Sind 147=118 I. C. 193 (2)=30 Cr. L. J. 675.
 16. Distinct opinion on each charge must be taken. 1928 N. 257=109 I. C. 497.
 17. Each Assessor should be asked separately to give his opinion clearly. Giving the opinion as "the same" after the first Assessor has given his opinion is not enough.

1929 L. 37=115 I. C. 66=30 Cr. L. J. 378.

18. In case of identification of ornaments of small value, the opinion of the Assessors is of great weight, as they are well-acquainted with the ways of ordinary men. 1925 O. 452=89 I. C. 155=26 Cr. L. J. 1291.
19. Accused is entitled to have Assessor's opinion on all charges. Failure by Judge to do so vitiates trial. 1934 O. 354=35 Cr. L. J. 1066, 26 M. 598, 1928 N. 257, 1924 B. 246 and 1927 P. C. 44 Dist.
20. Each of the Assessors must state his opinion orally on all charges. Judge can record their opinion and can put necessary question. 1935 Sind 23=36 Cr. L. J. 504.
21. Omission to make reference to the opinion of Assessors in the judgment is a curable irregularity. 1933 L. 910=35 Cr. L. J. 168, 48 P. R. 1905 Dist.
22. If Assessors give an opinion of not guilty in a murder case, it is no reason for awarding lesser sentence. 1933 N. 307, 1 R. 751.

6. Questions to.

1. Judge can put questions to Assessors to elucidate their opinion. 40 C. 163, 41 C. 350.
2. Questions by way of cross-examination cannot be put to the Assessors. 41 C. 350.

7. Verdict of.

1. Further evidence cannot be taken after verdict of the Assessors. 14 P. R. 1870 Cr., 43 A. 25=59 I. C. 559.
2. Accused cannot be convicted of offence for which verdict of Assessors is not taken. 25 B. L. R. 1318=1924 B. 246=84 I. C. 938=26 Cr. L. J. 394.
3. Simultaneous hearing of two cases by one set of Assessors renders the trial invalid. 64 I. C. 833.

ASSIGNMENT OF BOND.

Unstamped endorsement of assignment of bond is not an offence under S. 51. Stamp Act. 20 P. R. 1867.

ASSISTANT SESSIONS JUDGE. See Additional Sessions Judge.

ASSISTING COURT. See Duty of Prosecution.—1.

ASSISTING IN CONCEALMENT OF STOLEN PROPERTY. S. 414, 1. P. C.

1. Applicability of section.

1. S. 414 is apparently intended to apply to cases where there has not been such a possession as would support the charge under S. 411. 31 P. R. 1879 Cr., 8 Cr. L. J. 11.
2. A person convicted under S. 411 with respect to a property taken on a particular occasion cannot subsequently be tried under S. 414 in respect of other property stolen on the same occasion from the same person. 23 A. 313=3 Cr. L. J. 207.

2. Charge.

1. A charge under S. 414 would in many cases be advisable as an alternative charge. 10 Bom. L. R. 125.
2. A charge under S. 414 should contain details as to the nature of property as well as circumstances under which it was concealed or made away with. 2 B. L. C. R. 130.

3. Disposing of.

1. Where the accused restored to the owner, property stolen by his son, with a view to save his son, and subsequently denied all knowledge of it, he was not liable under S. 414. 'Disposing' in S. 414 has to be construed ejusdem generis with concealing and making away with. 11 Cr. L. J. 493=7 I. C. 465.
2. The intention of the section is to punish persons who subsequent to the commission of the offence either conceal it or make away with it by destroying or otherwise disposing of it. It does not apply in the case of a man spending money stolen by another. 1935 L. 587=1935 Cr. C. 968.

*Assisting in Concealment of stolen property—(contd.)4. Essentials and Evidence.

1. Where a man conceals stolen property in another's house with a view to get the latter into trouble he is liable under S. 414 and for fabricating false evidence under S. 193 I. P. C. 1 A. 379.
2. It is not necessary that owner should be traced. It should be proved that accused voluntarily assisted in concealing the property which had reason to believe to be stolen. This latter fact may be proved from the accused's own conduct, as where a poor Pathan cooly had jewels. 14 Bom. L. R. 893=13 Cr. L. J. 793.
3. The owner need not be traced. Proof that property is stolen is enough and that the accused helped in the disposal of it. 49 B. 878=1926 B. 71 (1)=27 Cr. L. J. 114=91 I. C. 690.
4. A finding that the property is stolen may be based on strong circumstantial evidence. 1924 M. 350=25 Cr. L. J. 790=81 I. C. 310.
5. An accused who conceals property in the belief that it is stolen while really it is not, is not guilty. 1924 M. 350=25 Cr. L. J. 790.
6. The word "believe" in S. 414 is very much stronger than "suspect". It is not sufficient to show that accused was careless or that he had reason to suspect that the property was stolen or that he did not make sufficient inquiry about it. 6 B. 402.
7. This section applies where there is no actual receipt of stolen property. 4 M. H. C. App. 13=1 Weir 469.
8. Neither S. 411 nor S. 414 applies to actual thief. 8 Cr. L. J. 11, 15 P. R. 1896 Cr.
9. Assistance given by aiding the concealment or destruction or by promoting the sale of the stolen property, by one who has reason to believe it to be stolen property constitutes this offence. 29 B. 449, 14 Bom. L. R. 893, 39 P. R. 1881.
10. A European soldier gave stolen jewellery, usually worn by Indian female to accused. Held, accused could not be said to believe or to have reason to believe that jewellery was stolen. 1932 L. 434=139 I. C. 442.

5. Melting stolen ornaments.

1. S. 414 is clearly intended to penalize persons, who deal with the property in such a way that it becomes impossible to identify it or use it as evidence. Thus melting down ornaments would come under the scope of this section. 1935 L. 537 (588)=1935 Cr. C. 968.
2. Disposing of ignots of gold (stolen property) by one would not fall under S. 414, as the act committed is disposing of the property and not assisting in disposing of it. 39 P. R. 1881.

6. Sale of—

Assistance given by promoting sale of stolen property, by one who has reason to believe it to be stolen property constitutes an offence under S. 414. 29 B. 449.

ASSOCITES. See Witness—7.ASSOCIATION WITH ACCUSED. See Accused—2.A TROPINE. See Poison—3.ATMOSPHERE.

1. Engendering suspicion. See Transfer (Grounds)—8.
2. Foulting of. See Public Nuisance—18.

ATMOSPHERE OF COURT.

The atmosphere of court of law should be as scientific as that of a hospital or lecture-room. 1931 M. W. N. 1152.

ATTACHMENT. See Absconding, S. 146, Cr. P. C.ATTACHMENT OF PROPERTY BEFORE JUDGMENT.

1. Attachment of property before judgment is not desirable, as accused is not presumed to be guilty. 58 B. 152=1934 B. 74.

2. Accused deposited stolen property in the Bank. Money becomes property of the Bank and no order under S. 94, Cr. P. C., can be passed, nor can money in Bank be attached. 58 B. 152.

ATTACK ON RELIGION OR ITS FOUNDER. See Religion—1.

ATTEMPT. Ss. 511, 417, 376, 312, 307, 161, 124-A. 122, I. P. C.

1. Definition.

2. Definition by Cockburn C. J. "If the attempt had succeeded the offence charged would have been committed." 14 P. R. 1914, 30 Cr. L. J. 289 (Sp. Bench). 8 B. L. R. 421, 10 B. L. R. 848, 2 Bom. L. R. 286.
3. An attempt is the commencement of series of acts. 1922 N. 40=65 I. C. 494.
4. Transaction which is commenced but interrupted is attempt. 37 B. 553.

2. Distinction from preparation. See Preparation.

1. Preparation consists in devising or arranging means necessary for commission, while an attempt is the direct movement towards commission after preparation is made. 1923 P. 307=65 I. C. 492=23 Cr. L. J. 108.
2. Mere obtaining thumb-impression on a blank paper is only a preparation and not an attempt. 1926 P. 267=94 I. C. 353=27 Cr. L. J. 609.
3. Debtor sending waste papers under an insured cover, as if it contained currency notes is only preparation and no offence is committed. 1927 M. 199=99 I. C. 102, 1924 A. 205. Cont. 10 P. R. 1913 Cr.
4. Mere obtaining signature slip at the Polling Station fraudulently is no offence under S. 171 (f) read with S. 511, I. P. C. 1925 A. 226=84 I. C. 711.
5. Presence on roof of a house is not attempt at house-breaking but only preparation. 15 P. R. 1907 Cr.
6. Assault with a raised naked sword is preparation and not attempt to murder. 45 P. R. 1882 Cr.
7. Milk contractor going with stale milk in the direction of milch cows is not attempt to cheat but preparation. 40 P. R. 1885 Cr.
8. Offering to sell spurious trinkets, by false representation is attempt to cheat. 14 P. R. 1914 Cr.=66 P. L. R. 1914=23 I. C. 473.
9. Possession of Lahu is not an attempt to manufacture fermented liquor. 29 P. R. 1884 Cr.
10. Railway goods clerk only entered gross weight instead of actual weight. It is only a preparation to cheat. 1923 P. 307=65 I. C. 492=23 Cr. L. J. 108.
11. A clerk entered in a register higher weight of sugarcane coming to a factory but register had not passed from his hand. Held, it was not an attempt. 1923 P. 307=65 I. C. 492=23 Cr. L. J. 108.
12. Assistance given in the preparation of offence amounts neither to abetment nor attempt, unless the offence is committed. 1925 Oudh 158=25 Cr. L. J. 1162.
13. There are four stages in every crime: the intention to commit, the preparation to commit, the attempt to commit, and if the third stage is successful, the commission itself. 1933 C. 893=35 Cr. L. J. 97.
14. Intention to commit crime or intention followed by preparation is not sufficient to constitute attempt. 1933 C. 893=35 Cr. L. J. 97.
15. Whether any given act or series of acts amounts to attempt is a question of fact in each case. 15 A. 173.
16. Preparation for the committing of an offence is punishable in the case of dacoity. 18 P. R. 1868.

Attempt—(concl'd.)

3. Previous conviction.

S. 75, P. C. (enhanced punishment) does not apply to previous conviction for attempt. 7 P. R. 1872, 14 P. R. 1906.

4. Scope.—Intention.—

1. An attempt is possible though offence attempted cannot be committed. 1922 Nag. 40=65 I. C. 494.
2. If there is some external tangible act, showing progress towards the actual commission of an offence, mere interruption is immaterial. 1927 L. 634=103 I. C. 403=28 Cr. L. J. 680.
3. Attempt itself is an offence. 17 A. 120.
4. When seditious matter is sent by post and is interrupted on the way, it is attempt to commit sedition. 39 C. 522. See 39 C. 606, 34 B. 378.
5. An attempt is punishable though the final act short of actual commission of that offence has not been accomplished. 10 L. 253=1928 L. 551=29 Cr. L. J. 780.
6. S. 511 does not apply to attempt to murder. 14 A. 33.
7. Intention alone, or intention followed by preparation is not sufficient to constitute attempt. But intention followed by preparation followed by any "act done towards the commission of the offence" is sufficient. 1933 C. 893=35 Cr. L. J. 97. 34 B. 378; 2 Bom. L. R. 304; 2 Bom. L. R. 286 Ref. 24 B. 287, 5 I. C. 138, 15 B. 194, 4 N. L. J. 245.
8. It is not legally impossible to attempt the abetment of an offence. 49 P. R. 1887.
9. A widow administered dhatura to her parents. Held, she must be presumed to be aware of the fact that it was likely to cause death, although she may not have administered it with that intention. 20 A. 143.
10. Conviction for attempt cannot be justified on mere surmise or probability. 17 Cr. L. J. 431=35 I. C. 991.
11. S. 511 applies to offences under Penal Code. 1 Weir 624—640.

5. Sentence.

1. The sentence of attempts to commit offence is half of that awardable for the offence up to Magistrate's power. 13 P. R. 1871, 10 P. R. 1913 Cr.
2. A sentence of whipping may be awarded for an attempt if the offence is so punishable. 1 Bur. 399—531.
3. The sentence for attempt is half of that can be awarded for the offence and not half of what the Magistrate can award. 13 P. R. 1893.
6. To commit cheating, robbery, etc., etc. See those offences. (Cheating, Robbery, etc.)
7. To commit suicide. S. 309, I. P. C. See Suicide—2.
8. To export opium.
 1. Attempt to export opium is no offence. 2 P. R. 1911 Cr.
 2. Accused was found travelling in a bus to Tranquebar carrying 165 tolas of opium which N had given him with instruction to give him in French territory. Held, it was only preparation. 1932 M. 507=1932 M. W. N. 545=138 I. C. 286=33 Cr. L. J. 582=36 M. L. W. 127.
9. To manufacture liquor.

1. Possession of 'Lahn' in a vessel is not an attempt. 17 P. R. 1889.

10. To murder. See Attempt to Murder.

ATTEMPT TO COMMIT CULPABLE HOMICIDE. S. 308, I. P. C.

If in case of shooting a person intentionally, the bullet passed through that person's bullock and private part and causing grievous injury, the offence falls under S. 303. A. L. R. 1932 L. 499.

ATTEMPT TO MURDER. S. 307, I. P. C.

1. Abetment of.

1. It is somewhat difficult to conceive circumstances which would constitute an instigation to attempt to murder. 9 B. L. R. 190.
2. A wife administered to her husband poison to improve his quarrelsome nature, which was supplied by her lover, who knew it to be Dhatara. The latter is guilty of abetment under S. 302, I. P. C. 19 Bom. L. R. 54=38 I. C. 1003.

2. By blows (lathi, sword, etc.)

1. Accused struck his wife with hatchet on the neck. Conviction should be under S. 324 and not under S. 307, I. P. C., as a hatchet blow would not ordinarily cause death. 15 Bom. L. R. 991=14 Cr. L. J. 641=21 I. C. 881.
2. Several blows were aimed at the head, causing 10 incised wounds. Murderous intent is proved. 132 P. L. R. 1915=13 P. W. R. 1915 Cr.
3. Fetching a sword and advancing towards complainant, in a menacing attitude, is not an attempt to murder. 45 P. R. 1882 Cr.
4. Pursuing complainant with a raised axe in hand is an attempt at grievous hurt. 30 P. R. 1904 Cr.
5. Cutting off complainant's hands and maiming him for life is attempt to murder. 1923 L. 236 (2).
6. Accused struck the deceased three blows on the head and believing him to be dead, set fire to the hut. According to medical evidence he died of burning and not of blows. The accused was convicted under S. 307 only. 15 B. 194.
7. Accused came armed with dangs and gave beating to their enemy to unconsciousness. They announced their intention of killing him. Held, the charge under S. 307 is not illegal. 1927 L. 67=112 I. C. 224=29 Cr. L. J. 1003.
8. Wounding of a person with knife on the neck falls under S. 307. 6 P. R. 1912.
9. Whether a blow with hatchet is or is not capable of causing such result depends upon the particular nature of the blow inflicted. 21 I. C. 881=14 Cr. L. J. 641.
10. Accused was drunk and on provocation gave slight injuries with sharp-edged weapon. Held, he was guilty under S. 324 and not S. 307 1936 L. 914.

3. By Dhatara. See—5.

4. By gun-shot or revolver. See Wound—12.

1. A shot of cartridge about No. 6 in size fired at a distance of 6 paces is very likely to cause death: the accused is guilty under S. 307. 10 Cr. L. J. 57=9 C. L. J. 432.
2. If a person fires two successive shots towards the same man, an intention to murder is proved. 1 P. W. R. 1910 Cr., 5 I. C. 602=11 Cr. L. J. 125.
3. Using revolver at night to keep watch is not offence, when it was not aimed at any one. 9 L. L. J. 331=1927 L. 853.
4. A Police sowar fired three successive shots while pursuing a person. One of the shots struck a person bathing in the river, no offence under S. 307, I. P. C., is established. 1923 L. 415=76 I. C. 1028=25 Cr. L. J. 308.
5. Accused pulled the trigger twice with no result. In the absence of proof that gun was loaded, there is no offence under S. 307 but under S. 352. 1223 R. 251=I. R. 209.
6. Intentionally discharging loaded gun from a short distance, causing injuries, which might prove fatal is an offence under S. 307. 29 I. C. 670=16 Cr. L. J. 542.
7. If the gun failed to discharge due to the omission of the assailant to cap the nipple, the conviction for attempt to murder does not lie. 4 B. H. C. R. 17.
8. A shot was fired from the house in which accused was residing but it was not aimed at any body. It was not proved that accused fired the shot, he is not guilty. 1927 L. 853=9 L. L. J. 331.
9. If the intention of the accused in firing a shot at a Police officer was not to kill him, but to scare him away, he is guilty under S. 506 and not under S. 307, I. P. C. 1931 M. W. N. 861.

10. The accused fired two shots from a powerful revolver at point blank range at His Excellency the Governor of Bombay. He missed his aim and no injury was caused. Held, he was guilty under S. 307. 1932 B. 279=34 Bom. L. R. 571, 14 A. 33 approved. 4 B. II. C. R. 17 (Cr. C.) doubted.
 11. Accused, a soldier, fired at his grandmother during a quarrel and the bullet hit fleshy part causing simple injuries. Held, he was guilty under S. 324 and not under S. 307. 1933 L. 315=145 I. C. 702.
 12. Accused fired his pistol at a constable who was chasing him. The bullet struck him on his side. Held, he was guilty under S. 307 f. P. C. and S. 19 (f), Arms Act. 1933 L. 852.
 13. Accused shooting at A but wounding B by mistake is guilty under S. 307, having regard to the provisions of S. 301. 1935 Pesh. 74.
5. By poison.
1. Asking a doctor to supply medicine for poisoning a person is not an attempt to murder. 24 P. R. 1882 Cr.
 2. When the quantity of poison is not known, it cannot be said that accused intended to cause more than hurt. 3 I. C. 721.
 3. Accused administered Dhatūra to several persons, who died. He administered it to C. who did not die. The offence falls under S. 307. 72 P. L. R. 1911=12 Cr. L. J. 125.
 4. A young widow administered Dhatūra to the members of her family in order to elope away with her paramour. The victims were all saved, as they were soon removed to the dispensary. She is guilty under S. 307. 20 A. 143, 60 I. C. 50. See 15 B. 194.
 5. A wife intending to poison her husband, mixed some arsenic in his food but it was insufficient to kill him. He died of inflammation of brain and there was no evidence that poison was even the secondary cause of it, she is not guilty under S. 307. 1 Weir 187.
 6. Accused intended to poison A, but A shared the poisoned sweet with B, who also suffered from poison. He was guilty of attempting to murder B also. 1921 L. 108=63 I. C. 50=22 Cr. L. J. 194=3 L. L. J. 191.
 7. A young man administered poison under instigation and none of the victims succumbed, the conviction was altered from S. 307 to S. 328. 1931 P. 346=32 Cr. L. J. 1223.
6. By suffocation. See Suffocation.
1. Accused enticed into her house a boy of nine years of age and removed his jewels. As she was unable to remove anklets and ear-rings, she put him in a jar and covered it with a mill-stone after tying his wrist and neck and stuffing his mouth. The boy next morning removed the stone and ran home. Held, she was guilty under S. 307, (1889) 1 Weir 328.
 2. A young Brahmin widow was confined of a child. A new-born child was discovered wrapped up in a cloth with a cooking vessel turned over it, in the upper storey. Held, she was not guilty. 8 Bom. H. C. (Cr. C.) 164.
7. Essentials and Evidence.
1. The act must be done in such a way and with such ingredients, that if it succeeded, and death was caused by it, the legal result would be murder according to S. 299 or 300. 14 A. 38.
 2. In case of mutual injuries on each other and no eye witnesses, the conviction should be under S. 326 and not under S. 307, 1 P. C. 2 R. 558=1925 R. 133.
 3. Throwing a child in a pond and wishing that its death should fall as a curse on some other woman is attempt of murder. 11 Cr. L. J. 48=5 I. C. 138.
 4. S. 307 makes a distinction between an act of accused and its result if any. The court has to see the act irrespective of result. 1930 L. 253=31 Cr. L. J. 782=125 I. C. 183, 15 Bom. L. R. 991 Dist.
 5. Law does not say that when a person is stabbed, his evidence must be corroborated. It must be above suspicion. 1929 M. W. N. 587.

6. Abrasion on the person of the accused is not sufficient proof that he attempted to murder. 1929 N. 350=120 I. C. 210=31 Cr. L. J. 15.
7. In order to constitute offence under S. 307, the act committed must be capable of causing death in the natural and ordinary course of events. 15 Bom. L. R. 991, 4 B. H. C. R. 17.
8. When a prosecution witness who was not interested in accused Nos. 1 and 2 came up after the occurrence and was told by eye witnesses that accused No. 3 killed the deceased and they did not name Nos. 1 and 2 soon. Held, that accused Nos. 1 and 2 cannot be convicted. 1923 L. 236 (2).

circumstances. 5 R. 276=104 I. C. 101=1927 R. 305=23 Cr. L. J. 773.

16. The discretion of the High Court and Court of Sessions is not limited to Consideration set out in S. 497. 134 I. C. 842. See 136 I. C. 707=1932 L. 435=33 Cr. L. J. 333.
17. If a person disappears after he is released on bail by High Court, he is not entitled to have his revision application heard. 1923 A. 327.
18. If Sessions Judge has refused bail, High Court will not interfere unless he has exercised discretion improperly. 1933 Sind 367=35 Cr. L. J. 144, 25 A. 238 and 1927 Sind 23=27 Cr. L. J. 1217 Ref.

7. By Magistrates.

1. Under the amended S. 497, Cr. P. C. Legislature has practically laid down that bail should ordinarily be granted except for offences punishable with death or transportation. 51 C. 402 (417)=1924 C. 476=81 I. C. 220, 92 I. C. 590.
2. Whether there are reasonable grounds for believing the accused guilty must be decided judicially, viz., there must be evidence which if unrebutted would result in conviction. 36 C. 174, 10 C. W. N. 1093, 36 C. 166.
3. Power to admit to bail is not arbitrary. The Court has to consider the seriousness of charge, nature of evidence, severity of punishment prescribed for the offence and character, means and standing of the accused. 51 C. 402 (416)=1924 C. 476.
4. In bailable offence, bail is a right and not a favour. Detention in a lock-up is the alternative and not the original order. 32 C. 80, 36 M. 274, 20 Bom. L. R. 121.
5. It is only under S. 107 (3) and (4) that a Magistrate can detain in custody until the completion of inquiry, otherwise bail should be granted. 32 C. 80 Cont. 36 M. 474.
6. Provisions of S. 7 (2) of Extradition Act override S. 496, Cr. P. C. 20 Cr. L. J. 34=241.
7. Magistrate can grant bail to an accused arrested under S. 54 (7) Cr. P. C., whom he is asked to retain in custody by the District Magistrate of a Native State. 1923 B. 104=87 I. C. 100=26 Bom. L. R. 984=26 Cr. L. J. 948.
8. Magistrate can grant bail pending further Police investigation. 83 I. C. 727=1923 L. 663=23 Cr. L. J. 167.
9. A Magistrate has no power to grant bail in a case under S. 409, I. P. C. 1930 R. 335=128 I. C. 577=32 Cr. L. J. 148.
10. A person accused of murder shall not be released on bail unless the case is based on suspicion. 99 I. C. 860=28 Cr. L. J. 188, 11 Pat. 280=1932 Pat. 209.
11. If the accused is charged with contemplated offence against the Magistrate, such Magistrate should not deal with the bail application. 1935 L. 230.

8. By police.

1. Persons arrested by Police under S. 55, Cr. P. C., should always be given option of release on bail. 14 A. 45.
2. Refusal by Police in a bailable offence to grant bail is illegal. 2 P. R. 1868.
3. A bond for appearance before Police officer is void. 11 C. 77, 1925 L. 152.
4. A Police officer cannot take third party's bond for the arrested person's appearance, though he can demand bail. 1928 L. 318=109 I. C. 219=29 Cr. L. J. 491.

9. By Sessions Judge. S. 498, Cr. P. C.

4. Sessions Judge can grant bail, when a person is convicted and has not appeared. 5 A. L. J. 419=1908 A. W. N. 195=8 Cr. L. J. 49.

Bail—(contd.)

5. That bail can be granted only to a person accused of non-bailable offence, is not applicable to the Court of Sessions acting under S. 498, Cr. P. C. 1929 A. 614=117 I. C. 99=30 Cr. L. J. 718.
6. Accused convicted of non-bailable offence should not be released on bail except when there is an error or mistake of Law or fact. 1928 Sind 142=109 I. C. 118=29 Cr. L. J. 470=22 S. L. R. 435.
7. Sessions Judge should grant bail under S. 498, if the accused could interview his counsel and have a better chance of representing his case. 51 A. 603=1929 A. 320=116 I. C. 748=30 Cr. L. J. 697=1929 A. L. J. 585.
8. The discretion of High Court and Court of Sessions is not limited to the consideration set out in S. 497, but it has to consider all the circumstances. 1931 A. 356=1931 A. L. J. 515=32 Cr. L. J. 1271=134 I. C. 842.
9. Mere fact that committal order has been passed under Ss. 309-149 does not in itself afford reasonable grounds to the Sessions Judge for believing the accused so committed to be guilty. Hence it is no bar to granting bail to the accused. 1935 Pesh. 101=157 I. C. 286=1935 Cr. C. 853.
10. Cancellation of.
 1. The Magistrate can cancel any bail, if by further evidence the case is made out against the accused. 36 C. 174, 1936 Sind 187.
 2. District Magistrate has no power to cancel a bail and order the re-arrest of a person released on bail by a Subordinate Magistrate. 1932 A. 327, 4 Bur. L. T. 70, 22 B. 549.
 3. However bad character an accused may be, he is entitled to bail if law allows it. 1932 A. 327=139 I. C. 330=33 Cr. L. J. 752.
 4. In a trial under S. 124-A, Penal Code, if adjournment is given for preparing arguments, bail should not be cancelled. 1930 L. 309=121 I. C. 425=31 P. L. R. 11.

11. Demand of heavy—See Transfer (Grounds)—47.
 1. An excessive bail beyond the means or capacity of accused should not be demanded. 44 I. C. 345.
 2. Bail may be enhanced if case turns out to be more serious. 13 Cr. L. J. 474.
12. Grounds for and against—
 1. In case of delay in trial accused should be admitted to bail. 6 M. 63, 36 C. 166, 10 C. W. N. 163.
 2. When in the case of an accused 70 years old, there is no body to instruct counsel in going through the documentary evidence, bail should not be refused. 89 I. C. 150=26 Cr. L. J. 1286=1925 O. 489, 81 I. C. 956.
 3. In ordinary criminal trial, when the accused would prefer to face a trial rather

- than abscond, bail should be granted. 63 I. C. 414, 36 C. 166.
4. The principle to be deduced from Ss. 496-497 is that the grant of bail is the rule and refusal an exception. 1931 A. 356=134 I. C. 842=32 Cr. L. J. 1271.
 5. The present policy of law is to allow bail in the case of under-trial prisoner rather than refuse it. 1925 L. 510, 1933 S. 367, 51 C. 402.
 6. Accused is to be presumed innocent and he should be entitled to freedom to go after his case. 1931 A. 356=134 I. C. 842.
 7. In a case involving taking of accounts the bail should be granted to allow accused to instruct his Counsel. 32 Cr. L. J. 1175 (2)=1932 L. 16.
 8. Likelihood of the accused absconding or not is to be considered. 92 I. C. 703.
 9. Severity of sentence must be looked at not from the point of sentence which the Courts have awarded but the maximum for the offence. 1929 L. 284.
 10. The Court should consider the penal consequences of the act if proved and the nature of offence. 63 I. C. 414=22 Cr. L. J. 654.
 11. When the allegations against the accused are general and not substantiated, bail should not be refused. 1930 B. 484=129 I. C. 341=32 B. L. R. 1131.
 12. Bail should not be refused unless accused is likely to abscond or terrorize prosecution witnesses or commit similar or other serious offences. 1929 A. 614=117 I. C. 99=30 Cr. L. J. 718=1929 A. L. J. 927, 104 I. C. 101.
 13. If the Court is satisfied that there are reasonable grounds for believing that no case has been or is likely to be made out and there is no reason to believe that accused will abscond, the court should ordinarily grant bail. 33 P. L. R. 331.
 14. A person accused of murder shall not be released on bail, unless the case is based on suspicion. 99 I. C. 360=28 Cr. L. J. 181.
 15. Save in exceptional cases, persons accused of crimes punishable with long terms of imprisonment should not be released by Magistrates or Sessions Judge on bail. The richer the accused, the more easy it is for him to find bail, the less desirable it is that he should be released. 11 P. 280=1932 P. 209=33 Cr. L. J. 574.
 16. Bail was granted when accused could not otherwise conduct his case properly. 81 I. C. 956, 1931 A. 356.
 17. Bail should be granted under S. 498 by the Sessions Judge if the accused could interview his counsel and have a better chance of representing his case. 51 A. 603=1929 A. 320=116 I. C. 748=30 Cr. L. J. 697=1929 A. L. J. 585.
 18. That the accused is a Gashain and there is no body to look after his case is no ground for bail. 1934 A. 815.
 19. Likelihood of tampering with evidence is a cause that should be judged in granting or refusing bail. 1934 Sind 131, 1929 Sind 137, 1927 R. 205, 1932 P. 209 and 1927 P. 302 Rel. on. 1925 M. 1224.
 20. The following points should be considered in granting or refusing bail; (1) nature of accusation; (2) nature of evidence; (3) the severity of punishment; (4) whether accused is likely to tamper with prosecution evidence or get up false evidence in support of his defence. 1933 Sind 367=35 Cr. L. J. 144, 51 C. 402, 1929 L. 284, 1927 N. 53, 1927 P. 302, 1927 R. 205, 1926 R. 51.
 21. That one of accused should arrange for friends and defence is not sufficient ground for bail where release is likely to lead to tampering of evidence. 1933 A. 895.
 22. In case of protracted and complicated trial under S. 409 bail should be granted. 1933 B. 492.
 23. In a case under S. 307, I. P. C., bail should not be allowed if the injured person is not well enough to be subjected to identification parade. 1932 L. 433.
 24. The richer the accused and the more easy it is for him to find bail and less it is desirable that he should be released. 1932 P. 209.
 25. In India the opportunities for corruption of witnesses is so great that the risk involved cannot be exaggerated. Hence bail in murder cases should not be allowed without order of High Court. 1932 P. 209=33 Cr. L. J. 574.

26. Grant or refusal of bail is to be determined judicially having regard to the circumstances of the case. 1932 L. 16, 1924 O. 435, 1925 S. 257, 10 C. W. N. 163.
27. The Court is not called upon to conduct a preliminary trial of the case and consider the probability of accused's guilt or innocence. 1925 M. 1224.
28. If accused's character is such that if released, he will intimidate or tamper witnesses or is likely to suborn evidence, bail should be refused. 1930 B. 484, 1925 R. 51, 1934 S. 131, 1932 P. 209, 1933 A. 895, 36 C. 174.

Blood.

BLOOD.

1. Age of.

1. If the blood has not yet dried, it can be identified even by ordinary unskilled observer due to its peculiar colour, consistence and general appearance. If arterial it is bright red, if venous it is more purple changing to red. After about twenty-four hours or so it changes to reddish brown owing to the formation of methaemoglobin. The naked eye appearance coupled with the spectroscopic indication of a greater proportion of methaemoglobin to oxyhaemoglobin gives some idea of the age of the stain. Lyon's Med. Jur. 1904, P. 102.
2. After a period of five or six days, it is scarcely possible to determine even conjecturally the date of a stain from its appearance. Taylor's Med. Jur. 1928, P. 502.

2. Evidentiary value of—Stains.

1. A and B were named as assailant and subsequently C was substituted for B, the conviction of C is not proper although clothes of all the three were found blood stained. 14 P. W. R. 1913 Cr.
2. Blood stains on a Zamindar's clothing is valueless as evidence of guilt. 171 P. L. R. 1913, 67 P. L. R. 1913.
3. Discovery of blood stains on an Indian shirt is not material corroboration of approver's story. 1925 L. 526=86 J. C. 811.
4. Discovery of blood in convict's house and on his finger nails and his suspicious conduct on the day of murder furnish an adequate corroboration. 1921 L. 392=4 L. L. J. 405.
5. Blood stains on accused and production of spear from a field by the approver are not sufficient corroboration. 1927 L. 78=28 P. L. R. 39=28 Cr. L. J. 193.
6. Blood stained garments found in a Zemindar's house does not necessarily connect him with murder. 1934 L. 171=1934 Cr. C. 349.
7. It is not contrary to experience that a murderer continues to wear blood stained articles. 1933 P. 100=34 Cr. L. J. 427.
8. Opinion of Imperial Serologist is entitled to great weight. 1933 O. 265.
9. The fact that accused's clothes are stained with the blood is insufficient. But failure of accused to give explanation makes such evidence corroborative evidence. 1933 N. 352=35 Cr. L. J. 213, 1925 L. 526 Appr.
10. The discovery of blood stain is insufficient for conviction. Its value is very great when used to corroborate other evidence. 1936 L. 335=16 L. 995.
11. A number of small spots of human blood on a Dhoti and a Lungi belonging to the accused have slight probative value. 1936 R. 468.
12. A cloth was discovered from accused's house stained with blood. There was no proof that it was human blood. Held, no presumption could be made against him. 1934 O. 373=35 Cr. L. J. 1265, 1934 O. 388=35 Cr. L. J. 1154.
13. Blood stains on clothes of accused and extra judicial confession to the wife are insufficient to sustain a charge of murder. 1935 O. 33=36 Cr. L. J. 246.

3. Is it from Assailant or Victim ?

For this question it is important to note which side of garment has most blood on it. Thus an accused person who is also wounded, if he exhibits most blood on the outside of his clothes it would falsify his tale that the blood was his own. Lyon's Med. Jur. 1904, P. 102. Taylor's Med. Jur. 1928, P. 505.

4. On accused. Sec—2.

1. The presence of spots of blood on articles of clothing, knives, etc., taken from the person of those accused of murder, may be quite consistent with innocence. Taylor's Med. Jur. 1928, Vol. I, Pp. 418-420.
2. The coarse clothing worn by labourers may acquire blood spots from a variety of accidental circumstances which the accused may not be able to explain. Ibid.
3. When an attempt has been made to wash out the stains, or the accused admits that they are there, and shows great anxiety to give some explanation of their presence, as that he assisted in killing a pig, rabbits etc., or that he was carrying game about him, there may be ground for suspicion.—Ibid.

4. Due allowance should always be made for the accidental presence of blood.—Ibid.
5. It is very common, but erroneous idea that no person can commit murder in which blood is effused without having his person or clothes more or less covered with blood The flowing or spurting of blood upon his clothes will depend upon his position in relation to the deceased at the time of inflicting the wound, and this must always be a matter of pure speculation. Ibid.

6. On weapon. See Weapon—1.
- 7 Opinion of Serologist.
Opinion of Imperial Serologist is of great weight. 1933 O. 255.
8. Tests of blood.
Chemical.

Cold water dissolves the stain, yielding a reddish solution, of which take one portion and heat. It then coagulates and loses its red colour, while the coagulum is soluble in weak ammonia, giving a dichroic solution, red by reflected light and green by transmitted. This reaction is due to haemoglobin being soluble in cold water, while its albuminous part is coagulated by heat, which precipitates also the haematin. Of the original red solution take a few drops in a watch glass and add a drop of strong nitric acid on the side of the watch glass a dirty white ring of coagulated albumen will form at the point of contact and the red colour is discharged. If the blood stain is old and cold water does not dissolve the stain, add a weak solution of ammonia. Dragendroff recommends a cold saturated solution of borax to dissolve old stains. Lyon's Med. Jur. Ed. 1904, Pp. 93-94; Taylor's Med. Jur. Ed. 1928 P. 481.

B. Microscopical.

1. By Microscopical examination it will not be possible to say whether the blood is human or not, but merely whether it is mammalian or not. Lyon's Med. Jur. 1904, P. 95.
2. The Microscopical test of blood consists in the discovery of two substances. (a) The red corpuscles of blood, (b) Crystals or chloride of haemum. Taylor's Med. Jur. 1928, P. 483.

C. Spectroscopical.

1. This is the most delicate and trustworthy of all the tests for blood stains, but it does not distinguish human from other vertebrate blood. Lyon's Med. Jur. 1904, Pp. 98-99.
2. If the red liquid owes its colour to recent or oxidised blood, two dark absorption bands will be seen breaking the continuity of the coloured spectrum. Taylor's Med. Jur. 1928, Vol. I, P. 489.
3. In the course of an hour in warm weathers and after a day or two in cold weather, the blood in the tube undergoes a change. It loses its scarlet and acquires a purple colour. Ibid.
4. When a solution containing blood is exposed to the air for sometime it loses its blood-red colour and assumes a brownish tint. Ibid.

9. Test of human blood.

1. Once human blood has become dried, it cannot be so readily distinguished from the blood of many other animals of the mammalian class. An opinion on this point founded on the size of the corpuscles, is not reliable. Lyon's Med. Jur. 1904, Pp. 96-100.
2. The antiserum for human blood causes a precipitate only with human blood and with no other blood, not even with that of monkeys (which latter gives only a faint cloudy reaction) provides a specific test for human blood of great delicacy, and one which has been found applicable to blood stains which had been dried for three months. Ibid.

3. Human blood is detected by presence of human blood filaria. Ibid.

4. Stains of menstrual blood on linen, etc., cannot be distinguished from stains of other blood. Lyon's Med. Jur. 1901, P. 102; Taylor's Med. Jur. 1928, Pp. 493—500.

10. Test of Mammalian and non-Mammalian blood.

To distinguish mammalian and non-mammalian blood, the shape and size of the red blood corpuscles have to be noted. The shape of the disc in human blood and in all mammalia, except the camel tribe, is circular and biconcave. In the camel tribe they are oval and biconcave. In birds, reptiles and fishes, they are oval and nucleated. The size of the disc varies in the same animal and in average size in different animals. In man they range in diameter from $1/2800$ to $1/4000$ of an inch, averaging $1/3200$. Lyon's Med. Jur. 1901, P. 96.

11. Whether it is of living or dead.

The question whether the blood was shed during life is answered thus: If there is evidence of spitting and of any small clot of fibrin, this is absolute proof that it came from a living and not a dead person. Lyon's Med. Jur. 1904, P. 102; Taylor's Med. Jur. 1928, P. 504.

12. Whether Paternity can be proved from—

By means of study of blood groups it cannot be proved that a given man is the father of a given child, but that it can be proved in certain cases that a given man could not possibly have been the father of a given child. Taylor's Med. Jur. 1928, P. 507.

BREACH OF PEACE. S. 107, Cr. P. C.

1. Amount of security

Once a Magistrate has passed an order directing security for breach of peace in certain amount, he cannot increase that sum afterwards. 51 I. C. 470.

2. Appeal against. See Appeal—6.3. Applicability and object.

1. The object is not to bring pressure on a party to give up his right over property. 25 C. 798.

2. The object of S. 107 is the prevention and not the punishment of offences. 9 C. W. N. 898, 11 C. W. N. 223, 31 C. 350

3. Where offences have been committed, there should be regular trial for those offences and no security proceedings. 9 C. W. N. 898, 6 P. 1=100 I. C. 967=1927 P. 126, 11 C. W. N. 472. Conf. 44 I. C. 38.

4. If complainant is out of possession and there is no danger of breach of peace unless he attempts to resume possession, his remedy lies under S. 145, Cr. P. C. or Civil Court only. 1923 N. 54=68 I. C. 407.

Breach of peace—(contd.)

5. Security proceedings against persons discharged in a murder case are regular, when dispute was the same in both. 1922 O. 273, 41 M. 246 Dist.
6. Section applies to one who enforces a claim through an armed servant. 38 I. C. 735.
7. A Magistrate cannot keep S. 107 proceedings pending on the ground that it tends to preserve peace. 64 I. C. 137 = 22 Cr. L. J. 745.
8. The object of S. 107 is the security of Public Peace and not to help a party to recover possession of immovable property. 144 P. L. R. 1917.

4. Arbitration.

A Magistrate cannot delegate his power to make an order under S. 107 to arbitrators. 1931 P. 92 130 I. C. 810.

5. Bail.

1. A person arrested under Cl. (3) should be admitted to bail unless there are special circumstances. 32 C. 80, 1923 P. 527 = 74 I. C. 857, Cont. 36 M. 474.
2. A Magistrate cannot refuse bail to a person arrested under S. 114, Cr. P. C. 32 I. C. 669, 1933 R. 164-165.

6. Breach of bond for keeping peace.

1. A bond to keep peace will be forfeited only by commission of offences likely to cause breach of peace. A conviction for theft, wrongful confinement, extortion, abduction or attempt to poison will not entail forfeiture of bond. 6 P. R. 1906, 22 P. R. 1914, 66 I. C. 179.
2. It is immaterial whether accused committed the act with his own hands or instigated it. 2 M. 169, 11 W. R. 52.
3. Filing of civil suit is not a wrongful act entailing forfeiture of bond. 1 L. 310.

7. Civil dispute going on—

If a civil dispute is going on for sometime and there is no likelihood of breach of peace, proceedings under S. 107 are uncalled for. In any case only one party cannot be bound down. 1934 Pesh. 21 = 35 Cr. L. J. 963.

8. Concurrent Proceeding under S. 107 and S. 145, Cr. P. C.

1. Proceedings under S. 107 are bad when injunction is issued under S. 144 with regard to the possession of land. 44 I. C. 391.
2. There can be concurrent proceedings under S. 107 and S. 145. 37 I. C. 481, 39 C. 469, 36 M. 315, 74 I. C. 719 Dist., 32 C. 966, 34 A. 449, 26 M. 471, 39 C. 150, 24 C. W. N. 1075.
3. It is very undesirable to continue proceedings under S. 107 and S. 145, and to act against both parties under S. 107. 27 I. C. 907.
4. When civil suit is pending, proceedings under S. 145 should not be started. 59 I. C. 643.

9. Consent of accused to be bound down.

1. There must be evidence on record to show that there is likelihood of the breach of peace. Mere consent of accused to be bound down is not sufficient. The order passed on mere consent is illegal. 54 I. C. 784, 54 I. C. 411, 24 P. R. 1915, 27 P. R. 1917, 65 I. C. 639 (2) = 1922 M. 349, 57 I. C. 672, 48 I. C. 985, 81 I. C. 198, 23 Cr. L. J. 175, Cont. 1927 A. 579 = 102 I. C. 897, 46 A. 109.
2. Consent of the party to be bound down does not debar him from applying in revision. 54 I. C. 411, 35 C. 674, 12 A. L. J. 1262.
3. Accused said that he was poor man and agreed to be bound down. Held, it was insufficient, where no evidence was recorded. 35 C. 674.
4. The question put to the accused was "Are you willing to execute the bond or want further inquiry." They replied that they would execute the bond. Held, it was not sufficient for an order under S. 107. 34 M. 139.
5. It is illegal to place a person on security merely on his consent. 1925 L. 135 = 25 Cr. L. J. 710, 24 P. R. 1915, 27 P. R. 1917.

Breach of peace—(contd.)

6. The Magistrate is bound to inquire whether the information which prompted him to issue notice, is correct. If the accused says it is correct or is prepared to break the peace, it amounts to plea of guilty and Magistrate can make the order absolute. 1935 Pesh. 116=36 Cr. L. J. 1212=157 I. C. 735, 1928 A. 270=50 A. 599=30 Cr. L. J. 6 Rel. on, 24 P. R. 1915 Cr., 27 P. R. 1917 Cr., 1925 L. 135=25 Cr. L. J. 710 Diss. from.
 7. In order that a mere consent to execute bond may be a plea of guilty, the plea should be explicit, detailed, embodying that accused admits all the facts mentioned in the notice. 1935 Pesh. 116=36 Cr. L. J. 1212=157 I. C. 735, 50 A. 599 Foll. 24 P. R. 1915, 27 P. R. 1917, 1925 L. 135 Diss. from.
- 10. Dispute about land.
1. The fact that there was dispute about land does not oust the Magistrate's jurisdiction under S. 107. 39 C. 150, 27 I. C. 835, 65 I. C. 555, 60 I. C. 336, 47 I. C. 65.
 2. If complainant is out of possession and there is no danger of breach of peace and unless he attempts to resume possession, his only remedy is under S. 145, Cr. P. C. or Civil Court and not under S. 107. 1923 N. 54=68 I. C. 407.
 3. S. 107 applies to a case of undisputed possession. When possession is in dispute S. 145 should be invoked. 62 I. C. 590, 1922 P. 435, 25 C. 798, 133 I. C. 161.
 4. In case of dispute about land, it is not proper to proceed against one party under S. 107. 1931 P. 347=131 I. C. 161=32 Cr. L. J. 1014.
- 11. Essentials and Evidence.
1. Mere bad feelings between two sections of a population is not sufficient to bind them. 126 P. L. R. 1911=43 P. W. R. 1911 Cr.
 2. Magistrate must have some tangible evidence that a wrongful act is contemplated which if committed is likely to cause breach of peace. 56 I. C. 437.
 3. An order under S. 107 is proper, if there is a probability of public peace being disturbed. 35 I. C. 173, 12 Cr. L. J. 493.
 4. Proceedings under S. 107 are not bad merely because there was no overt act for six months before they began. 44 I. C. 122
 5. Security cannot be demanded from a person inducing others to commit breach of peace. 4 P. R. 1912=125 P. L. R. 1912
 6. Uttering Aaien aloud in mosque at the time of worship is not sufficient to bind down a person under S. 107. 62 I. C. 830.
 7. One party should not be bound down to give advantage to the other in a dispute of civil nature. 49 I. C. 642, 1927 P. 781, 102 I. C. 781, 59 I. C. 374.
 8. Order on extra judicial knowledge is bad. 36 I. C. 164, 56 I. C. 671.
 9. An order under S. 107 without any enquiry is bad. 37 A. 30=26 I. C. 153, Dist. 46 A. 109=1924 A. 269=81 I. C. 238, 1927 A. 579=102 I. C. 897, 92 I. C. 882.
 10. Where there is no evidence on the record to show that petitioner is likely to commit breach of peace, order under S. 107 will be set aside on revision. 195 P. L. R. 1912
 11. The Court can consider previous relations, threats of parties and antecedent and existing circumstances. 9 I. C. 594.
 12. Order under S. 107 cannot be based on hearsay evidence. 56 I. C. 864.
 13. An order based upon vague evidence of generalities is bad. 3 L. L. J. 480, 1922 P. 209, 6 A. 25, 41 M. 246.
 14. If dispute about claim to weigh grain in market is likely to cause breach of peace, S. 107 would apply. 1922 A. 430 (1)=68 I. C. 836.
 15. Where a rival cattle market was intended, action under S. 107 is illegal, as they were doing a legal thing in their own land. 44 I. C. 465.
 16. When object is lawful, the order under S. 107 is improper. 37 A. 33.
 17. Tenants, who were merely boycotting the Zamindar's servant, cannot be bound down. 19 I. C. 334.

4. Of Police Agent. S. 188, Cr. P. C.

1. The certificate of Political Agent is necessary for prosecuting a person in British India for an offence committed outside British India, otherwise trial is illegal. 24 A. 256, 19 A. 109, 41 A. 452, 24 B. 287, 13 M. 423.
2. The defect cannot be cured even if the Magistrate was himself the Political Agent. 13 M. 423, 5 M. 23.
3. An agreement between a Native State and British Indian authorities to arrest people found gambling in each other's territories does not take the place of certificate. 42 A. 89=52 I. C. 668.
4. Want of certificate is not a fatal defect, if accused is not prejudiced. 35 P. R. 1888, 30 P. R. 1889, 4 P. R. 1902 Cont. 24 A. 256.
5. But if the defect was observed and objected to by the Sessions Judge, the commitment should be quashed. 5 L. 416 (420), 11 P. R. 1899.
6. There is nothing illegal if the certificate is produced just before framing of charge. 47 B. 907 (1911), 12 Bom. L. R. 667, 1925 S. 88=81 I. C. 108.
7. The Magistrate is not confined to the charge in the certificate. 33 A. 514.
8. Certificate once given cannot be revoked. 13 Cr. L. J. 537.
9. The framing of an alternative charge under Ss. 379 and 411, I. P. C., does not confer jurisdiction on the Magistrate when offence under S. 411 is committed in a Native State without the certificate of the Political Agent. 54 B. 171.
10. The word "certificate" does not occur in S. 188, and there is no direction of signing it by any particular person. The convenient manner of proving it is the production of a document signed by the Political Agent. 7 L. 468=1926 L. 609.
11. The certificate signed by Under Secretary to the Political Agent is insufficient. 7 L. 468=1926 L. 609.
12. A commitment without a certificate is illegal. 7 L. 396=1926 L. 582, 5 L. 416.
13. The defect as to absence of certificate of Political Agent is not curable by the subsequent production of the same. 1925 L. 185=5 L. 416=92 I. C. 170.
14. If an offence of forgery is committed in a State, the trial and conviction of the accused is vitiated if without the sanction of the Political Agent or the Local Government. 1930 Pat. 501=122 I. C. 155=31 Cr. L. J. 364.
15. Kidnapping is not a continuing offence or when it was committed in a Native State, the British courts have no jurisdiction without a certificate. 41 A. 452.
16. The offence committed on High Seas does not require a certificate, as there is no Political Agent there. 41 B. 667.
17. The proviso to S. 188 is universal and is not restricted to Native States in India. 14 Cr. L. J. 298.
18. An Indian British subject accused of an offence in a Foreign State cannot be tried except on the certificate of the Political Agent or with the sanction of Local Government. 1932 C. 299=136 I. C. 598=33 Cr. L. J. 322.
19. S. 188, Cr. P. C., overrides S. 179, where S. 183 is applicable. 1932 C. 465.
20. British Vice Consul in foreign territory is not Political Agent within the meaning of S. 188. Certificate of Local Government is sufficient. 1934 Sind 96.
21. Absence of certificate under S. 188, Cr. P. C. can be cured under S. 537, Cr. P. C. 8 if it was granted subsequently. 1934 L. 827, 35 P. R. 1838 Cr., 30 P. R. 1889 Cr., 4 P. R. 1932, 11 P. R. 1899 Cr. See 5 L. 416, 7 L. 396, 13 M. 423, 19 A. 109.
22. Under S. 188 a court in British India cannot try an offence by virtue of the terms of S. 179, merely because part of the consequences have ensued within its jurisdiction. The certificate of Political Agent is necessary. 1935 M. 326=68 L. J. 415.

23. Certificate of Political Agent is necessary for trial of dishonest retention of stolen property in a foreign territory. 1933 M. 461=34 Cr. L. J. 285.
24. Dacoity was committed in British India but murder was committed while carrying away stolen property, in a Native State. Held, Indian British Court had jurisdiction to try offence under S. 396 without a certificate. 1933 L. 977=147 I. C. 2.
- 5. Of Public Prosecutor for prosecuting an approver. S. 339, Cr. P. C.
 1. The absence of certificate by the Public Prosecutor for the prosecution of an approver that he has not complied with the conditions of the pardon, vitiates the trial. 5 L. 379=1925 L. 15=84 I. C. 61=26 Cr. L. J. 237.
 2. An approver cannot be prosecuted at the instance of a suggestion by the Presiding Judge. Certificate by Public Prosecutor is the sole basis of the prosecution. 1933 B. 135=85 I. C. 149=26 Cr. L. J. 469.
 3. When the approver was committed without a certificate by the Public Prosecutor and it was provided at the trial before Sessions Judge. Held, that what was forbidden by S. 339 is the trial not the enquiry and therefore commitment was not irregular. 3 R. 55=1925 R. 219=92 I. C. 430.
 4. No sanction under S. 339 (3) for giving false evidence can be granted, unless a Public Prosecutor gives a certificate to the effect that the approver has not complied with the conditions of the pardon. 1929 O. 527=121 I. C. 83=31 Cr. L. J. 204.
 5. S. 339 (1) does not cancel S. 476, it merely imposes an additional condition essential to the institution of a prosecution for perjury by an approver and even when the condition is satisfied, the prosecution can still be initiated only on a complaint by the Sessions Court or High Court. 1927 N. 189=28 Cr. L. J. 645.
 6. A sanction to prosecute an approver who made contradictory statements should not be refused unless it is shown that he made the statement under undue influence. 1924 L. 90=76 I. C. 398=25 Cr. L. J. 174.
 7. Production of certificate in the Sessions Court in an offence under S. 396, I. P. C. is sufficient. It need not be produced in the Court of committing Magistrate, as the trial commences in Sessions Court only. 1935 O. 116=153 I. C. 596=1935 Cr. C. 206, 1919 M. 190=20 Cr. L. J. 514=51 I. 7. A conviction on circumstantial evidence cannot be sustained unless inferences, drawn from the history of case point strongly to the commission of offence and defence is highly improbable. 1923 L. 489=83 I. C. 721, 16 P. W. R. 1911, 109 I. C. 912, 32 P. R. 1916 Cr., 7 L. 396=97 I. C. 752=1925 L. 582.
8. Association of a person with accused raises suspicion but is no evidence to convict him. 27 P. L. R. 441=23 Cr. L. J. 209.
9. The fact that fields were irrigated by accused is insufficient to hold that they were guilty of opening an outlet in the canal. 1923 L. 603.
10. Discovery of jewels worn by deceased and knife in accused's cattle shed is not sufficient to connect him with the offence. 5 L. L. J. 78.
11. A very grave suspicion rests on a person found in possession of ornaments belonging to the deceased soon after murder. 66 I. C. 187.
12. Where the evidence of identification of dead body is unsatisfactory, conviction cannot stand. 221 P. L. R. 1915=40 P. W. R. 1914.
13. Mere evidence that deceased drank milk offered by accused and died soon after exhibiting symptoms of poisoning is insufficient for conviction. 25 P. W. R. 1911.
14. In a case of conviction on circumstantial evidence only there must be a chain of evidence, so complete as to leave no ground for a conclusion therefrom consistent with the innocence of the accused. 27 P. R. 1913 Cr., 1931 C. 11=32 Cr. L. J. 418.
15. The conduct of the accused, such as absconding and giving false name when found is only a ground of suspicion against him and insufficient to support conviction. 46 I. C. 709.
16. Conviction on blood stains on tracker's evidence is not sound. 171 P. L. R. 1913, 136 P. L. R. 1909, 67 P. L. R. 1913.
17. Where there is a strong feeling between the parties and the evidence on both sides is of a partisan character, it is safe to decide the case on circumstances and probabilities. 50 A. 733=1929 A. 18=113 I. C. 434.
18. Circumstantial evidence is conclusive when evidence is of such a nature that it can possibly lead to no other inference except the guilt of the accused. 56 C. 738.
19. From the redness of eyes it cannot be held that a person merely on that account is an habitual smoker of Bhang. 89 I. C. 145=1925 O. 480=26 Cr. L. J. 1281.
20. The question was whether guardian was guilty of gross negligence. Held, that circumstantial evidence is as good rather better evidence than oral evidence. 1923 M. 245=70 I. C. 335=41 M. L. T. 449.
21. The circumstances from which inference adverse to the accused is sought to be drawn must be proved beyond all doubt. 1931 C. 11=129 I. C. 677=32 Cr. L. J. 418.

Circumstantial Evidence—(concl'd.)

22. Circumstantial evidence must unmistakably point to the guilt of accused. Little weight should be attached to extra judicial confession. 1932 O. 324=33 Cr. L. J. 379.
23. Since the failure of one link breaks the chain, every link in the circumstantial chain must be proved. 58 I. C. 457=21 Cr. L. J. 777, 1 P. 630=1922 P. 582=24 Cr. L. J. 91.
24. No person should be required to answer the charge without a clear proof of corpus delicti. Best on Ev. S. 441.
25. Indirect or circumstantial evidence does not prove the point in question directly, but establishes it only by inference. 41 C 173.
26. It is not difficult to produce false evidence of eye-witnesses. It is on the other hand extremely difficult to produce circumstantial evidence of a convincing character, and, therefore circumstantial evidence, if convincing, is more cogent than the evidence of eye-witnesses. 1933 P. 180=34 Cr. L. J. 395=142 I. C. 613.

Cognizance of Offences—(contd.)

2. If a person is released by police under S. 167, Cr. P. C., prosecution should not be launched against him on evidence disclosed by him in certain cases. Such practice should be discouraged. 1933 A. 397=34 Cr. L. J. 761.
2. Against Judges and Public Servants. S. 197, Cr. P. C. See Prosecution of Judges and Public Servants.
3. Beyond Powers.
 1. A Magistrate of the second class cannot take cognizance of a complaint of murder. If he entertains it or finds it to be false, he cannot order the complainant to be prosecuted for false complaint. 5 P. 447=1926 P. 400=27 Cr. L. J. 704.
 2. A Magistrate cannot take cognizance of an offence beyond his power. A second class Magistrate cannot try a case under S. 420 I. P. C. 82 f. C. 57.
 3. A Magistrate cannot take cognizance of offence by refusing it into a minor offence. 47 A. 64=1925 A. 290.
4. By Court of Session. S. 193, Cr. P. C. See Commitment—3. See Additional Sessions Judge.
 1. The trial in the Court of Session without a commitment is ultra vires. 15 M. 352, 22 C. 50, 42 P. R. 1884 Cr., 97 I. C. 1041, 42 C. 856.
 2. A fresh charge on which prosecution has laid no evidence in the Committing Court, cannot be added by the Sessions Court. 1927 Sind 23=27 Cr. L. J. 1127.
 3. In serious cases, of which a Court of Sessions may take cognizance, the accused should have some information of the case. 4 M. 227, 3 M. 351.
 4. Where the Sessions Judge transferred a reference under S. 123, Cr. P. C., to Additional Sessions Judge, the latter has jurisdiction to hear it. 50 C. 229=1923 C. 649.
5. By District Magistrate.

If the District Magistrate is moved under S. 436, Cr. P. C., he can take cognizance of complaint under S. 190 (1). 130 I. C. 529=32 Cr. L. J. 548=1931 P. 50.
6. By High Court. S. 194, Cr. P. C. See Commitment by High Court.
7. Complaint against some and—against others.
 1. When once a Magistrate has taken cognizance of an offence, he is competent to take proceedings against all who from evidence appear to be offenders. His power is not limited with regard to persons mentioned in the complaint or Police report. 4 C. W. N. 560, 21 C. W. N. 950, 26 C. 786, 94 I. C. 717, 1922 C. 107, 41 C. 1013, 1933 P. 297=34 Cr. L. J. 942, 5 B. H. C. R. 100.
 2. A Magistrate takes cognizance of offence but not of an offender. When he adds an accused at any stage of the proceeding he is not acting under S. 190 at all. Where after the commencement of the trial, a Magistrate puts a witness into the dock, the Court is not taking cognizance of an offence against him. 1925 O. 739=90 I. C. 915=26 Cr. L. J. 1619.
 3. Upon a complaint against a person, if Magistrate directs process to issue against others, as there was evidence against them, the Magistrate acts under Cl. (a) and not under Cl. (c) of S. 190. 83 I. C. 885=1924 Sind 71=26 Cr. L. J. 181.
 4. The addition of a new accused does not necessitate fresh proceedings. 73 I. C. 55=1923 R. 31=24 Cr. L. J. 519.
 5. Magistrate can add a second charge disclosed in evidence, though not complained of originally. 1926 R. 53=94 I. C. 717=27 Cr. L. J. 669.
 6. Cognizance is of offence and not of offenders. 1934 P. 467, 37 C. 412, 1933 P. 244=12 P. 341 Rel. on.
8. Complaint charging two persons in the alternative.

A Court should not accept a complaint charging two persons in the alternative and the order sanctioning prosecution in the alternative is also bad. 1930 R. 51=126 I. C. 535=31 Cr. L. J. 1065.
9. Disclosed during inquiry or trial.

Once the parties are before the Court, the Magistrate can deal with the accused for any offence disclosed by the evidence. No separate complaint is necessary. 1933 P. 297=34 Cr. L. J. 942, 26 C. 786 and 5 B. H. C. R. 100 Ref. Case law discussed. See 1936 M. 341.

10. Information. (Letter). S. 190 (1) (c), Cr. P. C.

1. The expression "information received from any person other than a Police Officer" in S. 190 means only such information as does not constitute a complaint or Police report. 4 L. B. R. 300.
2. Magistrate can take cognizance of an offence, if his knowledge is based on an anonymous letter. 1928 A. 756=113 I. C. 78=30 Cr. L. J. 62, 3 C. W. N. 65.
3. A letter written to the District Magistrate conveying information of an offence and asking for action to be taken can be treated as information under S. 190 (c) for taking action. 81 I. C. 971=1925 O. 144=25 Cr. L. J. 1147.
4. Information need not contain all the allegations necessary to be proved to establish the offence. 35 C. 1076.
5. Where a Deputy Commissioner as Collector and as such representing the Court of Wards, received information of an offence, he as Magistrate was not competent to issue warrants. 10 C. W. N. 775, 37 C. 221. Cont. 43 M. 709.
6. Communication through post is information. 2 Weir 149, 1899 A. W. N. 201.
7. Information received from another Magistrate is information. 10 P. W. R. 1914 Cr.
8. Information received from the petition of objection filed under S. 144, Cr. P. C., in showing cause against the order is not information received as against the petitioners. 72 I. C. 945.
9. The Magistrate must record the information received under Cl. (c). 35 C. 1076, 10 C. W. N. 775.
10. Where a Magistrate who takes cognizance of an offence against a witness in a case pending before him, upon the facts disclosed by the evidence of another witness, does so under Cl. (c) of S. 190 and not under S. 351, Cr. P. C. 1 C. W. N. 105 Cont. 5 N. L. R. 113, 4 S. L. R. 258, 41 C. 1013.
11. Magistrate can act on the information received from accused. 62 M. L. J. 680.
12. Magistrate ordering a case reported to him under S. 173 be struck off, can reopen case by calling for charge sheet under S. 190 (1) (c). 1933 P. 242=12 P. 234, 1928 P. 585 Diss. from.

11. Inherent powers of High Court to take. See Inherent powers, S. 561-A.12. Knowledge—Magistrate's own.—S. 190 (c), Cr. P. C.

1. Knowledge means actual personal knowledge of the Magistrate or knowledge based upon evidence legally before him. 12 B. R. 18.
2. A gratuitous suspicion or belief founded on private information contained in an anonymous petition is not knowledge. 13 W. R. 1.
3. The mere fact that previous to making of a written complaint the Magistrate happened to be in the village and complainant related to him the story of the offence orally and he inspected the locality, would not bring the case under Cl. (c) and if the same Magistrate starts proceedings on a written complaint, the case falls under S. 190 (1) (a). 1927 A. 101=98 I. C. 718=27 Cr. L. J. 1406.
4. A Magistrate is not precluded from trying a case of which he has taken cognizance on his own knowledge under S. 190 (c) provided he has complied with the provisions of S. 191. 84 I. C. 249=1924 R. 352.
5. Where a Magistrate issued an order under S. 144 to stop work in a quarry and convicted a person for disobedience of the same, the conviction is illegal, as he took cognizance on his own knowledge. 84 P. L. R. 1905, 8 P. R. 1905 Cr.
6. A Magistrate who takes part in the initiation of proceedings is not incompetent to take cognizance of offence, but of course he will be debarred under S. 556, Cr. P. C. from trying the case. 50 C. 135=1922 C. 298=71 I. C. 239.
7. After the close of a theft case, Magistrate ordered the Police to send up a charge sheet in respect of a witness under S. 414, and after the Police made report, he convicted him. The conviction is legal, as the Magistrate took cognizance of the case under S. 190 (b) and not cl. (c) or S. 351. 62 I. C. 875.

8. In view of S. 195 (1) (c) cognizance of an offence under S. 182, I. P. C., cannot be taken by Magistrate under S. 190 (c) upon his own knowledge or suspicion. If in a Sub-Division there is no other Magistrate, the Sub-Divisional Magistrate should make a complaint to the District Magistrate. 1935 P. 356=36 Cr. L. J. 904.

13. Limitation for.

The general law of limitation is chiefly intended for civil matters and does not apply to the taking of cognizance of offences. 20 B. 543.

14. Of Adultery, Bigamy, Conspiracy, etc. See those offences.

15. Power of District Magistrate.

1. A District Magistrate sent a case to a Sub-Divisional Officer for enquiry and report and after the report ordered him to try the case himself. Held, that the accused should have been given opportunity to be tried by another and the conviction was illegal. 113 I. C. 326=1929 O. 87=30 Cr. L. J. 134.
2. A Registrar who was also District Magistrate directed the prosecution of accused under S. 471, I. P. C. Held, he could cognizance of offence under S. 190 (1) (c). 2 P. 459=74 I. C. 536=1924 P.
3. The District Magistrate to whom a Sub-Divisional Officer sends a report about an unauthorized horse racing as Deputy Commissioner, can take cognizance of the offence on such report. 8 R. 246, 43 M. 709, 1930 R. 253=31 Cr. L. J. 867.
4. District Magistrate of the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore has jurisdiction to take cognizance of offences committed by European British subjects. 34 M. 346.

16. Transfer of cases by Magistrates. S. 192, Cr. P. C.

1. A case can be transferred even before a decision to issue process against the accused has been made. 12 Cr. L. J. 437=7 N. L. R. 97.
2. A Magistrate has power to transfer cases under Ss. 145—147, Cr. P. C. 72 I. C. 951, 65 I. C. 861.
3. Proceedings under S. 110, Cr. P. C., can be transferred under S. 192, 1 P. 621.
4. S. 192 will empower a Magistrate to try a case under S. 20 of the Cattle Trespass Act, if it is transferred to him by District Magistrate, although he could not entertain the complaint. 34 C. 926, 44 B. 42.
5. A case which has been transferred to a District Magistrate or to Sub-Divisional Magistrate cannot be transferred again under S. 192. 36 A. 166, 12 A. L. J. 277.
6. But where a case has been transferred to a District Magistrate with the direction to transfer it to some competent Magistrate he can transfer it. 30 P. R. 1917 Cr., 19 A. 249.
7. A case cannot be transferred under S. 192 after prosecution and defence evidence has been recorded. 12 A. 66.
8. A part-heard case should not be transferred. 50 C. 223=1923 C. 196=27 C. W. N. 99=71 I. C. 662=24 Cr. L. J. 198=36 C. L. J. 417.
9. A case can be transferred to a subordinate Court and not the superior Court. 1890 A. W. N. 7, 12 A. 66.
10. On the transfer of a case, the Magistrate must try it de novo. 14 A. 346.
11. District Magistrate should give notice to the parties before the transfer of the case. 8 C. 393, 3 A. 749, 51 M. 610, 2 Bom. L. R. 342.
12. The powers conferred by S. 192 or S. 207, Cr. P. C., are separate and distinct and they do not curtail each other's power. 46 C. 554.
13. S. 192 (1) does not empower a Magistrate to transfer a case for the purpose of considering the report of an investigation under S. 202, Cr. P. C., which he has himself ordered. 87 I. C. 525=1925 C. 742=26 Cr. L. J. 990.
14. A District Magistrate cannot transfer a case under S. 145, Cr. P. C., to a Sub-Divisional Magistrate, when the land is not situated in the latter's jurisdiction. 52

Cognizance of Offences—(contd.)

M. 241=1928 M. 1230=55 M. L. J. 693=28 M. L. W. 664.

15. A Magistrate to whom a case is transferred by District Magistrate, has full authority to deal with the case, as if he has himself taken cognizance of the case. 55 C. 1274, 95 I. C. 935=1926 P. 358=27 Cr. L. J. 855.
16. A Magistrate who transfers a case for trial under S. 192, Cr. P. C., has no power to transfer it again. 65 I. C. 441.
17. The Governor in Council of Assam or a member of his Council disposing of an appeal relating to the Forest Department is not a court. 36 C. W. N. 505=1932 C. 390=138 I. C. 705=33 Cr. L. J. 685=55 C. L. J. 349.
18. Where the whole case is transferred to Subordinate Magistrate, Sub-Divisional Magistrate cannot pass any orders or call for charge sheet unless he acts under S. 528, Cr. P. C. 1933 P. 244=12 P. 341, 27 C. 979, 32 C. 783, 30 C. 449, 1928 P. 585 and 1933 P. 242 Ref.
19. Where a Magistrate has jurisdiction to try a second complaint, he has jurisdiction to transfer it to another Magistrate for trial. 1935 A. 60=151 I. C. 714=35 Cr. L. J. 1485, 9 A. 85, 1895 A. W. N. 86, 29 A. 7 and 1914 A. 179=36 A. 53.
17. Transfer of cases if Magistrate takes on his own knowledge. S. 191, Cr. P. C.
 1. If a Magistrate takes cognizance of an offence under cl. (c), S. 190, viz., upon his own knowledge and does not inform the accused that he has a right to have the case transferred, the conviction is illegal. 1920 P. L. R. 124=21 Cr. L. J. 394, 13 A. 345, 28 A. 212, 8 P. R. 1905 Cr., 36 P. R. 1905 Cr., 13 P. R. 1898 Cr., 22 Cr. L. J. 96, 1926 A. 325=92 I. C. 741, 82 I. C. 152, 1925 L. 627=96 I. C. 989, 60 I. C. 1007, 1923 A. 383=73 I. C. 576, 1934 L. 210=151 I. C. 792, 1934 A. 693 (1), 1923 P. 242.
 2. Accused can waive his right under S. 191. 1 S. L. R. 98.
 3. But waiver cannot be implied unless accused is distinctly told about his right. 21 A. L. J. 89.
 4. Magistrate can hold inquiry or commit the accused to the Sessions, although objection under S. 191 is raised. 22 M. 148, 21 A. 209, 20 Cr. L. J. 47.
 5. A Magistrate is not precluded from trying the case of which he has taken cognizance on his own knowledge under S. 190 (c), S. 191. In such a case S. 556 ceases to operate. 84 I. C. 249, 1893 A. W. N. 79, 1924 R. 352 (1).
 6. The mere fact that previous to making written complaint, the Magistrate happened to be in the village and the complainant related to him the story of offence orally and he inspected the spot, will not entitle the accused to have the case transferred under S. 191, as he takes cognizance under cl. (a). 1927 A. 101=27 Cr. L. J. 1406.
 7. If on perusal of the Police diary, the Magistrate thinks that Police have not properly investigated the case, he can act under S. 190 (1) (c) and order his prosecution. In that case the accused has right to have his case transferred. 1931 A. 273=129 I. C. 267=32 Cr. L. J. 370.
 8. Addition of new accused does not entitle him to be tried by another court. Magistrate can act under S. 351. 1934 R. 193=35 Cr. L. J. 1312, 1923 R. 31=24 Cr. L. J. 519
 9. Magistrate cannot send the case to another district. 1933 P. 643 (1)
 10. Police challaned accused under S. 121, Railway Act, for slapping the Station Master. If the Magistrate tries him under S. 323, I. P. C., he takes cognizance under S. 190 (c) and he must ask accused under S. 191 Cr. P. C., if he wishes to be tried by another Magistrate. Conviction under S. 323 was set aside. 1935 M. 341=59 M. 442.
18. Upon complaint See Complaint—10..
 1. The Magistrate is bound to receive the complaint and deal with it according to law. 12 B. 161, 13 C. 334.
 2. The Magistrate cannot refer the complaint to Police, without taking cognizance of it. 12 Cr. L. J. 463.

Cognizance of Offences.—(contd.)

3. The fact that complainant is a servant of the Magistrate does not deprive the Magistrate of his jurisdiction, although it would be expedient to refer him to some other Magistrate. 9 B. 712. See 95 I. C. 764.
4. When a complaint is filed, the Magistrate can order the Police to submit a charge-sheet. 33 P. L. R. 318.

19. Upon complaint by Police.

1. There is nothing either in Ss. 23 to 25, Police Act or in Cr. P. C., which would in any way prevent a Police Officer from lodging a complaint with regard to a non-cognizable offence. 1929 P. 514=120 I. C. 297=31 Cr. L. J. 55. 1925 L. 237.
2. Magistrate can take cognizance of non-cognizable offence upon a report made in writing by Police Officer without examining the officer upon oath. 51 A. 382, 51 B. 498, 1927 L. 702=49 M. 525=104 I. C. 437=28 Cr. L. J. 821.
3. The written allegation of a non-cognizable offence made by a Police Officer who is also a Public Prosecutor with the idea of making the Court take action on it, is a complaint. 1925 L. 237=82 I. C. 753=6 L. L. J. 606.

20. Upon information received from a witness.

- A Magistrate taking cognizance of an offence against a witness in a case pending before him upon facts disclosed by evidence of another witness, does so under S. 190 (c) and not under S. 351. 1 C. W. N. 105 Cont. 5, 4 S. L. R. 258, 41 C. 1013.

21. Upon information received from accused himself.

- A Magistrate is empowered under S. 190 (1) (c) to record and act on the information furnished by accused himself. 62 M. L. J. 630.

22. Upon Police report. See Police report. S. 17, Cr. P. C.

1. A Police chalan is a Police report of facts constituting an offence under cl. (b), S. 190 and a Magistrate can take cognizance upon it. 8 P. R. 1901 Cr., 22 P. R. 1900 Cr.
2. Mere suggestion of the Police Officer that accused injured the crops of the people of the village, is not a Police report and the issue of the summons to the accused is illegal. 24 P. R. 1894 Cr.
3. The report of a Sub-Inspector of Excise to a Magistrate is a Police report only for the purpose of S. 190, Cr. P. C. 54 C. 371=1927 C. 405=28 Cr. L. J. 316.
4. Magistrate can take cognizance of non-cognizable case upon a Police report. 1927 L. 702, 104 I. C. 437, 49 M. 525=28 Cr. L. J. 821.
5. An application by the Police to a Magistrate to take action against a person amounts to a Police report, within S. 190 (b), Cr. P. C. 59 I. C. 41.
6. A letter was addressed to a Police Officer, on this he made report against his subordinate to the Magistrate. Held, that it was not a Police report. 23 Cr. L. J. 641.
7. A Magistrate has discretion either to take cognizance of the offence on the Police report or to proceed under S. 203, Cr. P. C., or to take no further steps. 2 Weir 119.
8. Where the Magistrate issued warrants against persons not named in the complaint or in the first information but named in a report subsequently made by the Police after investigation. Held, that Magistrate took cognizance of the case under cl. (b) and not cl. (c) of S. 190. 8 C. W. N. 864.
9. If after the receipt of Police report the Magistrate makes over the case to a subordinate Magistrate for inquiry and report, he acts illegally. 40 C. 854, 51 C. 402.
10. Application of Prosecuting Inspector to put prosecution witness on trial as accused, is report within the meaning of S. 190. 1933 A. 399=34 Cr. L. J. 761.

23. Upon Suspicion.

1. Where a Magistrate has only suspicion that an offence has been committed, he should not take cognizance of it until some aggrieved person has complained or until he has before him a Police report. 14 C. 707.

*Cognizance of Offences—(concl'd.)24. Without jurisdiction. S. 529 (c), Cr. P. C.

1. A Magistrate of the second class cannot take cognizance of a complaint that certain persons were guilty of murder. 5 P. 447=1926 P. 400=7 P. L. T. 335=27 Cr. L. J. 704=94 I. C. 896.
2. If a Magistrate takes cognizance of non-cognizable offence under S. 109 (1) (a) or (b) without having jurisdiction, it must be shown that he acted in good faith to make his proceedings valid. 1923 L. 66, 106 I. C. 577=29 Cr. L. J. 65, 1926 M. 865. See 32 M. 3.
3. Magistrate erroneously but in good faith took cognizance of cases which he was not empowered to do, proceedings are not invalid unless prejudice is caused to accused. 1933 A. 399=34 Cr. L. J. 761.

COMMISSION. Ss. 503 to 503, Cr. P. C.

1. Parda Nashin ladies.

1. A Parda Nashin lady has a right to be examined on commission. 4 C. 20, 24 C. 551, 45 C. 697, 1923 L. 73=81 I. C. 140 (1) Cont. 5 A. 92, 12 A. 69.
2. Although a Parda Nashin lady has no right to be examined by commission, yet the word 'inconvenience' empowers the Court to allow it. 5 A. 92.
3. Court can examine a Parda Nashin lady in an empty room in a Court building. 12 A. 69.
4. A Parda Nashin lady who is the daughter of a prostitute can be examined on commission. 11 P. W. R. 1913 Cr.=43 P. L. R. 1913.
5. A Parda Nashin complainant can be examined on commission. 42 C. 19.

2. Remand order directing.—

The trial Magistrate is empowered to record the evidence of a witness himself, although the order of remand directed the examination by commission. 1929 L. 104=116 I. C. 643=30 Cr. L. J. 948.

3. When to issue.

1. Commission can be issued to save unreasonable expense although by doing so time is not saved. 1923 L. 73, 1931 P. 81=130 I. C. 538=32 Cr. L. J. 551.
2. An expert who is a principal witness, cannot be examined on commission. 9 I. C. 347=12 Cr. L. J. 64.
3. Additional District Magistrate empowered under Schedule III, Part V (18) can issue commission within his own jurisdiction. 1923 L. 158=73 I. C. 510.
4. A commission can be issued for the examination of a complainant. 10 P. R. 1896, 11 P. W. R. 1913, 42 C. 19.
5. Witnesses for identification of stolen property should not be examined on commission merely because their expenses would amount to Rs. 500. 6 A. 224.
6. In criminal cases issue of commission is most unsatisfactory and dangerous to the interests of community. 8 C. 896, 1926 S. 124=91 I. C. 393, 1923 L. 73.
7. Commission cannot be issued for the examination of a witness outside India. 5 B. 338, 10 Cr. L. J. 571.
8. After commitment is made, a Magistrate cannot issue commission for taking evidence to be used at a trial before the Sessions Court. 19 C. 113, 19 B. 749.
9. If a witness is ill, a Magistrate should ascertain whether he can attend within a reasonable time and then reluctantly issue a commission. 3 P. 591 (594).
10. A commission is not a 'Court' and cannot make complaint for perjury under Ss. 195,

476, Cr. P. C. 11 C. W. N. 909.

11. The accused should not be detained for unnecessary long time for the return of commission. The trial and commission cannot go together. 19 C. 133.
12. Section does not empower Magistrate to go himself to the house of a witness. 2 S. L. R. 8.
13. Application for issue of fresh commission for cross-examination after charge is competent. 1934 C. 698.
14. If the trial Court rejects application for issue of commission, District Magistrate cannot interfere. Revision to High Court is the only remedy. 1936 S. 221.
15. A complainant is not a witness and therefore commission for the examination of complainant cannot be issued, although the complainant be a Parda Nashin lady or a Ruler of a State. 5 A. 92, 10 P. R. 1895, 12 Cr. L. J. 553

COMMITMENT Ss. 206 to 210, Cr. P. C.

1. Absence of accused.

1. A commitment in the absence of accused is illegal. 260 P. L. R. 1913, 5 C. W. N. 110.
2. Where the accused was allowed to appear by an agent under S. 205, Cr. P. C., commitment made in the absence of accused but in the presence of the agent, is not illegal. 2 W. R. 50.

2. Addition of charge after. See Charge—1.

3. After Discharge.

1. Commitment after discharge is proper, if there is fresh evidence against the accused. 7 M. H. C. R. 40.
2. The discharge of a person accused of an offence exclusively triable by Court of Session is no bar to his being apprehended with a view to commitment. 10 B. 319.
3. Where a complaint was made of an offence exclusively triable by Court of Session and the Magistrate framed charge for minor offence and acquitted the accused. Held, the Sessions Judge could order the commitment of accused on the original charge. 24 M. 136, 82 I. C. 760, 41 M. 982, 53 I. C. 618, 94 I. C. 359, 43 M. 330, 1932 N. 85 (1). Cont. 20 C. 633, 23 M. 225.
4. On a complaint under S. 302, Magistrate framed charge under Ss. 147, 325. Held, that it amounted to implied order of discharge under S. 302 and the Sessions Judge could order the committal of the accused. 43 M. 330.
5. When an order of discharge under S. 209, Cr. P. C., has been confirmed by higher authorities, it is not competent for a Magistrate to entertain a fresh complaint on the same charge. 1928 Sind 496=99 I. C. 89=23 Cr. L. J. 57, 1922 Sind 23.
6. The dictum that further enquiry after discharge is improper unless the order of discharge is manifestly perverse or foolish, does not apply to a case in which Magistrate is acting as a Court of enquiry and not a trial Court. 1930 O. 415.
7. An order of discharge after full enquiry should not be lightly interfered with. 1925 L. 395=89 I. C. 272=26 P. L. R. 198.

4. Bail after—See Bail—6.

5. By Appellate Court. S. 423 (1) (b). See Appeal—25 order of commitment.

6. By District Magistrate or Sessions Judge. S. 437, Cr. P. C.

1. The Sessions Judge and District Magistrate have co-ordinate powers to order a commitment. 28 C. 397.
2. Sessions Judge can direct a commitment of a case, although District Magistrate refused to call for record. 43 M. 330.
3. In order to give jurisdiction to Sessions Judge and District Magistrate to order commitment the accused must have been charged with an offence exclusively triable by Court of Session. 234 P. L. R. 1904, 1 A. 413, 3 P. R. 1879, 42 M. 561, 20 C. 633, 53 C. 645=1926 C. 1090

Commitment.—(contd.)

4. A Sessions Judge may direct commitment even where the District Magistrate himself discharges the accused. 7 A. 853.
 5. A Sessions Judge or District Magistrate can call upon the discharging Magistrate to make commitment. 19 B. 100, 28 C. 397, 53 C. 645, 1930 M. W. N. 683, 10 B. 319.
 6. In a clear case of committal, the Sessions Judge or District Magistrate should direct commitment and not further enquiry. 15 C. 608.
 7. When no opportunity to show cause why commitment should not be ordered, was given to the accused, the order should be set aside. 48 M. 874=1925 M. 1061.
 8. Where a Sessions Judge made a complaint under S. 476, Cr. P. C., to a first class Magistrate which was dismissed, he could not order the commitment of the accused to himself. 1927 B. 35=99 I. C. 85=28 Cr. L. J. 53.
 9. The order of commitment passed by Sessions Judge or District Magistrate can be quashed by High Court upon strong grounds and under exceptional circumstances. 25 A. 564, 30 M. 224, 27 M. 54, 1930 O. 415=128 I. C. 285.
 10. On a complaint under S. 302, I. P. C., the Magistrate framed a charge under Ss. 325—147. Held, that it amounted to implied discharge of accused under S. 302 and Sessions Judge could order the commitment of the accused. 43 M. 330.
 11. When a Police chalan contains a mention of Ss. 304—147, I. P. C., but after recording evidence, Magistrate frames charge under Ss. 325—147, the Sessions Judge cannot order committal. 1926 O. 194=93 I. C. 145=27 Cr. L. J. 417.
 12. Accused was tried under Ss. 307—323 but the Magistrate framed a charge under S. 323 only. Held, that Sessions Judge could order commitment of accused under S. 302, I. P. C. 1934 A. 141=148 I. C. 999, 5 Bom. L. R. 125, 24 M. 136 and 42 A. 123 Rel. on. 41 M. 932, 1923 A. 484, 59 I. C. 193=22 Cr. L. J. 49 and 41 I. C. 658=18 Cr. L. J. 834. Expl. and Dist.
 13. When a commitment order is passed by District Magistrate under S. 437, High Court will not interfere if there is some evidence to go to the Jury. 1934 Sind 27=35 Cr. L. J. 884.
- 7. By High Court.
- Power of High Court to order commitment should rarely be exercised in the midst of a trial. 1926 O. 194=93 I. C. 145=27 Cr. L. J. 417.
- 8. By Revenue or Civil Court. S. 478, Cr. P. C.
1. The power of a Civil Court to commit a case to the Sessions is limited to cases triable exclusively by the Court of Sessions and when the offence has been committed before the Civil Court itself. 4 B. 237.
 2. A Civil Court cannot commit accused without holding preliminary inquiry, 22 W. R. 52, 40 A. 32
 3. When notices were issued to the persons concerned and witnesses were not examined, the commitment is illegal. 40 A. 32.
 4. Revenue Court can commit an accused if the offence is committed in mutation proceedings. 1930 O. 58=124 I. C. 364=31 Cr. L. J. 679.
 5. It is discretionary with the Civil Court to send the case under S. 476 to a Magistrate or commit it direct to the Court of Sessions. 49 A. 893=1927 A. 571.
 6. There is no right of appeal against an order of Civil or Revenue Court committing accused to the Court of Sessions. 1930 O. 58=124 I. C. 364, 49 A. 893.
- 9. By trying Magistrate during trial of a case. S. 347, Cr. P. C.
1. Where an offence is triable both by the Sessions Judge and by Magistrate, the latter can commit an accused to Sessions only if he is of opinion that the case ought to be tried by Court of Sessions. He must record reasons for the same. 1923 P. 551=109 I. C. 804=29 Cr. L. J. 612.
 2. Magistrate cannot decline to commit a case of public importance to the High Court Session on the ground that there is congestion of work in the High Court Sessions. 53 Bom. 611=1929 Bom. 313=119 I. C. 665=30 Cr. L. J. 1090.

3. A Magistrate can acquit the accused of a part of a case and commit him for the other part. 1925 O. 547=85 I. C. 360=26 Cr. L. J. 520.
4. Where the evidence recorded by the Magistrate is not read over to each witness, in the presence of the accused, the commitment is illegal. 52 M. 995=1929 M. 862.
5. Before committing the Magistrate should allow the accused to cross-examine the prosecution witnesses before the charge is framed. 51 C. 442 (445).
6. If the Magistrate finds that the accused should be committed, the proceedings are not to be commenced de novo. 2 A. 190.
7. The commitment can be made before signing judgment. If it is signed, no other Court except High Court can alter or review it. 14 C. 42, 2 A. 672.
8. Commitment may be made after framing a charge. 3, C. 495.
9. If some of the accused are charged with an offence which ought to be tried by Court of Sessions and the rest are accused of summons case, which the Magistrate can try and adequately punish, it is not illegal to commit all the accused to the Sessions. 21 Cr. L. J. 791.
10. Although the Magistrate decides to commit the case to the Sessions under S. 347, he should still follow the procedure of Chapter XVIII and allow the accused to cross-examine the prosecution witness. 1931 B. 517=134 I. C. 1230, 51 C. 422.
11. An order of commitment made without taking all the evidence as the accused was prepared to produce before the Magistrate is invalid. 26 A. 177, 20 A. 264.
12. All the proceedings in the Magistrate's Court must be held to be proceedings in an inquiry under Chapter XVIII and not proceedings for a trial, as soon as the Magistrate decides under S. 347 to commit the accused for trial in the Court of Sessions. 132 I. C. 47=32 Cr. L. J. 849 (2)=1931 A. 434.
13. Under S. 347 the Magistrate need not start proceedings de novo, but he must not deprive the accused of any right which he may have under Chapter XVIII. 1931 A. 434=132 I. C. 47=32 Cr. L. J. 849 (2).
14. Where the accused has cross-examined all the prosecution witnesses and has produced defence witnesses, he has no further right of further cross-examination after framing of the charge. His only right is to cross-examine the witnesses over again in the Court of Session. 1931 A. 434=132 I. C. 47, 1931 A. 621.
15. The fact that accused wants to have the benefit of trial by Jury. 1932 B. 63=56 B. 61, or the case has caused secession in a particular community. 1925 B. 251, or there is Government resolution 42 B. 172 is no ground for committal.
16. Where the offence appears to deserve greater punishment, accused should be committed. 16 B. 580, 11 A. 393.
17. From the moment the Magistrate decides to commit, what has hitherto been a trial becomes an inquiry under chapter 18. 1930 C. 666, 60 C. 643.
18. The charge already framed must be set aside in order that Magistrate may go back to the stage at which preliminary case proceedings may be applied. 1932 M. 302=33 Cr. C. L. J. 765.
10. Charge by Committing Magistrate. S. 210, Cr. P. C. See Charge—17.
11. De novo proceedings. See De novo trial—3.
12. Discretion to.
 1. A Magistrate should try a case himself even though triable exclusively by Sessions Court, if in his discretion evidence indicates that the course is proper. 1923 C. 104=73 I. C. 770=37 C. L. J. 34=24 Cr. L. J. 674.
 2. In committing cases not exclusively triable by the Court of Session, Magistrate should exercise a proper discretion and give adequate reasons for making commitment to the Court of Session. 11 Bom. L. R. 13, 38 B. 114.
 3. A case not exclusively triable by a Court of Session should not be committed merely to avoid a possible conflict of decision and proper course is to await the result of Sessions trial. 1930 L. 312=129 I. C. 677=31 Cr. L. J. 178.
 4. Where a Magistrate in his discretion considers that a commitment would result in unwarrantable waste of public time without any advantage to any body, he may not commit the case. 1925 P. 755=92 I. C. 697.

13. Grounds of discharge. S. 209, Cr. P. C.

1. When a Committing Magistrate finds that the prosecution evidence is totally unworthy of credit, it is his duty to discharge the accused. 92 I. C. 450=27. Cr. L. J. 274, 35 B. 163, 1924 A. 664, 5 A. 161, 26 A. 564, 4 L. 69, 37 A. 355, 91 I. C. 34, 44 A. 57, 1923 L. 279=68 I. C. 825, 1925 P. 279=81 I. C. 913, 1933 A. 482 (2), 1927 A. 279=49 A. 443, 40 A. 615 not npr.
2. If there is no prima facie case, the accused should be discharged. 51 C. 849, 15 M. 39, 2 Weir 255, 1932 M. 43=65 I. C. 993, 1931 M. W. N. 116.
3. If the charge is without foundation, the accused should be discharged, even though the statements of prosecution witnesses make out a prima facie case. 46 A. 537, 1904 A. W. N. 5 Diss. from. 26 A. 564, 37 A. 355, 12 A. L. J. 150 Foll.
4. If the Magistrate entertains a doubt about the evidence, he may commit the case, but when he is convinced that evidence is false, he should discharge the accused. 1926 C. 523=93 I. C. 973=27 Cr. L. J. 509.
5. When no evidence is forthcoming, owing to the absence of prosecutor and his witnesses, accused should be discharged. 15 W. R. 53.
6. If the evidence be of such a nature that no reasonable person and no tribunal, judge or jury would ever on that evidence hold the accused guilty, the accused should be discharged. 48 M. 874, 1925 M. 1061=26 Cr. L. J. 1570, 15 Cr. L. J. 373.
7. A commitment or discharge without the examination of all the prosecution witnesses is illegal. 4 M. 227, 4 M. 329.
8. If the Committing Magistrate is of opinion that reliable evidence of prosecution is rebutted by defence evidence and that a conviction will not follow, he can discharge the accused. 44 A. 57, 37 A. 355.
9. Magistrate, after he has drawn up a charge, can allow the accused to cross-examine the witnesses for the prosecution and can cancel the charge. 39 C. 885.

14. Grounds sufficient for—

1. When there is prima facie evidence if believed shows that there is a prima facie case which ought to be tried at the Sessions, the Magistrate should commit the accused. 15 M. 39, 51 C. 849 (852), 49 A. 443, 14 P. R. 1908, 11 B. 372, 18 A. L. J. 232, 4 L. 69.
2. A Magistrate should leave the Sessions Judge to decide upon the value of the evidence, which tends to show that an offence under S. 302 has been committed. 1929 L. 403=114 I. C. 58=30 P. L. R. 36=30 Cr. L. J. 234
3. When the question of discharge or commitment turns on probabilities, the Magistrate should commit rather than give the benefit of doubt to accused. 26 A. 564, 35 B. 163, 11 B. 372, 18 A. L. J. 232, 15 S. L. R. 1, 1904 A. W. N. 5.
4. When the evidence discloses a circumstance of aggravation which makes the case cognizable by Superior Court, the Magistrate should commit rather than try the case himself. 13 B. 502, 10 C. 85, 24 M. 675.
5. When the charge is not so serious, the Magistrate should rather try than commit the accused to the Court of Session. 1 S. L. R. 103.
6. What the enquiring Magistrate has to try and determine is not whether the case has been made out but only where there is a case for trial. There is always a case for trial when the evidence is of such a nature that the guilt of the accused can be held to be proved or disproved only as the result of valuing and weighing of the evidence. 48 M. 874, 15 Cr. L. J. 373, 1915 M. W. N. 233.
7. If the Magistrate is of opinion that notwithstanding direct evidence, evidence is unreliable and the case is improbable he should not commit the accused. 1925 P. 279=81 I. C. 913, 4 R. 471.
8. "Not sufficient grounds for committing the accused" is quite different from such expressions as "the case not proved" or "the accused is innocent." 1925 P. 670.

Commitment—(contd.)

9. Commitment is not illegal merely because no reason for commitment is given in spite of S. 30 Magistrate in the District. 1934 L. 326 (2).

15. Illegal or Irregular. S. 532, Cr. P. C.

1. It is illegal to commit summons cases to the Sessions. 3 A. L. J. 14.
2. When the Committing Magistrate has no territorial jurisdiction in the place where the offence is committed, the irregularity will be cured under S. 531 unless it has occasioned a failure of justice. 26 M. 640, 17 M. 402.
3. If the Committing Magistrate has no territorial jurisdiction in the place of occurrence, the commitment is void. 3 A. 251, 11 C. L. R. 55, 15 B. 200, 20 Cr. L. J. 416.
4. A commitment or discharge without examining all the witnesses for the prosecution is illegal. 4 M. 227, 4 M. 329.
5. If the Magistrate commits an accused over whom he has no jurisdiction or for an offence not triable by the Court of Sessions or High Court, the defect is not curable under S. 532. 57 C. 1042=1929 Cal. 755=34 C. W. N. 13.
6. The irregularity in commitment will be cured, when the defect is personal to the committing authority. 16 P. R. 1890 Cr.
7. Commitment is not bad owing to a disqualification of Magistrate under S. 556, Cr. P. C. 2 L. R. R. 209.
8. An irregular commitment is cured under S. 532, when sanction under S. 196 or 197 was not obtained. 22 B. 112, 9 B. 288.
9. A commitment by a second class Magistrate is not only irregular but illegal. 16 B. 200.
10. A commitment of a case which could adequately be dealt with by the Magistrate is when there is no cause for commitment illegal. 13 P. R. 1917 Cr., 25 I. C. 992.
11. Accused charged under S. 148, I. P. C., were committed to the Court of Session for the sake of convenience. If the ground of commitment cease to exist, the commitment is bad in law. 1934 L. 95=151 I. C. 970.

16. Inquiry and Evidence before. S. 208, Cr. P. C.

1. A commitment or discharge without examining all the prosecution witnesses is illegal. 4 M. 227—4 M. 329.
2. In committal proceedings there is no obligation on the part of prosecution to get the whole evidence recorded, which they intend to place before the Sessions Court. 1930 Sind 99=120 I. C. 520=31 Cr. L. J. 117.
3. Prosecution is bound to produce all witnesses who prove their connection with the transaction. 8 C. 121.
4. Prosecution must produce all witnesses whether they support the prosecution story or defence story. 16 A. 84, 1 P. L. T. 161.
5. If the Prosecutor is of opinion that a witness is a false witness, he is not bound to produce him. 16 A. 84, 14 A. 521, 15 A. 6.
6. Magistrate is not competent to frame a charge or make an order of commitment until he has taken all such evidence as the accused may produce or is prepared to produce before him for hearing. 20 A. 264, 26 A. 177, 21 A. L. J. 911, 46 A. 137.
7. It is a mistake to remove from the record evidence recorded under S. 208, Cr. P. C., after it had been filed as an exhibit in the case without objection from the accused. 1930 Sind 54=120 I. C. 524=31 Cr. L. J. 121.
8. When two eye witnesses sent up by the Police were not heard by the Court, an inference favourable to the accused could be drawn. 1923 O. 217=74 I. C. 434.
9. If a Magistrate refuses to summon witnesses for the prosecution under S. 208 (3) without recording reasons, his order will be set aside. 1927 M. 162, 3 A. 392.
10. If the Magistrate has given reasons for refusing to summon defence witness, the High Court will not interfere in revision. 6 P. 329=1927 P. 243=103 I. C. 597.
11. Magistrate may refuse to re-summon prosecution witnesses cited only for the purpose of causing vexation and delay. 1928 M. 652=29 Cr. L. J. 725. See 1906 A. W. N. 306.

12. Magistrate may refuse to summon defence witnesses, if the application is made when the charge was going to be drawn up or on the date fixed for passing an order of commitment. 36 M. 321, 42 C. 608.
13. Inquiry as regards absconding accused begins when he is brought before the Magistrate. 135 I. C. 209=1932 L. 103=33 Cr. L. J. 97.
14. It is not open to the prosecution to produce part of the evidence before committing Magistrate and the rest at the trial before the Sessions Court. If the principal witnesses are not produced, the commitment will be quashed. 1934 L. 667=15 L. 331, 1935 Sind 31=154 I. C. 455=36 Cr. L. J. 563, 1933 A. 690, 1 P. R. 1889, 15 Cr. L. J. 704. COMPENSATION. S. 250, Cr. P. C.

1. Appeal.

1. There is nothing in S. 250 to show that an appeal will lie when compensation awarded to each accused is more than Rs. 50. If the complainant has been ordered to pay compensation exceeding Rs. 50 to one or more accused he has the right of appeal. Total amount determines the right of appeal. 90 I. C. 160=1926 P. 70, 89 I. C. 159=1926 Sind 19, 91 I. C. 882=1926 A. 247, 49 B. 440=1925 B. 129=85 I. C. 160, 9 L. 452=1923 L. 638=103 I. C. 617, 118 I. C. 215=1929 Sind 176.
2. The appeal lies under S. 250 (3) coupled with S. 407 and all the provisions in Chapter XXXI, including the power to take additional evidence given by S. 428 apply. 53 M. 688=1930 M. 483=31 Cr. L. J. 602, 33 M. 90 and 1928 M. 391 Dist.
3. When the complainant files an appeal or Revision against the order of compensation, Crown is the real Respondent and notice to ex-accused is not necessary. 8 L. 568=1927 L. 357=101 I. C. 192, 62 I. C. 823=1921 M. 281, 33 M. 89.
4. Although there is no express provision, yet accused should have notice of appeal in order that they should have an opportunity of supporting the order passed in their favour. 1924 L. 675=76 I. C. 641=25 Cr. L. J. 209, 29 M. 187, 38 M. 1091 Foll. 92 I. C. 424=1926 S. 143.
5. No notice to the other party is necessary, though desirable. 1932 B. 177=33 Cr. L. J. 392, 29 M. 187, 1924 L. 675. The absence of notice will not vitiate proceedings. 33 M. 89.
6. It is open to the appellate Court to go into the merits of the case to find out if complaint is false or frivolous. 35 C. W. N. 1151=1932 C. 120=33 Cr. L. J. 269.
7. In appeal additional evidence can be taken. 1930 M. 483=53 M. 688.

2. Applicability of S. 250.

1. S. 250 is applicable to an offence committed by an accused before a Magistrate. It does not apply to an offence committed by a person before a Magistrate and 110. 45 A. 363=1923 A. 332=71 I. C. 692, 321=67 I. C. 826, 25 B. 48, 33 P. R. 1902, 4 P. R. 1896, 15 A. 365, 25 B. 48, 1935 L. 29=1935 Cr. C. 20.
2. S. 250 is applicable to the case of the Crown. 1930 A. 206=31 Cr. L. J. 485.
3. S. 250 does not apply to cases triable by Court of Session. 53 A. 461.
4. An order by a Magistrate awarding compensation in respect of an accusation under S. 477, 1. P. C. (the offence not triable by the Magistrate) is without jurisdiction. 11 L. 558=31 Cr. L. J. 1133=1930 L. 482=31 P. L. R. 869=126 I. C. 792, 14 P. R. 1902, 15 P. R. 1919 Dist.
5. If A tells B and B tells C and C tells the Police, S. 250 does not apply. 1929 M. W. N. 785.
6. If a person makes a report to Police which is found by Magistrate to be false and frivolous, he can award compensation. 1926 A. 165=91 I. C. 67, 85 I. C. 367.
7. Appellate Court cannot make any order as to compensation. 7 L. 152=1926 Lah. 427, 28 A. 625, 39 C. 157=27 Cr. L. J. 570=94 I. C. 138.
8. S. 250 does not apply to an application under S. 488, Cr. P. C.. 11 Cr. L. J. 156.
9. Where one of the accused is discharged and the other is subsequently acquitted, the award of compensation to both is illegal. 1925 C. 261=26 Cr. L. J. 449.

10. S. 250 does not apply if the case is not instituted on complaint or upon information given to Police Officer or Magistrate. 44 B. 463, 14 Cr. L. J. 1, 4 M. 234.
11. S. 250 applies to a complaint under Cattle Trespass Act. 29 M. 517.
12. S. 250 is inapplicable to a case instituted on Police report or on information given by Police Officer as such. 21 C. 979. See 1925 A. 165, 39 M. 1006, 1929 M. 846.
13. If the information given to Village Headman is one which he is not bound to report to Police, no compensation can be ordered. 25 M. 667, 24 Cr. L. J. 717=1924 M. 91.
14. S. 250 applies to cases tried summarily. 11 M. 142.

3. Compensation—when to be awarded.

1. Where a case is not wilfully false nor is there perversion or exaggeration of evidence, compensation should not be awarded. 115 I. C. 900=1929 R. 14=30 Cr. L. J. 539.
2. Two elements, one of falsity and the other either frivolousness or vexatiousness are essentially necessary under S. 250. A vexatious charge may be partly true. 87 I. C. 921=1926 N. 31=26 Cr. L. J. 1033.
3. An order for compensation without giving the complainant an opportunity to show cause, why such order may not be made against him is illegal. 1923 L. 458=82 I. C. 480=25 Cr. L. J. 1312, 91 I. C. 704, 68 I. C. 414=1922 B. 409.
4. When witnesses were present, whom the complainant wanted to produce and the Magistrate without examining them awarded compensation, the order is illegal. 1923 L. 194=24 Cr. L. J. 251, 44 M. 51, 51 M. 337, 1935 Pesh. 178.
5. When a person gets warrants of arrest and drags the accused in Court and then says the case might be filed as he does not wish to produce evidence. Held, the order of compensation against him is not improper. 1921 L. 283=64 I. C. 369.
6. Where there was a prima facie good case against the accused, the mere fact that there was a discrepancy of two of complaints witnesses is not sufficient for an order under S. 250. 1935 Pesh. 178.

4. Complainant.

1. S. pointed out two persons to the Police as assaultants. Police sent them up to Magistrate for trial, who discharged them on the ground that the complaint was false. Held, S. was complainant and could be proceeded against under S. 250. 59 I. C. 552=22 Cr. L. J. 120.
2. S. 250 applies to a person upon whose complaint or information given to Police Officer, proceedings have been started. He cannot get rid of order of compensation that he was merely an informer. 1926 A. 295=94 I. C. 894.
3. If a person utilizes another to give information, he is liable to pay compensation under S. 250. 40 A. 79. Cont. 12 S. L. R. 76.
4. Where applicants gave information as witnesses of an offence to a constable, upon whose information the case was instituted, no order of compensation can be passed against them. The actual complainant is liable. 54 I. C. 401, 21 Cr. L. J. 49.
5. A person instigating the giving of information. 48 I. C. 980=12 S. L. R.
6. A Magistrate can award compensation, even if the complaint was originally made to a village Magistrate. 36 I. C. 471=17 Cr. L. J. 503.
7. A complaint was made to a village Magistrate, who reported to the Police and they challanled the case. Held, that compensation can be ordered by the Magistrate. 16 Cr. L. J. 248=28 I. C. 104. See 13 Cr. L. J. 29, 25 M. 667, 32 M. 258.
8. The word "information given to Police Officer" in S. 250 includes a village headman's report under S. 45 (c) on a complaint made to him. 39 M. 1006, 32 M. 258, 26 M. 667 Dist.

Compensation for injury from offence—(contd.)

2. S. 545 does not authorise a Court to award compensation for offences other than those which form the subject of enquiry. 22 B. 717.
3. Where a complainant cannot recover substantial damages in a Civil Court compensation cannot be given under S. 545 (b) but can be given under Cl. (a) to defray the prosecution expenses. 15 Cr. L. J. 555=24 I. C. 963.
4. S. 545 (b) has been framed so as to give compensation in cases where it is recoverable under Fatal Accident Act (XIII of 1855) by parent, wife, husband and child of the deceased. 36 C. 302.
5. S. 545 does not justify compensation to be paid to the complainant when no fine is imposed. 81 I. C. 940=1925 O. 110=25 Cr. L. J. 1116.
6. S. 545 does not apply to a case under S. 107, consequently an order directing the accused to pay costs of complainant is ultra vires. 1924 A. 694=25 Cr. L. J. 476.
7. There is no provision in the Code for ordering payment of compensation to the person whose property was stolen by the accused and destroyed. 90 I. C. 151=26 Cr. L. J. 1495=1926 N. 89.

3. Bonafide Purchaser.

The amended S. 525, Cl. (c) applies to a purchaser and not to a mortgagee or pledgee. An innocent mortgagee or pledgee who has advanced money on the security of stolen property will not be entitled to compensation. 46 B. 893=1923 B. 22.

4. Compensation—when to be awarded.

1. In a petty case where no pecuniary loss or expense has been sustained by the complainant, it is improper for the Court to award compensation. 77 P. R. 1866 Cr.
2. Award of compensation is proper where loss, etc., occasioned by offence can be appraised in money. 12 P. R. 1876 Cr.
3. Where a woman at the time of her delivery was treated by an unskilled midwife and died. Held, that order under S. 545 awarding compensation is ultra vires. 1935 R. 471.
4. Where fight was the result of encroachment made by deceased and his relation, compensation should not be ordered. 1934 L. 519.

5. Procedure—Appeal.

1. The Sessions Judge should record under what section or on what grounds he orders a portion of fine inflicted on persons convicted of dacoity to be made over to the complainant. 2 W. R. 58. See 10 P. R. 1898.
2. Where High Court in revision set aside a sentence of fine, compensation paid out of it under S. 545, may be recovered under S. 547. 19 A. 112, 6 A. 96, 7 M. 563, 14 P. R. 1884. 29 P. R. 1903 Cr. Cont. 2 W. R. 717.
3. Notice should be given to the complainant by the appellate Court when the matter of compensation comes up to it in appeal. 53 C. 969=1926 C. 1054.
4. The award of compensation should be a part of sentence and order made upon conviction of an offence. 11 W. R. 53.
5. In case of appeal, Court should give notice of hearing to the complainant in whose favour an order under S. 545 for compensation has been made. 1936 N. 144; 53 C. 969=1926 C. 1054, 19 Cr. L. J. 927; 1925 A. 301 Rel. on.

6. Who is entitled to compensation.

1. Compensation cannot be awarded to innocent pledgee or mortgagee of stolen property. 46 B. 893=1923 B. 22=66 I. C. 997=23 Cr. L. J. 341.
2. A Magistrate has no jurisdiction to distribute among witnesses and Police force, the amount of fine inflicted under the Public Gambling Act. 20 Cr. L. J. 302.
3. In awarding compensation to the heirs of the person killed, the name of heirs should be mentioned. An order of compensation to the "nearest heirs" without specifying names is illegal. 18 P. R. 1913 Cr., 326 P. L. R. 1913=41 P. W. R. 1913 Cr.
4. Compensation may be awarded to a person whose wife had been enticed away, for injury done to his honour. 14 P. R. 1878.

Compensation for injury from Offence—(concl'd.)

5. Where accused was charged with causing hurt to two persons, but was fined for causing injury to one of them only, compensation cannot be awarded to the other person. 2 Weir 718.
6. The heirs of deceased are entitled to compensation. 36 C. 302, 17 P. R. 1898.
7. Where fine is imposed upon a person destroying land marks, a portion of it cannot be paid to the Anun to cover the expenses of his deputation to restore the land mark. 6 W. R. 93. See 12 P. R. 1890, 2 P. R. 1870.
8. Compensation may be awarded to surviving injured persons, suffering loss of a pecuniary nature. 25 P. R. 1868 Cr.
9. Compensation is not awardable to the friends of deceased. 25 P. R. 1868 Cr.
10. Where the death of the boy was caused by an offence under S. 304-A, when he was run over by accused, his mother is entitled to compensation to be paid out of fine. 1935 Pesh. 102=1935 Cr. C. 854, 21 M. 74 Not foll. 59 J. R. Rel. on.
11. The amendment of S. 545, Cr. P. C., by Act XVIII of 1923, entitles a person to compensation if he can get damages in Civil Court for any loss or injury caused by the offence. Act XIII of 1855 entitles a wife, husband, parent or child of the person whose death has been so caused to get compensation. 1935 Pesh. 102.

COMPETITION IN TRADE.

Competition in trade unless illegal methods are adopted is not a wrongful act and does not fall under S. 107, Cr. P. C. 1934 P. 104=35 Cr. L. J. 1057.

COMPLAINT. S. 4, Cr. P. C.

Absence of—

1. Where the complainant was examined on oath by the Magistrate, absence of a complaint in writing would only amount to an error, omission or irregularity curable under S. 537, Cr. P. C. 1924 P. 691=25 Cr. L. J. 972=81 I. C. 620.
2. The absence of sanction or complaint under S. 195, Cr. P. C., vitiates the whole proceedings and the defect is not cured by S. 537. 1926 O. 485=27 Cr. L. J. 939.

3. Want of a complaint for a particular offence is quite different from an error, omission or irregularity in the complaint. It affects the jurisdiction of the Court, and the defect is not curable under S. 537. 1930 R. 153=126 I. C. 530, 56 C. 824.
 4. Omission to file an authority to prefer a complaint by an Executive Officer of the Cantonment Board is curable under S. 537, Cr. P. C., when the authority is filed in the revision Court. 1923 L. 946=29 Cr. L. J. 822, 116 P. L. R. 1907.
 5. The absence of complaint in writing as required by S. 195 (1) of the Public Servant concerned or his superior makes the Court, a Court not of competent jurisdiction. 1927 Sind 10=97 I. C. 417=27 Cr. L. J. 1105.
 6. A complaint by an unauthorized person is no complaint at all and the conviction based on such complaint is illegal. 4 P. R. 1917 Cr.
- 2. Against unknown accused.
1. A complaint that some unknown persons have committed the offence is legal. 12 Cr. L. J. 399. See S. 4 (11) (h).
 2. Complainant need not name all the accused. 13 Cr. L. J. 588, 7 P. 561.
 3. Complainant may not accuse each person with a particular offence. 3 P. R. 1891 Cr., 26 C. 786.
 4. Magistrate can proceed against persons, not mentioned in the complaint, who appear to be concerned in the commission of the offence. 41 C. 1013.
- 3. By Collector or Excise Officer.
1. Cognizance of offence on chalan or report of Police Officer invested with certain powers under Excise Act is competent. 22 P. R. 1900 Cr., 8 P. R. 1901 Cr.
 2. In the absence of complaint, the conviction under the Excise Act is illegal. 28 P. R. 1883.
- 4. By Husband. See Adultery, Bigamy and Enticing a married woman—4.
- 5. By Local Government. See Sedition—9. Conspiracy.
- 6. By Private persons under Excise or Opium Act.
- For complaints under Abkari or Opium Act, the ordinary Cr. P. C. is not applicable. Complaints by private persons are not properly instituted ones. 52 M. 613.
- 7. Cognizance of. See Cognizance of offence—8.
- 8. Consolidation of—
- It is only curable irregularity to consolidate more than one similar complaint and to record evidence with the consent of the accused in one of them and to use it in the other. 50 B. 174=1926 B. 231=27 Cr. L. J. 1335.
- 9. Contents and Essentials.
1. If the facts alleged disclose an offence, it is immaterial if the section is not mentioned. 1929 M. 188=112 I. C. 566, 1922 M. 353=64 I. C. 282; 6 L. 375=1925 L. 631, 1926 A. 358=93 I. C. 69=27 Cr. L. J. 405.
 2. When the person aggrieved asked the Court to take action under S. 107 or S. 145 but there was no allegation of any offence having been committed. Held, it is not a complaint. 1930 O. 500=128 I. C. 279=7 O. W. N. 947.
 3. The mere fact that document contains allegation that an offence is committed does not necessarily constitute it a complaint. The allegation must be with a view to taking action under the Code. 1929 P. 473, 36 A. 222, 26 M. 640.
 4. If wrong section of Law is mentioned, the complaint is not illegal. It is sufficient that complainant shall state the true facts. It is for the Magistrate to apply the law to those facts. 1928 L. 510=9 L. 678=110 I. C. 108=29 Cr. L. J. 652.
 5. The sworn statement of complainant under S. 200 should not be regarded as part of the written complaint under S. 199. 1922 M. 353=64 I. C. 282, 13 Cr. L. J. 287=14 Bom. L. R. 141, 14 Bom. L. R. 1166=18 I. C. 145.
 6. The complainant need not have personal knowledge of the offence. 1921 C. 561=61 I. C. 839, 55 I. C. 682=21 Cr. L. J. 346, 15 Cr. L. J. 369.

7. The complaint must allege that an offence has been committed, the allegation that a person is using his house as a brothel is no complaint. 6 S. L. R. 254.
 8. A complaint need not set out the details of the offence. 32 M. 3.
 9. A complaint in which no facts are set out but only the words of the section of statute are copied, is a colourable compliance with the requirement of law. 16 C. W. N. 1105, 25 C. W. N. 357.
 10. Complaint should be made to a Magistrate and not to Police. 6 A. 96, 7 M. 563, 30 C. 690—285, 22 B. 949.
 11. Petition to institute proceedings under S. 110 or S. 145, Cr. P. C., is not a complaint, as the allegations do not amount to an offence. 27 C. 662, 20 C. 729.
 12. The essential difference between a complaint and information is that a Magistrate acts on a complaint because the complainant has asked him to act, but a Magistrate acts on information on his own initiative. The informant is not examined on oath like the complainant. 1930 A. 820=129 I. C. 436=32 Cr. L. J. 305, 43 M. 709.
 13. A complaint by Public Prosecutor instead of Court to charge a man under S. 211 is not valid, as the Court cannot delegate his power to Public Prosecutor. 19 P. R. 1917 Cr., 38 B. 642, 23 I. C. 107, 13 P. R. 1915 Cr.
 14. A Magistrate taking cognizance of a complaint, can proceed against any other person, who was not mentioned in it. 41 C. 1013.
 15. Complaint includes complaint that some unknown person has committed an offence. 12 Cr. L. J. 399=11 I. C. 583.
 16. When one of the accused was not named in the complaint for conspiracy though mentioned in the sanction of Government, he must be discharged. An application for issue of summons against such a person does not constitute complaint. 15 C. W. N. 98=12 C. L. J. 2. See 16 C. W. N. 1105.
 17. A complaint charging two persons in the alternative is bad. 126 I. C. 535.
 18. Allegations made to a Magistrate, with a view to his taking action is a complaint. 1935 Sind 1, 1934 P. 156.
 19. As to the difference of information and complaint. See 1930 A. 820.
 20. A complaint need not contain all the facts. 32 M. 3, 1933 O. 430.

3. An application for maintenance under S. 498 cannot be dismissed for default to pay process fee. 16 M. 234.
4. In non-cognizable warrant cases, neither the complainant nor the accused can be compelled to pay process fee for the production of witnesses although the complainant must, under S. 204, pay process fee for summoning accused. 93 I. C. 79=27 Cr. L. J. 415=1926 R. 13.
5. Where on the date fixed for delivery of judgment in a summons case, the Magistrate ordered the complainant to file process fee to secure the attendance of accused and the complaint was dismissed for default of process fee, the order was illegal. 1925 A. 392=87 I. C. 419=26 Cr. L. J. 963.
6. When Magistrate cannot record evidence, he must give notice to witnesses to appear on the next day. Complainant cannot be required to put process fee for summoning them again. 13 Cr. L. J. 176.

E. Further Enquiry— See Further Enquiry.

F. Grounds for and against—

1. Dismissal of a complaint for defamation under S. 203 without taking any evidence on the grounds that Exception 8 to S. 499, I. P. C., applies to the case is not justified. 1927 B. 436=102 I. C. 511=29 Bom. L. R. 713=28 Cr. L. J. 575.
2. A complaint against an agent that he did not pay and account for the money to the complainant is not necessarily a claim of civil nature, therefore the dismissal of complaint on this ground is improper. 1921 P. 85, 56 I. C. 75.
3. If no prima facie case is established against the accused, the complaint should be dismissed. 13 B. 590.
4. To see whether there are sufficient grounds for proceeding the Magistrate must exercise judicial discretion. That the Magistrate considers the result of the proceedings undesirable or the motive or conduct of complainant discreditable, are not relevant considerations. 38 M. 512, 1924 P. 379=72 I. C. 76.
5. The complaint must be dismissed, if the report of a Sub-Magistrate after elaborate enquiry is that there is no case against the accused. 40 C. 854 (857).
6. If the allegations contained in the complaint disclose a criminal offence, it should not be dismissed simply because civil remedy is available. 10 W. R. 40.
7. The complaint should not be dismissed on the ground that the accused has been exonerated in a previous departmental enquiry. 33 P. R. 1887 Cr.
8. The fact that besides the complainant, other persons could complain is no ground for dismissing it. 1927 A. 69=97 I. C. 368=27 Cr. L. J. 1104.
9. A complaint cannot be dismissed without examining the witnesses of the complainant who are present in Court. 1925 C. 1031=85 I. C. 705=26 Cr. L. J. 561.
10. Dismissal of complaint without examining the complainant on oath is illegal. 1923 P. 539=74 I. C. 957=24 Cr. L. J. 845, 3 C. W. N. 281.
11. A complainant challenging a Police investigation must be examined on oath before his complaint is dismissed. 1921 P. 205=2 P. L. T. 142.
12. If a complaint is dismissed under S. 203 without being sufficiently enquired into, further enquiry should be ordered. 76 I. C. 391=1921 C. 552.
13. A Magistrate sent a case for preliminary enquiry under S. 202 to a Zaildar and dismissed the complaint on his report. Held, the dismissal is not proper. 1923 L. 119=107 I. C. 603=29 P. L. R. 271=29 Cr. L. J. 267.
14. Dismissing a complaint without giving the complainant opportunity of substantiating it is illegal. 55 C. 1230, 14 Cr. L. J. 412, 4 P. R. 1912 Cr., 1924 O. 174.
15. Dismissal of a complaint on a previous Police enquiry is illegal. 1930 R. 226=125 I. C. 534=31 Cr. L. J. 1064.
16. Dismissal of a complaint by Magistrate on the sole ground that he agrees with the Police Report is illegal, unless the Police Report is made part of the order. 11 Cr.

- L. J. 331, 30 C. 923.
17. An application under S. 107, Cr. P. C., is not a complaint therefore S. 203 does not apply to it. 1924 L. 630=76 I. C. 25=25 Cr. L. J. 89.
 18. A Sessions Judge cannot direct further enquiry in a case under S. 107, Cr. P. C., when accused is discharged. 53 A. 148=1931 A. 53=32 Cr. L. J. 570.
 19. There is nothing to prevent a District Magistrate when moved to act under S. 436 from taking cognizance in his discretion of the complaint under S. 190 (1). 130 I. C. 529=1931 P. 50=32 Cr. L. J. 548.
 20. A Subordinate Magistrate directed to make further enquiry into a warrant case by an order under S. 436, Cr. P. C., has all the powers provided for by Chapter XXI of the Cr. P. C. 9 R. 239=1931 R. 225=32 Cr. L. J. 950.
 21. Magistrate cannot dismiss a complaint on the consideration of inquest report made by another Magistrate. 35 C. W. N. 1035.
 22. The motive of the complainant is no ground for dismissal of complaint. 1934 N. 135=35 Cr. L. J. 1215. 13 B. 599 and 38 M. 512 Rel. on.
 23. The fact that party feeling ran high at the place and if accused's act is considered criminal, a large population will be in jail, is no ground for dismissing complaint. Rat. Un. Cr. C. 549.
 24. Existence of malicious feeling is no ground. 13 B. 590, 38 M. 512.
 25. That the complainant has no personal knowledge, is no ground. Rat. Un. Cr. C. 669.
 26. The fact that civil remedy is open, is no ground for dismissing complaint. 12 Cr. L. J. 123=9 I. C. 726.
 27. That the complainant is of low caste is no ground. (1865) 2 W. R. Cr. 35.
 28. Dismissal of complaint for serious discrepancies is proper. 1930 N. 108.
 29. Discretion to dismiss complaint must be exercised judicially. 38 M. 512.
 30. Dismissal of complaint without hearing all the evidence adduced by the complainant is illegal. 14 Cr. L. J. 412, 20 M. 388.
 31. Magistrate cannot refuse to receive complaint and examine the complainant. 12 B. 161.

G. Prima facie case. See prima facie case.

H. Recording reasons of—

1. An order for discharge under S. 203 without reasons is without jurisdiction. 40 C. 41.
2. The Magistrate is bound to record reasons for dismissing the complaint. 14 C. 141, 1926 P. 57=26 Cr. L. J. 1502, 13 B. 600, 6 Cr. L. J. 85.

I. Revision.

High Court should not interfere if Magistrate entertained second complaint after dismissal of the first complaint. 1934 A. 514.

J. What is—

1. Refusal to issue process, is dismissal of complaint. 1928 M. 1198=29 Cr. L. J. 1059, 14 Cr. L. J. 183, 29 C. 457, 1923 C. 198.
2. An order staying proceedings against some accused while proceeding with the rest is dismissal of complaint. 2 C. W. N. 209.
3. Magistrate should not delay passing an order on complaint for months. 1922 P. 618.

K. Who can dismiss—

1. A District Magistrate cannot order the dismissal of complaint which is pending before a Sub-Magistrate. 30 C. 449, 3 C. W. N. 490.
2. District Magistrate removed the case to his own file and suspended the warrants and dismissed the complaint without hearing it in due course. Held, it was improper. (1873) 19 W. R. 28.

1. Court can acquit accused on the representation of an agent who had filed complaint on another's behalf, that he desires to compound the offence, without enquiring into agent's authority to compound. 1924 A. 778=83 I. C. 658=26 Cr. L. J. 98.
2. Where a person started proceedings under S. 498, I. P. C. as agent for the husband, he cannot compound the offence on behalf of the husband. 24 Cr. L. J. 120.
3. A complaint was filed by wife for cheating her husband and compounded by her. Subsequently husband filed another complaint for cheating. Held, the previous composition was invalid as not having been arrived at with the husband who was an-aggrieved party. 51 B. 512=1927 C 410, 21 C. 103, 37 B. 369.
4. A compounded a complaint filed by his wife of grievous hurt without obtaining her signature on the application of compromise on the other party's passing a document that she can stay rent free in a house for lifetime. Held, that the consideration is not illegal and the agreement was not void merely for want of signature of the wife. 52 B. 693=1928 B. 305=112 I. C. 459, 37 A. 419 and 37 M. 385 Dist.

3. Aggrieved party—who can compound—

1. Any person may set the criminal law in motion but it is only the person specified in S. 345 who can compound the offence. 51 B. 512=1927 B. 410.
2. Where the person, who is hurt, is dead, the case under S. 325 cannot be compounded by the widow. 37 A. 419, (1892) 2 Weir 418, 37 M. 385, 31 A. 606, 18 Cr. L. J. 729.
3. Where hurt was caused to three persons, one of whom died, the remaining two cannot lawfully compound the offence as regards the deceased. 31 A. 606.
4. Only person who can compound a case under S 498, I. P. C. is the husband of the woman. 1922 L. 177=69 I. C. 370, 1924 L. 330=24 Cr. L. J. 780.
5. Where there are several complaints, one complainant can compound the offence committed against himself but not the offence committed against others. 27 C. W. N. 168, 1923 C. 168=73 I. C. 322.
6. The offence of defamation can be compounded by the person defamed and not by a person aggrieved by the defamation. 25 B. 151.
7. Where a charge of defamation for imputing unchastity to a woman is instituted on the complaint of the husband, the husband cannot compound the offence. 14 M. 371.
8. Although a complaint under S 498, I. P. C. is made by a person having the care of woman during her husband's absence under S. 199, still such person cannot compound the offence and the composition is illegal. 4 L. L. J. 488, 5 L. L. J. 183, 24 Cr. L. J. 120.
9. A charge of criminal trespass can be compounded by the person who is in actual possession of the property trespassed upon. 22 C. 123, 1924 M. 40.
10. A minor cannot compound an offence. 17 P. R. 1891; but under sub-section (4), it can be compounded with the permission of court by his guardian. 1929 N. 278.
11. Offence under S. 432 can be compounded by person restrained. 49 A. 484.
12. Where a person sends another man to Court to represent him in filing a complaint, the Court is justified in accepting the latter's statement. 1924 A. 778. See 24 Cr. L. J. 120.

4. Arbitration. See Arbitration—1.

5. Award of compensation on—

1. Withdrawal of a case is no bar to award of compensation under S. 250. 24 P. R. 1883 Cr., 30 P. R. 1910 Cr.
2. Compensation is not awardable, where accused is acquitted on offence being compounded. 19 P. R. 1888 Cr.

6. Composition with some accused.

1. Compounding of an offence with two of the accused does not in law have the effect of acquittal of the remaining accused and does not stand in the way of their conviction. 1 L. 169=121 P. L. R. 1920=56 I. C. 229, 7 L. 344=1926 L. 424=94 I. C.

144, 43 A. 483, 1921 A. 35=61 I. C. 209, 41 M. 323, 45 B. 346=59 I. C. 199, 1921 B. 165, 84 I. C. 62=1921 S. 101. Cont. 1923 P. 348=67 I. C. 592, 39 M. 604, 7 C. W. N. 176. The contrary view is no longer a good law.

2. Where in a joint complaint relating to distinct and independent transactions, there is composition with respect to one transaction, it does not amount to acquittal with reference to the offence committed in the other transaction. 1930 A. 92=1930 A. L. J. 85=30 Cr. L. J. 1149.
 3. It is open to the complainant to compound the case with some and to proceed with the case against the rest. 22 Bom. L. R. 1221, 41 M. 323, 84 I. C. 62, 1933 C. 552, 1926 C. 795 Dist.
- 7. Compounding in appeal or Revision. S. 345 (5-A), Cr. P. C.
1. The composition of offence is permissible only up to the time of judgment and not after. An appellate Court is not bound to recognize a composition entered into by parties. 53 I. C. 823=20 Cr. L. J. 823.
 2. The High Court may allow an offence under S. 498, I. P. C., to be compounded in revision. 24 Cr. L. J. 590, 73 I. C. 334=1924 O. 260, 46 A. 91, 39 M. 604, 67 P. L. R. 1904. Cont. 42 A. 474, 35 P. R. 1918 Cr.
 3. Where the offence is compoundable with the permission of the Court and the Magistrate refuses to allow composition and does not rightly exercise discretion, the High Court can allow it in Revision. 1929 P. 512=31 Cr. L. J. 607.
 4. Composition is allowed in appeal with the permission of appellate Court. 37 A. 127, 52 C. 347, 55 C. 1190, 1920 M. 245. See 1934 S. 122.
 5. When an accused was acquitted under S. 147 and convicted under S. 325, the compromise can be effected in the appellate Court. 1929 C. 96.
 6. The Chief Court sitting as Court of Revision has no power of allowing composition of an offence. 35 P. R. 1918 Cr., 29 M. L. J. 521. Cont. 32 A. 153, 43 C. 1143.
 7. High Court will allow composition in revision if parties are near relations, even when lower Court refused permission. 1934 L. 317 (1)=35 Cr. L. J. 579.
 8. Compromise after hearing appeal is too late and does not come under S. 345. Accused was released under S. 562, Cr. P. C. 1933 A. 434=34 Cr. L. J. 925.
 9. Where accused was convicted of non-compoundable offence but the appellate Court considers that he should be convicted of compoundable offence, he should be given opportunity to compound the offence if he can. before being convicted of the same. 3 Oudh Cases 314. If this opportunity was not allowed High Court allowed it in revision. 11 Cr. L. J. 496.
 10. S. 435 (5-A) empowers High Court to allow compounding offence in revision. 46 A. 491, 1930 L. 272, 1929 P. 512, 1929 N. 278, 55 C. 1190, 1934 S. 122.
 11. Where all the circumstances were not considered, High Court set aside the compromise in revision. 15 Cr. L. J. 553.
 12. Where an order of acquittal has been passed on invalid composition, it may be set aside in revision. 24 Cr. L. J. 120=71 I. C. 248.
- 8. Compounding before trial.
1. Compounding of offence under S. 498 before Police is competent. 22 P. L. R. 1910.
 2. An offence of wrongful restraint is compoundable by the person restrained and it is not necessary that a composition should be arrived at after a complaint is filed in Court. 49 A. 484=1927 A. 375=28 Cr. L. J. 495, 41 M. 685.
 3. Where one party to a compromise resiles from it, the Court should take evidence concerning the factum of compromise. 39 M. 946, 41 M. 685, 1931 L. 402, 14 Cr. L. J. 292. If no inquiry is held, order is bad in law. 1932 S. 7=33 Cr. L. J. 109.
 4. Composition of compoundable offence out of Court operates as a bar to prosecution. 41 C. 14, 39 M. 946, 22 P. L. R. 1910, 14 Cr. L. J. 292, 41 M. 685, 49 A. 484.
 5. Offences which can only be compounded with the permission of Court, cannot be compounded before the criminal proceedings are instituted in Court. 16 I. C. 655 and the jurisdiction of court to try the case is unaffected. 1928 L. 232=9 L. 400,

9. Compounding—what is. See—17.

Giving accused a document saying "I withdraw case against the accused" is compounding the case. 45 A. 145=1923 A. 474=24 Cr. L. J. 758.

10. Difference between withdrawal and compromise. See Withdrawal—4.

11. Duty of Court—permission.

1. When deed of composition is filed by the parties, the Magistrate should at once acquit the accused and not adjourn the case. 52 A. 254=1930 A. 409, 29 P. R. 1914, 45 A. 145, 1931 L. 402 (1)=133 I. C. 448, 1921 P. 290.
2. Determination whether or not offence is compoundable depends on offence directly charged in complaint and not that which might have spelled out of the complaint. 125 I. C. 385=1930 O. 196, 20 C. W. N. 946, 89 I. C. 900.
3. Before composition is allowed, the Court must be satisfied that it is legal and valid in law. 122 I. C. 118=1929 B. 375=31 Cr. L. J. 353.
4. If the accused denies that the case has been compounded the Magistrate must inquire into it. 1932 S. 7=135 I. C. 271=33 Cr. L. J. 109.
5. When parties amicably arrive at a composition at an early stage and the offence is not so serious Court should not refuse permission. 65 I. C. 437=1922 L. 138.
6. The Magistrate has to exercise his own discretion whether a compromise is to be allowed or not. He cannot refer the case to the District Magistrate. 1930 L. 272, 1932 M. W. N. 1088, 1935 L. 226, 1926 C. 590, 1922 L. 138.
7. In case governed by S. 345 (2), the permission of Court is essential for compromise. Without such permission the compromise is of no legal effect. 9 L. 400=1928 L. 232=29 Cr. L. J. 583, 93 P. L. R. 1909, 41 M. 685, 39 M. 946 Dist.
8. When the Magistrate declined to grant permission, High Court granted it, as it was sought at an early stage. 89 I. C. 385=1925 P. 583=26 Cr. L. J. 1345.
9. If an accused person pleads composition out of Court, the Court must enquire into it and if proved, it has the jurisdiction of the Magistrate. 41 C. 14, 41 M. 685.
10. If a party resiles from a composition, Court must enquire into the matter. 41 M. 685.
11. A Magistrate is not bound to entertain application at a late stage, when some of the offences are not compoundable. 1929 B. 375, 122 I. C. 118, 16 B. L. R. 939, 17 C. W. N. 948, 1923 A. 474, 1922 L. 138 Dist.
12. A Magistrate before whom case is pending cannot make reference to another Court for instructions whether to accept the compromise or not. 1935 L. 226=33 Cr. L. J. 1372=151 I. C. 532.
13. When parties are near relatives, permission to compound an offence under S. 321 should be allowed. 1934 L. 317 (1), 1922 C. 191, 1929 N. 278.
14. In allowing compromise, a Magistrate may impose a condition as to payment of some compensation to the injured person. 1922 L. 138=23 Cr. L. J. 85.
15. Mere fact that a compromise is filed in Court is no ground for the reduction of sentence. 12 Cr. L. J. 243.

12. Effect of—

1. Where parties put in an agreement signed by both parties, the Magistrate has no power to call for further evidence. 16 Bom. L. R. 939=16 Cr. L. J. 88.
2. Composition out of Court has the effect of barring prosecution. 41 C. 14.
3. A Magistrate cannot refuse a composition in a compoundable case. 30 P. L. 1610 Cr. But the Magistrate must make up his mind that only a compoundable offence has been proved. (1894) Rat. 69, 16 C. P. L. R. 178.
4. In a compoundable case, the Court becomes functus officio after composition. 112 I. C. 562=29 Cr. L. J. 1058, 1921 P. 261=22 Cr. L. J. 675.
5. When case is compoundable with the permission of the Court, the composition does not mean hushup of the matter. 1929 P. 512=124 I. C. 95.

6. Once a composition has been effected, complainant cannot be permitted to withdraw from it. 52 A. 254=1930 A. 409, 1925 L. 159=25 Cr. L. J. 810, 1921 C. 403.
7. After the petition of compromise was filed, the Court ordered the parties to appear on the next date as the injury had not yet healed up. Held, that after the order of compromise was passed, the Court became the functus officio. 63 I. C. 611=1921 P. 290=22 Cr. L. J. 675.
8. The composition effected is a complete bar to a civil suit for damages. 6 S. L. R. 284.
9. A composition has the effect of acquittal and not a discharge. It is a complete bar to prosecution of the accused for the same offence. 22 P. L. R. 1910, 41 M. 323, 1924 A. 778, 21 C. 103, 14 Cr. L. J. 292, 1934 L. 317.
10. The compounding of an original charge is not a conclusive answer to a charge made against the complainant under S. 211, I. P. C. 11 C. 79, 19 P. R. 1888.
11. Once an accused is charged for compoundable offence and a compromise petition is presented, Court has no power to alter the charge. 29 P. R. 1914 Cr.
13. In a case under S. 498, I. P. C. See Enticing away married woman—7.
14. Of non-compoundable offences. Ss. 213-214, I. P. C. See Gift to screen offences from legal punishment—1.
 1. The offence of rioting cannot be compounded. 11 P. R. 1907 Cr.=6 Cr. L. J. 336.
 2. It is against public policy to compound or withdraw a non-compoundable offence. 53 C. 51, 40 C. 113, 1929 A. 456, 22 C. W. N. 172 (n) 1914 O. 278, 23 B. 326.
 3. Withdrawal from prosecution in a non-compoundable case has not the effect of acquittal. 1 B. 64.
 4. Agreement entered into between complainant and accused for the refund of money embezzled was not allowed to be pleaded as bar to prosecution. (1886) 1 Weir 462, (1883) 1 Weir 465.
 5. To determine whether an offence is compoundable or not, the offence charged in the complaint and also by the Court must be considered. 1930 O. 196, 1929 A. 456.
 6. Facts existing at the date of application should be considered. 1925 N. 395=26 Cr. L. J. 1428.
 7. When once the process is issued in a non-compoundable case, Court must require the complainant to carry his prosecution to the end. 3 A. 283, 1927 R. 174.
15. Parties—relatives.

Where parties are near relatives (first cousin's) it is expedient in the interest of justice to allow composition of an offence under S. 324. If the lower Court refused permission, High Court can allow it in revision. 1934 L. 317 (1)=35 Cr. L. J. 579.
16. Stage of—
 1. A compoundable offence can be compounded at any time before passing of the sentence. 112 I. C. 562=29 Cr. L. J. 1058, 45 C. 816.
 2. The fact that the prosecution evidence is closed and charge is framed is no bar to the composition of an offence. 29 Cr. L. J. 1058=112 I. C. 562.
 3. An offence of wrongful restraint is compoundable by the person restrained and it is not necessary that a composition should be arrived at after a complaint has been filed in Court. 49 A. 484=1927 A. 375=101 I. C. 671.
 4. Compromise can be effected in appeal. 55 C. 1190=1929 C. 96.
 5. Compromise can be permitted in Revision by High Court. 46 A. 91, 39 M. 604.
17. What amounts to.—See Arbitration.
 1. A composition is an arrangement or settlement of differences between the injured party and the accused. 45 B. 346=1921 B. 166.
 2. Mere permission to withdraw the case is not compounding. 4 Bom. L. R. 718, 51 B. 512.
 3. An incomplete arrangement or mere arrangement to settle their dispute in future

Compounding of offences—(concd.)

as the result of some action by one of them is not compounding. 41 M. 685, 1925 M. 1211.

4. If parties refer their dispute to arbitration and award is given it amounts to composition. 1925 M. 1211=26 Cr. L. J. 1594, 1926 C. 266=26 Cr. L. J. 1584.
5. If both parties once resile from their arrangement, accused cannot plead composition afterwards. 22 C. W. N. 172 (n).
6. Agreement to be bound by the evidence on oath of a certain witness is not enforceable in criminal law. 13 B. 389.
7. Monetary consideration is not necessary. It may be even apology. 5 L. 239, 21 C. 103, 39 M. 946. It may be without consideration. 9 P. R. 1896 Cr., 10 Cr. L. J. 228, 45 A. 145=1923 A. 474.
8. Compromise must be with the free will of parties. 21 C. 103.

18. Withdrawal of compromise petition—

1. When the parties have filed a petition of compromise they cannot afterwards be allowed to withdraw it. 39 M. 946, 41 M. 685, 3 C. W. N. 322, 52 A. 254.
2. A composition arrived at is complete as soon as it is made, and the accused is entitled to acquittal even though one of the parties later on resiles from it. 33 C. L. J. 226, 1921 C. 403, 14 Cr. L. J. 458=20 I. C. 618.
3. If parties compromised before the Local Commissioner making inquiry under S. 202 but resiled before the Magistrate, accused cannot afterwards plead compromise. 22 C. W. N. 172 (n).

19. Who can compound. See—3.

COMPROMISE. See Compounding of offences.

COMPULSION—S. 94, I. P. C. See Threat.

1. Accused helped to remove the dead body from his master's house who threatened to kill him if help was refused, the accused is guilty under S. 201 but is protected by S. 94, I. P. C. 47 A. 306=86 I. C. 152=1925 A. 315=26 Cr. L. J. 876.
2. Compulsion by threats of instant death is good defence except for murder and offences against the state. Murder in the above does not include abetment thereof. 52 C. 112=1924 C. 1031=26 Cr. L. J. 11, 1912 M. W. N. 1108.
3. Accused admitted having perjured themselves to incriminate a person of murder, because they had been so tutored by the Police, the defence was rejected as they were under no compulsion to make the statements which would have had the effect of sending an innocent man to gallows. 10 W. R. 48.
4. Accused pleaded that they gave bribe to the classers of revenue survey who threatened to raise the assessment, cut down hedges and to erect new boundary marks. Held, they were guilty as being accomplices. 14 B. 115 (131).
5. A Police man is no more justified in torturing a man to death simply because he had been ordered to do so by his superior, than a robber can justify his act on the plea that he had to obey his fellow confederates. 20 B. 215, 20 B. 394.
6. A person who by threats of death is induced to do an act in order to facilitate the commission of murder cannot be protected by S. 94 which does not apply to cases of murder. He is an accomplice. 19 I. C. 207=14 Cr. L. J. 207.
7. Compulsion is no defence in British India to a charge under S. 121, I. P. C. 9 R. 404=1931 R. 235=1931 Cr. C. 875.
8. If accused voluntarily subjected himself to threats he cannot avail of S. 94. 1933 R. 204.

CONCEALING AN ABDUCTED PERSON. S. 368, I. P. C.

1. Essentials and Evidence.

1. A person who kidnaps and then wrongfully confines or conceals the person kidnapped secretly is not liable under S. 368, though he may be guilty under S. 365. 1926 O. 560=227 Cr. L. J. 1200, (1886), 6 W. R. 17. Cr.
2. Where a coolie girl, who was helping her mother by working was asked by a woman to accompany her after promising to give her work and she accompanied her to her house and was detained the whole day. Accused took her away at night to a solitary bungalow and cohabited with her for two days after which she was permitted to return to her house. Held, that the accused was guilty under S. 368 and the procuress under S. 363. 6 Bom. L. R. 785.

3. Where A on some pretext took away a girl of 11 years and sold her to C, who took her to his relation B. B. kept her for a month. C died during the trial. Held, that A was guilty under S. 363 and B under S. 368. 7 W. R. 56.
4. To constitute offence under S. 368, it must be proved that the accused concealed or kept the girl in wrongful confinement. 1926 L. 384=93 I. C. 1050.
5. Wrongful confinement implies a withdrawal of that person from the actual observations of others by removal or otherwise. It does not include merely giving false information about such person. 10 P. R. 1874 Cr.
6. If the girl is not kept out of the sight of the people, there is nothing to suppose that the accused is wrongfully concealing her. 5 N. W. P. H. C. R. 189 and 133, 15 C. P. L. R. 185.
7. For wrongful confinement consent of minor girl is immaterial. 7 P. R. 1894 Cr.
8. Intention or knowledge that the abducted minor girl was to be forced to illicit intercourse is the gist of the offence. 28 Cr. L. J. 584=1927 L. 727.
9. Conveying a kidnapped person from place to place falls under S. 368. 13 P. R. 1893 Cr.
10. On each occasion a woman is persuaded to indulge in illicit intercourse she is "seduced," consequently, although a woman has lost her chastity and become a prostitute she can be seduced again for the purpose of S. 368. 1927 Sind 104=99 I. C. 98=28 Cr. L. J. 66.
11. Kidnapped child was left in the house of accused. He sent information to the guardian. Held, he was not guilty. 1933 L. 392.
12. It is a debatable point whether the offences under Ss. 366 and 368 form part of the same transaction. 1932 L. 517.

2. Knowledge.

1. If there is ignorance of abduction on the part of a person concealing a minor girl, no offence under S. 368 is made out. 19 P. R. 1867 Cr.
2. The proper charge to jury would be to place the direct evidence of knowledge first and then place the suspicious circumstances from which an inference of knowledge can be drawn. 1926 C. 226=87 I. C. 845=26 Cr. L. J. 1021.
3. Knowledge means the facts which the accused himself observed or which were communicated to him by persons whose veracity he has no reason to doubt. 8 O. W. N. 1325=1932 O. 28=33 Cr. L. J. 275.

3. Jurisdiction and Procedure.

1. Wrongful confinement is the essence of this offence. A person convicted under S. 368 or its abetment cannot again be convicted on the same facts under S. 343. 1864 W. R. 21.
2. A person acquitted under S. 368, may still be liable for cheating or abetment of bigamy. 7 P. R. 1894, 13 P. R. 1904 Cr.
3. An offence under S. 368 is not triable exclusively by Sessions Judge. 1935 A. 63=152 I. C. 550=36 Cr. L. J. 117.
4. If a person is abducted at B and concealed at S, offence under S. 368 can be tried at both places. 1933 O. 45=34 Cr. L. J. 620.

CONCEALING AN OFFENDER. S. 212, I. P. C. See Harboursing offender—4.

CONCEALING DESIGNS TO COMMIT AN OFFENCE. Ss. 118-119-120, I. P. C.

1. While a person intends to facilitate or knowing that he will be likely to facilitate the commission of an offence by another, he is guilty. 1 Bom. L. R. 351.
2. The concealment must be the result of some conduct directed to that end and Concealing designs to commit an offence—(concl'd.).

different from mere passive non-disclosure. The mere denial of existence of design is not concealment. 28 A. 302, 34 P. R. 1882, 14 W. R. (Cr.) 2.

3. The illegal concealment by act or omission, under S. 120, I. P. C., has reference to the existence of design on the part of third persons to fabricate evidence. 1 Ind. Jur. O. S. 105.

CONCEALING OR DISHONEST REMOVAL OF PROPERTY. Ss. 421—424, I.P.C.

I. By judgment-debtor.

1. A judgment-debtor removing standing crops attached in execution of a decree is guilty under S. 424 and not of theft. 22 M. 151, 1 Bom. L. R. 515, 8 M. L. J. 259.
2. Concealment of property by debtors or taking away of property by others to avoid its attachment if done with a dishonest intention is an offence under S. 424. 1930 M. 670=1930 M. W. N. 347=31 Cr. L. J. 1096.
3. Since a village court cannot attach crops which are not moveable within the meaning of S. 52 by virtue of Madras General Clauses Act and S. 22, I. P. C., there is no fraud in removing such crops and S. 424 does not apply. 1930 M. 509=58 M. L. J. 509=127 I. C. 296=31 Cr. L. J. 1196.
4. Accused's crops were attached in execution of a decree against his uncle and he filed a case that the attachment was illegal. Held, the crops could not be considered to have been removed with the intention of causing wrongful loss to decree holder. 1929 P. 520, 1921 L. 185.
5. If attachment is illegal, conviction for dishonest removal of property attached is bad. 1928 R. 285, 25 M. 729, 1933 A. 46=55 A. 119.
6. If the provisions of O. 21, R. 44, are not complied with, the attachment is illegal and therefore removal of crops by judgment-debtor is no offence under S. 424. 1934 A. 711=35 Cr. L. J. 1307, 1931 A. 142. Cont. 1936 A. 364=37 Cr. L. J. 695.
7. If the attachment is illegal the property does not pass from judgment-debtor to court. 1931 A. 142, 1934 A. 711=35 Cr. L. J. 1307.
8. Judgment-debtor is entitled to remove crops not validly attached. Mere removal does not prove dishonesty. 1936 Sind 20=37 Cr. L. J. 485, 22 M. 151, 1930 M. 670, 1 Bom. L. R. 515 and 1933 Sind 90 Diss.

2. By Partner.

A partner removed partnership goods at night and when questioned denied it, he was guilty under S. 424. (1873) 21 W. R. 10 Cr.

3. By tenant.

1. If a tenant removing the crops of a field which he holds under the batai system acts dishonestly, he is liable under S. 424. 35 I. C. 401=1 P. L. J. 353, 40 I. C. 335=18 Cr. L. J. 687, 38 M. 793, 2 L. L. J. 99=22 Cr. L. J. 142.
2. If ryots holding land on Varam tenure remove crops for the purpose of protecting them from injury or damage owing to delay or refusal on the part of zamindar to perform his part of division. It is not a dishonest removal. 26 M. 481.
3. But in case of dishonest removal the ryot will be punished. 38 M. 793, 26 M. 481.
4. If a distraint is made under the Rent Recovery Act, for the arrears of rent and the property is dishonestly removed, before convicting accused, it must be found that the distraint is legal. 25 M. 729.
5. If a partner in cultivation (Bataidar) dishonestly removes a joint crop, with intent to appropriate it, in derogation of the right of his partner, he is guilty under S. 424. 38 M. 793, 35 I. C. 491, 59 I. C. 654.

4. Civil Nature.

1. Removal during bona fide dispute of property is no offence. 3 L. L. J. 99=6 P. W. R. 1921 Cr.
2. S. 424, Penal Code, is sometimes abused and the civil rights are disposed of in the Criminal Courts. This should be checked as much as possible. 1 Weir 483.
3. S. 424 must be strictly construed, otherwise it is likely to trench upon a number of cases which are of civil nature. 25 I. C. 514, 1914 M. W. N. 791.

Concealing or Dishonest Removal of Property—(concl'd.)

5. Essentials and Evidence.

1. Unless dishonesty is proved, the conviction under S. 424 cannot be sustained. 1921 L. 185=59 I. C. 654, 1921 P. 506.
2. If a person claiming title to a property attached in execution of a decree against another, removes the same, the matter whether such property belonged to the accused or not has to be determined by Magistrate before deciding upon conviction. 1930 A. 329=124 I. C. 716, 22 M. 151 Dist.
3. Removal of crops to avoid illegal distraint is no offence. 25 M. 729.
4. S. 424 is intended to punish fraudulent debtors and accomplices and not persons who claim as heirs and deal with the property. 1924 M. W. N. 791.
5. S. 424 is restricted to fraudulent concealment or removal of property and not to wanton destruction, which is punishable under S. 425. See S. 425 ill. (d).
6. S. 424 includes cases of fraudulent concealment of property whether fraud be practised on creditors or partners. 21 W. R. 10.
7. Landlord was entitled to nine annas of the value of all trees cut by tenant after sale. To avoid this payment accused cut some tree. Held guilty under S. 424. 57 I. C. 278, 21 Cr. L. J. 609.
8. If bona fide claim of right is raised accused should be acquitted. 1 P. L. T. 318.
9. There must be evidence of the persons intended to be defrauded by the concealment. 16 P. R. 1868.
10. Attachment not in accordance with O. 21. R. 44, does not transfer possession to court. But attachment effected by court is presumed to be proper unless contrary is proved. 1936 A. 364=37 Cr. L. J. 695.
11. Person removing or concealing his crop to defraud creditors is guilty of offence even if property has not passed into possession of court. 1936 A. 364=37 Cr. L. J. 695, 1934 A. 711=35 Cr. L. J. 1307.

6. Jurisdiction.

1. The Presidency Towns Insolvency Act does not take away a Magistrate's jurisdiction to try the insolvent under Ss. 421, 424. 6 R. 664=1929 R. 14, 35 B. 63.
2. The fact that the act can be equally dealt with under a local Act, does not limit the operation of S. 424. 57 I. C. 278.

7. Procedure.

If on complaint under S. 424, the complainant and the opposite party are joint proprietors of a property about which a civil suit is pending, the Magistrate may discharge the accused, allowing them to deposit the proportionate value of the complainant's share of property and allow them to retain custody of property or make it over to the complainant on his depositing the value of accused's share. 1929 P. 513.

CONCEALMENT OF BIRTH. S. 318, I. P. C.

Definition.

Whoever by secretly burying or otherwise disposing of the dead body of a child, whether such child die before or after or during its birth intentionally conceals or endeavours to conceal the birth of such child shall be punished. S. 318, I. P. C.

Essentials and Evidence.

1. Where the birth took place in a hospital and was attended by nurses and others and it was known to third accused and there was no evidence that the twins died. Held, there was no concealment of birth under S. 318. 1935 C. 459=39 C. W. N. 664.
2. A woman is not bound to announce that she is going to have a child and if the child lives she is quite at liberty to keep its existence secret. Mayne's Criminal Law of India, Ed. 4, P. 515.
3. Concealment of birth sought to be checked is that which would keep the world at large in ignorance of the birth of a child. 2 Cox C. C. 409 cited in 1935 C. 459.
4. A false announcement of birth to some person does not render subsequent secret disposal innocent. 1 Mood C. C. 480. Cited in 1935 C. 489.

5. Leaving a baby in a field to die of exposure, where the dead body was subsequently found, is not secretly disposing of the dead body of a child. 10 Cox 448, cited in 1935 C. 489.
6. The offence under this section cannot be committed, unless the child has arrived at the stage of maturity, at the time of the birth, and that it might have been a living child. 4 M. H. C. App. 33, 2 C. P. L. R. 153, 3 Cr. L. J. 432, 1 Bom. L. R. 155, 1 Weir 333-334.

CONCEALMENT OF FACT. See Cheating.—12.CONCOCTED EVIDENCE. See Evidence.—3.*CONCUSSION. See Wound.—2.*CONDUCT. S. 8, Evidence Act.*1. After the commission of offence.

1. If the accused goes to the spot after the occurrence and accompanies the dead body to the Morgue, his conduct is that of an innocent man, unless it is shown that he had no alternative but to accompany it. 1935 C. 591 (594)=36 Cr. L. J. 1254.
2. The conduct of accused person immediately after the commission of the crime is a relevant fact. He can lead evidence that at the very time he was accused he gave an explanation of his innocence. 1935 Sind 145 (165)=1935 Cr. C. 753.
3. The statement of an accused, although it may amount to an admission in his favour, is relevant otherwise than an admission under S. 21, clause (iii) as negating any inference that may be drawn against him as to his guilt in consequence of his alleged silence. 1935 Sind 145 (165).
4. The conduct under S. 8 is conduct which is directly and immediately influenced by a fact in issue or relevant fact and it does not include actions resulting from some intermediate cause, such as questions or suggestions by others. 7 A. 385.
5. The conduct of a person having no part in crime and not called as a witness is not relevant fact under S. 8. 1935 N. 81.
6. When joint acts of several persons are sought to be proved, in order to draw an inference from such conduct, evidence should be led with some degree of particularity with regard to each one of the persons concerned in the act. 1935 C. 184=1935 Cr. C. 241, 1932 B. 297=59 C. 1040=33 Cr. L. J. 546 and 6 A. 509. Rel. on.

1-A. Confession by. See Confession.—7.2. Deception by—See Cheating.—19.*3. During trial.

1. Where an accused is clearly guilty and instead of throwing himself at the mercy of the Court throws mud on respectable witnesses, his conduct should be considered by the Magistrate in awarding sentence. 1929 Sind 253=1929 Cr. C. 692.
2. A thief imputing unchastity to complainant's wife aggravates his offence. 13 P. L. R. 1913.
3. Presumption of innocence of accused is not affected by the conduct of the accused in the trial, as to how he pleads or fails to plead in the proceedings. The subsequent conduct or statement of accused may affect his credibility. 46 A. 64=1924 A. 229=25 Cr. L. J. 327.

4. Evidence of.—

1. It is difficult to believe that a grown up girl would have submitted to being carried about and raped without protesting especially when it appears that she was now and then left by herself. 1931 L. 401=32 P. L. R. 98=133 L. C. 560.
2. A statement made by the accused to the Police immediately after they were seized explaining the circumstances which brought them to the scene of crime, when at variance with that made by them in Court, is admissible as showing that conduct of accused was not that of innocent persons. 1932 Sind 16=25 S. L. R. 391, 20 S. L. R. 74=1926 Sind 151=27 Cr. L. J. 456 Foll.

16. Production of instrument of crime. See Discovery.
17. Production of stolen property. See Discovery.
18. Proof of innocence—Anything which tends to explain the accused's conduct and furnishes a notice other than guilty conscience is relevant under S. 9, Evidence Act. 62 I. C. 545=22 Cr. L. J. 52.
19. Terms and manner of making complaint to others. (Crying, etc). 1925 N. 74=83 I. C. 142=23 Cr. L. J. 1214.
20. The conduct of accused person immediately after the commission of crime is relevant fact. He can lead evidence that at the very time he was accused he gave an explanation of his innocence. 1935 Sind 145 (165)=1935 Cr. C. 753.

6. Of Complainant—.

1. A person is seen running down a street in a wounded condition, naming his assailants and the circumstances under which injuries were inflicted. Held, whatever he says and does may be proved as whole. 7 A. 383.
2. Statement of ravished girl immediately after the rape, to witnesses who saw her crying and who asked her the reason thereof is admissible under S. 8, to corroborate the girl under S. 157, Ev. Act. 25 Cr. L. J. 1214=1925 N. 74, 1926 P. 58=26 Cr. L. J. 1475, 4 L. L. J. 491=1921 L. 258.
3. If the aggrieved person does not make a complaint but only makes a statement it is not admissible under S. 8, as it does not explain or accompany any conduct. S. 8, ill (j) and (k).
4. A person who was robbed made a statement to Chaukidar or Panch. Held, it was admissible under S. 8 as part of the res gestae. 6 P. 747=1923 P. 162=29 Cr. L. J. 106.
5. The complaint should be made soon after. A complaint made 8 days after the occurrence was held admissible while one made three weeks after was rejected. Phipson 7th Ed. 111, R. V. Hedges 3 Cr. App. R. 252.
6. If a ravished girl only answers questions it is not a complaint. 1926 P. 58=89 I. C. 1043, 1930 L. 84=120 I. C. 539. See 17 N. L. R. 189.

7. Making a complaint under S. 8 should be treated as evidence of the facts stated, and are merely evidence of non-consent and of the consistency of the conduct of the complainant with the story told in the witness box. 1931 M. 233=131 I. C. 456; 1925 N. 74=25 Cr. L. J. 1214, 43 I. C. 443.
8. Where the complaint is covered by S. 8, the complaint may be proved even though the complainant has in the meantime died or cannot be found. 1928 P. 162=6 P. 747=29 Cr. L. J. 106.

7. Of Prosecutrix in rape case— See Rape

8. Person whose conduct is relevant.

1. A person against whom an offence is committed, is not a party in a case cognizance of which is taken on Police report, but the conduct of such person is relevant under S. 8 as he is a "person an offence against whom is the subject of any proceedings." 7 A. 385.
2. A letter written by a relation of the accused, referring to an attempt to raise money to buy off the prosecution, is inadmissible against the accused, and cannot be used as admission against him, unless it is shown that it was written with his knowledge and authority. 1925 A. 405 (408-409)=26 Cr. L. J. 881=86 I. C. 817.
3. S. 8 does not apply to the conduct of a witness. What a witness states at the time of the occurrence in respect of an occurrence itself is res gestae under S. 6. But a statement with regard to an event which took place a year ago would not be part of res gestae. 1926 C. 139 (145)=53 C. 372.
4. The conduct of a person who is neither party nor witness is entirely irrelevant. 17 N. L. J. 274.
5. The conduct of complainant is relevant. 1925 N. 74=25 Cr. L. J. 1214, 30 I. C. 292.
6. The fact that complainant at first said that certain persons were the real culprits, is relevant. 25 P. W. R. 1910 Cr.

9. Previous.

1. Prosecution cannot lead evidence that the accused has been guilty of criminal acts other than those covered by indictment, tending to show thereby that the accused is a person likely from his criminal conduct or character to have committed the crime. 97 I. C. 1041=1927 Sind 28=27 Cr. L. J. 1217.
2. Evidence of previous or subsequent defalcations whether they are subject matter of the charge or not is admissible to prove guilty intent and also to anticipate the defence of the non-existence of such intent. 1927 S. 23=27 Cr. L. J. 1217.
3. In a trial for murder, evidence was given that on a previous occasion accused conspired together, murdered a person and implicated their enemies. Held, the evidence is not admissible under S. 8, S. 9, S. 14, or S. 54, Evidence Act. But it can be admitted to explain the conduct of falsely implicated persons in absconding. 22 Bom. L. R. 1274.
4. The fact that the complainant at first said that a certain person was the real culprit is relevant. 25 P. W. R. 1910 Cr.=11 Cr. L. J. 425.
5. A Judge cannot take judicial notice of the previous conduct of the accused and import his personal knowledge about it in the case. 1931 S. 127, 38 C. 153, 36 M. 168.
6. Preparations and previous attempts to commit the offence are admissible as previous conduct. S. 8, ill. (c) and ill. (d), Evidence Act.

10. Production of stolen property.

11. Recovery of document from accused's possession.

1. A document becomes evidence when it is written by or is in the possession of the person against whom it is sought to be proved, or when it becomes admissible under S. 10 as the act or writing of a co-conspirator. 16 I. C. 257.
2. The fact of possession of a document is relevant under S. 8, Evidence Act. In such a case the document is original and not secondary evidence, as it is relied on as a piece of evidence found in accused's possession. 1923 B. 77=23 Cr. L. J. 322.

12. Signs and Gesticulation as—

1. Signs made by a person, unable to speak, in reply to questions asked are mere statements and not relevant as conduct. 7 A. 385.
2. Gesticulations of a deaf and dumb person are not admissible as conduct. 5 O. C. 246.

13. Silence as— S. 8, ill. (g), Evidence Act.

1. The statement of an accused, although it may amount to an admission in his favour, is relevant otherwise than an admission under S. 21, Cl. (iii) as negating any inference that may be drawn against him as to his guilt in consequence of his alleged silence. 1935 Sind 145 (165).
2. Silence does not amount to admission unless the occasion is such that a contradiction or explanation may reasonably be expected. 28 B. 479, 2 Q. B. 534.
3. If the injured person named the prisoner as his assailant to a third person in the presence of the prisoner, and the prisoner did not deny that he had done the act complained, the statement was admissible under S. 8. 10 C. 302. See 12 I. C. 87.

14. Statements affecting—

1. Statements made to a party, or in his presence and hearing, which affect his conduct is relevant. S. 8, Expl. II, Evidence Act.
2. The statement in order to be admissible must affect the conduct of the party, and the conduct which is thus affected must itself be relevant. 30 Cr. L. J. 681.
3. A Police Officer stated to the complainant in the presence of accused that accused was going to show various places connected with the theft and thereupon he did show the places, it was held that conduct of the accused was not affected by the statement of the Police Officer and was inadmissible as confession as no discovery was made. 52 I. C. 601=20 Cr. L. J. 681. See 152 J. C. 473.

15. Statements explaining or accompanying relevant—

1. Supposing a person is seen running down a street in a wounded condition and calling out the name of his assailant, and the circumstances under which injuries were received. Here what he says and does can be proved as a whole. 7 A. 383.
2. Statements made by an accused at the time of pointing out places connected with the crime, are admissible and only those parts which are essential complement of acts done or refused to be done. 3 B. 12, 1933 N. 136=34 Cr. L. J. 505.
3. The statement and the act must be so blended together as to form a part of a thing observed by the witnesses. 1933 N. 136=34 Cr. L. J. 505=143 I. C. 17.
4. If a statement does not explain or accompany any relevant conduct, it is inadmissible. 54 M. 931, 45 I. C. 904.
5. If a girl immediately after rape is seen by witnesses crying, and on being asked says that she has been ravished, the statement is admissible as explaining the act of crying. 1925 N. 74=25 Cr. L. J. 1214=82 I. C. 142. See 4 L. L. J. 491=1921 L. 258.

16. Statement of accused as— See Statement to Police.

1. Though the statement of accused to the Police may be inadmissible under S. 162, Cr. P. C., evidence of their conduct is admissible under S. 8. 1932 M. 391.
2. A statement made by accused immediately after they were seized explaining the circumstances which brought them on the scene of occurrence can be proved if at variance with that given in court, in order to show that the conduct of accused was not that of an innocent person. 1932 Sind 16=25 S. L. R. 391, 1926 Sind 151=27 Cr. L. J. 456 foll.

17. Subsequent. See Cheating—39.

1. The mere fact that an accused pointed out several places to a Magistrate, where various incidents narrated by approver took place is not admissible as evidence of conduct and is valueless in determining his guilt. 1929 L. 794=31 Cr. L. J. 269.
2. Different persons are differently constituted and some though innocent deliberately abscond rather than face the trial, and some do other equally foolish things such as make a false admission of guilt or pay off the amount alleged to be stolen or embezzled in the vain hope that they may escape a criminal prosecution or get off with a light punishment. Such subsequent conduct cannot dispense with the positive proof of the guilt of accused. 1930 O. 324=31 Cr. L. J. 1081.

3. If the raped girl went to her relatives straight after the occurrence and complained on her own initiative about the rape, her conduct has a direct bearing but if she only answered questions put to her, her statement would be hearsay. 1926 P. 58=89 I. C. 1043=26 Cr. L. J. 1475.
4. S. 8 does not render a statement by a woman raped admissible, when there is nothing to confirm or corroborate it. 1930 M. W. N. 702.
5. The mere fact that the statement is made in answer to a question is not of itself sufficient to make it inadmissible as a complaint. 1921 L. 258.
6. Where a tender girl who was raped, made a statement just after the occurrence crying and weeping, it is admissible under S. 8, as explaining the act of crying and by way of corroboration under S. 157. 1925 N. 74=25 Cr. L. J. 1214.
7. The evidence of absconding is admissible to show the conduct of the accused, which implies that he is concerned in the crime. 22 Cr. L. J. 529.
8. Where the accused after a murder was committed, was in a very agitated state of mind and made a statement which led to his being asked to show the spot where the weapon was concealed. Held this evidence of conduct under S. 8 rendered highly probable the oral evidence in the case. 1925 M. 574=26 Cr. L. J. 840.
9. Where an accused was sent up before a Magistrate under S. 164, Cr. P. C., to have his confession recorded but made a statement. Held, the statement was admissible as evidence of conduct. 6 P. 747=1928 P. 162=29 Cr. L. J. 106.
10. If an accused points out the spot where the stolen property is concealed, it amounts to conduct, proof of which is admissible under S. 8, 35 I. C. 962.
11. An informer's statement to the Police that he purchased opium from accused is not admissible, but finding of marked coins on the accused and opium on the informer are circumstances in the case, from which it may be inferred that the accused sold the opium. 12 Cr. L. J. 479=12 I. C. 87.
12. Statement accompanying conduct and explaining such conduct are relevant. 45 I. C. 904.
13. The fact that the complainant at first said that a certain person was the real culprit is relevant. 25 P. W. R. 1910 Cr.=11 Cr. L. J. 425.
14. [In a trial under S. 147, the subsequent conduct of accused cannot be taken as evidence under S. 8. 54 I. C. 775=21 Cr. L. J. 167.
15. The evidence of conduct of an accused person, unless it is incompatible with his innocence, is, in fact a make weight and care may be taken that it may not have an exaggerated effect. 1923 P. 13=72 I. C. 961=24 Cr. L. J. 497.
16. Subsequent conduct of the accused is admissible to show his state of mind and that he knew he was party to cheating. 1922 A. 244=23 Cr. L. J. 671.
17. The evidence of an accused person's conduct may be used as corroboration of an approver's story. 10 L. 265=1928 L. 681=111 I. C. 435=29 Cr. L. J. 851.
18. Paying back embezzled money is relevant as subsequent conduct 1930 O. 384=31 Cr. L. J. 1081=126 I. C. 684.

CONDUCTING PROSECUTION.—See Prosecution—4.

CONFISCATION.—See Escheat—Disposal of Property—4.

CONFESSION.1. Acceptance in Part.

1. Confession must be read and accepted as a whole, unless there is evidence to contradict any portion thereof, in which case such portion may be rejected. 1926 L. 554, 46 I. C. 705, 53 I. C. 145, 1930 O. 113=31 Cr. L. J. 575, 1934 L. 620, 52 A. 1011, 1933 R. 326, 1934 L. 673, 1933 R. 204, 1930 A. 192, 52 A. 1011.

Confession—(contd.)

2. If a Court believes the confession, it need not accept the circumstances alleged by the accused in extenuation. It can believe that part which tells against him and reject that part which tells in his favour. 1930 M. W. N. 785.
 3. If an accused is to be convicted on his own confession, it must be taken as a whole. It would be unsafe to use the part against him and discredit the part in his favour. 1928 M. 493=109 I. C. 605, 39 C. 855, 21 C. 955, 88 I. C. 555.
 4. A Court of Law cannot pick out different statements made by an accused person and piece them together so as to make a new statement. 75 I. C. 152.
 5. When certain facts are deposed to as discovered in consequence of information received from the accused, so much of the information as relates distinctly to the fact thereby discovered, will become admissible. 49 C. 167.
 6. When the only account as to what happened on the night of murder is given by the accused himself and it is contained in a statement which amounts to an admission, the statement should be accepted in its entirety and if it establishes any mitigating circumstances, the accused must get the benefit of it. 1930 L. 269=121 I. C. 178=31 Cr. L. J. 226=31 P. L. R. 35.
 7. All the parts of a confession are not entitled to equal weight. If sufficient grounds exist the part that charges the prisoner may be believed and while that which is in his favour may be rejected. 98 I. C. 178=1926 O. 618=27 Cr. L. J. 1282, 40 C. 873, 1926 L. 554=28 Cr. L. J. 39, 53 I. C. 145, 1934 O. 222.
 8. Court must accept or reject confession as a whole. It cannot accept inculpatory portions and reject exculpatory portions. 1935 L. 671=156 I. C. 529=36 Cr. L. J. 966, 52 A. 1011 Rel. on.
 9. Where there is no other evidence to show affirmatively that any portion of the exculpatory element in the confession is false, the court must accept or reject the confession as a whole. 1931 A. 1=52 A. 1011=32 Cr. L. J. 362=129 I. C. 258, 1933 L. 232=34 Cr. L. J. 318.
 10. The entire confession of an accused need not be rejected if part of it has been found to be false. 1934 O. 222=35 Cr. L. J. 894, 1926 O. 618 foll., 1933 O. 226 Dist.
- 2. Admissibility of.—See Confession by Co-accused, Confession to Police Officer.*
1. A Judge should decide the question of admissibility of confession first and then exclude it from the record if inadmissible and keep its terms from the assessors. 31 I. C. 767=18 Cr. L. J. 383.
 2. In case of doubt as to the admissibility of confession, the Court should lean in favour of accused. 52 C. 67=1925 C. 537=26 Cr. L. J. 782.
 3. Admissibility of a confession is a matter which is to be decided after a full consideration of the evidence and the particular circumstances of each case. 1928 L. 676=29 Cr. L. J. 385, 1923 P. 13 Appr., 1925 L. 605 and 1925 C. 587 Dist.
 4. Confession made to Police is admissible in civil proceedings. 32 I. C. 18.
 5. Admissibility of confession must be decided before contents of confession are looked at. 1925 A. 606=86 I. C. 1001=26 Cr. L. J. 937.
- 3. Before Coroner.
- A statement made voluntarily by an accused, a suspect in inquest proceedings before coroner is admissible against him on his trial for the offence. 1928 B. 52=110 I. C. 107=29 Cr. L. J. 651, 50 B. 111=1926 B. 151.
- 4. Before the Prosecution Evidence is recorded.
- A confessional statement of the accused before examination of all the witnesses is inadmissible. 1930 L. 454=123 I. C. 540=31 Cr. L. J. 533, 50 C. 223.
- 5. Before villagers.—See—17.*
- 6. By co-accused.—See Confession by co-accused. S. 30, Evidence Act.*
- 7. By Conduct.
1. Mere conduct is not confession. An assertion may be made by nod or gesture. 1928 L. 111=27 Cr. L. J. 523.

Confession—(contd.)

2. A confession made by nod or gesture will be inadmissible if it is covered by S. 24 if made by mouth. 42 I. C. 1002, 14 B. 260, 37 C. 467.
3. Where the accused was not shown to understand English and he was asked in broken English whether he committed rape and he nodded his head and salammated in reply, it was held that conduct did not amount to an oral confession. 1930 L. 84=120 I. C. 539.
4. Making of counterfeit coin before Police Officer is not confession by conduct and is not inadmissible under Ss. 25-26. 1931 A. 9=32 Cr. L. J. 1006.
5. Giving a specimen of one's writing on a blank paper for comparison of hand-writing is neither a confession nor a statement. 56 B. 304=1932 B. 406.
8. By deception or under promise of secrecy. S. 29, Evidence Act.
 1. Where confession was obtained from accused on being told that his brother-in-law had given out that he was guilty. Held, it was admissible. 20 W. R. Cr. 33.
 2. The mere fact that recording Magistrate did not give warning to accused under S. 164, it does not under S. 29 invalidate the confession. 55 M. 711=1932 M. 431, 1932 M. 748, 1933 Sind 166, 1933 O. 414. See 14 L. 290.

9. Collective confession.—See Admission.10. Conflicting with evidence.

1. Admission by a party in a case in which charge is baseless and prosecution is carried only to harass a party, is not voluntary and therefore not binding. 1930 L. 364=120 I. C. 615=31 P. L. R. 765.
2. If the details in the confession are in conflict with evidence for the prosecution and confession was retracted on the first possible occasion. Held, it was not genuine. 1923 L. 429=75 I. C. 762=25 Cr. L. J. 58.

11. Conflicting with medical evidence.

Confession conflicting with medical evidence and probably induced by Police should not be relied upon. 3 P. R. 1867 Cr.

12. Definition of.

confession is an admission made at any time by a person charged with a crime stating or suggesting the inference that he committed the crime. Stephan's Digest, Art. 2, 1930 A. 29=120 I. C. 257=31 Cr. L. J. 26, 16 P. R. 1886 Cr., 20 P. R. 1905 Cr., 6 B. 34, 14 B. 260 (263), 6 A. 509 (539).

13. Distinction between admission and—. See Admission.14. Doctor—confession to.

1. Confessional statement of the doctor that his report was made out according to the instructions of the petitioner was not admissible inasmuch as its maker had already rendered himself liable to criminal prosecution, at the time when it was made. 25 Bom. L. R. 248. Cont. 1935 C. 26=155 I. C. 261=38 C. W. N. 1015, where it was held that although it is inadmissible under S. 32(3), Evidence Act, yet is admissible under S. 10 to prove a conspiracy.
2. A medical attendant is held not to be a person in authority under S. 24. 4 Cr. L. J. 49.

15. Evidentiary value of—. See—17.

1. The law does not require that a confession should be corroborated. It is for the Court to see whether it believes the confession or not. 52 I. C. 881.
2. The fact that a statement made by an accused under circumstances of hope, fear or otherwise, goes only to minimise its weight. 15 Cr. L. J. 326.
3. A confession to be of value must be voluntary or without any pressure. 35 A. 260.
4. A statement of the accused containing allegation that it was not voluntary, cannot be taken to be voluntary one simply because he signed it. 37 C. 735.
5. The confession and other statements which a prisoner has made in verification, and the deposition he has given before the Magistrate are all evidence against him. 38 C. 169. See 46 C. 700.

Confession—(contd.)

6. Where the Magistrate in whose presence a confession is made, is called as a witness and deposes that it was made fearlessly and willingly and not in the presence of a Police man, it is voluntary and can be acted upon. 2 L. L. J. 653.
7. If the case entirely rests on confession and the manner in which confession was obtained, is uncertain, the accused should get benefit of doubt. 1930 L. 88=119 I. C. 420=30 Cr. L. J. 1080.
8. All the parts of a confession are not entitled to equal weight. Some portion of it may be believed, while the rest may be rejected. 1926 O. 618.
9. Confession made to respectable persons and not obtained as a result of duress is sufficient to convict a man. 28 Cr. L. J. 104=99 I. C. 232.
10. Were threats are made to the accused but the accused makes the statement deliberately and uninfluenced by the threats S. 24 does not apply. 49 B. 642.
11. Where there is reason to apprehend that the influence of the Police is still continuing on the mind of accused, confession has little weight. 1934 A. 81=56 A. 302.
12. Conviction can be sustained solely on confession. But court expects some corroboration as act of prudence in case of retracted confession. 1934 L. 89.
13. In case of deliberate confession by grown up man, statement can form basis of conviction. 1934 O. 405=35 Cr. L. J. 1113.
14. Voluntary confession in serious offences is rare. 55 A. 91.
16. Extorting.—See Wrongful Confinement.

The Indian Police also whose duty is to make the preliminary report on criminal cases are still credited with suppressing incriminating evidence for a monetary consideration, as well as with extorting false confession by torture or threat through mistaken zeal or other motive all tending to obscure the truth. Five men were arrested and maltreated by constables of Bengal at night and they confessed that they had committed the murder. When the trial began the missing man came into court. Lyon's Med Jur. 1904, P. 18.

17. Extra judicial.—See Confession by inducement—6.

1. Extra judicial confessions are not entitled to any weight, because it is impossible to ascertain the exact words used by the person. 1928 L. 858=111 I. C. 449, 14 P. R. 1911 Cr., 1932 O. 324.
2. Although evidence of admission of guilt to villagers is sufficient to justify the conviction, still the evidence must be closely scrutinized. 117 I. C. 737=30 Cr. L. J. 829=1929 O. 272, 112 I. C. 897, 1929 O. 167.
3. Extra judicial confession must be true and not a fabricated one to provide additional evidence for what rightly or wrongly the investigating officer considers to be a weak case. 117 I. C. 737=30 Cr. L. J. 829=1929 O. 272.
4. It is not safe to base conviction on extra judicial confession. 1928 L. 858=111 I. C. 449=29 P. L. R. 486, 14 P. R. 1911 Cr.
5. Confession before villagers who are trustworthy witnesses may be as strong evidence against accused as confession before Magistrate and requires no corroboration. 112 I. C. 897=30 Cr. L. J. 33=1928 O. 393.
6. Extra judicial confession by boys cajoled or frightened, but retracted before the Committing Magistrate does not prove a case against persons jointly accused with the boys. 14 P. R. 1911 Cr.
7. Extra judicial statement cannot be proved by a vague general statement. It need not contain the exact words of the accused. 5 L. 140=1924 L. 498=25 Cr. L. J. 914.
8. Confession to respectable person and not obtained as a result of duress is sufficient to convict the confessor. 91 I. C. 232=28 Cr. L. J. 104=1928 O. 393.
9. A retracted extra judicial confession in law can be sufficient basis to support a conviction, though it must be dealt with caution. 1929 Sind 253.
10. Where the accused in full possession of his faculties make admission of guilt to various persons, they are not ineffective only because they are subsequently retracted. 1925 O. 622=98 I. C. 250, 1925 A. 627, 89 I. C. 903=24 Cr. L. J. 1431.

Confession—(contd.)

11. Extra judicial confession must be received with care and caution. 1932 O. 324=33 Cr. L. J. 45, 1928 L. 858=111 I. C. 449, 12 Mys. L. J. 73.
12. Confession made to crowd is admissible. The mere fact that Police man is one of crowd, it is not inadmissible. 1934 A. 132=147 I. C. 632.
13. A confession recorded by a Magistrate of Native State can be admissible as extra judicial confession. 1934 Sind 103, 1925 B. 529=49 B. 642.

18. In Extradition Proceedings.

Evidence given voluntarily by accused on his own behalf in extradition proceedings in a foreign country, without claiming any privilege under S. 132, Evidence Act, is admissible against him as an admission on his trial in British India. 1928 Sind 15=112 I. C. 50.

19. In Police custody.—See Confession by inducement—5.20. Presumption as to genuineness of— S. 80, Evidence Act.

1. Presumption under S. 80 as to confession arises only if it has been taken according to law. It then proves itself by mere production. 1934 A. 81, 6 L. 415=1925 L. 605, 1925 L. 315, 52 C. 67.
2. If formalities under S. 164, Cr. P. C., are not complied with, S. 80 does not apply. Cr. A. 1341 of 1934 (Lah.), 6 L. 415, 52 C. 67, 7 C. W. N. 220.

21. Proof of,—

1. Confession made in the course of trial or inquiry must be reduced into writing, vide S. 364, Cr. P. C. Oral evidence is inadmissible except to the limited extent mentioned in S. 533. 35 A. 260, 45 M. 230.
2. There was a difference of opinion whether confession made to a Magistrate during Police investigation should be reduced into writing as required by law or not. 14 L. 290=1933 L. 716, 45 M. 230, 1934 A. 351, 1934 A. 81 Cont. 49 C. 167, 17 C. 862, 2 C. W. N. 702, 1932 B. 533, 49 B. 642.
3. The matter has been finally decided by the Privy Council. It has been held that where Magistrate has neither acted nor purported to act under Ss. 164-364 and nothing has been tendered in evidence as recorded or purporting to be recorded under Ss. 164-364, oral evidence of Magistrate is not admissible. 1936 P. C. 253 (2), 14 L. 290=1933 L. 716, 1936 L. 247=16 L. 912, 21 P. R. 1881, 11 P. R. 1918, 1934 A. 81=56 A. 302 and 1922 M. 40 impliedly overruled. 1936 R. 350.

22. Retracted.—See Accomplish—7.

2. Where the accused makes a confession after all the precautions necessary have been taken by the Magistrate, and the confession has been made voluntarily, and for any sufficient reason. Cr. L. J. 1258, 1927 O. 369, 1929 O. 167=30 Cr. L. J. 360, 1932 O. 321.
3. Accused can be convicted on retracted confession, if the Court thinks that it is voluntary and true. 1930 A. 29=120 I. C. 257, 30 P. R. 1914 Cr.
4. It is a rule of practice not to rely on a retracted confession unless corroborated. 57 C. 488=1930 C. 633=126 I. C. 547=1930 Cr. C. 969.
5. Where a retracted confession is the sole evidence against the accused, it can be of little value especially remembering the competition for a pardon which sometimes occurs where a number of persons are suspected of an offence and some have already confessed or are believed to have confessed. 26 P. R. 1916 Cr., 1927 L. 682, 6 P. W. R. 1916 Cr.
6. A confession made by an accused before the Committing Magistrate, which he retracts is of no value as evidence against him. 15 P. W. R. 1915 Cr.

7. A confession retracted at an early date must be very carefully scrutinized before it is accepted by Court. 25 P. W. R. 1909 Cr.=153 P. L. R. 1909.
8. There is no rule of law requiring a retracted confession to be supported by corroborative evidence in material particulars. The use to be made of such a confession is more a matter of prudence than of law. 19 Cr. L. J. 861, 57 C. 488, 71 I. C. 497, 1929 B. 327, 1925 A. 627=26 Cr. L. J. 1431, 81 I. C. 62, 19 B. 728, 38 C. 559.
9. A retracted confession uncorroborated in material points by other reliable evidence is of no value. 58 I. C. 49, 22 Bom. L. R. 1274.
10. A conviction based on an uncorroborated confession is not bad, if the surrounding circumstances point to the confession having been the outcome of a voluntary act on the part of the confession. The fact that it was retracted before the Committing Magistrate would not deprive it of its voluntary character. 20 Cr. L. J. 562.
11. Where an accused when retracting a confession alleges ill-treatment and inducement by Police to extract the confession, the onus is on him to prove such ill-treatment and inducement. 22 C. W. N. 809=47 I. C. 811=19 Cr. L. J. 959, 1932 Sind 201, 6 L. 415, 27 Cr. L. J. 983, 1923 P. 13, 52 I. C. 50, 25 B. 168.
12. Conviction can be based on retracted confession if the confession was voluntary. 1930 L. 88=119 I. C. 420=30 Cr. L. J. 1080, 1929 M. W. N. 791, 104 I. C. 247=1927 L. 682, 103 I. C. 800, 6 L. 415, 75 I. C. 152=25 Cr. L. J. 904, 81 I. C. 62, 30 P. R. 1914, 1929 B. 327, 1929 M. 837, 3 Bom. L. R. 441, 52 I. C. 881, 1934 L. 715, 1934 L. 89, 55 M. 903, 1931 O. 412=33 Cr. L. J. 16, 1929 M. 827, 1930 A. 29, 1922 P. 492, 52 I. C. 50, 21 M. 83, 19 B. 728, 23 B. 316, 29 A. 434, 20 A. 133.
13. A retracted confession need not be supported in independent and material particulars. 81 I. C. 62=25 Cr. L. J. 574, 23 B. 316, 29 A. 434 and 21 M. 83 Foll.; 10 M. 295 and 12 M. 123 Diss. from, 1930 M. W. N. 785, 1929 M. 837.
14. Conviction based on a retracted confession which was voluntary and sufficiently corroborated is legal. 1927 L. 780=103 I. C. 112=25 Cr. L. J. 656.
15. If the retracted confession is not corroborated and there are suspicious circumstances, the accused should be acquitted. 101 I. C. 479, 1928 L. 329=107 I. C. 614.
16. Where the confessions do not stand uncorroborated, and the accused are unable to explain away their confession though retracted, the confessions alone are sufficient to convict them. 98 I. C. 250=27 Cr. L. J. 1306=1926 O. 622.
17. A confession is sufficient to base conviction, though retracted at the first possible opportunity, if corroborated by the production of articles for which the accused can offer no explanation. 11 L. 106=1930 Lah. 257=30 Cr. L. J. 1046.
18. The weight to be given to a retracted confession depends on the circumstances under which the confession was made and retracted, including the reasons given by the prisoner for its retraction. 1930 N. 259, 24 Cr. L. J. 904=75 I. C. 152, 70 A. 133, 1931 O. 412=33 Cr. L. J. 16, 96 I. C. 647, 1925 L. 605, 6 L. 415, 21 M. 83.
19. The mere fact that a confession is retracted is not sufficient to make it appear that it was unlawfully induced. 11 L. L. J. 5, 96 I. C. 647.
20. Where the accused in full possession of his faculties makes admission of guilt to various persons, they are not ineffective only because they are subsequently retracted. 98 I. C. 250=27 Cr. L. J. 1306=1926 O. 622, 1925 A. 627.
21. Little or no weight should be attached to retracted confession. 1927 P. C. 215=8 L. 230.
22. The retracted confession of an accused has no evidentiary value against a co-accused but it can be taken into consideration along with other evidence against the accused. 1935 O. 354=155 I. C. 527=36 Cr. L. J. 767.
23. Pointing out places and things is no corroboration of retracted confession. 1936 A. 373.
24. If a grown up man makes a confession, he can be convicted on it even though he subsequently retracts it. 1935 O. 354=155 I. C. 527=36 Cr. L. J. 767.
25. In a case of poisoning by wife, a retracted confession is sufficiently corroborated by the recovery of articles stained with poison. 15 L. 310=1934 L. 150 (2).

Confession—(concl'd.)

23. Persons taking part in investigation. See Confession to Police officers—9.

24. Value of—

1. There are five classes of confessions. (1) Recorded with formalities under Ss. 164-364. (2) Imperfectly recorded and cured by S. 533, Cr. P. C. (3) Where defect is not cured and confession is proved by evidence of Magistrate. (4) Where Magistrate refuses to record confession but hears it. (5) Where accused appears on his own accord and makes oral confession. Held, (1) and (2) are weighty, (3) less weighty and (4) of little weight. The weight to be attached to (5) depends on circumstances. 1936 L. 247=16 L. 912=162 I. C. 80+. Overruled by 1936 P. C. 253 (2).
2. Confession made to Police can be used to contradict the confessor when he is examined as a defence witness. 61 C. 967=1934 C. 616.

25. Voluntary— See Confession or statement (Recording)—14.

1. Voluntary confession in serious offences is rare. 55 A. 91, 6 A. 509.
2. A confession which is voluntary is admissible, even if it is false. 1934 C. 853, 154 I. C. 273, 52 C. 67=1925 C. 587, 4 Cr. L. J. 332.

26. What is and what is not— See Admission.

1. A statement in which accused admits seeing the preparation for crime but denying participating in it or protesting against it is not confession, 7 A. 646, 41 C. 601, 16 P. R. 1886.
2. A statement that articles of murdered man were given to him by another person is not confession. 15 C. 589. See 16 P. R. 1886 Cr.
3. In a case of theft if the accused says he took away the thing in joke it is not confession. 1934 P. 651.
4. Accused was asked whether stolen camel and thief were in his house. He denied it falsely. Held, it was inadmissible as confession as prosecution relied upon it. 16 P. R. 1906 Cr.
5. Exculpatory or explanatory statement containing damaging or incriminating admissions is confession. 49 B. 642, 46 B. 961, 43 I. C. 605, 6 B. 34, 19 B. 363, 14 B. 260.
6. An admission of being present at the time and the place of murder is confession. 22 Cr. L. J. 68=59 I. C. 324.
7. A statement by accused that articles produced by him belong to deceased is confession. 5 L. L. J. 128.
8. A statement by accused that he burned the cloth of deceased and showing the place is confession. 50 B. 683=1926 B. 513.
9. A promise to restore stolen property is confession. 16 P. R. 1906.
10. Admitting that stolen property is in one's own possession is confession. 1934 L. 695.
11. A statement in which accused claimed the box containing opium, is confession. 11 Cr. L. J. 153.
12. Admission by accused that he received the incriminating things from another might amount to confession. 46 B. 961, 19 B. 363, 6 B. 34.

CONFESSION OR STATEMENT—(RECORDING OF). Ss. 164—364, 533, Cr. P. C.

1. Applicability of S. 164, Cr. P. C.

1. S. 164 does not enable the Police Officer, who has obtained an incriminating statement from a person, to send such person practically under custody to a Magistrate to have his statement recorded. 27 C. 295.
2. A statement recorded in an inquiry conducted by Criminal Investigation Department before the sanction of Government under S. 197, Cr. P. C. is obtained is not covered by S. 164. 1927 Bom. 501=106 I. C. 100, 19 B. 51.
3. S. 164 does not apply to confessions recorded in investigation conducted by Police in Calcutta. 52 C. 67, 5 P. 171.
4. A confession made to a Magistrate of Native State and duly recorded is admissible in

7. A confession retracted at an early date must be very carefully scrutinized before it is accepted by Court. 25 P. W. R. 1909 Cr.=153 P. L. R. 1909.
8. There is no rule of law requiring a retracted confession to be supported by corroborative evidence in material particulars. The use to be made of such a confession is more a matter of prudence than of law. 19 Cr. L. J. 861, 57 C. 488, 71 I. C. 497, 1929 B. 327, 1925 A. 627=26 Cr. L. J. 1431, 81 I. C. 62, 19 B. 728, 38 C. 559.
9. A retracted confession uncorroborated in material points by other reliable evidence is of no value. 58 I. C. 49, 22 Bom. L. R. 1274.
10. A conviction based on an uncorroborated confession is not bad, if the surrounding circumstances point to the confession having been the outcome of a voluntary act on the part of the confession. The fact that it was retracted before the Committing Magistrate would not deprive it of its voluntary character. 20 Cr. L. J. 562.
11. Where an accused when retracting a confession alleges ill-treatment and inducement by Police to extract the confession, the onus is on him to prove such ill-treatment and inducement. 22 C. W. N. 809=47 I. C. 811=19 Cr. L. J. 939, 1932 Sind 201, 6 L. 415, 27 Cr. L. J. 983, 1923 P. 13, 52 I. C. 50, 25 B. 168.
12. Conviction can be based on retracted confession if the confession was voluntary. 1930 L. 88=119 I. C. 420=30 Cr. L. J. 1080, 1929 M. W. N. 791, 104 I. C. 247=1927 L. 682, 103 I. C. 800, 6 L. 415, 75 I. C. 152=23 Cr. L. J. 904, 81 I. C. 62, 30 P. R. 1914, 1929 B. 327, 1929 M. 837, 3 Bom. L. R. 441, 52 I. C. 831, 1934 L. 715, 1934 L. 89, 55 M. 903, 1931 O. 412=33 Cr. L. J. 16, 1929 M. 827, 1930 A. 29, 1922 P. 492, 52 I. C. 50, 21 M. 83, 19 B. 728, 23 B. 316, 29 A. 434, 20 A. 133.
13. A retracted confession need not be supported in independent and material particulars. 81 I. C. 62=25 Cr. L. J. 574, 23 B. 316, 29 A. 434 and 21 M. 83 Foll.; 10 M. 295 and 12 M. 123 Diss. from, 1930 M. W. N. 785, 1929 M. 837.
14. Conviction based on a retracted confession which was voluntary and sufficiently corroborated is legal. 1927 L. 780=103 I. C. 112=28 Cr. L. J. 656.
15. If the retracted confession is not corroborated and there are suspicious circumstances, the accused should be acquitted. 101 I. C. 479, 1923 L. 329=107 I. C. 614.
16. Where the confessions do not stand uncorroborated, and the accused are unable to explain away their confession though retracted, the confessions alone are sufficient to convict them. 98 I. C. 250=27 Cr. L. J. 1306=1926 O. 622.
17. A confession is sufficient to base conviction, though retracted at the first possible opportunity, if corroborated by the production of articles for which the accused can offer no explanation. 11 L. 106=1930 Lah. 257=30 Cr. L. J. 1046.
18. The weight to be given to a retracted confession depends on the circumstances under which the confession was made and retracted, including the reasons given by the prisoner for its retraction. 1930 N. 259, 24 Cr. L. J. 904=75 I. C. 152, 10 A. 133, 1931 O. 412=33 Cr. L. J. 16, 96 I. C. 647, 1925 L. 605, 6 L. 415, 21 M. 83.
19. The mere fact that a confession is retracted is not sufficient to make it appear that it was unlawfully induced. 11 L. L. J. 5, 96 I. C. 647.
20. Where the accused in full possession of his faculties makes admission of guilt to various persons, they are not ineffective only because they are subsequently retracted. 98 I. C. 250=27 Cr. L. J. 1306=1926 O. 622, 1925 A. 627.
21. Little or no weight should be attached to retracted confession. 1927 P. C. 315=8 L. 230.
22. The retracted confession of an accused has no evidentiary value against a co-accused but it can be taken into consideration along with other evidence against the accused. 1935 O. 354=135 I. C. 527=36 Cr. L. J. 767.
23. Pointing out places and things is no corroboration of retracted confession. 1936 A. 373.
24. If a grown up man makes a confession, he can be convicted on it even though he subsequently retracts it. 1935 O. 354=135 I. C. 527=36 Cr. L. J. 767.
25. In a case of poisoning by wife, a retracted confession is sufficiently corroborated by the recovery of articles stained with poison. 15 L. 310=1934 L. 150 (2).

CONFESSION OR STATEMENT—(RECORDING OF). Ss. 164—364, 533, Cr. P. C.

1. Applicability of S. 164, Cr. P. C.

1. S. 164 does not enable the Police Officer, who has obtained an incriminating statement from a person, to send such person practically under custody to a Magistrate to have his statement recorded. 27 C. 295.
2. A statement recorded in an inquiry conducted by Criminal Investigation Department before the sanction of Government under S. 197, Cr. P. C. is obtained is not covered by S. 164. 1927 Bom. 501=106 I. C. 100, 19 B. 51.
3. S. 164 does not apply to confessions recorded in investigation conducted by Police in Calcutta. 52 C. 67, 5 P. 171.
4. A confession made to a Magistrate of Native State and duly recorded is admissible in evidence in British Courts. 2 P. R. 1909, 22 B. 235, 12 A. 595, 8 P. R. 1907.

5. In case of confession to Magistrate the record is admissible under S. 190, Cr. P. C. and not under S. 164. 1932 M. 500=33 Cr. L. J. 586.

2. Applicability of S. 364, Cr. P. C.

1. The rules laid down in S. 364 are applicable to the examination of the accused under S. 342, Cr. P. C. 4 Bom. L. R. 461, 1 Bur. L. R. 320.
2. S. 364 applies only to examination of accused during inquiries and trials, and not during investigation, which are governed by S. 164. 10 B. H. C. R. 166. See 1 B. 219, 1883 A. W. N. 243.
3. S. 364 applies to the statement of accused. It does not apply to the statement of a person against whom inquiry under S. 202 is being conducted. 32 C. 1085.
4. S. 364 does not apply where there has been no examination of the accused. 11 S. L. R. 52.

3. Certificate or memorandum.

1. The absence of the certificate in the recorded examination of the accused is not necessarily fatal to its admissibility. It can be cured by examining the Magistrate. 7 B. H. C. R. 50, 1930 L. 534=129 I. C. 289, 60 I. C. 56, 17 P. R. 1915 Cr.
2. A defect in the certificate can be cured by examining the Magistrate or some other person who was present when the statement was recorded. 3 C. W. N. 387, 22 M. 15, 23 B. 221, 3 P. 872, 45 A. 166, 2 P. R. 1909 Cr., 5 C. 598.
3. The certificate need not be in the hand-writing of Magistrate. It is sufficient if it is signed by him. 8 W. R. 55.
4. A confession does not become unworthy of credit, merely because the memorandum prescribed by law is not written in the exact form. 3 A. 338.
5. The memorandum is no conclusive proof that confession was voluntary. 13 C. W. N. 861, 73 I. C. 257=24 Cr. L. J. 561=1922 O. 302.
6. A confession without a memorandum that it is voluntarily made is bad in law, and cannot be admitted in evidence. 6 B. 228, 1 B. 219, 7 C. W. N. 220.
7. It is most advisable, that the Magistrate should record a memorandum of enquiry showing what steps he has taken to fully satisfy himself that an accused person is confessing voluntarily. 2 L. 129.
8. An English memorandum required by S. 364 is not necessary in respect of a confession under S. 164. 14 C. 539.
9. When there is no positive evidence that the precautions required by S. 164 were not taken and the certificate required by sub-section (3) is duly appended, the presumption is that the precautions described in the section were duly taken. 1927 L. 682.
10. If a confession is tendered in evidence, which contains a memorandum required by S. 164 (3), a presumption arises under S. 80 of the Evidence Act that all formalities were performed and the document containing the confession is admissible without further proof. 6 L. 415=1925 L. 605=7 L. L. J. 482.
11. If the defect in the memorandum is of form and not of substance. S. 533, Cr. P. C., will apply and it will be cured. 6 L. 415=1925 L. 605=7 L. L. J. 482.
12. The effect of omission of a certificate by the Magistrate as to the voluntary nature of the confession is to render the record of confession inadmissible in evidence. 45 I. C. 267=19 Cr. L. J. 507, 8 Bom. L. R. 950.
13. When a Magistrate recorded a certificate that the confession was not voluntary, it was held that it was not admissible in evidence. 16 Cr. L. J. 740.
14. A confession not recorded as provided by S. 164 cannot be proved by the evidence of Magistrate. 49 C. 167.
15. Where the Magistrate appended the certificate on old form prescribed before the amendment of S. 164, the irregularity is curable. 1931 L. 196=32 Cr. L. J. 579.

4. Copy of confession.—S. 74, S. 80, Evidence Act.

1. Statements recorded under S. 164, Cr. P. C., are public documents, and the public servant in whose custody those documents are is bound to issue copies thereof. 1932 A. 327=139 I. C. 330=33 Cr. L. J. 752=117 I. C. 377.

2. Certified copies of confession are admissible to prove act of Magistrate recording it. Presumption of truth of circumstances arises under S. 80, Evidence Act. 56 A. 302=1934 A. 81 (84).

3. Copies do not prove identity of accused. 56 A. 302=1934 A. 81.

5. Custody of accused after confession.

Persons making confession should be returned to jail and not to custody of police. 1934 O. 19=35 Cr. L. J. 664=148 I. C. 475, 1934 O. 151. It may damage the whole case. 1936 L. 278=37 Cr. L. J. 493, 1936 L. 357=17 L. 419.

6. Discretion to record.

The Magistrate may record the confession or statement; it is not obligatory on him to do so. 11 P. R. 1905, 21 Bom. L. R. 1065, 45 M. 230.

7. Evidentiary value of—. See Confession—15.8. Handing over confession to Police Officer.

Where a Magistrate after recording confession made it over to Police Officer. Held, that the procedure was objectionable. 1931 L. 408=132 I. C. 185=32 Cr. L. J. 818, 1936 L. 341=37 Cr. L. J. 504.

9. Incomplete chalan—Confession during.—

1. An incomplete chalan was placed before a Magistrate who recorded formal evidence against an absconder. On the adjourned hearing the absconder was arrested and his confession was recorded under S. 164. Held, it was admissible. 135 I. C. 209=1932 L. 103, 37 C. 467, 110 I. C. 329, 1930 L. 454=31 Cr. L. J. 533.

2. A was charged with murder. Before the Police investigation concluded an incomplete chalan was placed before the Committing Magistrate who after examining some witnesses recorded the statement of the accused under S. 342, Cr. P. C., who confessed his guilt. But when again examined he denied having committed murder and attributed his first confession to the promise of pardon by the Police and also to ill-treatment by the investigation officer. It was found that incomplete chalan was put in with the object of avoiding mandatory provisions of S. 164. Held, that an attempt by Police to get over the mandatory provisions of S. 164 must be deprecated and the confession must be excluded. 1928 L. 724=110 I. C. 329=29 P. L. R. 388=29 Cr. L. J. 697=10 L. L. J. 311.

10. Inspection of—. Whether Public Document.

1. An accused is entitled to inspect statements of prosecution witnesses recorded under S. 164. 1932 A. 327=139 I. C. 330=33 Cr. L. J. 752.
2. Record of confessions of accused made by a Magistrate outside British India are probably public documents within the meaning of S. 74. 23 Cr. L. J. 673=69 I. C. 257, 12 A. 595.

11. Irregularities in. S. 533, Cr. P. C.

1. The defect which S. 533 intends to cure is one not of substance but of form only, e.g., when the Magistrate has omitted to sign the certificate or has omitted to state in the certificate that the statement was taken in his hearing. 2 C. W. N. 702, 17 P. R. 1915 Cr., 1930 O. 449 Conf. 23 Bom. 221, 21 Bom. 495.
2. S. 533 does not cure a defect where a statement has been neither signed by the accused nor certified by the Magistrate. 9 M. 224, 17 C. 862.
3. S. 533 has no application, where no record has been made of confession. 35 A. 260.
4. Where a Magistrate inadvertently omits to certify the voluntariness as required by S. 164, such defect may under S. 533 be cured by the examination of the Magistrate. 12 Cr. L. J. 15, 1930 L. 534, 60 I. C. 56, 45 A. 166.
5. A confession not recorded as provided by S. 164, Cr. P. C., cannot be proved by the evidence of Magistrate. 49 C. 167.
6. A Magistrate in whose presence a confession was taken may be examined as a witness and the irregularity in not taking down a confession himself can be cured by

- S. 533. 2 P. R. 1900 Cr., 1934 L. 14=151 I. C. 745.
7. If the Magistrate fails to record questions and answers, the defect can be cured under S. 533. 120 I. C. 350= 1930 Bom. 327=31 Bom. L. R. 565.
8. Non-compliance with the formalities as to the verification at the end of confession is a curable irregularity. 85 I. C. 833.
9. Deposition of a Magistrate that he complied with all the requirements of S. 164, cures a defect in their compliance. 113 I. C. 63, 6 L. 415, 6 L. 58.
10. S. 533 cures a formal defect of taking down confession in the narrative form and translating it to the accused. 45 A. 166, 23 Bom. 221 Foll. 17 C. 862 Diss.
11. S. 533 cures the defect of want of proper certificate. 1930 L. 534.
12. S. 533 plainly provides that notwithstanding anything contained in S. 91, Evidence Act, such statement shall be admitted, if the error has not injured the accused as to his defence on the merits. 7 R. 759, 18 C. 549, 21 B. 495 and 32 C. 550 Ref. 9 M. 224 Dist. 17 C. 862 Diss. from.
13. Exact words of the warning are not very material, provided the Magistrate explains, and person making the statement clearly understands that he need not make a confession. 1925 L. 448=26 Cr. L. J. 1458. But See 1934 O. 151.
14. Where there is no record that Magistrate gave any warning to the accused, the confession so recorded is extremely defective, though it can be remedied under S. 533. 60 I. C. 56=22 Cr. L. J. 200.
15. Where the statement is not recorded in strict compliance with the law, S. 533 can be resorted to if accused is not injured in his defence. 7 R. 759, 18 C. 549, 21 B. 95, and 32 C. 550 Rel.; 9 M. 224 Dist.; 17 C. 862 Diss. from.
16. If questions are not put, the confession is 'not duly' made. But the irregularity can be cured by taking evidence that there was no inducement, etc., provided the accused is not prejudiced. 56 A. 302=1934 A. 81=147 I. C. 390, 55 A. 91=1933 A. 31, 54 A. 350=1932 A. 228 and 1931 A. 609=32 Cr. L. J. 1052 Ref.
17. Accused was produced before Magistrate for remand. He was questioned and admitted his guilt. Magistrate wrote it on the back of application. The defect was cured by examination of Magistrate as witness. 1934 R. 78=35 Cr. L. J. 823. 55 M. 711 and 1933 A. 440 Rel. on.
18. Where confession of several accused is recorded, one may not hear the statement of another. 1934 O. 151.
19. Rules issued by Government for recording confession are meant only for guidance of Magistrate and have not the effect of law. 1933 O. 299=34 Cr. L. J. 838.
20. Confession made under hope of pardon though improperly recorded under S. 164 can be proved. 1933 L. 987, 1933 L. 716.
21. Where Magistrate has neither acted nor purported to act under S. 164 or S. 364 and nothing has been tendered in evidence as recorded or purporting to be recorded under Ss. 164—364, oral evidence of Magistrate is not admissible. 1936 P. C. 253 (2), 1933 L. 716=14 L. 290; 1936 L. 247=16 L. 912; 21 P. R. 1881, 11 P. R. 1918, 1934 A. 81=56 A. 302 and 1922 M. 40 overruled, 1936 R. 350.
22. When the accused knows Magistrate there is no illegality if he does not inform accused that he is a Magistrate while recording confession. 1932 L. 103.
23. If oath is administered to accused by coroner, etc., confession will be inadmissible. 50 B. 56=1926 B. 144.
12. Language of.—See Record—6.
 1. Ordinarily the statement of the accused must be recorded in the language in which it was made, the object being to represent the very words and expressions used as to ensure accuracy and prevent misrepresentation and misconstruction of what was said. 21 C. 642, 4 N. W. P. H. C. R. 16.
 2. If the answers were not taken in the language in which they were given, the irregularity is curable under S. 533. 15 C. 595, 17 C. 852, 10 O. C. 122.
 3. If the confession is made in a foreign language, unknown to the Court, the record should be in the language in which it is conveyed to the Court by the interpreter. 5 C. 826.

4. A statement was made by the accused in Mani Puri and communicated to the Magistrate by an interpreter in Bengali, and the Magistrate recorded it in English, and there was also a record in Mani Puri, but the two records differed. Held, that the record in Mani Puri should be regarded as the proper record and the only evidence in the case. 21 C. 642.
5. The confession of the accused made in Bengali was recorded by the Magistrate in English, because he could not write Bengali well, and there was no Muharrir at the time with him, it was held that there was no illegality. 22 C. 817, 1891 A. W. N. 55.
6. A confession made in Hindustani was recorded by a Mahomedan Magistrate in Bengali, the language of the Court. Held, that in the absence of evidence it should be presumed that the Magistrate found it impracticable to record the statement in Urdu. 18 C. 549.
7. Magistrate could record a statement in the language in which it was made but recorded it in English. Held, that if it was translated to accused in his own language and no prejudice was caused to him, the irregularity is curable under S. 533, Cr. P. C. 45 A. 166, 7 P. R. 1899 Cr., 1892 A. W. N. 60, 16 C. P. L. R. 122, 1931 L. 763, 32 P. L. R. 792, 1932 L. 73, 23 B. 221.
8. Where a Magistrate is unable to record a confession in the language in which it is made he should not employ a Police Officer to write it down. 9 C. L. J. 55.
9. Omission to record confession in the language used by the accused may be overlooked if he is not injured in his defence 1927 L. 285=100 I. C. 821, 7 P. R. 1899 Cr.
13. Memorandum of enquiry. See—3.
14. Mode of recording confession—warning—voluntary nature. S. 364, Cr. P. C.
 1. Every question and every answer must be recorded verbatim, no matter whether relevant or irrelevant. 15 W. R. 3, 2 B. H. C. R. 395—397—398.
 2. If the confession was recorded in simple narrative form instead of questions and answers, the irregularity is curable under S. 533 if accused is not prejudiced. 45 A. 166, 8 C. 616, 14 C. 539, 1892 A. W. N. 60.
 3. The record need not be in the handwriting of the Magistrate. It is enough if he appends a certificate that examination was conducted in his presence and contains accurately all that was said by the accused. 2 P. R. 1902 Cr.
 4. If the confession is not recorded in the language of the accused nor was signed by the accused, nor certified by the Magistrate, it was inadmissible. 9 M. 224.
 5. The Magistrate should merely record the confession or statement as the accused might desire to make. It is no part of his duty to ask questions in details on matters within Magistrate's knowledge. 1930 A. 746=32 Cr. L. J. 152.
 6. Where there is nothing to show that the accused was told that he need not make a confession and that if he did so it might be used as evidence against him, his confession is illegal. 6 L. 183=1925 L. 432, 7 L. L. J. 170.
 7. It is sufficient compliance with the law, if the accused was asked if he was making the confession voluntarily and any statement he might make would be used as evidence against him. 5 P. 171=1926 P. 279=27 Cr. L. J. 957.
 8. The Magistrate did not inform the accused that he was a Magistrate and did not put the accused questions in order to find out whether the confession which he was about to make was a voluntary or not. Held, that defects in the manner of recording confession made it inadmissible. 1926 C. 742=27 Cr. L. J. 621.
 9. Accused, while in Police custody made a confession to Court Inspector, who immediately produced him before a Magistrate, who proceeded to record the confession in the presence of the Court Inspector, and after recording it remanded the accused to Police custody. Held, that it is most unsafe to hold that it was voluntary and therefore, it was inadmissible. 1924 L. 624, 1922 L. 237.
 10. Where the Magistrate although stated that he was satisfied that the confession was voluntary failed to question the confessants whether they were making voluntary

- statement. Held, that the provisions of S. 164 are not complied with and the confessions are inadmissible. 1924 L. 481=81 L. C. 627, 2 L. 325, 73 L. C. 260.
11. Magistrate should always ask some questions to enable him to determine whether the confession is voluntary. 24 Cr. L. J. 619, 124 L. C. 215, 1931 A. 609.
 12. Telling an accused whether he should make a statement voluntarily and questioning him as to whether he is making it voluntarily are two different things. The omission to question the accused whether he is making the confession voluntarily is a material omission and the defect is not curable under S. 533, and the confession must be excluded. 2 L. 325, 33 P. L. R. 415.
 13. The only question put by the Magistrate was "(After due warning) do you want to say anything." What the due warning was, was not recorded. Held, that the confession was inadmissible. 22 Cr. L. J. 119=59 L. C. 551.
 14. Where confession was recorded on Sunday, at the house of Magistrate and the Magistrate stated on oath that he satisfied himself that he was making a statement voluntarily. He did not record the questions and answers put and it was recorded in English though made in Urdu. Held, that irregularities in recording the confession did not make it inadmissible. 1931 L. 763.
 15. The fact that the Magistrate instead of asking the accused about the voluntary nature of the confession at the commencement of the confession, asked him at the end, was merely a defect of form that did not alter the character of confession. 40 C. 873.
 16. Where the confession was not taken down in the language in which it was made and not thumb-marked by accused, but the Magistrate stated that it was voluntary and correctly recorded. Held, that other irregularities in recording the confession were not material. 133 L. C. 545=32 P. L. R. 792=1932 L. 73.
 17. Before recording confession the Magistrate should enquire how long the accused had been in custody. The failure to do so is not fatal and does not cast any doubt about the voluntary nature of confession. 1931 L. 763=23 B. 543.
 18. S. 364 lays down that every question and answer must be recorded but does not compel a Magistrate proceeding under S. 164 to put a series of questions. The accused should be left to narrate his story as a whole without unnecessary interference. 1932 L. 180=137 L. C. 95=33 P. L. R. 16.
 19. Where there is nothing in the statement to show that besides the usual and stereotyped questions any serious attempt has been made by the Magistrate to find whether the statement was voluntary or otherwise, the Court should hesitate to accept the certificate. 1932 A. 228=33 Cr. L. J. 201.
 20. A confession, if voluntary is not inadmissible merely because the accused is not warned by Magistrate that he is not bound to make confession. 1932 M. 431=62 M. L. J. 559=33 Cr. L. J. 526.
 21. The Magistrate should warn the accused that any confession which he makes would be used against him. He should only record the confession if upon inquiry he has reason to believe that it will be made voluntarily. 6 L. 415.
 22. The Magistrate must sign the record and the memorandum. 3 C. W. N. 387.
 23. A statement of the accused containing an allegation that it was not voluntary cannot be taken to be voluntary because the accused has signed the statement. 37 C. 735.
 24. When the confession is recorded in accordance with law, presumption under S. 80, Evidence Act is that it is voluntary. The burden is on accused to disprove its voluntariness. 1935 R. 491.
 25. Magistrate should leave the accused or witness alone for half an hour to compose himself before his statement is recorded. 1935 L. 230=35 Cr. L. J. 1180.

28. Voluntary confession in serious offences is rare. 55 A. 91, 6 A. 509.
29. Accused was detained in Police custody for more than 24 hours unnecessarily. He confessed and was again taken into Police custody. It was retracted at earliest opportunity. Held, it was not voluntary and should be rejected. 1933 O. 192=34 Cr. L. J. 653, 1932 O. 317.
30. It is not necessary that the warning should appear in writing at the commencement of record of confession. Memo need not be in the handwriting of the Magistrate. It is sufficient if it is signed by him. 1933 B. 145=57 B. 336, 56 B. 542=1932 B. 553 overruled. 1925 L. 605=6 L. 415 Rel. on.
31. Memorandum can be affixed to English version of confession. 57 B. 36.
32. Statement written and signed by accused while in control of Police is inadmissible. 1933 A. 356=55 A. 426.
33. Failure to question accused as to whether he is making confession voluntarily is fatal defect. 1933 O. 315. 1930 O. 449 Ref. 1933 O. 313 Dist.
34. Accused professed to speak of his own free will. Magistrate need not question him whether he was ill-treated by Police. 1933 C. 747.
35. A confession recorded under Ss. 164—364 is presumed to be voluntary under S. 80 Evidence Act. 61 C. 399=1934 C. 636, 1932 S. 201, 52 C. 67.
36. There is nothing in S. 164, Cr. P. C., to prevent a Magistrate from recording the statement of an accused person, even if it is not a confession. 24 Cr. L. J. 723=73 I. C. 963, 4 P. 327=1925 P. 536, 49 C. 167, 1925 C. 926=26 Cr. L. J. 1279, 1928 P. 162=106 I. C. 698, 1927 B. 501.
37. The Magistrate's certificate that the confession, to his belief, was voluntary is not conclusive and the confession may still be shown to be involuntary. 13 C. W. N. 861=10 Cr. L. J. 125, 1932 A. 228, 1930 O. 449, 1922 O. 302.

15. Oral confession or statement.

1. A confession or incriminating statement made by accused in the presence of a Magistrate, while in Police custody, who is not produced before the Magistrate with a view to record his confession, can be proved by oral testimony of the Magistrate when it has not been reduced into writing. 1930 L. 534=1933 L. 716, 21 P. R. 1881, 52 P. R. 1887, 11 P. R. 1918.
2. A Magistrate can hold a test identification and can prove a statement made to him under S. 157, Evidence Act. 1928 C. 500=109 I. C. 225.
3. Oral evidence of the Magistrate who watches investigation conducted by Police under instructions given to him under S. 159, Cr. P. C., and who did not himself make any independent inquiry or record any statement from the available witnesses, are admissible to prove that the accused confessed the crime to him though the statement was not recorded under S. 164. 45 M. 230.
4. Accused made no confession and there was no record under S. 164. Held, that the evidence of the Magistrate regarding unrecorded statement is inadmissible. 49 C. 167.
5. A confession to be admissible in evidence need not be recorded. It may be oral. It is a relevant fact and may be proved by the Magistrate to whom the oral confession was made. 11 P. R. 1918 Cr.
6. In oral confessions a Magistrate is not required to make inquiry about the voluntary nature of confessions. 11 P. R. 1918 Cr., 2 L. 325.
7. It is not obligatory on the Magistrate to record oral confession. 1934 A. 351=152 I. C. 174. 35 A. 260 and 1929 A. 855 Dist.
8. Unrecorded confession can be proved by oral testimony of Magistrate. 1934 A. 351=152 I. C. 174, 1922 M. 40=45 M. 230, 1930 L. 534 Foll. 49 C. 167 not appr. 35 A. 260, 1929 A. 855 and 21 Cr. L. J. 65=1920 B. 322 Ref.
9. If confession is not recorded according to Ss. 164—364, Cr. P. C., oral evidence of Magistrate is inadmissible. 1936 P. C. 253 (2), 1933 L. 716; 1936 L. 247=14 L. 290=16 L. 912; 21 P. R. 1881 Cr.; 11 P. R. 1918 Cr.; 1934 A. 81=56 A.

302 and 1922 M. 49 implicitly overruled.

16. Place of recording.—

1. A Magistrate having jurisdiction in a District in British India cannot record a confession in a place in a Native State in connection with an offence committed in his district. 19 A. L. J. 335=62 I. C. 343.
2. A Magistrate can record a confession at a place other than the Court. 1930 L. 171=31 Cr. L. J. 732, 1931 L. 673 129, 1933 R. 491.
3. It is not necessary that confession should be in open Court. 5 P. 171.
4. Where investigation was made by British Police and accused was arrested by Calcutta Police and was produced by Magistrate there. Held, it was in the investigation of the case and the confession was legal. 94 I. C. 345.
5. A confession to a Magistrate in a Native State is admissible at extra judicial confession only. 1931 Sind 103=151 I. C. 311, 1923 B. 329, 1934 L. 873.
6. A confession recorded by Magistrate at the Thana at night is most improper. 1932 L. 204=136 I. C. 19.
7. A confession recorded at Thana in a separate room where there was no Police officer is admissible although Magistrate did not make the certificate that he warned him that he need not make confession. 1933 L. 311 (2)=34 Cr. L. J. 712.

17. Presumption as to genuineness—S. 80, Ev. Act.

1. Presumption as to genuineness of confession under S. 80 arises if it has been taken according to law. It then proves itself by mere production. 1934 A. 81, 6 L. 415, 1923 L. 315, 52 C. 67.
2. If formalities under Ss. 164—364 are not complied with S. 80 does not apply. Cr. A. 1341 of 1934 (Lah.), 6 L. 415, 52 C. 67, 4 C. W. N. 220.
3. Presumption under S. 80 is applicable to record of confession made in Native State in accordance with Cr. P. C. 69 I. C. 257=23 Cr. L. J. 673, 12 A. 595. See also, 22 P. 235, 8 P. R. 1907, 2 P. R. 1909 Cr.

18. Reading over or showing of—

2. A Magistrate can record a confession before the accused is placed on trial. 73 I. C. 963.
3. A confession made during remand proceedings, if not recorded in accordance with S. 164, should be excluded. 137 I. C. 57=33 P. L. R. 25.
4. Confession under S. 164 can be recorded during Police investigation only and before a Magistrate takes cognizance of the case. 37 C. 467.
5. A confession made during inquiry by a Magistrate under S. 202, Cr. P. C., is not recorded under S. 164. 32 C. 1085.
6. The Police produced accused under S. 302, I. P. C. and the Magistrate adjourned the case to enable the accused to engage a counsel. On the next hearing the Police took back the challan as being incomplete and on the same day a confession under S. 164 was recorded by another Magistrate. But at the close of the case, the accused stated that he made it under promise of pardon. Held, that the confession could not be used against the prisoner. The course taken by Police in taking back the challan was illegal. 1930 L. 454, 135 I. C. 209.

22. To Magistrate of Native State.

1. Confession recorded by Magistrate of Native State in conformity with the provisions of S. 164 is admissible. 1934 L. 873, 2 P. R. 1909 Cr.
2. A confession to a Magistrate of Native State which does not conform to the provisions of S. 164 can be proved as extra judicial confession. 1934 Sind 103=151 I. C. 311, 1925 B. 529, 49 B. 642, 22 B. 235, 69 I. C. 257.

23. Voluntary nature of— See—12.24. When there is no Police Investigation.

1. A Magistrate can only record a confession under S. 164, Cr. P. C., or D. M. can order such confession to be recorded, when there had been a Police inquiry under Ch. 14. If there had been no Police inquiry or complaint the confession would be inadmissible in evidence. Such a confession cannot be used as extra judicial confession even. 1935 O. 416=36 Cr. L. J. 927=156 I. C. 231, 32 C. 1085 Rel. on, 1931 O. 415=33 Cr. L. J. 45 and 1928 O. 393 Ref.

2. By approver. See Accomplice.

1. The confession of an approver cannot be used under S. 30 because he is not jointly tried along with the accused. 1921 P. 499.
 2. Approver's statement cannot be accepted without any test as to his complicity with crime. 74 I. C. 543, 73 I. C. 262.
 3. It is unsafe to base conviction on the uncorroborated testimony of an approver. 99 I. C. 929=28 P. L. R. 39, 73 I. C. 262.
- 3. By inducement. See Confession by inducement.
If the co-accused was induced to make a confession, it cannot be relied upon. 92 I. C. 461.

4. Confession—what is.

1. 'Confession' must be construed as meaning the same in S. 30 as in Ss. 24, 25 and 26. 7 A. 646.
2. Before a statement can be taken into consideration against a fellow prisoner, it must amount to confession on the part of maker with respect to the offence with which all are charged. (1873) 19 W. R. 16 Cr., 10 B. H. C. R. 497, 2 A. 444, 2 A. 646, 6 B. 288, 1928 C. 416=109 I. C. 351.
3. If the inherent quality of the statement of the prisoner is not confession, S. 30 does not apply. 10 B. H. C. R. 497.
4. The confessing prisoner must tar himself and the persons he implicates with one and the same brush. 2 A. 444.

5. It is not necessary that confession should amount to distinct confession of the offence charged. 6 B. 288, 31 M. 127.
6. Accused were charged with murder. A confession by one of them implicating himself and others to the extent of an offence under S. 328, 1. P. C., is admissible against all. 72 I. C. 497.
7. Confession by a person under enquiry under S. 476, is a confession. 1924 B. 446.
8. A statement by an accused that he and his co-accused struck the deceased in the right of private defence cannot be taken into consideration against others. 1925 L. 532.
9. In a Dhatura poison case, one of the co-accused stated that his co-accused brought milk and mixed some powder in it, but he did not know what that powder was and that his co-accused gave the milk to the deceased to drink. Held, that the statement is not a confession. 27 P. L. R. 441=28 Cr. L. J. 209=99 I. C. 1009.
10. The confession of a person who says he abetted murder, but withdrew before the actual preparation of murder by his associates cannot be used against them, though they all jointly tried. 10 B. H. C. R. (Cr. C.) 497.

5. Corroboration of.

1. Confession of co-accused must be corroborated in material particulars. 72 I. C. 497, (1873) 19 W. R. 57 Cr., 4 C. 483, 10 B. 231, 8 A. 306, 1 A. 664, 10 B. 231, 5 P. R., 1911, 1931 C. 697, 1930 P. 385, 1929 B. 327, 1929 A. 928, 1928 L. 329, 1929 M. 285, 1929 L. 338=115 I. C. 1, 1928 L. 329=107 I. C. 614, 27 Cr. L. J. 858=1926 A. 603, 25 Cr. L. J. 1041=1924 M. 805, 1921 M. 490, 22 Cr. L. J. 161, 21 Cr. L. J. 79, 20 Cr. L. J. 497, 42 C. 789, 43 B. 739, 38 B. 156.
2. The confession of one accused cannot be said to be corroboration of the confession of another accused as against an accused person who has not confessed at all. 60 I. C. 786=22 Cr. L. J. 290, 38 B. 156, 1933 C. 6, 1932 L. 298, 1932 L. 180, 3 L. 144, 10 B. 319, 1 B. 475, 8 A. 306, 10 C. 970. See 6 L. 415, 11 R. 4, 9 R. 404.
3. Confession of the co-accused may furnish the corroboration of the confession of another accused, as against the latter and vice versa. 38 B. 156, 60 I. C. 768. See 43 B. 739, 120 I. C. 350, See 1930 A. 29, 1929 B. 327, 1928 C. 745=30 Cr. L. J. 586.
4. Verification proceedings do not add any value to approver's evidence or to a confession and cannot be regarded as corroboration. 38 C. 559.
5. Testimony of accomplice is no corroboration as it is not independent. Limited evidence is not made better by being double in quantity. 19 W. R. 57, 4 C. W. N. 129.
6. A second approver does not improve the position of the first. 8 A. 309.
7. Not only there must be corroboration as to the corpus delicti but also as to the identity of all persons concerned. 38 C. 559.

16. Conviction cannot be based on confession of co-accused unless corroborated, although there is no reason to believe that it is untrue. 1935 L. 230=35 Cr. L. J. 1180.
17. If accused had no reasons for falsely naming other men and his story fitted in with facts known and is corroborated sufficiently by material evidence against co-accused, it is a strong piece of evidence against him even if it is retracted. 1932 O. 321, 1927 O. 17=27 Cr. L. J. 1258, 1927 O. 369=106 I. C. 721 and 1929 O. 167=30 Cr. L. J. 360 Rel. on.
18. If the accused in his confession does not implicate himself as fully and substantially as his co-accused, it is not admissible against co-accused. 1932 A. 228=54 A. 350, 2 A. 444, 2 A. 646 and 1881 A. W. N. 20 Foll.
19. A confession recorded by a Magistrate of Native State is admissible under S. 30. 1921 N. 39=23 Cr. L. J. 673.

7. Joint trial.

1. It is not sufficient that co-accused should be tried jointly in fact. They must be legally tried jointly. 22 C. 50 (72).
2. A person who pleads guilty and is thereupon convicted and sentenced, cannot be said to be jointly tried with the other prisoners who pleaded not guilty. 7 M. 102, 23 M. 151, 17 A. 524, 11 B. H. C. R. (U. C.) 146—148.
3. If the plea of guilty is not accepted by Court, the prisoner is still being jointly tried with the rest. 27 M. 151.
4. But if the plea of guilty is accepted, there is no joint trial of the confessing accused with the rest. 23 M. 151, 23 A. 53, 30 A. 340.
5. Persons jointly tried under S. 107, Cr. P. C., in one and the same inquiry cannot be said to be jointly tried within S. 30, Evidence Act. 41 A. 231, 20 Cr. L. J. 201 Cont. 1934 A. 927=152 I. C. 881.
6. A conviction under S. 456, I. P. C., based on the confession of co-accused who was being tried with the accused under S. 411, I. P. C., is unsound. 20 I. C. 136=14 Cr. L. J. 376, 1 C. W. N. 35, 5 C. L. R. 574.
7. A confession by an accused implicating himself and two others in a charge of dacoity is inadmissible against others in a proceeding under S. 110. 49 I. C. 649.
8. Where accused pleaded guilty and declined to call witnesses, the trial was joint trial and his confession could be considered against others. 14 Cr. L. J. 566.
9. An approver cannot be deemed to be jointly tried with the accused. 1921 P. 499.
10. A confession made by accused in an inquiry under S. 476, Cr. P. C., is admissible against others at the trial. 1924 B. 445=26 Cr. L. J. 993.
11. A person selling and another buying a girl for the purpose of prostitution cannot be tried together. 22 C. 164.
12. A confession in a major offence will be admissible in minor offence as well, e.g., murder and hurt. 1921 M. 490=24 Cr. L. J. 385, 54 M. 75=1931 M. 177.
13. Accused were charged with murder or robbery. They implicated each other in murder. The confessions are inadmissible on charge of robbery. 1923 L. 293=26 Cr. L. J. 612.

8. Offence.

1. The word offence includes the abetment or attempt to commit the offence. 1934 A. 927.
2. S. 30 applies to proceedings under S. 110, Cr. P. C. 1934 A. 927.
3. "Same offence" means the identical offence and not the offence of the same kind. 1929 C. 14=115 I. C. 359.

9. Plea of guilty. See Plea of guilty—7.

1. The plea of guilty of one co-accused who is removed from the dock, while the other alone is tried cannot be taken into consideration against the other. 38 C. 446, 58 C. 1214, 30 A. 540, 12 A. L. J. 1239, 13 C. W. N. 552, 22 M. 491, 4 C. 483, 1931 C. 341, 17 A. 524, 7 M. 102, 11 Bom. H. C. 146. See 6 L. 176, 38 M. 302.

Confession by co-accused—(contd.)

2. A confession made by an accused pleading guilty is not admissible against the other accused. 15 P. R. 1911 Cr., 17 A. 524, 15 B. 66, 7 A. 160, 22 A. 445, 23 M. 151. See 14 Cr. L. J. 566 and 23 M. 151.
 3. No sooner an accused pleads guilty, he ceases to be accused who is to be tried. There is no issue between him and the crown. The practice of not accepting a plea of guilty in order to avail the confession under S. 30, Evidence Act, against co-accused is illegal and is an abuse of the process of Court. 58 C. 1214, 30 A. 540, 25 M. 69.
 4. A confession of an accused is not admissible against co-accused under S. 30, if the former is convicted on his plea of guilty. 222 P. L. R. 1915, 5 C. 954, 5 A. 253.
 5. A plea of guilty can be allowed to be withdrawn if the accused was at the time of making it, enfeebled by illness and was undefended. 44 P. W. R. 1914 Cr.=222 P. L. R. 1915.
 6. If the Sessions Judge refuses to accept plea of guilty, the confession will be admissible against others. 1926 A. 318=27 Cr. L. J. 449, 41 C. 57, 23 A. 53, 23 M. 151 Cont., 58 C. 1214=1931 C. 341.
 7. A plea of guilty at the commencement of Sessions trial is not one contemplated by this section. 1934 P. 330.
- 10. Retracted confession. See Confession—15.
1. A retracted confession should carry practically no weight as against a person other than the maker, because it is not made on oath. 28 C. 689, 38 C. 559, 37 C. 375, 1934 P. 586, 35 Cr. L. J. 1290=1934 O. 418, 1932 L. 293=33 Cr. L. J. 251, 8 P. 862=1929 P. 212, 1929 C. 14, 1927 L. 765=28 Cr. L. J. 854, 1927 P. 257=28 Cr. L. J. 497, 1933 R. 320. See 1934 C. 853.
 2. On retracted confession, conviction of the maker is sound even without corroboration. If it is to be used against others it must be corroborated. 29 A. 434, 20 A. 133, 1925 A. 627, 1930 O. 412, 1932 L. 293=33 Cr. L. J. 251, 1925 L. 605=6 L. 415, 5 P. R. 1911 Cr., 30 P. R. 1914 Cr., 1927 P. 257, 28 C. 689, 1925 C. 406 2^d Cr. L. J. 360, 26 P. R. 1916 Cr. See 38 B. 156, 15 B. 66.
 3. As against co-accused a confession which has been retracted at the first opportunity should not be relied upon, unless corroborated by independent testimony. 26 P. R. 1916 Cr., 163 P. L. R. 1915, 5 P. L. R. 1915, 38 B. 156, 1935 O. 354.
 4. A retracted confession of a co-accused under S. 30 is not sufficient for conviction.

Confession by co-accused 1—(concl'd.)

corroboration. But it is a rule of prudence and not of law, 1927 P. 257.

14. A retracted extra-judicial confession can in law be a sufficient basis to support a conviction. 125 I. C. 44-31 Cr. L. J. 753=1929 Sind 253.
15. Confession made 14 days after arrest and retracted cannot be used against co-accused. 1934 L. 718.
11. "Proved" at the Trial—
 1. S. 30 does not refer to statements at the trial but to the statements made before and proved at the trial. 1935 L. 35, 45 A. 323=1923 A. 322=76 I. C. 1025=25 Cr. L. J. 305, 1929 M. 285=118 I. C. 512=30 Cr. L. J. 932, 54 M. 788=1931 M. 820=32 Cr. L. J. 1099 Rel. on. 1933 O. 86=34 Cr. L. J. 124.
 2. There is no provision in S. 342, Cr. P. C., which would seem to allow the statement made by one accused person to be taken into consideration against the other accused in the same trial. 1935 L. 35, 1930 B. 354=54 B. 531=31 Cr. L. J. 1137=127 I. C. 105 Rel. on. 6 L. 176=1925 L. 435=95 I. C. 63 and 1928 L. 880=111 I. C. 387=29 Cr. L. J. 835 Ref.
 3. If the accused is not asked to explain the statement made against him by co-accused, it is inadmissible. 1935 L. 35, 54 B. 531.

12. Self Exculpatory—

1. Self exculpatory statement of the accused should not be considered against the co-accused. 1930 A. 746, 120 I. C. 210, 120 I. C. 81, 16 Cr. L. J. 25, 1926 N. 117.
2. A self exculpatory statement is admissible against the maker of it. 91 I. C. 1002=1926 N. 229.
3. A confession which does not implicate the maker to the same extent as the other accused, is of very little use against the other accused. 8 P. 289=1929 P. 275=30 Cr. L. J. 675, 11 Cr. L. J. 701, 1926 N. 117.
4. The self exculpatory statement of the wife that white substance was administered on the assurance of the paramour, that it would bring about good feeling, did not amount to confession and could not be used against the paramour, as criminal conspiracy was not proved. 14 Cr. L. J. 586=21 I. C. 378, 99 I. C. 1009.
5. A statement by an accused, which suggests an inference of guilt may amount to confession, though he may directly repudiate his participation in crime. It is admissible if sufficient corroboration is forthcoming. 53 I. C. 691.
6. A statement by accused that under threats of death, he was forced to sit outside the door of house where murder was committed and to warn the approach of any body and not to divulge the secret, is not a confession and is not admissible under S. 30. 24 P. R. 1910 Cr.
7. A statement by accused that he and his co-accused struck the accused in the exercise of the right of private defence is inadmissible against others. 1925 L. 532=85 I. C. 371=26 Cr. L. J. 531.

CONFESSION BY INDUCEMENT, ETC.—S. 24, Evidence Act.1. Admissibility with regard to other offence.

An inducement to confess to one crime will not invalidate a confession as to a different crime, unless both are parts of the same transaction. 11 A. 79, 46 A. 236=1924 A. 220=25 Cr. L. J. 956.

2. Advantage to be gained or evil avoided.

1. A mere collateral benefit or boon, like, promise to give prisoner some spirit, or to strike off his handcuffs, or to let him see his wife, is not sufficient inducement to reject confession. Taylor's Evidence. Ss. 880-881.
2. Threat to put accused's womanfolk to trouble is sufficient to exclude confession. 60 I. C. 417=22 Cr. L. J. 225.
3. Threat of excommunication is not sufficient. 4 A. 46.
3. "Appears" to Court, as caused by inducement, etc.—Burden of Proof.
 1. The word 'appear' shows that S. 24 does not require positive proof of improper induce-

Confession by inducement, etc.—(contd.)

- ment to justify the rejection of confession. 25 B. 168, 61 C. 399, 32 B. 111.
2. A confession may be rejected on well-grounded conjecture, there must be something before the Court on which such conjecture can rest. 2 Bom. L. R. 761.
 3. The mere fact that accused was in Police custody does not warrant the presumption that the confession was due to inducement. 95 I. C. 59=27 Cr. L. J. 731=1926 N. 368.
 4. A statement in writing by accused person containing allegations which, whether they are true or not appear to indicate that the statement was not made voluntarily, is inadmissible. 37 C. 735.
 5. The mere fact that a confession is retracted, it does not cast upon the prosecution the duty of proving that it was voluntary. 2 Bom. L. R. 161.
 6. A mere subsequent retraction of a confession, which is duly recorded and certified by a Magistrate, is not enough in all cases to make it appear to have been unlawfully induced. 25 Bom. 168.
 7. Court has discretion to reject or receive confession. 32 B. 126.
 8. A strict proof of inducement is not necessary. When there is a doubt, prosecution must dispel it. 1933 Sind 409, 1929 Sind 245, 68 I. C. 413.
 9. If the doubt about the voluntary nature of confession is not removed by the prosecution, the confession will be rejected. 1930 L. 88=30 Cr. L. J. 1080, 52 C. 67=1925 C. 587, 1924 L. 624.
 10. If Court is in a position to say that the confession appears to have been illegally obtained, it will be rejected. 1934 C. 636, 52 C. 67, 25 B. 168.
 11. Probability that confession was induced by threat or promise is enough for its exclusion. 1933 A. 31=55 A. 91, 6 A. 509, 52 C. 67, 1925 A. 627=26 Cr. L. J. 1431.
 12. Voluntary confession in serious offences is rare. 55 A. 91, 6 A. 509.
 13. Any thing ranging from the barest suspicion to positive evidence, is sufficient to exclude the confession. 52 C. 67=1925 C. 587, 1925 A. 627=26 Cr. L. J. 1431.
 14. It is idle to expect accused to prove inducement, threat or promise. 52 C. 67, 1925 A. 627=96 Cr. L. J. 1431.
 15. Well-grounded conjecture, reasonably based on circumstances is sufficient to exclude confession under S. 24. 61 C. 399=1934 C. 636; 52 C. 67.
 16. Mere surmise or conjecture is not sufficient to reject confession under S. 24. 6 L. 415=1925 L. 605, 1927 O. 17, 1934 L. 417.
 17. Court can consider other grounds, even if allegations of accused regarding ill-treatment is false. 1933 C. 747=146 I. C. 186.
 18. Reported decisions help little on this question of onus. 52 C. 67.
 19. Court has to determine the sufficiency of inducement. 1932 Sind 64, 52 C. 67.
 20. Where the lower Court has rightly or wrongly excluded a confession, it cannot be taken into consideration. 126 I. C. 53=1930 Sind 168.
 21. A confession by each of the co-accused throwing entire burden on the other is inadmissible as against the latter. 1935 L. 35; 1923 L. 293=85 I. C. 836=26 Cr. L. J. 612, 1925 L. 371=86 I. C. 347=26 Cr. L. J. 763, 1925 L. 532=85 I. C. 371=26 Cr. L. J. 531 and 1926 N. 117=90 I. C. 385=26 Cr. L. J. 1537 Rel. on.
4. By Approver.
1. The hope of being made an approver does not show that confession is not voluntary. 5 P. 171=1926 P. 279=96 I. C. 509=27 Cr. L. J. 957.
 2. An approver's disclosure is in its very nature always the result of inducement or promise of pardon. If it appears that it was extorted as the result of undue duress S. 24 would apply and the confession will be excluded. 9 L. 608=1928 L. 320, 1933 L. 910.
 3. Accused made a confession in which he implicated three persons in an offence of murder. He was made approver and the three men were subsequently acquitted. He was tried for murder. Held, that the confession made by accused in the first murder trial was inadmissible under S. 24, Evidence Act. 59 I. C. 324.

4. Previous statement of approver to Police is inadmissible against the accused. 35 M. 397, 35 M. 247.

5. Confession in Police custody.—Threat.

1. The mere fact that a person is in Police custody, is not a good basis for the presumption that any confession he makes is caused by inducement, threat or promise. 1926 N. 368=95 I. C. 59=27 Cr. L. J. 731.
2. Statements of accused in Excise case, in custody and after their removal to Excise barracks, were held inadmissible. 53 C. 706=1926 C. 1163=27 Cr. L. J. 1329.
3. Confession obtained after illegal detention by Police must be regarded with gravest suspicion. 7 W. R. 3 Cr. (1867), 21 C. 642.
4. Confessions in this country are often obtained by undue influence, especially by the Police. 5 W. R. Cr. 6, 24 W. R. 80 Cr., 9 A. 528, 15 B. 452.
5. The reports show that many confessions are induced by improper means and that innocent people often accuse themselves falsely is known to the reader of any book on evidence. 15 Bom. 452, 52 C. 67.
6. Where confession is made after Police custody after several days and protracted consultation between the accused and the investigating officer and subsequently retracted; it is inadmissible. 23 C. W. N. 886.
7. Statements made to Police while in custody are not admissible in evidence, though those statements are incriminating. 18 Cr. L. J. 106, 24 I. C. 845.
8. Where the confession was made after Police custody for several days and protracted consultation between the accused and the investigating officers and was subsequently retracted, the confession is inadmissible. 23 C. W. N. 886=53 I. C. 929.
9. A confession made by an accused person, after he has been for a considerable time in Police custody and was subsequently retracted the confession ought not to be acted upon without corroboration. 54 I. C. 881.
10. A confession while in Police custody is of little value. 10 P. R. 1914 Cr.
11. The character and duration of Police custody must be considered. 1933 C. 747=146 I. C. 186, 1932 Sind 64, 1927 P. 429, 52 C. 67, 25 B. 543, 53 I. C. 929.
12. When the period of Police custody was absolutely short, the confession could not be said to be caused by inducement, etc. 1933 C. 747, 52 C. 67, 1926 N. 368=27 Cr. L. J. 731.
13. Whether accused expects to be transferred to Police custody after making confession, 1925 A. 627=26 Cr. L. J. 1431.

6. Effect of Inducement—Its Removal.—S. 28, Evidence Act.

1. Where once there was inducement, however slight, no confession ought to be admitted until it was proved that the effect of such inducement had been entirely removed. III Russel on Crimes P. 378. Sherrington's Case 2 Lew 123, Reg v. Hewett, C. and M. Cr. C. 534. Ref. to 9 Bom. H. C. (Cr. C.) 358.
2. S. 28 does not apply if the warning conveyed by Magistrate did not remove the impression caused by inducement. 1933 A. 31=55 A. 91.
3. There is a presumption of continuance of inducement. 50 C. 127=1923 C. 458.
4. It is a continuing offer, the thread of which continues unbroken, unless it is accepted by confession, which completes the bargain, unless there is some circumstance which breaks it. 1925 A. 606=26 Cr. L. J. 937.
5. A Railway Auditor finding certain defalcations told the accused he had better pay than go to jail, whereupon he confessed before Traffic Manager. Held, that impression had not been removed in such a short time. 9 B. H. C. 358, but after the lapse of long time it is admissible. 1936 R. 455.

7. Inducement.

1. A statement is inadmissible under S. 24 if the Court considers to have been made in consequence of "any inducement, threat or promise." 11 B. H. C. R.

Confession by inducement, etc.—(contd.)

137, 1929 Sind 245.

2. The relevancy of the confession is to be determined by the Judge and not the jury. 9 H. H. C. R. 354.
3. Accused made a confession to a witness, Judge thinking that he made it under belief that it would be to his advantage. Held, that it should not be rejected. 1929 M. 92.
4. Whether any threat or inducement was offered or not in a particular case is a question of fact and has to be decided with reference to circumstances of that case. 8 P. 289 = 1929 P. 275 = 30 Cr. L. J. 675 = 116 L. C. 770.
5. Where Manager of a company said to the accused who had committed the offence of embezzlement and falsification of account, to make a clean breast of it for it would be to his interest, and insisted on getting his confession in writing on the same day. Held, that the Manager did hold out a sort of inducement and threat to accused. 1932 Sind 64 = 33 Cr. L. J. 650.
6. Where a village Panch told the accused that truth has come out and the villagers were being worried about the affair and he had better say what he knew and the accused thereupon made a confession. 7. It is immaterial to whom a confession, obtained by undue influence, is made. A confession so tainted is inadmissible even if made to the Sessions Judge or Magistrate. 5 N. W. P. 86, 3 H. 12, 2 A. 260, 10 C. 775.
8. A tainted confession made to any person is irrelevant. It is immaterial whether it be made to the person other than one who held out inducement, threat or promise or to the person who had used undue influence. 10 B. L. R. (App.) 1, 3 B. 12, 5 N. W. P. 86, 2 A. 260, 10 C. 775.
9. A Magistrate acts without discretion, when as prosecutor, he holds out promise to prisoners as an inducement to confess. 1 W. R. 24 Cr. (1804).
10. Court has to consider whether inducement, threat or promise was sufficient to lead accused to believe that he would benefit by making confession. 1932 Sind 64 = 138 L. C. 618 = 33 Cr. L. J. 650.
11. Inducement must have reference to the charge against the accused, that is charge of an offence in the Criminal Court. 4 A. 46.
12. The inducement must be for the purpose of extorting confession of the offence charged. 10 B. L. R. App. 1.
13. It is difficult to lay down any hard and fast rules as to what constitutes inducement, a term which of course includes torture. 11 Bom. H. C. R. 137.
14. The fact that a statement was made by an accused under circumstances of hope, fear or otherwise, goes only to minimize its weight. 15 Cr. L. J. 326.
15. The Court has first to determine the sufficiency of inducement, threat or promise, and secondly to clothe itself with the mentality of the accused to see whether the grounds would appear to the accused reasonable for a composition that is mentioned in S. 24 and lastly to see whether the confession appears to have been caused in consequence of the inducement. 6 L. 415, 52 C. 67.
16. Where an accused retracting a confession alleges ill-treatment and inducement by Police, the onus is on him to prove it. 47 L. C. 811.
17. Accused confessed to a Police constable, on being assured by him that nothing would happen to her, that she had killed her unborn child and buried in the enclosure of her house. The statement led to the discovery. Held, that the confession was inadmissible although made to the committing Magistrate as well. 5 N. W. P. H. C. R. 86.
18. Inducement, threat or promise by a person who has no power to inquire into does not make confession inadmissible. 1933 P. 149 = 34 Cr. L. J. 349 = 12 P. 241.
19. Confession under mere hope of pardon cannot be rejected. 1933 L. 388 = 34 Cr. L. J. 598, 1927 P. C. 215 = 8 L. 230 Ref.

1. The examination of an arrested person in hospital by a doctor not for the benefit of the prisoner but by way of second search, without his consent amounts to assault. 1931 C. 601—134 I. C. 1053=35 C. W. N. 1212=54 C. L. J. 499=33 Cr. L. J. 11.
2. Consent to medical examination need not be taken down in writing. 1932 C. 723.
3. In a defamation case based on allegation that a woman has had illicit pregnancy, she cannot be compelled to submit to medical examination against her consent and her refusal to do so is not evidence against herself. 1930 L. 159=31 Cr. L. J. 584.

14. To be use of Police statement. See Statement to Police—5.

15. To waive privilege. See Privilege—14.

16. Unauthorized.

Where a Forest Inspector gave consent to the removal of wood dishonestly, the offence of theft was committed if the consent was unauthorized or fraudulent. 1 B. 610, 1930 R. 114=7 R. 821=122 I. C. 273=31 Cr. L. J. 387.

CONSPIRACY. Ss. 120-A—120-B., 1. P. C., and S. 10, Evidence Act.

1. Abetment.

1. An illegal act or omission in pursuance of conspiracy to commit a specific offence amounts to abetment of conspiracy. 18 P. R. 1879 Cr., 9 P. R. 1880 Cr.
2. An act done to carry out the purpose of conspiracy amounts to abetment. 42 C. 1153, 42 C. 957.
3. Conspiracy is a substantive offence and has nothing to do with abetment. 92 I. C. 462.
4. For abetment of conspiracy no sanction under S. 196-A, Cr. P. C., is necessary. 49 C. 573=1922 C. 107=69 I. C. 145=23 Cr. L. J. 657.
5. If the conspirator is present at the commission of offence, he is guilty of the offence read with S. 114, 1. P. C. 52 C. 253=1925 C. 341=85 I. C. 231.
6. Signature in a note book of Jama Kharch is admissible to prove abetment of conspiracy. 35 I. C. 999.

2. Admissibility of evidence of—, S. 10, Evidence Act.

1. S. 10 renders admissible in cases of conspiracy such evidence which is not otherwise ordinarily admissible under the Indian law. 106 I. C. 721=1927 O. 369.
2. Before anything said, done or written by any one of the alleged members of conspiracy can be used as evidence against another or against all, the Court must be first satisfied that conspiracy between them existed, that is there was an agreement among them to commit an unlawful act. 31 Bom. L. R. 515, 1930 M. W. N. 1264.
3. If a conspirator proposes to another to start a propaganda and a pamphlet for the purpose, the statement would be admissible. 55 B. 839=1932 B. 56.
4. If prima facie evidence of the existence of conspiracy is given and accepted, the evidence of statements made by any of the conspirators in furtherance of common object is admissible against all. 25 Cr. L. J. 1041=1924 M. 805, 17 P. R. 1915 Cr.
5. Admission of an approver that he accepted a sum after the dacoity is not a circumstance incriminating him that he committed dacoity. 88 I. C. 458=1926 C. 374.
6. Connection has to be established with the conspiracy and not with the separate acts of different conspirators. 90 I. C. 706=1926 O. 161=26 Cr. L. J. 1602.
7. A Jail warder was tried under S. 222, 1. P. C., for aiding to escape from jail. He procured saw blades and loosened the rivets of the gates. Previously he was seen conversing with them. A constable was called as witness who deposed that a convict asked his fellow convict to give Rs. 100 to the accused. Held, that his

Conspiracy—(contd.)

- evidence was admissible under S. 10. 1929 L. 631=30 Cr. L. J. 1109.
8. Evidence showing that accused ran excise and gambling dens, before existence of conspiracy charged was held admissible. 46 C. 710.
 9. Possession of seditious literature by one accused is evidence against others. 46 C. 215.
 10. Accused can insist that first evidence should be let in that accused conspired together before acts or words by one can be admitted against others. 42 C. 957.
 1. Confession of co-accused can be taken against others under S. 10. 38 C. 169, 106 I. C. 721=1926 M. 135.

Association with accused. See Accused—2.

1. Evidence of association to be of any value should suggest something suspicious. Casual meeting or conversation in public place or park is not sufficient. 1935 A. 162=1935 Cr. C. 214.
2. Mere association of a person with a conspirator is not sufficient to show that the former was in conspiracy with the latter. 83 I. C. 513=26 Cr. L. J. 33.
3. Former associations of an accused person must be construed in the light of subsequent actions. 1934 C. 221=147 I. C. 32.

Burden of Proof—

Where incriminating articles are found in a house and the circumstances suggest implication of all the inmates, the burden is on the inmates to prove their innocence. 1928 C. 27=106 I. C. 545=46 C. L. J. 368=29 Cr. L. J. 49.

Charge.

1. Charge of criminal conspiracy within limits of a determined area (e. g., a village) is not too vague. 18 P. R. 1879, 9 P. R. 1880.
2. In a conspiracy case the accused can be charged with persons unknown but if they are charged with known persons, they must be named in the charge, otherwise the charge would fail. 15 C. W. N. 98=8 I. C. 1059.
3. Indictment for conspiracy must contain a statement of facts as constituting the offence in ordinary and concise language. 42 C. 957, 16 I. C. 257, 13 Cr. L. J. 609.
4. When offence is committed in pursuance of conspiracy, the conviction should be for abetment of conspiracy and not for criminal conspiracy. 42 C. 1153, 42 C. 957.
5. Omission to specify in the charge the persons who were parties to the conspiracy is an irregularity curable by S. 537, Cr. P.C. 101 I. C. 458=1927 S. 161=28 Cr. L. J. 426.
6. A charge is not bad if it specifies no date or names of persons against whom accused agreed to commit offence. 17 P. R. 1915 Cr.
7. Recital of specific offences committed in pursuance of conspiracy are at most a surplusage and may be ignored. 1930 Sind 164=1930 Cr. C. 649=31 Cr. L. J. 949.
8. In a case of conspiracy to get firearms, it is not necessary to specify in the charge, that accused conspired to possess any particular firearms. 1927 C. 265, 42 C. 957.
9. It is sufficient to include in the charge, the agreement arrived at between the conspirators. 90 I. C. 706=1926 O. 161=26 Cr. L. J. 1602.
10. Where accused is charged with conspiracy and acts of cheating in pursuance of conspiracy, the charge is not bad. 26 C. W. N. 680, 27 C. W. N. 821.
11. Where the prisoner is charged with having conspired with the specified persons and the latter are acquitted, the prisoner must also be acquitted. 101 I. C. 451=25 Cr. L. J. 449, 1926 C. 345=27 Cr. L. J. 147.
12. Where the charge is that the prisoner entered into conspiracy with certain unknown persons, the prisoner may be convicted alone. 41 C. 754.
13. Only an approximate date of conspiracy may be entered in the charge. 1934 Sind 57.
14. Acts committed by conspirators whether amounting to offences or not may be enumerated in the charge. 1934 Sind 57=151 I. C. 494.

Cipher Code.

1. In a trial of sedition a cipher code was put in evidence, which by grouping in a particular form, had a revolutionary significance and names of conspirators could be deciphered. Held, it was admissible in evidence under S. 10. Evidence Act. 1929 P. 145=116 I. C. 736=30 Cr. L. J. 646.

2. A cipher code of a revolutionary significance is good evidence that persons named therein have conspired to commit an offence. Such a cipher code is substantive evidence of conspiracy. 1925 O. 161=26 Cr. L. J. 1602.

7. Complaint and sanction. S. 195-A., Cr. P. C.

1. S. 195-A., Cr. P. C., applies only to a prosecution for conspiracy punishable under S. 120-B., I. P. C., and not for abetment of conspiracy punishable under S. 109, I. P. C. 3 R. 95=89 I. C. 305=1925 R. 295, 49 C. 573=26 Cr. L. J. 1329.
2. The proviso to S. 195-A., lays down that a sanction for criminal conspiracy to commit non-cognizable offences is not necessary where Court makes a complaint, e. g., for forged documents. 1924 C. 53=50 C. 461=24 Cr. L. J. 949.

Conspiracy—(contd.)

- tors later are equally guilty. 92 I. C. 419=27 Cr. L. J. 243=1926 Sind 171.
6. The offence of conspiracy is complete when two or more persons agreed to do something. It is not necessary that something should be done. 31 Bom. L. R. 515.
 7. When out of two persons charged with conspiracy one is acquitted, the other should be acquitted. 1927 C. 949=23 Cr. L. J. 449, 101 I. C. 481, 1926 C. 345=91 I. C. 883, 1924 C. 809=81 I. C. 821, 14 A. L. J. 680, 17 P. R. 1905 Cr.
 8. It is optional for the crown to proceed for abetment of the offence committed in pursuance of conspiracy or of the offence of conspiracy. 92 I. C. 419=1926 S. 171.
 9. The offence of conspiracy is complete, although means are not settled or resolved at the time of conspiracy. 101 I. C. 458=1927 Sind 161=28 Cr. L. J. 426.
 10. Actual agreement need not be proved. An overt act raises a presumption of an agreement and knowledge of conspiracy. 1926 O. 161=26 Cr. L. J. 1602.
 11. Where incriminating articles are found in a house and the circumstances suggest implication of all the inmates, it is for the inmates to prove their innocence. 1928 C. 27=106 I. C. 545=46 Cr. L. J. 368.
 12. Picketing may be an offence, where agreement to stop sale of intoxicants in a bazaar, constituting criminal conspiracy, is arrived at. 1924 A. 233=92 I. C. 145.
 13. Conspiracy may be proved by circumstantial evidence. 28 Cr. L. J. 421=101 I. C. 453=1923 S. 73, 42 C. 957, 1926 S. 171, 42 C. 1153, 37 C. 467, 1927 S. 161=101 I. C. 458, 17 P. R. 1915 Cr., 1930 C. 14=115 I. C. 359.
 14. Merely that a person is an associate of a conspirator is not sufficient to convict him, nor that he is trying to extricate himself from being accused is sufficient. 129 I. C. 619=1930 C. 647=1930 Cr. C. 1069.
 15. In a case of conspiracy there is a large mass of evidence, which taken separately may not be relevant against every accused but taken in conjunction with other evidence may establish conspiracy. 53 Bom. 479=1929 Bom. 296.
 16. One S. kept a bomb, pistol and cotton wool for some three months and gave it to G. for safe custody, which were discovered at G's place. Held the moment these things were made over by S. to G. there was an agreement to keep them to endanger life and for the intent mentioned in S. 4 (b) Explosive Act and hence charge under S. 120-B, Penal Code, was proved. 1929 C. 14=30 Cr. L. J. 475.
 17. Conspiracy consists simply in the agreement or confederacy to do some act, no matter whether it is done or not. 42 C. 957, 14 A. L. J. 688, 1927 C. 265, 37 C. 467.
 18. The overt act in a case of conspiracy consists in the agreement of the parties to do an unlawful act or to do a lawful act by unlawful means. 31 C. W. N. 239=1927 C. 265, 16 C. W. N. 1105, 1933 A. 690=34 Cr. L. J. 967.
 19. Before evidence is let in under S. 10, Evidence Act, the defence is entitled to insist upon proof of reasonable ground for belief that the persons named in the charge have conspired together. 42 C. 957.
 20. A cipher code of revolutionary significance is good evidence that persons named therein have conspired to commit an offence. Such a cipher code is substantive evidence of conspiracy. 1926 O. 161=27 Cr. L. J. 243, 30 Cr. L. J. 646.
 21. Two persons took a house in which a considerable number of pieces of firearms were found with tools and implements and work had been done to some parts of the firearms. Court ought to infer a conspiracy to manufacture arms. 42 C. 1153.
 22. The testimony of persons who have been members of a criminal conspiracy or else have joined it for betraying its secrets must be very carefully scrutinized and much weight cannot be attached to it unless corroborated by other circumstances. 16 C. W. N. 1105=15 C. L. J. 517=13 Cr. L. J. 609.
 23. In a conspiracy corroboration of approver by independent evidence is necessary. 1935 A. 162.
 24. Prosecution must prove agreement between two or more persons to do or cause to do illegal act. If the agreement is other than one to commit an offence, prosecution must prove some overt act in pursuance of agreement. But if agreement is to do offence, no overt act need be proved. 1935 A. 162=1935 Cr. C. 214.

Conspiracy—(contd.)

25. Mere evidence of association is not sufficient for an inference of conspiracy. 1935 C. 580=39 C. W. N. 188.
 26. That immediately after occurrence accused was anxious to escape observation and was doing his best to conceal his presence is not enough to infer complicity. 1930 C. 647=129 I. C. 619.
 27. Generally the law does not take notice of mere intention to commit an offence. In a prosecution for conspiracy to commit an offence, the overt act is the agreement itself. 1933 A. 690=34 Cr. L. J. 967=145 I. C. 481, 1927 C. 265, 42 C. 957.
 28. A conspiracy may be proved by antecedent or subsequent conduct of accused. 1926 Sind 171=27 Cr. L. J. 243, 9 Bom. L. R. 347, 5 Cr. L. J. 323.
 29. Proof of one offence of robbery or dacoity does not prove conspiracy to commit robbery. 1934 O. 106, 1928 O. 507 Expl.
 30. One conspirator need not be aware of all acts of his fellow conspirators. 1934 Sind 57=151 J. C. 494.
 31. Letters of conspirators were intercepted. Copies of such letters are admissible though addresses are not called to produce originals. 1933 A. 498.
 32. A document was found with a conspirator. Its writer was unknown. It is not admissible against other conspirators. 1933 A. 690.
9. For waging war. See Waging war—4.
10. Jurisdiction.
1. If a conspiracy is entered into in a District A and acts are committed in pursuance of that conspiracy in District B, the Magistrate of District A can try the conspiracy but cannot try the accused in the same trial for acts committed outside his district. The mere fact that the offences could have been jointly tried under S. 239 if committed within his jurisdiction, will not give him jurisdiction. 1924 G. 1034=83 I. C. 911=28 C. W. N. 975=26 Cr. L. J. 207.
 2. The offence of attempt to murder a person in District R in pursuance of conspiracy entered in District M can be inquired into and tried in either of the two Districts. 24 P. R. 1917 Cr.
 3. Conspiracy to cheat out of British India is not triable in British India. 1933 S. 333.
 4. If the inquiry into one conspiracy discloses another conspiracy and accused in subsequent conspiracy are not being accused in the former, the former court need not try the case of those accused itself. 1935 P. 91=154 I. C. 387=36 Cr. L. J. 500, 1933 P. 244 Dist.
 5. There was correspondence to and from Cawnpore which was the centre of conspiracy. Cawnpore courts had jurisdiction. 1933 A. 493.

Conspiracy—(contd.)

- 1934 Sind 57, 49 C. 573=1922 C. 107.

12. Pamphlets issued by conspirators.

If a conspirator proposes to another to start propaganda and issue pamphlet for the purpose, the pamphlet will be admissible as having reference to the conspiracy, though it may contain a narrative of the past. 55 Bom. 839 Bom. 56.

13. Revision.

A finding by the lower Court that there did exist a general conspiracy is a finding which cannot be challenged before the High Court in revision. 1935 C. 316.

14. Sanction. S. 196-A, Cr. P. C.

1. S. 196-A applies to prosecution for conspiracies under S. 120-B, I. P. C. 49 C.
2. A sanction for prosecution for a substantive offence comes one for all. 30 C. 905.
3. The offence under S. 420, I. P. C., is punishable with more than two years; sanction under this section is necessary for a charge under Ss. 420-120-B. cannot compel the prosecution to get charges framed which require sanction. P. 91=154 I. C. 387=36 Cr. L. J. 500, 49 C. 573=1922 C. 107.
4. Where the object of the conspiracy is to commit offences punishable with imprisonment for more than two years, no sanction is necessary. 1935 P. 357=36 Cr. 856, 1934 A. 61.
5. S. 196-A prohibits entertaining of complaint of conspiracy but not complaint of principal offence committed by a co-conspirator. 1934 Sind 4=35 Cr. L. J. 81

15. Sentence.

1. If the offence in pursuance of conspiracy is not committed, the punishment governed by S. 116, I. P. C. 42 C. 1153, 17 P. R. 1915 Cr.
2. The offence of conspiracy is a separate offence from the offence of participation in particular dacoity or dishonest receiving of stolen property. Separate sentences may be awarded to run consecutively for participation in separate dacoities and to can be added a consecutive sentence of participation in conspiracy. 1928 O. 50
3. For a conspiracy to manufacture arms, the sentence should be under S. 120-B with S. 19 (a), Arms Act and S. 116, I. P. C., and the maximum term of imprisonment which can be awarded under these sections is nine months' rigorous imprisonment. 42 C. 1153=19 C. W. N. 706, 17 P. R. 1915 Cr.

16. Similar acts of—

Evidence of similar acts may be received to prove party's knowledge or intention. other acts must be of specific kind as to one in question and not of different kind and approximate in point of time to that in question. 42 C. 957.

17. Things said or done by conspirator—confession, etc. S. 10, Evidence Act.

1. In order that acts, statements or writings of a conspirator may be given in evidence against the prisoner, it is necessary to show that there are reasonable grounds to believe that the prisoner and the persons whose acts, statements or writings intended to be proved, were members of conspiracy. 1933 A. 690=145 I. C. 434 Cr. L. J. 967, 1929 P. 145=116 I. C. 756, 17 P. R. 1915 Cr., 1932 C. 557 Cr. L. J. 456, 30 C. 983, 14 Cr. L. J. 586=21 I. C. 378, 31 Bom. L. R. 515.
2. Strict proof of conspiracy is not necessary. 17 P. R. 1915 Cr.

CONTEMPT OF COURT. S. 228, I. P. C., S. 480, Cr. P. C.

1 Apology. See Apology.

1. The mere fact that an apology has been tendered by the accused is not sufficient reason to secure for him impunity from punishment in a serious and grave contempt case. 6 L. 528=1926 L. 1=89 I. C. 833=26 Cr. L. J. 1409.
2. Too much notice should not be taken if a rustic litigant uses hasty language without serious intention of insulting the Court. If apology is offered, he should be let off with admonition or a petty fine. 23 P. W. R. 1912 Cr.
3. When the Pleader gave the assurance that the objectionable words had no reference to the Court, it was sufficient and fine should be remitted. 11 A. L. J. 955.

2. Contempt. What amounts to—.

A. In Court.

1. An application for transfer of a case from a particular Court on the ground of probable miscarriage of justice is not a contempt of that Court. 34 P. R. 1869, 46 Bom. 973 (1976), 38 A. 284.
2. Even if accused uses unhappy remarks concerning the Magistrate in the transfer application, it is not contempt of Court. 38 A. 284.
3. Walking with creaking shoes near the Court Room does not ipso facto lead to the conclusion that the accused intended to insult or interrupt the Court in its work. 5 M. L. T. 286.

Contempt of Court—(contd.)

4. Perjurication by a witness may, though it does not necessarily amount to contempt of Court. 10 B. H. C. R. 69, Cont. 4 B. H. C. (Cr. C.) 7.
5. Where a witness refuses to answer the question put to him in his examination unless an application made by him for stay of proceedings be granted, it is a contempt of Court. 14 P. R. 1918 Cr.
6. An accused making an impertinent threat to a witness in the witness box is guilty of contempt. 1923 A. 193 (2)=74 I. C. 260=45 A. 272.
7. If a Pleader persists in putting vexatious or irrelevant questions to a witness after warning, it may amount to contempt. 44 P. R. 1867.
8. But every little insistence on the part of Pleader in the conduct of his case, should not be turned into an occasion for a criminal trial, unless the Pleader's conduct is so vexatious as to lead to an inference that his intention is to interrupt or insult the Court. 6 Bom. L. R. 541, 10 C. W. N. 1062.
9. A trivial incident such as laugh or hesitation in speaking is not a contempt. 4 M. H. C. R. 146.
10. Courts should not be unduly sensitive about their dignity and a mere audible remark by the accused which interrupted the proceedings of a Court is not a contempt. 29 M. L. J. 274.
11. An accused who in the course of his statement under S. 342 calls the Judge a "prejudiced Judge" and being called upon to withdraw the remark, refuses to do so, is guilty of contempt. 46 Bom. 973=1922 Bom. 261=23 Cr. L. J. 325.

7. A conviction must stand or fall on the strength of prosecution and not on the weakness of defence. 51 C. 418=1924 C. 323=38 C. L. J. 397=25 Cr. L. J. 776, L. 232=87 I. C. 101=26 Cr. L. J. 949.
8. When some of the accused are acquitted, the others cannot be convicted on evidence which is common to all. 1921 P. 406=2 P. L. T. 757.
9. Unless there is satisfactory evidence in the eye of law no conviction can stand. 1921 P. 406.
10. Conviction solely on the evidence of expert is unsound. 1925 O. 413=86 I. C. 993=26 Cr. L. J. 929.
11. When the First Information Report is conflicting with the evidence in Court, conviction on the report is improper. 1924 A. 164=74 I. C. 716=24 Cr. L. J. 812.
12. Conviction cannot be based on recovery of stolen property from accused's house unless the identity of stolen property is completely established. 1921 P. 499.
13. Conviction on mere pointing out places where stolen property is recovered is bad.

Conviction—(concl'd.)

1930 L. 91=125 I. C. 131=31 Cr. L. J. 774.

14. Mere association of a person with accused is insufficient to base conviction. 27 P. L. R. 441=28 Cr. L. J. 209=99 I. C. 1009.
15. Conviction on statement of accused only is not valid. 1933 O. 226=34 Cr. L. J. 935, 22 A. 449 and 1929 A. 1 Foll.
16. When there are number of facts which lead one to suspect that real truth has not been placed before the Court and the story of accused is not inconsistent with truth he should not be convicted. 1935 C. 304.
3. For offence not mentioned in the complaint.

Where the attention of the accused is not directed by the complaint to an offence he cannot be convicted of that offence. 1935 Sind 91=1935 Cr. C. 377.

4. Of some accused set aside—effect on others.

In a trial the Magistrate took action against one of the accused under S. 562, Cr. P. C. and sentenced others to imprisonment. The conviction was set aside as being illegal and there was no mention of the accused convicted under S. 562. Held, that the conviction of accused under S. 562 is not automatically set aside. 1931 L. 199=131 I. C. 373=39 Cr. L. J. 731.

5. Under General or Special Act. See Local and Special Law.

 1. An accused is entitled to copies of all documents for which he applies and the Magistrate will be acting contrary to law in determining whether such copies are necessary or not. 14 W. R. 77.
 2. It is for the litigant and not for the Magistrate to decide what copies he should have in order to move the superior Court and the Magistrate has no jurisdiction to thrust upon the party copies which he does not want and to make him pay for it. 6 L. 396=1925 L. 361=86 I. C. 709=26 Cr. L. J. 853.
 3. When a party applies for a copy of a particular order the Magistrate cannot force him to pay for and take copies of other orders also. 6 L. 396.
 4. Accused is not entitled to a copy of the information which leads to action under S. 107, Cr. P. C., which is often of the most varied kind and of a confidential nature. It does not form part of the record. 1930 M. 975=1930 M. W. N. 1100.
 5. Refusing to grant a copy by a Magistrate under S. 165 (5), Cr. P. C., to a person whose house had been searched is illegal and can be revised by High Court. 1923

COPY-RIGHT ACT, III OF 1914.

1. General.

1. A Court should be reluctant to sit as an expert to decide the question of infringement of Copy-Right without the aid of expert evidence. 1924 C. 595=81 I. C. 754.
2. The word "original" is not confined to new ideas but to their expressions. 1924 P. C. 75=83 I. C. 101=48 B. 308.
3. Merely selecting passages and knitting them together does not constitute abridgements. Original works are open for consultation for all. The use of another's labour and skill only is prohibited. 48 B. 308=83 I. C. 101=1924 P. C. 75.

2. Jurisdiction.

The offence of infringement of Copy-Right is complete as soon as the book infringing the copy right is printed. The offence is triable at the place where the infringing book is printed. 28 P. R. 1916 Cr.

S. 7.

1. 'A Copy-Right' has been defined as that which comes so near the original as to suggest the original to the mind of the spectator. 1928 C. 359=112 I. C. 784.
2. In deciding whether there is an infringement of Copy-Right in pictures, the question is whether the appending pictures are copies of substantial portions of the Copy-Right pictures. Small alterations in figures, clothes and colours are immaterial. 1928 C. 359=112 I. C. 784=33 C. W. N. 179.
3. Mere similarity is not enough to prove infringement of Copy-Right. 1931 C. 233.
4. The law reporter has no Copy-Right in the reports of judgments but he has protection of law in selecting and reporting cases which he obtains by expenditure of time, labour and money. 26 I. C. 30=18 C. W. N. 1078.
5. A person who made a translation of a book is entitled to Copy-Right in it as if it were an original. 30 I. C. 480.

CORONER'S ACT (IV OF 1871).

S. 19.

1. A statement of a person on oath in the course of an inquest by the Coroner cannot be used against him during his trial. 50 B. 56=1926 B. 144=93 I. C. 225.
2. The statement made by an accused—a suspect—on oath before a Coroner in inquest proceedings after warning given to him by the Coroner, that he is not bound to make a statement, is admissible, against him at the trial. 107 I. C. 272=29 Cr. L. 7. 22, 50 B. 111=1926 B. 151=27 Cr. L. J. 466=93 I. C. 690.

S. 20.

There is no provision of law which renders a statement made voluntarily by accused "a suspect" before a Coroner inadmissible against the accused on his trial for an offence. 1923 B. 52=110 I. C. 107=30 B. L. R. 84=29 Cr. L. J. 651.

Coroner's Act (IV of 1871)—(concl'd.)

S. 29.

2. The fact that the accused who have been refused an opportunity to engage a counsel, were asked if they wished to cross-examine and they answered that they did not wish to do so is not sufficient to refuse counsel an opportunity of cross-examination. 47 A. 147=1925 A. 285=26 Cr. L. J. 575.

3. A person against whom no process is issued, has no right to be defended by Pleader. 38 C. 880, 8 Cr. L. J. 20.

4. Accused has right to be defended by Pleader. If it is denied retrial will be ordered. 27 C. 656, 47 A. 147, 9 P. R. 1877.

5. It is necessary that notice of date of hearing should be given to accused, for otherwise right to be defended by Pleader cannot be exercised. 25 A. 375.

6. Full opportunity should be given to accused to get proper legal advice and assistance before he is called upon to cross-examine prosecution witnesses. 16 Cr. L. J. 786.

7. If the accused had no sufficient opportunity to engage a Pleader, Court should take down Examination-in-chief and adjourn the case for cross-examination. 47 A. 147, 17 Cr. L. J. 278. COUNTER OR CROSS CASES—See Adjournment (Pending Civil suits.)

1. The simultaneous trial of two cases before two different Courts over one and the same occurrence is undesirable. They should be tried by one Magistrate one after the other. 1923 C. 644=75 I. C. 364=24 Cr. L. J. 940.
2. The simultaneous but separate trials of two cross cases of rioting is not bad unless if the accused are prejudiced. 1925 P. 152=81 I. C. 794, 1925 P. 619=88 I. C. 603.
3. Proceedings in one of the two counter cases of rioting arising out of the same occurrence cannot be stayed merely because the prosecution witnesses in one case are accused in the other. 1924 C. 529 (1)=71 I. C. 697=24 Cr. L. J. 233.
4. Cases and counter cases should be tried in quick succession by the same Judge, who should not pronounce judgment till both cases are finished. 1930 M. 190=123 I. C. 10=31 Cr. L. J. 461, 112 I. C. 563=29 Cr. L. J. 1059, 1936 L. 356.
5. In a trial of cross cases of rioting, after some witnesses were examined against the petitioner, he prayed that the case in which he was complainant should be adjourned till the disposal of the case against him. Held, that the case against this petitioner should be disposed of first, since it is not fair to force a person in the position of the accused to throw himself open to cross examination by the other side. 1925 C. 1260=90 I. C. 719=26 Cr. L. J. 1615=42 C. L. J. 83.
6. Evidence in one case should not be considered in the counter case. 1924 C. 813=81 I. C. 557, 1928 L. 380=107 I. C. 766=29 Cr. L. J. 282=10 L. L. J. 389.
7. Postponement of a cross complaint owing to a Police challan is not justified under S. 344, Cr. P. C. Simultaneous trial is the proper course and judgment should be delivered when both the cases are finished. 1924 C. 634=26 Cr. L. J. 65.
8. Where two counter petitions were filed before a Magistrate who sent them under S. 202 for enquiry and on receipt of report, issued summons in one case and directed the other to be put up after the disposal of the other. The High Court declined to interfere with the discretion of the Magistrate. 1922 P. 618=71 I. C. 248=24 Cr. L. J. 120, 1929 C. 281=31 Cr. L. J. 262.
9. No absolute rule of law can be laid down, as to which of the two counter complaints should proceed first or whether both should proceed simultaneously. It all depends on the circumstances in a particular case. 1929 C. 281=121 I. C. 414=31 Cr. L. J. 262, 1925 C. 1260=26 Cr. L. J. 1615.
10. Trying two cross cases before the same jurors is illegal. 32 Cr. L. J. 1233 (1)=1931 C. 709, 134 I. C. 896=54 C. L. J. 146.
11. A Court cannot take one case on file and dismiss the other in whole or in part but must keep his hands free and not commit himself to a decision one way or the other. 1931 M. W. N. 1316.

Counter or cross cases—(concl'd.)

12. The Magistrate used prosecution evidence in one case as defence evidence in the cross complaint. Held, that the trial was illegal. 17 Bom. L. R. 490=29 I. C. 666.
13. In party faction cases, members of one faction can give evidence against other. But they cannot be compelled, on the ground of implicating himself. 1 N. W. P. 293.
14. Where in joint trial of two cross cases the prosecution evidence in one was taken as the defence evidence in the other with the consent of parties there is an irregularity which is curable if no prejudice is caused to the accused. 1935 A. 647=155 I. C. 541=36 Cr. L. J. 763, 50 A. 457=1928 A. 593=30 Cr. L. J. 337, 8 L. 193=1927 P. C. 26=100 I. C. 126=28 Cr. L. J. 254 and 20 C. 537 Rel. on. 4 L. 376=1924 L. 104=25 Cr. L. J. 68 Diss. from.
15. There is no better criterion of truth, no safe rule for investigating cases of conflicting evidence, where perjury and fraud must exist on one side or the other, than to consider what facts are beyond dispute and to examine which of the two cases best accords with those facts according to the ordinary course of human affairs and the usual habits of life. 1 Moo. I. A. 19=5 W. R. P. C. 26-29. See Field's Law of Evidence in Br. India, 8th Ed., P. xlvii.
16. Two cross cases were heard by one argument and one judgment was delivered. It was held that the trial though irregular, did not cause prejudice. 1935 C. 548=157 I. C. 1042, 20 C. 537 Rel. on.
17. A prosecuted B for adultery; B prosecuted A for defamation calling B an adulterer. Held, adultery case should be stayed till decision in former case being inter-dependent cases. 1933 Sind 254=34 Cr. L. J. 891.
18. In cross cases a Court has no right to consider at all the evidence given in one case for the purpose of reaching his conclusion in the other. The two cases should be tried separately and determined on evidence recorded in each. 50 A. 457=1928 A. 593, 1924 C. 813, 26 P. R. 1900, 1928 L. 380, 4 L. 376, 56 M. 159=1933 M. 367.
19. Examining as witnesses in one case accused in the other case is irregular procedure. 14 C. 358, 17 Cr. L. J. 503.

COUNTERFEITING COIN. Ss. 231 to 240, I. P. C.

Coin—Definition of. S. 230.

1. Coins of the time of Akbar or of Shah Jahan are not coins as they are not used for the time being as money. 11 B. H. C. 172, 29 A. 141.
2. Murshidabad rupees stand on the same footing as Farukhabad rupees. 28 A. 62, 1903 A. W. N. 115, 1 P. R. 1903 Cr.
3. The mere fact that a coin is being used as ornament by soldering a ring to it does not transform it into a new article. 48 A. 603=1926 A. 321=27 Cr. L. J. 426.

Counterfeiting coin. Ss. 231-232.

Essentials.

1. To constitute the offence, a counterfeit coin need not be made with primary intention of its being passed as genuine. It is sufficient if the resemblance is so close as to be passed as genuine. 30 A. 93, 4 P. L. J. 525. See 26 P. R. 1868, 9 P. R. 1884 Cr.
2. Counterfeiting a coin of Akbar's time is no offence. 11 B. H. C. 172.
3. Deception practised as show only is not an offence. 26 P. R. 1868.
4. Intention to practise deception by means of the imitation is sufficient to constitute offence. 4 P. R. 1899.
5. Removal of the ring from a coin used as ornament and working up the face of the coin where ring had been, is no offence. 23 A. 420.
6. The making of counterfeit coins is not a statement and therefore the evidence of persons who say that accused made counterfeit coins in their presence is not barred under Ss. 24-25-26, Evidence Act. 133 I. C. 154=32 Cr. L. J. 1006=1931 A. 9.
7. Where coins are counterfeited only for the purpose of passing them secretly into the hands of the enemy, in order to put him into trouble, the accused is punishable under S. 165 and not under S. 232. 43 P. L. R. 1912, 17 P. W. R. 1911 Cr.
8. Accused agreed to make imitation coins and hooks to be attached to it, but he gave them plain without any hooks. Held, he was guilty. 30 A. 93.

B. Definition of. S. 23, I. P. C.

It cannot be said that counterfeiting is an offence which is made up of parts of possessing moulds and the act of counterfeiting. 1931 C. 445=32 Cr. L. J. 1171.

C. Sentence.

Possession of instruments for counterfeiting coins being part and parcel of the transaction of counterfeiting coins, no punishment is to be inflicted. 14 P. R. 1904.

3. Possession of— S. 243, I. P. C.

1. Eleven pieces of silver of the size of rupee and some counterfeit rupees of the same year were found concealed in room in accused's possession, presumption of guilt of accused under S. 114, Evidence Act, arises. 1933 O. 85=34 Cr. L. J. 545.
2. Possession of number of other pieces of counterfeit coins is evidence of his knowledge that the coin in his possession was counterfeit, but it is no evidence of his having actually delivered the counterfeit coin. S. 14 ill. (b), Evidence Act. 22 Cr. L. J. 407=61 I. C. 647.
3. Other coins uttered must be proved to be counterfeit. 8 B. 223.
4. Incriminating articles must be found in a place in possession of the accused and he must know that things were there. 1936 A. 650=37 Cr. L. J. 551.
5. Accused purchased counterfeit coins at an auction openly and did not attempt to pass them off as genuine. He is not guilty. 1936 P. 533, 1933 O. 85 Disting.

4. Possession of Instrument or Material for counterfeiting coins. S. 235, I. P. C.

A. Essentials—

1. Mere possession of instruments and materials capable of counterfeiting coins is no offence. 5 L. 352=26 Cr. L. J. 247=1925 L. 22=84 I. C. 247.
2. To sustain a conviction under this section, not only the possession of instruments is necessary but also possession with the knowledge of the accused of their character. 28 I. C. 152.
3. Where dies were incapable of striking a complete coin, it cannot be inferred against the accused that his intention was to manufacture coins. 5 L. 392=1925 L. 22.
4. When instruments can be used for making coins as well as for other purposes they should be considered for the purpose of making coins. 43 P. L. R. 1912.
5. No conviction can lie on the mere ground that accused was in possession of coining instruments, unless it is established that he had knowledge of their character. 28 I. C. 152, 8 B. L. T. 131.

B. Possession (joint and exclusive).

1. Mere physical relation arising from the position of the object is insufficient. Where the articles found are large properties and placed in a conspicuous place to which the managing member may have access and have control, the presumption that the managing member was in possession may fairly be made. 6 Bom. L. R. 887, 6 B. 731, 15 A. 129, 4 P. L. R. 525.
2. Where counterfeit coins and moulds were buried in a verandah, which was open, with village streets on two sides. Held: that probably they were kept by enemies. 51 I. C. 263=20 Cr. L. J. 439.
3. Accused was found in possession of a box containing instruments for counterfeiting coins. His two brothers had access to the box and the accused's property was not found there. Held, as there is no evidence of exclusive possession upon which accused could be convicted. 14 P. L. R. 1903.
4. When several persons are found in a room, where false coins are being made, they are all presumed to be in possession of the instruments or materials lying there. 17 P. W. R. 1912, 11 I. C. 242. Cont. 7 P. L. R. 1904.
5. Where accused being pursued, throws off the instruments for counterfeiting coins, he is guilty under S. 235. 10 P. R. 1892 Cr.
6. Instruments and materials which can be used for counterfeiting coins and other purposes are to be considered as used for counterfeiting coins. 17 P. W. R. 1912 Cr.

7. Accused's house was searched and a tin box containing articles for counterfeiting coins was recovered. Another person with wife and children was living in that kotha (room). No articles which would connect the accused with the crime were recovered from the box. Held, he was not guilty. 1935 L. 39=1935 Cr. C. 39, 78 P. R. 1904 Rel. on.
8. When instruments are found in the house wife is not liable. 1933 P. 272, 15 A. 129 Rel. on.

C. Sentence.

1. Exemplary sentence should be given for the offence of counterfeiting coins. 1930 L. 51=123 I. C. 525, 1927 L. 230=160 I. C. 520=28 Cr. L. J. 305.
 2. Separate sentences for possession of instruments and counterfeiting under Ss. 232, 235 are illegal. 1924 L. 78=71 I. C. 700=24 Cr. L. J. 236.
 3. Separate convictions for possession of various parts of instruments and material for counterfeiting coins are illegal. 1930 L. 51=31 Cr. L. J. 527.
- 5. Uttering false coin. Ss. 239, 240, 241, 251, I. P. C.
1. It must be counterfeit of a current coin, otherwise the offence will be that of cheating and not of uttering false coin. 29 A. 141.
 2. The accused must have knowledge of the spuriousness of the coin at the time of receiving possession of it. (1874) 23 W. R. 4, 1 Weir 222.
 3. Evidence of possession and attempted disposal of coins of unusual kind is "relevant on a charge of uttering such coins. 8 B. 223.
 4. It is necessary to prove that at the time the accused became possessed of the coin himself or through his wife, clerk or servant. 44 C. 477=28 C. L. J. 400.
 5. Where there was no evidence that accused knew the coin to be counterfeit when he became possessed of it, he is not guilty under Ss. 240, 243 but under S. 241, I. P. C. 124 I. 688=31 P. L. R. 235=31 Cr. L. J. 736.
 6. If the coin is not intended by the utterer to pass as a genuine coin, he commits no offence. 4 N. W. P. 62.
 7. Where coin is tendered for change and is refused on the ground that it is false, tender of the same to another constitutes an offence under S. 241. 12 Cr. L. J. 79.
 8. If a person clips and cuts away a coin and makes up the deficient weight by solder with the intention of delivering it to a Bank, he is guilty of defacing coin, although on previous occasion it was used as ornament. 48 A. 603=1926 A. 321=27 Cr. L. J. 426=93 I. C. 154=24 A. L. J. 842.
 9. S. 240 is not applicable to actual coin. 10 P. R. 1892 Cr.
 10. Double pice was quicksilvered to resemble a rupee. No offence under Ss. 241, 232 is made out unless intention to deceive at the time of whitening is present. 9 P. R. 1884 Cr.
 11. Two persons were in possession of coins, and offered them to the cashier of Imperial Bank on a commission of 3 per cent. The report of the Mint Expert showed that they were old coins, which had been used as ornaments at some time and from which solder had only been partially removed in order to keep up their weight, but had been subjected to a process of clipping or filing. Held, they were guilty under S. 251. 48 A. 603=1926 A. 321=27 Cr. L. J. 426.
 12. S. 239 is directed against a person other than the coiner, who procures, or obtains or receives counterfeit coin. 3 N. W. P. H. C. R. 150.
 13. Mere fact that accused delivered certain coins to a person knowing that they were counterfeit is not enough under S. 240. The knowledge that they were counterfeit at the time when he became possessed of them has also to be established. 1936 N. 242.

COUNTERFEITING CURRENCY NOTES. S. 489-A, I. P. C.

1. Counterfeiting.

1. Section contemplates such process as may result in counterfeiting. It excludes a mere act of deception. 18 Cr. L. J. 362.

2. In the case of the counterfeiting of Currency Notes, both ability and material of a particular kind are required. If those materials and ability are not present, it is not an attempt at counterfeiting. 51 A. 470=1928 A. 754=30 Cr. L. J. 690.
2. Possessing instruments of counterfeiting Currency Notes. S. 489-D, 1. P. C.
 1. Making or selling of instruments, which may be used for forgery or counterfeiting is no offence. The section penalizes one who makes or sells them, knowing or having reason to believe that they are intended to be so used. 12 Cr. L. J. 377.
 2. The burden is on the prosecution to prove that accused knew that the instruments were intended to be used for counterfeiting Notes. 12 Cr. L. J. 377.
 3. For an offence under S. 489-D, it is not necessary to prove that the accused had ability to produce counterfeit Currency Notes with materials in his possession. 51 A. 470=1928 A. 754=116 I. C. 797=30 Cr. L. J. 690.
 4. Where in the opinion of expert the materials in the possession of the accused were sufficient for counterfeiting Currency Notes. Held, that the absence of explanation by the accused points to his dishonest intention. 1928 A. 759=30 Cr. L. J. 47.
 5. It is not necessary that the resemblance is perfect, but it must be sufficient to deceive people of ordinary intelligence, familiar with Currency Notes. 12 Cr. L. J. 377=11 I. C. 241=21 M. L. J. 766.
3. Similar Acts of—
 1. Counterfeit coins and instruments were found in the house of the accused in two districts. In a trial in one District, the evidence of such possession in another District is admissible. 61 I. C. 647=22 Cr. L. J. 407.
 2. In a case of uttering forged note the more detached in point of time previous uttering is, the less relation it will bear to the uttering stated in the charge. The distance between the two will affect the weight and not the admissibility of the uttering. 16 B. 414.
4. Using as genuine counterfeit Currency Notes. S. 489-B, 1. P. C.
 1. A person who sells a forged note to another is guilty under S. 489-B, whether the purchaser knows it to be forged or not. 7 L. 80=1926 L. 72.
 2. A counterfeit note was in possession of the accused and a genuine note bearing the same number and a paper containing a honey-comb pattern in green ink resembling the pattern of the forged note were found in his house. Held, that though there was no evidence that the accused made this pattern, the accused must be deemed to know it to be forged when he was disposing of the copy of genuine note to a shop-keeper. 53 B. 344=1929 B. 128=116 I. C. 243=30 Cr. L. J. 588.
 3. The words 'as genuine' govern only the verb 'uses' and not any other verb. 7 L. 80=1926 L. 72=27 Cr. L. J. 638=94 I. C. 414.
 4. The object of legislature in enacting S. 489-B is to stop circulation of forged notes by persons, who knowing or having reason to believe them to be forged do any act which would lead to their circulation. 7 L. 80=94 I. C. 414=1926 L. 72.
 5. The burden is on the prosecution to prove that when accused passed a note, he knew it to be forged. Mere possession by him does not place the burden on him to account for its possession and to prove innocent possession. 25 Cr. L. J. 935.
 6. A conviction for being found in possession of counterfeit Currency Note cannot lie unless guilty knowledge or intention is proved. 1933 L. 596 (1).

COURT AND COUNSEL. See Legal Practitioners' Act.

1. It is highly improper for Court to intimidate accused or his counsel. 3 Bom. L. R. 562, 20 Cr. L. J. 556, 8 Bom. H. C. R. 125.
2. A Magistrate has no right to ask a counsel to sit down in the middle of cross-examination because he was asking irrelevant questions, or to ask him to apologize for his previous contumacious behaviour. 1896 Rat. 861.
3. It is improper to suspend a Pleader during a case. 10 C. 256.

4. Some latitude should be allowed to a member of Bar, insisting in the conduct of his case upon his question being taken down or his objection noted when the Court thinks the question inadmissible or untenable. There ought to be a spirit of give and take between the Bench and the Bar in such matters. 6 Bom. L. R. 541 (543)=1 Cr. L. J. 612.
5. Court cannot refuse to note down the objection of a counsel. 36 I. C. 468=17 Cr. L. J. 500, 55 I. C. 593=21 Cr. L. J. 321.
6. Court should leave witnesses to Pleaders to be dealt with. 25 Cr. L. J. 1226.
7. A Pleader has a general authority to act in the interest of client. If he writes a petition without asking the client or advises him to present the same, it is not misconduct. 14 Cr. L. J. 435=20 I. C. 598.
8. Pleader's admission is binding on the party. 52 B. 636, but in capital cases Counsel's admission should not be taken. 1920 A. 99=21 Cr. L. J. 777.
9. A counsel should not appear for accused having conflicting interests. 13 P. R. 1890.
10. Court can interfere in case of dispute between Counsels, as to who should conduct the case. 1929 C. 1=30 Cr. L. J. 494.

COURT HOURS. See Rules and Orders of your High Court.

Court has right to take up a case after a prescribed Court time without the consent of the parties. Where a party was asked to cross-examine a witness at 6-30 P. M. when he requested for adjournment on the ground that his Pleader was not then available. Held, that he was within his right to have the case adjourned. 1928 P. 277=29 Cr. L. J. 299, 4 P. 646=1925 P. 772=26 Cr. L. J. 1441.

COURT INSPECTOR. See Dais, Withdrawal of case by Public Prosecutor—9.COURT OF SESSION. S. 9, Cr. P. C. See Additional Sessions Judge—1.

1. There is only one Court of Session in each Session division, though sitting at different places and manned by the different Judges. 1931 C. 190=32 Cr. L. J. 842.
2. The Resident of Aden is not a Court of Session, but is a persona designata invested with the power of Court of Session except as provided for in Aden Court Act (II of 1864). 29 B. 575.
3. A Sessions Judge can make over an appeal to an Additional Sessions Judge or Assistant Sessions Judge and can afterwards withdraw it and take it on his file and decide it. 44 A. 157=1922 A. 387=23 Cr. L. J. 107=65 I. C. 491.

COURT'S DUTY.1. Administration of Law.

1. Where the Court practically held that accused were not guilty but that the situation at the place was likely to cause an embarrassing situation for the executive authorities, it was necessary to offer them up as victims to avert such calamity. Held, that it was a travesty of justice. 1925 L. 625=89 I. C. 315=26 Cr. L. J. 1339.
2. Court must administer the law not as they wish it might be but as they find it. It must administer the law and not grant mercy. 1930 P. 247=9 P. 474=31 Cr. L. J. 721, 1933 P. 100=34 Cr. L. J. 427.

2. Admitting evidence behind the back of accused.

1. A Magistrate cannot, when he is writing a judgment admit in evidence a document without giving the accused an opportunity of raising objections to its admissibility. 29 I. C. 90=16 Cr. L. J. 313.
2. Court going to the parties' village and examining witnesses without notice to the parties, acts illegally. 1927 M. 361=100 I. C. 123=24 Cr. L. J. 251.

3. Appellate—. See Appeal.4. Arguments—. See Arguments.

It is the duty of the Court to hear arguments that may be offered in any criminal trial or proceedings. 1925 O. 228=83 I. C. 340=25 Cr. L. J. 1380.

5. Assisting Prosecution—

A Judge cannot whittle away the defects of prosecution by any and every argument.

1931 A. 609=133 I. C. 593=32 Cr. L. J. 1052.

Benefit of doubt— See Benefit of doubt.

Benefit of exceptions. See Right of Private defence.

1. The Court must give the accused the benefit of exception, even if he did not rely on it. 56 C. 1013=1929 C. 346=33 C. W. N. 446.

2. Magistrate should not in their zeal to suppress crimes of violence overlook the important provisions of law regarding private defence. 1927 L. 194=100 I. C. 124=28 Cr. L. J. 252.

3. Courts should not apply the defence sections timidly. 5 P. R. 1901 Cr.

Brushing aside defects in prosecution— See —38.

Civil dispute. See Civil dispute.

Convincing proof.

A Judge has not to decide whether prosecution story is more probable but whether or not there has been convincing proof. 1929 N. 113=30 Cr. L. J. 789.

Clearing up discrepancies.

When two honest witnesses tell discrepant stories, there is probably some confusion which can be cleared up and a Court ought not to record the discrepancies without some attempt to discover their origin. 1930 M. W. N. 169.

Clearing up obscure points.

1. Magistrate should clear obscure points in evidence. He cannot be made to say that prosecution left the point obscure, when he had the opportunity of clearing it. 23 P. R. 1917 Cr., 2 L. L. J. 3.

2. The Court can use Police diary for clearing up obscurities in a case, but not for coming to a Judicial decision upon the case subsequently. 1926 L. 54.

Cross-examination for undefended accused. See Cross-examination—8.

Delay in disposal of a case. See Delay—8.

Examination of accused. See Examination of accused.

When an accused is examined by the Prosecutor instead of Court, the proceedings are irregular. 1930 L. 166=123 I. C. 570=31 Cr. L. J. 560.

Hasty trial.

An accused should not be tried in a hasty manner without giving him reasonable opportunity of producing his defence. 113 P. L. R. 1914.

In summoning Court witness. See Court witness—1.

Jurisdiction.

1. It is not the duty of Court to go out of the way to find that a case exclusively triable by Court of Sessions might arise from facts before him. 1930 A. 280=123 I. C. 756=31 Cr. L. J. 563.

2. On a complaint under S. 430, I. P. C., the Bench tried the accused for a lesser offence under S. 426 and it appeared that they had jurisdiction to try the former and not the latter offence. Held, that the proceeding was not void. 1930 M. W. N. 770, 24 M. 675, 27 M. L. J. 594, 25 M. L. J. 484.

3. Merely because an Executive Officer has information about men of importance and position in his sub-division and their character, it is not sufficient to deprive his jurisdiction as a Magistrate. 1930 A. 495=31 Cr. L. J. 764=125 I. C. 32.

Minimising a graver offence.

It is not right for a Court to minimise an offence by shutting its eyes to a graver offence, which on the facts found by it, has been committed and to refrain from charging the accused with that offence. 51 A. 540=1929 A. 349.

Mistake in recounting facts in judgment.

Mistakes in recounting facts in judgment are serious and sometimes prove disastrous.

21. Not to consult superior officer— See Transfer—18.

22. Not to presume guilt of accused.

1. Sometimes in inferior Courts it so happens that no sooner an accused is brought before a Court he is presumed to be guilty and every attempt on his part to prove his innocence is taken as vexatious by Court. 28 C. 594.
2. An accused, who has several convictions behind him is entitled to have his case treated as if it was not a foregone conclusion that he is guilty. 1930 A. 17=120 I. C. 202=31 Cr. L. J. 8=1930 A. L. J. 82.
3. Opportunities should be given to accused to explain evidence against him. 1930 A. 17=31 Cr. L. J. 8=120 I. C. 202.

23. Not to take the role of Prosecutor—

A Court ought not to take the role of a Prosecutor. 1925 O. 726=26 Cr. L. J. 1236.

24. Not to use record of one case in another. See Evidence—40, Deposition—5.

25. Opinion of predecessor. See Opinion—20.

26. Personal knowledge of Magistrate.

1. A Magistrate cannot import his personal knowledge about the personal character of accused in the decision of the case. 50 I. C. 171=20 Cr. L. J. 583, 25 Cr. L. J. 808=81 I. C. 344=1923 L. 166.
2. A Judge cannot without giving evidence import his personal knowledge. 14 Bom. 572, 38 C. 153.

27. Prompt disposal—

Whilst prompt disposal in a criminal case is a matter of importance, it is of even greater importance to pay proper attention to the procedure prescribed by law. 10 L. 223.

28. Remarks about conduct of officials.

Remarks about the official concerned should not be lightly made without giving him an opportunity to explain. 1930 L. 1048=129 I. C. 273=32 Cr. L. J. 268.

29. Remarks about guilt of accused after acquittal.

After acquittal, the Magistrate is not justified in observing that "accused escaped the clutches of law." 1930 M. W. N. 1253.

30. Remarks against persons not before the Court.

Where a person is not on trial, there should be no expression of opinion about his guilt. 128 I. C. 211.

31. To bring all relevant evidence on record.

It is the duty of every Court to bring all relevant evidence on the record and to see that justice is done. 43 A. 283.

32. To comply with procedural Law.

1. It should be the duty of Magistrates to comply with law laid down in Cr. P. C. and by the High Court fully and satisfactorily. 1927 C. 936 (1)=101 I. C. 606=31 C. W. N. 387, 10 L. 223=1929 L. 382=29 Cr. L. J. 769.
2. It is imperative in murder cases that law should be strictly adhered to and the accused should not have any manner of grievance at all. 1927 C. 631=103 I. C. 790=31 C. W. N. 881=28 Cr. L. J. 742.
3. In criminal cases the question is not alone whether substantial justice has been done according to law, but legal forms must be conformed to. 1925 O. 1=75 I. C. 753=25 Cr. L. J. 49, 31 I. C. 365.
4. Court should follow Cr. P. C., but where no such procedure is laid down, Court should not follow observations of High Court Judges, if miscarriage of justice will follow. 1932 M. 502=139 I. C. 343=33 Cr. L. J. 765.
5. Slipshod procedure is to be condemned even though it does not necessarily result in vitiating the whole proceedings. 1935 O. 316=36 Cr. L. J. 656.

*Court's duty—(concl'd.)33. To be fair.

It is fundamental principle of justice that the Magistrate should not only be fair and impartial but also appear to be so. 10 R. 180=1932 R. 90.

34. To give facilities to accused to get copies. See Copies of proceedings.

1. An accused person should be granted copy of first information report at the earliest possible stage, in order that he may get the benefit of the legal advice, 42 I. C. 598.
2. The ends of justice require that accused should be apprised of what certain prosecution witnesses stated in proceedings under S. 164. 1932 A. 327=33 Cr. L. J. 752.

35. To put up defensive pleas when accused is undefended.

The Court should give assistance to accused in putting up obvious defensive pleas if he is not represented by a Pleader. 1930 R. 349=128 I. C. 845.

36. To take down objection.—See Objections by Counsel.

If the Judge disallows a question, the Pleader should have the question and the order disallowing it recorded as such a refusal on the part of Judge is illegal. 17 Cr. L. J. 500.

37. To watch interest of mentally deranged accused.

Magistrate should watch the interest of an accused who is mentally deranged with unusual degree of care. 1932 A. 233=139 I. C. 147=33 Cr. L. J. 714.

38. Weighing evidence. See Evidence.

1. If a prosecution witness says something inconvenient the Court cannot brush it aside as being insignificant or on the ground that he had been got at by the defence. 1929 M. W. N. 395.
2. It is not the duty of Judge to find any and every reason possible to whittle away significance and defects in prosecution. 1931 A. 609=32 Cr. L. J. 1052.

39. Witnesses in Party feuds.

In criminal cases involving party feud, when the relations and friends who are perfectly innocent are falsely charged Court should exercise the caution that chances of innocent persons being punished may be entirely eliminated. 1931 L. 465=32 Cr. L. J. 1079.

40. Under-trial prisoner—ill-treatment in jail—.

When a prisoner complains to the Court that he is not treated according to Jail rules, the Court has jurisdiction to inquire into such a complaint and pass necessary orders. 1931 L. 562=133 I. C. 59=32 Cr. L. J. 988=32 P. L. R. 586.

COURT ROOM.1. Atmosphere of—. See Atmosphere.2. Entry into—.

Accused entered a Court room and was asked to leave it. He refused to leave the room. Held, that he was not guilty under S. 448, although the Court room was part of the officer's house. 1923 R. 145=81 I. C. 141=25 Cr. L. J. 653.

3. To be open—. S. 352, Cr. P. C.

1. A Police Officer who has investigated the case should not be allowed to be present before a Magistrate who is recording confession of the accused. 1885 A. W. N. 221.
2. Trial in Jail is not illegal, when there is nothing to show that admittance was refused to any one who desired or that the prisoners were unable to communicate with their friends or Counsels. But it is undesirable to hold trials in Jail, because it is difficult to get Counsels to appear in Jail. 21 P. W. R. 1917 Cr.=18 Cr. L. J. 852.
3. Police Officer can be ordered to be absent from Court room if accused objects. Reasonableness of his fear rather than the convenience of prosecution is the guiding factor. 1925 N. 296=88 I. C. 362=26 Cr. L. J. 1130.
4. Proceedings in camera can be upset if the complainant is prejudiced. 1936 R. 471.
5. Holding Court in a private place, in spite of the protest of the accused, where he cannot get his pleader or witnesses is a material irregularity. 19 Cr. L. J. 249, See 3 Cr. L. J. 433.

Court Room—(concl'd.)

6. Where accused entered a private room of the Judge where he was holding trial and when asked to leave disobeyed it, he was not guilty under S. 448, 1 P. C. 1923 R. 145=25 Cr. L. J. 653.

COURT WITNESS. S. 540, Cr. P. C. See Witness.

1. Court's duty.

1. Court has power to recall a witness already examined and cross-examined. S. 540, Cr. P. C.
2. A Court witness means one whom the Judge acting on his own initiative caused to be produced. The testimony of Court witness summoned at the instance of Public Prosecutor should be rejected in toto. 1923 C. 463=71 I. C. 657=24 Cr. L. J. 193, 12 A. L. J. 15.
3. Magistrates should always be chary of taking upon themselves the duties of deciding on behalf of the parties, as to which witnesses should be examined. 28 M. L. J. 134=16 Cr. L. J. 156=27 I. C. 220.
4. A Magistrate misuses his power if he uses S. 540 to anticipate the defence to accused's prejudice or to avoid the responsibility of making up his mind as to the value of prosecution evidence. 11 P. R. 1886.
5. A Magistrate who is seized of the case, can only summon a Court witness. 36 A. 13.
6. It is entirely in the discretion of Court to summon witnesses and the Public Prosecutor cannot demand as of right to call any witness not examined before the Committing Magistrate. 14 A. 212.
7. Court can summon witnesses for the just decision of the case and no question of bias against the accused arises unless it is shown that the Court was guiding or assisting the Prosecution. 117 I. C. 213=1929 N. 172=30 Cr. L. J. 728.
8. S. 540 confers very wide power upon a Court. But wider the power, the greater the exercise of discretion required of Magistrate. 1923 C. 690=24 Cr. L. J. 957=75 I. C. 541, 12 A. L. J. 15.
9. While after the close of the case for Prosecution, the Magistrate at the discretion of Assistant Collector who prosecuted the case recalled and re-examined two witnesses. Held, it is illegal. 23 I. C. 743=15 Cr. L. J. 375.
10. Where witnesses were examined on both sides and the Magistrate finding himself unable to arrive at a definite conclusion went to the village of parties and examined without previous notice four witnesses. Held, the procedure is illegal. 1927 M. 361=100 I. C. 123=28 Cr. L. J. 251, 24 C. 167 Dist.
11. Court should inform the parties beforehand the names of Court witnesses, with a view to afford them an opportunity of proper cross-examination. 10 L. 790=1929 L. 120=122 I. C. 95=31 Cr. L. J. 346.
12. S. 540 does not empower a Court to discover witnesses by personal enquiry out of Court. 4 R. 106=97 I. C. 60=1926 R. 180=27 Cr. L. J. 1084.
13. When prosecution fails to examine all the witnesses, the Committing Magistrate should examine them as Court witnesses. 1925 Pat. 5=90 I. C. 661=26 Cr. L. J. 1589.
14. In a Sessions trial for murder, persons who are admittedly present on the scene of occurrence, though given up as defence witnesses, should be examined as Court witnesses. 133 I. C., 488=32 Cr. L. J. 1067=1931 R. 163.
15. A Magistrate misuses S. 540, Cr. P. C. in using it to anticipate the defence of an accused person to his prejudice. 11 P. R. 1886 Cr.
16. S. 540 does not authorize a Sessions Judge to summon witnesses after the assessors have given their opinion. 4 P. R. 1892 Cr.
17. Court is bound to summon and examine any witnesses whose evidence seems to be essential to the just decision of the case. 6 C. W. N. 94.
18. Where in a case of dacoity the Police does not produce eye witnesses, Magistrate should summon them under S. 540. 1934 R. 105=151 I. C. 615.

Court Witness—(contd.)

19. Essentiality and expediency of evidence is the test for taking evidence under S. 540. 1933 Sind 49=34 Cr. L. J. 591.
20. Court should not examine witness under S. 540 merely because complainant suggested it. 1936 A. 269=37 Cr. L. J. 522.

2. Cross-examination of—

1. Both sides have a right to cross examine a witness freely. Questions suggested to Magistrate and put by him is no cross-examination. 24 C. 238, 5 C. 614, 47 A. 147.

sent up for trial there under the Act. 13 C. W. N. 605.

2. The procedure prescribed under the Act by which an accused under S. 121-A was detained for many months without legal advice, is not desirable. 38 C. 559.

S. 9.

- A Special Bench of the High Court constituted under the Act can try a case under S. 302 read with S. 34 although S. 34 is not mentioned in the schedule. 16 Cr. L. J. 576=30 I. C. 128.

S. 15.

The accused stated that British Raj had come to an end and exhorted people to establish an independent state at Bagrian. He contributed money and asked others to contribute. Held, that he was not guilty under the Criminal Law Amendment Act, as he did not contribute towards an existing unlawful association but guilty under S. 117, I. P. C.=5 L. 1=1924 L. 440.

Ss. 16-17.

1. If an accused admits that he was Jathadar of Akali Dal, he admits himself guilty of managing an unlawful association and is guilty. 7 L. 359.
2. A person who urges people to form Jathas does not promote or assist in promoting meetings of Jathas, when the Jathas themselves had not come into existence. 6 L. 359.
3. Exhorting Sikhs to form themselves into Shahidi Jathas for the purpose of going to a certain place and collecting funds for a committee which was declared unlawful, is not an offence under S. 17 but under S. 117, I. P. C. 1926 L. 115=89 I. C. 462=26 Cr. L. J. 1374, 5 L. 1=1924 L. 440.
4. A person who takes an active part in organising or assisting to organize a meeting must clearly be regarded as promoting or assisting to promote it. 7 L. 357.
5. The Police made a report that accused was assisting the volunteers by giving shelter in his house. Held, that action taken on it is illegal. 1922 C. 538=71 I. C. 49=24 Cr. L. J. 1.
6. Where everybody knew that Criminal Law Amendment Act had been extended to U. P. and Court convicted the accused on the basis of a Newspaper extract, the conviction is illegal as the Act was not extended by a Notification in the Gazette. 1931 A. 12=129 I. C. 443=32 Cr. L. J. 311=1931 Cr. C. 12.
7. The burden is on the prosecution to prove that accused was a member prior or subsequent to Government notification. The Act imposes no obligation on the members of the association to do anything specific to terminate their membership. Continuance of membership cannot be presumed. 55 B 484=1931 B 129.
8. There must be specific evidence that a member continued to be so after notification. 1931 B. 203=32 Cr. L. J. 725=1931 L. 145=32 Cr. L. J. 700.
9. "Notification" is the act of making known. Mere insertion in the Gazette is insufficient. So in the absence of evidence to show when the Gazette, dated 14th October was published, the arrest of an alleged member of an assembly declared unlawful on the early hours of the 15th October and his conviction are illegal. 55 Bom. 355=1931 B. 132=130 I. C. 577=32 Cr. L. J. 572.
10. Ss. 16-17 do not penalise people for having been members of an association at a time when they were lawful and not unlawful. 55 Bom. 484=1931 B. 129.
11. The fact that accused applied to be enrolled as member of Congress Committee nine months before it was declared unlawful cannot be proof of his membership after the association had been declared unlawful. 1931 L. 361=134 I. C. 782.
12. It is sufficient if a copy of Government Gazette was shown to accused, no matter whether it was issued to the public or not. 33 Bom. L. R. 333=1931 B. 205.
13. Accused cannot be convicted under S. 47 (c) of Bombay Salt Act or under S. 17 (1) of Criminal Law Amendment Act for being in possession of contraband salt in his possession. 134 I. C. 345=1931 B. 409=32 Cr. L. J. 1145.
14. Where it is amongst the regular activities of an unlawful association to picket cloth shops in order to persuade people not to buy foreign cloth, and the method of picketing was the same as employed by accused, the accused is said to be assisting the operation and an offence under S. 17 (c) is committed. 55 Bom. 442=1931 B. 200.

15. Taking part in a political procession of an unlawful association is assisting in its operation. 1931 Bom. 202=131 J. C. 477=32 Cr. L. J. 723.
16. Reproducing in newspaper an appeal to stop trading in foreign cloth, made by a person describing himself as President of War Council is no offence under S. 17 (1). 1931 Bom. 413=134 J. C. 357=32 Cr. L. J. 1158.
17. Where the prosecution witnesses have no personal knowledge about the membership of the accused, the conviction cannot stand. 1931 L. 153=131 J. C. 360.
18. No member arrested before the publication of the order in the Gazette can be held guilty under S. 17, although accused may have known that association was declared unlawful prior to publication. 12 L. 471=1931 L. 107=32 Cr. L. J. 653.
19. Proof of knowledge on the part of the accused that association is declared unlawful is not condition precedent to his prosecution. Some notice of the declaration should be given to the members to regulate their conduct accordingly. 55 Bom. 356.

CRIMINAL MISAPPROPRIATION. S. 403, 1. P. C.1. Attempt.

1. Accused, a servant in the Postal Department, while assisting in the sorting of letters, secreted two letters, with the intention of handing them over to the delivery person and sharing with him certain money payable on them. Held, he was guilty under Ss. 511/403 and of theft. 14 M. 229.

3. Accused a servant of Postal Department, secreted two letters with the intention of getting money payable on them, was held guilty. 14 M. 229.
4. A Railway Booking Clerk took Rs. 17 instead of 17 pice and retained them for some time. After the inquiry he returned it. Held, he was guilty under S. 403. 2 N. W. P. H. C. R. 475.

9. By trustee. (Supreddar.)

If a person is entrusted with property by Receiver and fails to produce it, he is guilty under S. 403, although there was covenant to pay money as security. 48 A. 288 = 1926 A. 302 = 27 Cr. L. J. 297 = 24 A. L. J. 270 = 92 I. C. 585.

10. Charge.

1. Misappropriation of each separate item of money with which a person is entrusted is a separate offence. The Magistrate selected some items and framed charges thereon and evidence was led specially on those items. (1871) 15 W. R. 5 Cr.
2. But now in the case of misappropriation of money it shall be sufficient to specify the gross sum without specifying particular items on exact dates, provided the time between the first and the last of such dates does not exceed one year. Ss. 222 (ii) and 234, Cr. P. C. 25 M. 61 (P. C.)
3. It is sufficient if the prosecution establishes that some of the money mentioned in the charge is misappropriated, even though it may be uncertain what is the exact amount misappropriated. 52 Bom. 280 = 1928 Bom. 148, 42 A. 542 Diss.

5. Where bullocks follow a cow and disappear, they cannot be subject of theft but of criminal misappropriation. 28 I. C. 352.

Criminal Misappropriation—(concl'd.)

6. When a man is found in possession of a camel about seven months after it strayed away, he ought not to be called to account for it. 41 P. W. R. 1915 Cr.=62 P. L. R. 1916=32 I. C. 660.
7. Accused was found riding a mare which had strayed away. He first stated that he intended to ride home and then to loose her but before the Magistrate stated that he wanted to hand it over to Police. Held, was not guilty. 28 P. L. R. 1906.

22. Treasure Trove.

A person who found money from a piece of land purchased by him and appropriated it to his own use was not guilty under S. 403. (1868) Unrep. Cr. C. 8.

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE, V OF 1898. See Index.CRIMINAL TRESPASS. Ss. 441—447, I. P. C.*1. Abetment.

1. Where a person inciting others to commit an offence under S. 447 is himself present when the offence is committed, he is guilty under S. 447. 1926 B. 512=97 I. C. 737, =28 Bom. L. R. 1029=27 Cr. L. J. 1153, 1925 P. C. 1.
2. Where a person does not personally set foot on the land of another but gets people to build on it in spite of the protests of that other, the person is guilty under S. 447, since his agents do the acts under his orders. 39 A. 722=42 I. C. 1006=15 A. L. J. 793.

2. Absence of owner at the time of— See.— 21.3. Attempt to commit an offence.

With intent to commit an offence punishable with imprisonment is not the same thing as an attempt to commit such an offence. A mere intent is not by itself an offence. 47 I. C. 77.

4. Bonafide claim of right.

1. An entry upon the land of another under a bona fide claim of right does not constitute Trespass, as the specific intent is absent. 2 A. 101, 81 I. C. 888=1925 N. 36=25 Cr. L. J. 1064.
2. Entering a house under a bona fide claim of right is no offence. 47 A. 855=1925 A. 540=26 Cr. L. J. 1273, 1925 P. 167=81 I. C. 823=25 Cr. L. J. 1047.
3. Where a person enters upon the land of another under a bona fide claim of right, without intending to intimidate, insult or annoy, he is not guilty, although he has no right to the land. 43 C. 1143=20 C. W. N. 1071, 65 I. C. 432.
4. If a person is dispossessed in execution of a decree, he cannot force open the lock put upon his property by decree holder and enter into possession claiming to be still its owner. 43 I. C. 405, 138 P. L. R. 1904.
5. Accused was the prior lessee of property which was sold to the complainant in execution of decree. The latter took possession and exercised undisturbed right of ownership for two months when he was turned out by the accused. Held, that as the accused surrendered possession peacefully, they were precluded from using force to eject him and were guilty irrespective of their title to property. 1 C. L. J. 104 (106-107), 39 M. 57 (59), 25 Cr. L. J. 919=81 I. C. 535.
6. A person entering upon the property which he claimed to have inherited is not guilty. 1 P. R. 1884 Cr.
7. Accused obtained a decree for redemption against the mortgagee in possession and who thereupon dispossessed him without further recourse to law. Held, not guilty. 29 P. R. 1882 Cr.
8. A trespass on the land of the complainant, to forcibly prevent the latter from harvesting the crops sown and cultivated by the accused is not an offence under S. 447. 16 Cr. L. J. 271=28 I. C. 159.
9. A person who forcibly ejects a tenant holding over is guilty, although lease permits such re-entry after termination. 38 I. C. 962.
10. Where right of entry exists, entry without complainant's permission or consent is no offence. 1923 R. 157=75 I. C. 353.

11. An owner is not entitled to re-enter on the land without the tenancy being determined. Re-entry amounts to trespass. 1923 R. 245=81 I. C. 187, 41 M. 156, 40 A. 221, 26 A. 194. Cont. 1924 Oudh 342=25 Cr. L. J. 313=76 I. C. 1033. See 1925 L. 23=81 I. C. 239.
 12. Where a person, who has an ostensible title, sells land to another and that man goes and ploughs it, it is a bona fide claim of civil right and ploughing the field is not an offence under S. 447. 1926 M. 349=91 I. C. 392=27 Cr. L. J. 88.
 13. To enter upon a vacant site with the consent of one who asserts his title thereto, as against a rival claimant, and to put up water Pandal do not amount to criminal trespass, though the land may not be in the possession of the person permitting but of the complainant. 1924 M. 862=83 I. C. 1003=26 Cr. L. J. 219.
 14. Where coins were unearthed from field and taken possession of by persons without the consent of the landlord, whose manager exacted by force coins from the house search and took the accused from whom the coins were recovered to the Police. Held, the manager acted in the bona fide claim of right. 1924 P. 655.
 15. Where the accused wishes to obstruct the person who has the title, not by legitimate means but by going upon the land and obstructing his tenants in cultivation of the field, he is guilty and his claim cannot be said to be bona fide one. 1928 Bom. 221=112 I. C. 97=30 Bom. L. R. 631.
 16. A person claiming to be heir of deceased cannot take property by force from a person in actual possession of it. 11 P. L. R. 1910=41 P. W. R. 1910 Cr.
 17. Mere assertion by a person of his right to be in possession is no defence. 45 I. C. 677.
 18. Where there is dispute about a wall and there is false attempt to bolster up title, the entry and demolition of wall amounts to criminal trespass. 1935 Sind 263=1935 Cr. C. 1122, 1925 A. 540 Foll.=47 A. 855.
 19. When a person claiming title to a property, whether his title is good or bad enters without legal justification, he is guilty. 11 L. 238=1930 L. 666=31 Cr. L. J. 878.
5. Burden of proof.
- Where a stranger is found lurking in the house of another at night, the inference of guilty intentions can be drawn. If he pleads that his intention was neither to commit an offence nor to intimidate or annoy, the onus is on him to prove that particular intent. 40 A. 221.
6. By co-sharer. See—9.
7. By decree-holder or bailiff.
1. A decree-holder trying to get possession of the land of the judgment-debtor by arbitrary means instead of resorting to the Civil Court commits criminal trespass. 1928 N. 79=105 I. C. 664=23 Cr. L. J. 952
 2. If a decree-holder, under colour of enforcing his decree invades the privacy of the judgment-debtor's household, he is guilty under S. 447. 4 L. L. J. 532.
 5. Accused obtained a decree for redemption against the mortgagee in possession and who dispossessed him without further recourse to Law. Held, he was not guilty. 29 P. R. 1882 Cr.
 4. If a bailiff breaks the doors of a third person in order to execute a decree against a judgment-debtor, he is trespasser, if it turns out that the person or goods of the debtor are not in the house. 7 Bom. H. C. R. 83.
 5. A decree-holder with bailiff, finding the house of judgment-debtor shut, entered the compound of the complainant notwithstanding his protest, in order to reach the judgment-debtor's house to execute the warrant. Held, they were guilty of criminal trespass. 26 B. 558.
 6. Delivery of possession to decree-holder for few minutes is sufficient possession. It is not lost by trespasser's sowing and complainant's hesitating to prevent a fray. 1933 N. 36=34 Cr. L. J. 145.
8. By heir.
1. A person entering upon property which he claims to have inherited is not guilty. 1 P. R. 1884 Cr.

3. A co-sharer building upon common wasteland against the will of the other co-sharers, whose consent has been previously asked and refused, is not guilty of criminal trespass. 39 A. 474.
4. A joint owner of property is entitled to have joint possession restored to him in a Civil Court but he is not justified in taking the law in his own hands to recover possession. If he does so he is liable for criminal trespass. 10 Bom. L. R. 285, 1927 Sind 92=98 I. C. 467=27 Cr. L. J. 1347.
5. One member of a joint family commits no trespass by entering a house which forms part of the joint property unless it is ordinarily occupied by another member of the family. (1871) 15 W. R. 6 Cr., 1933 Sind 396=147 I. C. 66.
6. The entry of a stranger into a family dwelling house with the permission of one of the members is not criminal trespass. 6 Beng. L. R. App. 80.

10. By judgment-debtor

1. If a person is dispossessed in execution of a decree, he cannot force open the lock put by decree-holder and re-enter into possession claiming to be still its owner. 43 I. C. 405, 138 P. L. 1904.
2. If the actual possession of the land is given to real owner under O. 21 R. 35 C. P. C., the person dispossessed becomes trespasser and cannot remove the crop though grown by him. 1936 C. 124=37 Cr. L. J. 495.
3. In order to effect delivery of possession of an inhabited house, it is necessary to eject the former occupier. Where possession had not actually been delivered to the purchaser an entry by the judgment-debtor does not constitute an act of criminal trespass. Mere formal possession by beat of drum is insufficient. 1935 P. 355=155 I. C. 908=36 Cr. L. J. 860.

11. By Landlord.

1. The owner is not entitled to re-enter without the tenancy being determined and if he does so, he commits criminal trespass. 1923 R. 245=81 I. C. 187.
2. A person who forcibly ejects a tenant holding over is guilty although lease permits such re-entry after termination. 38 I. C. 962, 18 Cr. L. J. 402.
3. Where an owner enters in his own land permissively used or occupied by but not in the possession of another, is not guilty. (1882) 1 Weir 521.
4. Where the Zamindar under the pretext that one of his tenants left the village and abandoned his holding, took possession of the land he was not guilty under S. 447. 26 A. 194, 27 A. 298.
5. If a landlord goes upon the land, obstructs tenants in the cultivation of the land, he is guilty under S. 447. 1928 B. 221=29 Cr. L. J. 977=112 I. C. 97.
6. Complainant in possession of land claimed occupancy rights. Landlords entered upon the land to compel him to give up possession. Held, they were guilty of trespass. 1934 P. 158=13 P. 268=151 I. C. 844, 26 B. 558, 7 Cr. L. J. 312, 43 C. 1143, 15 Cr. L. J. 725, 41 M. 156, 1925 P. 17, 1925 P. 167, 47 A. 855, 50 A. 637, 110 I. C. 98, 1929 P. 111, 1930 L. 666 Ref.
7. Accused interfered with the cultivation of land over which they had grazing rights. Held, they were not guilty. 43 C. 1143.
8. A zamindar obtained formal possession of land from the Revenue Court. Tenants entered on the land, they were convicted. They were entitled to acquittal. 46 I. C.

Criminal Trespass—(contd.)

9. From the moment the title of tenant expires, the landlord is in possession in the eye of law, provided he does not use undue force. 81 I. C. 535=25 Cr. L. J. 919.
10. A raiyat surrendered his holding to his landlord, who settled on the land with two others. The new tenants and landlord ploughed the land. They were not guilty. 110 I. C. 98.
11. Tenant left the house as it fell down. Entry by landlord is not culpable. 1933 L. 734.
12. By master or owner.
 1. Merely sending a servant to plough up land is not an entry by the master. 3 L. B. R. 278, 1 B. L. J. 276.
 2. A lawful owner who merely goes near the land cannot be said to have re-entered on the land. 1932 N. 112=139 I. C. 609=33 Cr. L. J. 861.
13. By Mortgagor.
If the property was in possession of mortgagee, entry by mortgagor without a suit for avoidance of mortgage is criminal trespass. 1934 A. 1025 (1027).
14. By servant or labourer.
 1. Where a person trespassing upon the property of another is a servant and acts under the orders of his master for the purpose of his employment, S. 447 does not apply to him. 1923 R. 135=25 Cr. L. J. 684=81 I. C. 172.
 2. Where a servant of a proprietor, who had surrendered his estate to the Court of Wards, cut or removed bamboos growing thereon for the benefit of the master, it was held that no offence was committed. 38 C. 180.
 3. Where coins were unearthed without landlord's consent, and the manager forcibly exacted them by house search and took the person who unearthed them to the Police, is guilty of house trespass and not of theft. 1924 P. 655.
 4. Servants are not liable unless they acted intra vires and independently of instructions. 1936 R. 116, 1934 A. 1025.
15. By tenant.
 1. Where the accused was a tenant-at-will who had come upon the property by right but had continued to remain by wrong, he was not guilty under S. 447. Mere knowledge on his part that he was likely to cause annoyance would not be sufficient. 1927 Sind 159=100 I. C. 829=28 Cr. L. J. 349.
 2. Where the decree for ejectment of tenant was executed before the time fixed for S. 94 of the Agra Tenancy Act, but the tenant subsequently re-entered upon the land. Held, that he was not guilty under S. 447 as he was illegally ejected. 29 Cr. L. J. 1096=112 I. C. 680.
 3. Where a tenant cultivated land for a number of years under a lease from the Forest Department and built a dwelling house and made other improvements, refused to relinquish the land after notice of ejectment was served upon him until he was paid compensation. Held, he was not guilty. 23 P. R. 1878 Cr.
 4. The bare defence "I have not given up and I will not give up actual possession though I have been legally ejected" is tantamount to a plea of guilty, when the complaint is one for trespass. 1924 A. 762=83 I. C. 719=26 Cr. L. J. 159.
16. Civil Trespass. See—21.
 1. If a landlord after the expiration of the lease exercises his right of re-entry, such an entry is unlawful if though peaceful. It is a trespass and not criminally punishable, as criminal intention which is the gist of the offence is not present. 2 A. 101, 9 A. 58.
 2. If there is no intent specified in the section, it is not criminal trespass but a civil trespass. 75 I. C. 292=1924 O. 207.
 3. Civil trespass is a mere encroachment or an unauthorized entry without criminal intent specified in S. 441. 1 A. 395, 40 C. 344, 23 P. R. 1915 Cr. L. J. 100=1924 R. 106.
 4. Trespassing on the field of complainant with the intention of taking possession of the field in dispute is a civil trespass. 1933 O. 179=145 I. C. 625, 1930 L. 666, 41 M. 156.

5. Trespasses arising out of possession of agricultural land amount to civil trespass. 1936 R. 116=161 I. C. 993, 3 L. B. R. 278 Rel. on.
6. If the land is in possession of sub-tenants, mortgagee entitled to possession can file complaint. 1934 A. 1025.
7. Any body can make complaint, but it must be proved that the object of accused was to insult or annoy the person in possession, 1934 A. 1025.
8. A complaint need not necessarily be made by the person injured, but may be made by the person aware of the offence. 1935 A. 938, 18 A. 465 Foll.
9. A peon of the Court of Wards can file complaint under Ss. 447—752. 1935 A. 938, 18 A. 465 Foll.

17. Charge.

1. A person cannot be convicted under S. 447 on a charge under S. 147, where the common object is not specified to be criminal trespass. 18 C. W. N. 992=22 I. C. 764, 23 W. R. 59.
2. For a conviction under S. 447, it is necessary to specify the ulterior offence, the accused intended to commit. 19 M. 240 Cont. 11 I. C. 797, 1 Weir 533, 2 P. R. 1887, 24 P. R. 1881, 41 P. R. 1881, 13 and 28 P. R. 1905, 12 P. R. 1906 Cr.

18. Complaint.

1. Where accused has entered upon property in the possession of a tenant with the criminal intent, a complaint by landlord is sufficient to set the criminal law in motion just as much as a complaint by tenant. 1924 L. 286=69 I. C. 379.
2. One B. trespassed in the fields of the accused, who pursued him in the field of S. and gave him beating. Held, no case under S. 447 was made out. 1924 L. 252=74 I. C. 534=24 Cr. L. J. 790.
3. For a trespass on land in the possession of tenant, the person aggrieved is one in actual possession and not the landlord and it follows that the tenant alone can complain. 12 A. L. J. 151.
4. Complaint of husband is not necessary for proceedings for house trespass to commit adultery. 47 I. C. 77.
5. Person not in possession can make a complaint, although the offence is committed against a third person. 49 I. C. 99=20 Cr. L. J. 115.

25. For committing adultery. See House Trespass.
26. Intention for—
1. In order to constitute criminal trespass, the entry must be with intent to commit an offence or to intimidate, insult or annoy. 4 P. 459=1925 P. 713=87 I. C. 106, 1925 P. 167=81 I. C. 823, 1924 M. 816=82 I. C. 149=25 Cr. L. J. 1221, 26 A. 194, 39 A. 722, 50 A. 687=1928 A. 671, 54 I. C. 620.
 2. Where the servant of a landlord illegally takes possession of tenant's land with the main object of illegally ejecting him, an intention to annoy cannot be presumed. 76 I. C. 1033=25 Cr. L. J. 313=1924 Oudh 342.
 3. Mere knowledge on the part of accused that he was likely to cause annoyance, does not amount to an intent to insult or annoy. 100 I. C. 829=1927 Sind 159=28 Cr. L. J. 349=21 S. L. R. 263, 41 M. 156.
 4. There may be an intent to annoy without any primary desire to annoy. 75 I. C. 292=1924 Oudh 297.
 5. An intent to annoy is essential for S. 441 but it is not negatived by the existence of some other intention also. A person breaking open a house delivered through Court to the complainant is guilty of criminal trespass. 43 I. C. 405=19 Cr. L. J. 117.
 6. Accused broke open into a house during owner's absence, assaulted servants and took possession. Held, though there was no intention to annoy the complainant, the accused was guilty as there was intention to commit offence by using criminal force to the servants. 35 M. 186.
 7. Alienor trying to take possession by force without legal justification is guilty as the presence of criminal intention can be rightly inferred. 11 L. 238=1930 L. 666, 12 P. R. 1906 Foll. 1926 L. 600, 41 M. 156 and 17 I. C. 415 Dist.
 8. A person who enters upon property in the possession of another may produce feelings of annoyance but if he did not do with that intention, the result produced is immaterial in determining his liability. 19 M. 240.
 9. A school was built on public subscription and put in charge of a teacher. In his absence Managers of the school took possession of the building and started certain classes. Held, not guilty under S. 447. 17 A. L. J. 334.
 10. It must be proved that criminal intent was present in the mind of the accused. Because an act is unlawful and is one that the civil law will restrain or for which it will compensate the injured party with damages is not sufficient. 29 P. R. 1882 Cr., 5 L. 20=1924 L. 449.

11. A person entering the premises of another with intent to commit adultery with his wife is guilty. 19 Cr. L. J. 887.
12. A conviction can not follow merely because one could pronounce with certainty that accused must have known that his act would cause annoyance. 47 A. 855.
13. Although a trespasser knows that his act if discovered, will be likely to cause annoyance, it does not follow that he does the act with that intent. 19 M. 240.
14. Criminal trespass depends on the intention of the offender and not upon the nature of the act. If a person to save his family from imminent destruction cuts an embankment belonging to his neighbour by entering on his land, he is not guilty of any offence. 41 C. 662.
15. If the entry is to commit an offence, the accused is guilty. (1864) 1 W. R. 46 Cr.
16. Accused opened the lock of the cattle pound and drove off his cow. Held, he was guilty, as he entered to commit an act, which was made an offence by the Cattle Trespass Act. 1927 L. 495=28 Cr. L. J. 665=103 I. C. 201.
17. Accused's son having stolen jewels, told his father that he gave it to school master, who kept it in a box in his house. - 31. Procedure.
1. High Court has no jurisdiction to permit on revision the compromise of an accused convicted under S. 447. 43 C. 1143.
 2. A person convicted of criminal trespass cannot be bound over under S. 106, Cr. P. C. 29 M. 190, See 7 C. W. N. 25.
 3. Accused forcibly taking possession of ferry boat and plying it is triable at the place where boat was taken. 1934 C. 480.
- 32. Right of Private Defence. See Right of Private Defence.
1. If an Income-tax Officer enters the firm's premises against the will of the proprietors to inspect account books, he is guilty of trespass and can be forcibly turned out, S. 99, I. P. C., would not deprive them of the right of private defence. 7 L. 104=1425 L. 326=95 I. C. 308=27 Cr. L. J. 772=27 P. L. R. 293.
 2. The right of private defence, in criminal trespass continues, as long as the trespass continues and is controlled by S. 99. 60 I. C. 33=20 Cr. L. J. 177.
 3. A person who, under a mistake of fact kills a person while that person is attempting to enter the accused's house thinking him to be a burglar, while he is not, does not exceed his right of private defence of property. 1926 C. 1012=93 I. C. 183=37 Cr. L. J. 128, 1926 L. 28=6 L. 463=91 I. C. 70=26 P. L. R. 719=27 Cr. L. J. 38.
 4. When a person in possession of property runs away from his field when attacked and is pursued by trespassers to another field and beaten there the right of private defence of property came to an end when he left his field. 1924 P. 275=74 I. C. 717=24 Cr. L. J. 813.

 7. Lengthy cross-examination should not be allowed in committal proceedings as the Magistrate has to find only whether a prima facie case is made out or not. 117 I. C. 773=30 Cr. L. J. 845=1929 Sind 137.
 8. For postponing cross-examination of prosecution witnesses for obtaining copies of statements to Police, importance of contradiction between the statements should be looked to. 6 P. 329=1927 P. 243=103 I. C. 597=28 Cr. L. J. 709.
 9. A Magistrate cannot refuse to postpone case to allow accused to cross-examine witnesses after obtaining copies under S. 162. 6 P. 606=1927 P. 248.
 10. Where a warrant case is subsequently converted into an enquiry and where the accused has not cross-examined the witnesses, he has the right to have the witnesses recalled for cross-examination. 1921 A. 148=62 I. C. 192=22 Cr. L. J. 496.
 11. Accused has no further right of cross-examination after the framing of charge under S. 210, Cr. P. C. 1931 A. 434=32 Cr. L. J. 849 Cont. 134 I. C. 1230.
 12. S. 205 does not give a separate and independent right of cross-examination. 1931 A. 621=1932 A. L. J. 5=1931 Cr. C. 973.
6. By accused. S. 138, I. E. Act.
1. Cross-examination, if properly conducted is one of the most useful and efficacious means of discovering truth. 19 B. 759.
 2. Where a witness called by one of the parties is a competent witness, the opposite party has a right to cross-examine him, though the party calling him has declined to ask a single question. 15 W. R. 134 Cr., 6 Bom. L. R. 88 (App).
 3. Where at a Sessions trial defence counsel applied for postponement of cross-examination on the ground that he had been unprepared for the evidence given and this was refused and the result was that the witnesses were not cross-examined. Held, that the accused was prejudiced by the refusal and retrial was ordered. 41 C. 299.
 4. As a rule the proper time for the cross-examination of prosecution witnesses is at the commencement of accused's defence, but the Court may allow it at a later stage. 4 M. 130, 2 A. 253, 7 C. 28, 8 C. L. R. 325, 22 W. R. 44 Cr.
 5. If the accused did not cross-examine the prosecution witnesses immediately but applied for leave to examine them after the close of the case for the prosecution, the Magistrate can refuse the application if the Magistrate has decided to commit the case to the Sessions. 36 C. 48, 20 A. 264; 26 A. 177 and 21 C. 643, Dissented.
 6. Although new matter may be introduced in the re-examination, the prosecution is not entitled to examination in-chief on the substantive case after the cross-examination. 1923 P. 116=60 I. C. 662.
 7. It is not in the province of courts to examine witnesses. The Court should leave witnesses to Pleaders to be dealt with as provided for under S. 138. Where the complainant or his Pleader was not permitted to examine the witnesses. Held, it is a good ground for transfer. 1924 O. 371=25 Cr. L. J. 1226.
 8. S. 138 deals not with right of the party but the order in which proceedings are to be conducted. 1929 C. 822=125 I. C. 281=31 Cr. L. J. 809.
 9. Where a witness dies after examination-in-chief and before cross-examination the evidence is admissible but its probative value will be very small. 1925 M. 497=48 M. 1=93 I. C. 705, 1929 C. 822=125 I. C. 281; 1933 L. 561=34 Cr. L. J. 735. See 50 A. 113=1928 A. 140, 5 C. W. N. 230 (n).

- 9. Compelling counsel to disclose question of—
- A Court cannot compel counsel to disclose questions which he desires to put in cross-examination. 32 Cr. L. J. 666=131 I. C. 138=1931 Sind 38.
- 10. Controlling of—by Court—
1. The Court should control the cross-examination and insist that witnesses should understand the question put before an answer is obtained or recorded. Cross-examination tends to be abused and the words of advocates are recorded as the words of witnesses when the witness has only given affirmative or negative monosyllable. 1935 P. 263=14 P. 225=156 I. C. 921.
 2. If the questions are misleading or improper Court should control cross-examination. 1933 L. 667=34 Cr. L. J. 606.
- 11. Damaging—
- It is a curious conception of the duty of an Advocate to fill up by means of cross-examination the gaps in the case against his client, left by the inaptitude of the prosecution.

30. Death by strangulation. See—14. See Strangulation, Hanging. Murder—43.

1. On a quarrel accused got the deceased down and strangled him to death with his hands. Held, he was guilty under S. 304 and a sentence of 4 years was proper. 68 P. L. R. 1912.
2. On a sudden quarrel over heating dog, accused strangled a person by turban and caused his death. Held, he was guilty under S. 304 (2). 1931 L. 189=134 I. C. 583=32 Cr. L. J. 1205.
3. Where it is evident that accused was violent, but if a doubt remains whether so far his intention went the deceased's death was not accidental, the accused is entitled to benefit of doubt. Conviction under S. 302 was altered to one under S. 304. 1933 L. 511.

31. Death by stuffing cloth in the mouth. See Suffocation.

Accused stuffed a cloth in the deceased's mouth in order to silence him and not with any idea of killing him. Held, they were guilty under S. 304. 1915 M. W. N. 621.

32. Death by tetanus supervening.

Accused gave a severe push to the deceased who fell on the road below to a distance of two cubits and a half and received injuries from which tetanus resulted, which caused his death on the fifth day. Held, he was guilty under S. 323 only. 1 M. 224.

33. Death by throwing child to crocodiles

Accused threw his child to crocodiles under the belief that they would return him and it would lead a charmed life afterwards, but they devoured him. Held, he was guilty under S. 304. 33 C. L. J. 179=25 C. W. N. 676.

34. Death by throwing stone. See Murder—42.

There was no enmity between the accused and the deceased. There was a quarrel over a pumpkin and the accused threw a lump of lime stone weighing 3 pounds which fractured her skull. Held, he was guilty under S. 304. 1925 A. 4=81 I. C. 320.

35. Death by unskilful medical treatment. See Death by negligence—7, Wound—17.

Where a man of full age submitted himself to emasculation, performed neither by a skilful hand nor in the least dangerous way and died from the injury, the persons concerned in the act were guilty under S. 304. (1866) 5 W. R. 7. Cr.

36. Death by wounds becoming septic. See Wound—15.

1. Accused inflicted four wounds, none of which was on the vital part and the deceased died owing to septic poisoning 15 days after the occurrence. Held, he was guilty under S. 304. 77 I. C. 889=25 Cr. L. J. 489=1924 R. 212.
2. Accused who was full drunk, fired at the person at point blank range and caused a wound on the thigh which was not fatal, but he died two months afterwards as the wounds became septic and dysentery supervened. Held, he was guilty under S. 326 only. 1929 L. 433=120 I. C. 183=31 Cr. L. J. 44.
3. A blow was given on the head with a Takua on provocation and no further advantage was taken of the fallen man, and it was not dangerous but the victim died of septicæmia long after keeping a normal temperature. Held, that offence fell under S. 326. 1931 L. 103=135 I. C. 668=1931 Cr. C. 167.

Culpable Homicide (not Amounting to Murder)—(contd.)

4. Accused gave a lathi blow on the head, the injury was not sufficient in the ordinary course to cause death. Death was caused by septic meningitis due to neglect in treatment after three weeks. Conviction under S. 304 was bad. Accused was guilty under S. 325 only. 1935 O. 446=36 Cr. L. J. 1262=157 I. C. 667.

37. Death caused at the request of deceased.

Causing death at the request of deceased is only culpable homicide and falls under S. 304. 131 I. C. 147=1931 M. 436=54 M. 504, 43 I. C. 413, 36 A. 26, 1929 L. 50=117 I. C. 890=30 Cr. L. J. 855.

38. Essentials and Evidence.

1. Where the prosecution witnesses are not impartial and story put forward by them is false which does not explain injuries caused to the accused, conviction should be set aside. 95 I. C. 597=27 Cr. L. J. 821=8 L. L. J. 183.
2. When there was a fight between two parties and one of them set up a right of private defence and there was no independent witness, the sentence should not be severe. 1923 L. 313.
3. Accused hit his brother's wife with Moosal and dragged her inside and she was not seen afterwards. Held, that as there was no evidence about the nature of wound, he was guilty under S. 323. 92 I. C. 451=27 Cr. L. J. 275.
4. Where a man receives only one blow on the head and dies and there is no evidence to show which of the two persons gave the blow, they are guilty under S. 325. 37 P. R. 1914 Cr., 6 L. L. J. 268, 6 L. L. J. 317, 7 L. L. J. 44. See 52 M. 147.
5. Accused went to take possession by force and in the fight one of the accused gave blow with an iron shod lathi which proved fatal. Held, he was guilty under S. 304 (2) and the rest under S. 325. 9 L. L. J. 529=29 P. L. R. 265=1927 L. 881.
6. If a person was suffering from an injury which would render injuries fatal to that person, it does not follow as it would in the case of a healthy man, that the person inflicting the injuries knew it to be likely that death would be caused thereby. 34 C. L. J. 515.
7. If the skull is fractured in a sudden fight by a lathi blow on the head, the intention to kill cannot be inferred. 1927 P. 406=28 Cr. L. J. 541=8 P. L. T. 594.
8. Where the sole inmates of a house were a man and his two wives and the elder wife was habitually ill-treated and half starved and was taken to hospital with a serious injury on head of which she died on the third day. Held, that the explanation of the husband being unsatisfactory, he must be presumed to have caused the injury. 150 P. L. R. 1913.
9. If a person causes death by doing an act merely with the knowledge that he is likely by such act to cause death, the act comes under S. 299 and not S. 300. 9 P. R. 1891 Cr.

39. Nature of weapon.

Nature of weapon used and the number and nature of wounds determine the intention of the accused. 8 L. B. R. 125.

40. Neglect to get medical aid. See Murder—79.

After the deceased was progressing all right in the Hospital, he left it and went home and 1½ months after the occurrence he died of pneumonia. Medical evidence did not show that death was due to injuries. Held, that no offence under S. 304 was committed. 1924 A. 441=81 I. C. 181=29 Cr. L. J. 345.

41. Procedure.

If the jury find that accused's intention was to cause only such injury as was likely to cause death, they should find the accused guilty under S. 304. The general conduct of the accused at the time of committing the act, the nature of the weapon used and the number and nature of the wounds inflicted are considerations which should guide the jury in arriving at the intention of the accused. 8 L. B. R. 125.

42. Sentence.

1. In a quarrel between the accused's wife and his brother's wife, the latter abused the accused's daughter, and accused hit her a single blow on the head with a stick.

Culpable Homicide (not Amounting to Murder)—(contd.)

DACOITY. Ss. 391—395, I. P. C.

1. Abetment.

1. Where accused point out the house to be robbed and was in charge of canals of the dacoits. When dacoity was being committed he is an abettor under S. 395/109, I. P. C. 15 P. R. 1901 Cr., 21 A. 263, 16 A. 437.
2. The words of S. 397 are not such as to exclude the operations of Ss. 114 and 31, I. P. C. 82 I. C. 45=25 Cr. L. J. 1181=1925 N. 136.
3. Knowing of a design to commit a dacoity and voluntarily concealing the existence of that design, with the knowledge that such concealment will facilitate the commission of dacoity is not abetment. (1865) 4 W. R. 2 Cr.
4. A person not taking part in dacoity but bringing food to gang prior to dacoity is guilty of abetment. 1934 R. 30=35 Cr. L. J. 863.
5. Accused was present when dacoity was planned and it was his hut from which the dacoits started and to which they returned after committing dacoity. Held, he was guilty of abetment. 1903 A. W. N. 2.
6. A conspirator who stands out of a house to watch which his friends loot it, is guilty of abetment under S. 114. 1 Bom. L. R. 351.

2. Assembling for—. See Assembling for committing dacoity. S. 402, I. P. C.

3. Attempt.

1. A person guilty of attempt to commit dacoity should be convicted under S. 395 and not S. 511, I. P. C. which is inapplicable. 23 A. 78, (1867) 7 W. R. 48 Cr.
2. Attempt on the part of dacoits to dig hole in the wall of a house while they intended to rob is only preparation under S. 399 and not an attempt. 23 A. 78.

4. Charge.

1. A conviction for dacoity founded on a common object not charged is not sustainable. 1924 M. 584=77 I. C. 444=25 Cr. L. J. 396.
2. An accused cannot be charged with more than three dacoities. Particular dacoity must be stated in the charge. 13 I. C. 781=13 Cr. L. J. 125.
3. Alternative charges under S. 457 and S. 395 are not bad. 31 Cr. L. J. 610.
4. Other persons besides the accused need not be referred in the charge. 12 Cr. L. J. 193.

5. Corroboration of Approver's Testimony. See Accomplice.

1. Some common things were found in the search and some other things found were claimed by the accused and not mentioned in the first information report. A sword and a gun were found which were concealed because complainant did not hold the licence. Held, there was no sufficient corroboration of approver's story. 1923 L. 385=76 I. C. 716=25 Cr. L. J. 252.
2. Where a witness stated that he identified the accused but omitted to name the dacoits in the F. I. R. Held, that it was no corroboration of approver's testimony. 114 I. C. 623=1929 N. 222=30 Cr. L. J. 331.
3. Mere fact that the accused were seen with the approver a few days before dacoity is not material corroboration but the production of stolen property by the accused is sufficient corroboration. 1924 L. 727=82 L. C. 707=25 Cr. L. J. 1347.

4. The discovery of stolen property out of a house jointly occupied by accused and his uncle is sufficient corroboration of approver's evidence. 1923 L. 335.
5. Where articles recovered were incapable of identification, it is no corroboration of approver's testimony. 1923 L. 44=81 L. C. 1052=26 Cr. L. J. 412.
6. The only incriminating statement which the approver made was that he was offered Rs. 100 after the dacoity which he took. Held, that it was not the confession that he committed dacoity and that it could not be taken into consideration against the rest. 1926 C. 374=42 C. L. J. 496=26 Cr. L. J. 1146.

F. Direction to Jury.

1. In cases of dacoity, the Judge ought to explain to the Jury the ingredients of robbery as defined in S. 390, I. P. C. If he does not it is a real and not technical defect. 1924 O. 411=25 Cr. L. J. 1129, 25 C. 711, 39 A. 348, 30 M. 44.
2. The Judge must direct the Jury to find whether in committing dacoity the accused intended to cause wrongful gain or loss of property. (1864) W. R. 8.
3. The Judge must explain to the Jury that unless there are five or more persons, there can be no dacoity. (1903) L. Weir 446

G. Essentials.

1. An offence under S. 395 is committed only if the finding is that the number of persons concerned in the robbery is not less than five. 6 L. 24=1925 L. 337=88 L. C. 513=26 Cr. L. J. 1153, 39 A. 348.
2. When out of five one turned approver and two were acquitted, the remaining two cannot be convicted of dacoity. 1927 L. 519=28 Cr. L. J. 547.
3. Where three known and named persons were charged with dacoity along with two other unknown men and Jury acquitted one of the three. Held, that the conviction of the remaining two is not illegal. 1928 M. 144=29 Cr. L. J. 5.
4. Where Magistrate finds that there is no reliable evidence that more than four persons took part in the alleged dacoity, he can discharge them. 82 L. C. 767=25 Cr. L. J. 1375=1925 O. 233.
5. Where accused Nos. 4, 5 and 6 stood by and encouraged accused Nos. 1, 2 and 3 who were making a sort of raid on their brother's property in order to retake it. Held, that accused Nos. 4, 5 and 6 were no parties to any robbery. 1922 M. 195=71 L. C. 877.
6. If the robbers scared away the owner of house before they entered, the offence is complete. 1924 A. 701=83 L. C. 705.
7. A dacoity begins as soon as there is an attempt to commit robbery and a shot fired thereafter in order to keep off a rescue party and to allow a theft to be committed is an act in the committing of dacoity. 26 Cr. L. J. 1364=1925 O. 723.
8. If no property is carried off, there is no dacoity but an offence under S. 402. (1863) 9 W. R. 5.
9. It cannot avail the accused to say that no hurt was caused, when no body dared to resist the overwhelming force. 10 Bom. L. R. 632.
10. When out of six accused three were acquitted the rest were guilty under S. 392 and not S. 395. 1928 M. 144 (1)=29 Cr. L. J. 5=53 M. L. J. 732, 39 A. 348.
11. Where accused did not actually take part in dacoity, but was put in charge of a boat at a distance of 5 miles, he was not guilty of dacoity. 42 C. L. J. 496=1926 C. 374=26 Cr. L. J. 1146=42 C. L. J. 496=88 L. C. 458.
12. If accused acted under a claim of right in good faith, they would not be guilty although acted erroneously. 3 M. H. C. R. 254.
13. Accused were arrested out side Agra at mid night carrying arms concealed and none of them could give satisfactory explanation, the burden of proving that they were not there to commit dacoity was on them, when Agra was notorious for dacoity. 23 A. 124.

*Dacoity—(contd.)8. Evidence.

1. Where in the first information report only two dacoits are alleged to have been recognized at the time of commission of dacoity, subsequent evidence that they were all identified cannot be relied upon. 93 P. L. R. 1915=8 P. W. R. 1915 Cr.=16 Cr. L. J. 204.
2. Where evidence of identification is not reliable, accused cannot be convicted. 71 P. L. R. 1910=2 P. W. R. 1911.
3. Mere association with the dacoits may create suspicion but is no proof that the persons so associating took part in the dacoity. 43 I. C. 111.
4. Persons who remain out side the house when dacoity is committed are by no means the least guilty. 1931 O. 74=126 I. C. 498=31 Cr. L. J. 1017.
5. Dacoity cases require great caution in the question of evidence as to identification of dacoits. 39 I. C. 296, 27 P. R. 1868 Cr., 1923 L. 161=5 L. L. J. 82.
6. Mere pointing out stolen property by a dacoit is not sufficient to convict him. 23 I. C. 1004=15 Cr. L. J. 404.
7. When no stolen property is found in possession of the accused and their names not mentioned in F. I. R. and no identification parade by a Magistrate. Held, their conviction solely based upon the evidence of complainant is not sustainable. 1928 O. 417=112 I. C. 109=29 Cr. L. J. 989.
8. Dacoits assembled at the accused's hut before and after the dacoity and some stolen property was found near his hut, held he is not guilty. 1924 O. 367=81 I. C. 597=25 Cr. L. J. 949.
9. In dacoity cases evidence against each accused should be discussed separately. 76 I. C. 573=1924 R. 67=Cr. L. J. 205.
10. The Court should examine witnesses on minutest details as to the part taken by each dacoit. Mere evidence "they were all in it" is neither satisfactory nor sufficient. 6 C. W. N. 72, 38 I. C. 730.
11. The mere fact that a person started off with the dacoits does not make him liable for dacoity. 17 W. R. 50 Cr.
12. Five or more Hindus forcibly seized one ox and two cows from a Mohammadan to prevent their slaughter, Held, the accused did not act dishonestly within the meaning of S. 24, I. P. C., and hence not guilty under S. 395. 15 A. 22. See 15 A. 299.
13. When the common object of Mohammadans was to hurt Hindus wherever they meet, and rob their shops and houses, any person who is proved to have taken part in disturbance is guilty of rioting and dacoity. 1927 Oudh 70=99 I. C. 238.
14. Where accused were tried for dacoity, the fact that certain other persons were previously tried for complicity in that dacoity is irrelevant. 1927 O. 369 (2).
15. Evidence of a person who knew the accused previously and who had ample opportunity of observing the accused at the dacoity and who immediately named him to the villagers and the Police, as one of the dacoits is credible. 8 I. C. 317.
16. Where there was enough light from fire burning in the courtyard and the lanterns carried by dacoits to identify the accused and some of the stolen property was also recovered from the accused, the conviction was sound. 1923 O. 39.

9. Identification of dacoit. See Identification.

1. When complainant followed the accused on a dark night, their identification is doubtful. 1923 L. 161=5 L. L. J. 82.
2. In case of dacoity, evidence adduced as to identification should not be accepted too readily, but should be looked with great caution. 1932 O. 317=139 I. C. 751=32 Cr. L. J. 920, 4 O. L. J. 83.
3. Identification made at night during dacoity when blows are struck and people are terrorised is generally of little value. 1927 C. 820=23 Cr. L. J. 874.
4. In dacoity cases no Court will convict the accused unless identified in Jail soon after his arrest. 1924 A. 445=25 I. C. 245=26 Cr. L. J. 501.

*Dacoity—(contd.)10. Judgement.

In a case of dacoity, the Judge should give a general outline of the case, the course of the investigation, arrest of the various accused, and then the case for and against each accused should be dealt with in detail and he should arrive at a conclusion with regard to each accused. 2 Bur. L. J. 199.

11. Judicial notice of.—

Court can take judicial notice of the fact that at a particular time in a particular district dacoities or any other crimes were rife. 23 A. 124.

12. Jurisdiction;

1. Where dacoity was committed in a Native State and part of the stolen property was found in British territory, the offence of dacoity could not be tried in British India although one under S. 411, I. P. C., could be tried. 1 B. 50, 10 B. 186, 6 C. 307, 1 M. 171, Cont. 5 B. 338 (345), 28 A. 266, 37 P. R. 1881.
2. Accused, who were foreign subjects committed dacoity outside British India. They had resided for three years in British territory. Held, they could not be tried in British India. 37 P. R. 1881 Cr., 1 P. R. 1885 Cr.

13. Making preparation for.— S. 399, I. P. C.

1. Mere assemblage does not amount to preparation. Where the accused armed with weapons actually proceeded to the scene of occurrence, they are guilty under S. 399. 9 L. 550=1928 L. 193, 6 P. R. 1915 Cr., 41 Cr. 350.
2. Persons hiding near a village armed with gun which they used when pursued by villagers, are guilty under S. 399. 27 Cr. L. J. 1161=97 I. C. 745.
3. It is not necessary that the persons making preparation should be five or more. But it is necessary that the raid for which they were making preparation was to be committed by five or more. 71 I. C. 360=24 Cr. L. J. 136.
4. Mere discussing the possibilities of committing dacoity and various suggestions to loot is not sufficient. 32 I. C. 833=17 Cr. L. J. 97.
5. S. 402 applies to mere assembling without further preparation. S. 399 applies to a case where such preparation is proved in addition. 41 C. 350.
6. Attempt on the part of the dacoits to dig a hole in the wall of a house which they intended to rob, is only preparation under S. 399 and not an attempt. 23 A. 78.
7. Making preparation should be by some overt act like collection of arms, men, provisions etc., along with circumstances pointing to the intention. 6 P. R. 1915 Cr.
8. A group of persons were warming themselves round a fire in the open field and two of them were armed. Some of them ran away when headman's armed party came there. Held, it did not amount to making preparation for dacoity. 1935 R. 294.
9. Accused were found in a room armed with guns, spears, torches, etc., one of them fired at the Sub-Inspector when he opened the room. DACOITY WITH MURDER. S. 396, I. P. C.

1. Abetment.

1. If a person is not found guilty of the substantive offence of dacoity, but only of its abetment, he cannot be held constructively liable for murder committed by the party. 15 P. R. 1901 Cr., 2 Bom. L. R. 325, 4 P. R. 1900 Cr., 1927 L. 149=99 I. C. 49, 51 C. 265.
2. If a person pointed out the house to be robbed or held the camels of the dacoits at a distance, he is guilty of abetment. 15 P. R. 1901 Cr., 4 P. R. 1900 Cr.

2. Burden of Proof.

The burden of proving all the ingredients of offence under S. 396 is on the prosecution. 51 I. C. 685=20 Cr. L. J. 525.

3. Charge.

1. Separate charges for murder and dacoity are unnecessary. The accused should be charged under S. 396. 1925 L. 337=6 L. 24.

Dacoity with Murder—(contd.)

2. When out of a number of persons charged with dacoity, half are acquitted, the charge does not necessarily fail. 12 Cr. L. J. 193, 31 Cr. L. J. 112.
3. Where death was the result of blows causing rupture of liver and fracture of four ribs and accused took away lot of jewellery. Held, it is proved that accused intended to kill and the offence fell under S. 460. 1 L. L. J. 252.
4. Although charge under S. 396 has incidental reference to charge of murder, yet a conviction of murder will not be if there is no mention of S. 302 in the charge. 1933 C. 294.

4. Essentials and Evidence.

1. A shot fired to keep off rescue party, so that theft may be committed, is an act committed in committing dacoity. 1925 O. 723=26 Cr. L. J. 1364.
2. A shot fired in the compound of the house raided, at the time when dacoits were making good their escape falls under S. 396. 1923 L. 329=76 I. C. 1039.
3. Accused sent to jail for not being able to furnish security under S. 110, Cr. P. C., is irrelevant in proceedings under S. 396. A presumption under S. 144, Evidence Act will not alone justify fixing a person with more than knowledge that the goods were obtained by dacoity. 59 I. C. 204=22 Cr. L. J. 60.
4. For S. 396 it is not necessary to prove that the murder was committed jointly by all the accused. 91 I. C. 233=1926 O. 245=27 Cr. L. J. 257.
5. Where it is established that dacoity was committed by five persons and one of whom committed murder, the four accused are guilty under S. 396 although the fifth accused is not traced and identified. 1930 L. 263=31 Cr. L. J. 112.
6. Murder committed by dacoits while retreating or carrying away stolen property is murder committed in the commission of dacoity. 1925 L. 142=81 I. C. 188=25 Cr. L. J. 700, 2 L. 275=1921 L. 115=63 I. C. 623, 17 M. L. J. 118, 2 Bom. L. R. 325, 25 Cr. L. J. 319.
7. To constitute this offence, it must be proved (i) that dacoity is the joint act of the accused, (ii) that murder was committed in the course of commission of dacoity. 29 C. L. J. 325, 6 C. W. N. 72.
8. If during dacoity a dacoit commits murder, the other members are guilty of murder, although they did not participate in it or although it was not committed in their presence. 17 A. 86, 6 Bom. L. R. 248, 44 P. L. R. 1904 Cr.
9. If the dacoits are not carrying stolen property and are interrupted by villagers and some of them, in order to facilitate the escape, killed one of the pursuing party. Held, this section did not apply. 26 A. W. N. 47.
10. Where death was the result of blows causing rupture of liver and fracture of four ribs and accused took away lot of jewellery. Held, it is not proved that accused intended to kill and offence fell under S. 460. 1 L. L. J. 252.
11. In a case under S. 396, I. P. C., the result of proceedings taken under S. 110, Cr. P. C., is not admissible. 59 I. C. 204=22 Cr. L. J. 60.
12. If in the commission of dacoity a murder is committed, it matters not whether a particular dacoit was inside or outside the house, so long as the murder was in the commission of dacoity. 17 A. 86, 6 Bom. L. R. 248, 4 P. R. 1900 Cr.
13. A dacoit kills a person pursuing him, the murder is committed while committing dacoity. 1932 C. 818=33 Cr. L. J. 722=139 I. C. 213.
14. When shooting was resorted to for removing opposition to commit dacoity, all persons are guilty under Ss. 396—149. 1934 R. 30=35 Cr. L. J. 863.
15. S. 396 is applicable when murder is committed for facilitating the escape of the perpetrators of the crime while retreating. 1935 O. 190=153 I. C. 973.
16. I murder is committed, S. 149, I. P. 12 read with S. 149. 1935 O. 190
17. S. 397 does not provide that if a gun is used at a dacoity by a person or persons unknown all the dacoits must be punished with at least seven years imprisonment.

The section does not provide joint liability as S. 149 does. 1935 A. 132=154 I. C. 1015.

18. Where the shots were fired not on the upper part of the body but on the lower part only. Held, that intention of the dacoit was not to kill and they were guilty under S. 395 and not S. 396. 1935 C. 580=39 C. W. N. 188.

19. Murder was committed by a dacoit in attempting to carry away stolen property soon after dacoity. Held, every one of the dacoits is liable to be punished for the same even though they have not abetted or taken part in it. 1933 L. 977, 2 L. 275=1921 L. 115, 1923 L. 322, 1925 L. 142=25 Cr. L. J. 700 and 17 A. 86 Rel. on.

5. Jurisdiction.

Dacoity was committed in British India but murder was committed soon after in a Native State while attempting to carry away stolen property. Held, that British Indian Courts had jurisdiction to try the offence under S. 396, I. P. C., without certificate. 1933 L. 977=157 I. C. 2.

2. Court is not bound to wait till the close of day before proceeding under S. 247, Cr. P. C., whether the complainant appears or not. 49 M. 833=1929 M. 949.

Delay—(contd.)

4. In arresting accused.

When delay in formally arresting the accused is explained, prosecution should not be disbelieved as being fabricated on that ground. 1934 L. 158=1934 Cr. C. 343.

5. In bringing fresh complaint.

Five months after the dismissal of a complaint, a fresh complaint was preferred. Held, that the proceedings should be quashed. 11 Cr. L. J. 582=8 I. C. 203.

6. In confirming death sentence. See Sentence—16.

7. In disposal of appeal.

1. A delay of over 4½ months in hearing appeal would amount to denial of justice in a majority of cases. 1925 O. 501=85 I. C. 370=26 Cr. L. J. 530.

2. When there was a delay in hearing appeal in a murder case, the sentence was commuted into one for transportation, as the capital sentence hung over the accused for six months. 17 C. W. N. 1213.

8. In disposal of cases. See Transfer (Grounds)—28.

1. The case of an accident to a motor due to the negligent and reckless driving of another motor car ought to be tried within a week. 1929 C. 776=31 Cr. L. J. 614.

2. Where there was a long delay in disposal of a murder case, a sentence of transportation instead of hanging was awarded. 126 P. R. 1866.

3. Unnecessary delay in the disposal of a case is a good ground for transfer. 2 Weir 679=692, 12 A. L. J. 262, 1926 L. 78, 8 M. L. T. 222, 56 I. C. 664.

4. As soon as accused is brought before a Magistrate, he has a right to have the evidence against him recorded at as early a period as possible. The fact that there is a great body of evidence forthcoming against him, is no ground for his detention for an inordinate length of time. 6 M. 63.

5. Petty case must be finished in one hearing and both parties should be ready with their evidence. 9 P. 113=1930 P. 241=31 Cr. L. J. 789.

6. Where the record in a criminal case were untidy and the proceedings were allowed to drag on indefinitely, the parties appearing or not as suited their convenience, the conduct of Magistrate was held reprehensible. 58 C. 1293=1932 C. 63.

7. If delay in disposal was due to complainant's default the proceedings should not be quashed. 1927 L. 66 (1)=28 Cr. L. J. 164=99 I. C. 596.

9. In filing Revision.

1. Revision to High Court against an order under S. 107, Cr. P. C., should be filed with the utmost promptitude and certainly within the thirty days of the order complained against. 1926 A. 767=49 A. 228=27 Cr. L. J. 1132.

2. There is no time limit for filing revision in High Court. 1930 O. 401.

3. If in a case under S. 408, I. P. C., accused is let off under S. 562, Cr. P. C., although imprisonment is necessary, High Court refused to interfere when the revision was filed after a long delay. 1928 L. 926=107 I. C. 755=29 Cr. L. J. 291, 19 P. W. R. 1910 Cr., 1925 Bom. 192=86 I. C. 70=26 Cr. L. J. 694.

4. According to the practice of the Calcutta High Court an application for revision should be made within 60 days from the date of the order. The mistake of petitioner's legal adviser is no ground for departing from the settled practice. 43 C. 1029, 40 I. C. 694, 1927 C. 574=28 Cr. L. J. 639=54 C. 394.

5. The revision application should be filed within a reasonable time. 1926 A. 577.

6. In case of delay in filing revision, the High Court should ask petitioner to give reasons for delay and after considering those reasons may admit or reject the application. 1930 O. 401=126 I. C. 395=31 Cr. L. J. 1012.

7. According to Rule 3, Chapter XV of Sind Judicial Commissioner Court Rules, the application should be made to that Court within 60 days. 13 Cr. L. J. 531.

8. Delay in filing revision against order under S. 144 is fatal. 38 M. 489.

9. Delay of nine months is fatal. 8 A. 514.

Delay—(contd.)

10. In First information report. See First information report—7.

11. In forfeiting bond.

Delay in forfeiture of bond under S. 107 is prejudicial. 44 A. 657.

12. In giving information of crime.

1. When the story of confession was not told by the witness until after a fortnight of occurrence, the evidence is unreliable. 1 P. 630=1922 P. 582=24 Cr. L. J. 91.
2. When witness admits that he disclosed his knowledge of crime to Police at a very late date and gives no explanation of this delay, his evidence is of no value. 99 I. C. 857, 3 L. L. J. 147=28 Cr. L. J. 185.
3. If the principal witness was not examined for a long time, his evidence should be discarded as there was opportunity for being tutored. 1922 P. 348=23 Cr. L. J. 421.
4. If the eye witness did not come forward immediately the investigation began, his testimony should not be rejected on that ground alone. 1931 L. 529=32 Cr. L. J. 1032=133 I. C. 446=32 P. L. R. 461=1931 Cr. C. 769.

13. In giving sanction to prosecute—Directing prosecution. Ss 195, 476, Cr. P. C.

1. Delay may under certain circumstances be almost a sufficient ground in itself for setting aside order for prosecution. 46 A. 851, 1924 L. 569, 1921 P. 422.
2. Long lapse of time after the commission of offence under S. 193 justifies the Court in not granting sanction. 67 I. C. 204, 56 I. C. 853, 57 I. C. 457.
3. An order directing prosecution under S. 476, Cr. P. C., five months after the trial is without jurisdiction. 23 I. C. 491=15 Cr. L. J. 283.

14. In identification. See Identification—22.

15. In judgment.

The judgment in criminal cases must be passed without undue delay, as it prevents accused from appealing at once. 5 C. P. L. R. 24.

16. In litigation.

The Privy Council condemned the inordinate delay in protracted Indian litigation. 38 A. 570, 39 A. 173, 36 I. C. 420.

17. In prosecution. See Directing prosecution—12.

1. Accused was convicted under S. 149, I. P. C., and his conviction was set aside by High Court after a year. He was again prosecuted under S. 121 and was acquitted by Sessions Judge. Held, on appeal from Government, that as there was delay in prosecution, the accused should not be pursued under the new charge. 1924 M. 768=84 I. C. 547=26 Cr. L. J. 323.
2. If both Courts are doubtful as to who caused the injury and complaint was made after long delay, the conviction is improper. 1923 L. 447.

18. In remittance of money to Head Office. See Criminal breach of trust—35.

Delay in making remittance to the Head Office is no conversion to one's use and does not amount to criminal breach of trust. 106 I. C. 862.

19. In retrial.

An order of retrial in a case of discharge under Ss. 342—355 and 506, Penal Code, after two years, amounts to travesty of justice. 1928 L. 178=29 Cr. L. J. 895.

20. In reviving complaint.

1. A complainant who allows a long period to elapse before resurrecting a case under S. 408, I. P. C., cannot possibly be allowed to re-agitate it, as a sort of retaliation. 1926 L. 213=96 I. C. 388=27 Cr. L. 932.
2. A complaint was filed in March 1920 and summons were issued. The proceedings were stayed for six weeks as the Food Inspector was on leave. The case was revived in January 1923. Held, that the procedure is defective though not illegal. 1923 C. 725=77 I. C. 892=25 Cr. L. J. 492.

DELEGATION

1. By District Magistrate. Ss. 17 (1), 195, 197, Cr. P. C.

1. Clause (1) of S. 17 empowers only a District Magistrate to make Rules or pass orders as to the distribution of work. Such powers cannot be delegated by District Magistrate to a Sub Divisional Magistrate or to a Senior Honorary Magistrate. 36 A. 468.

2. The power to make complaint under S. 195, Cr. P. C., must be exercised by the Court before which the offence was committed, the Court cannot delegate the powers even to Public Prosecutor. The filing of complaint by him is not equivalent to a complaint by the Court. 19 P. R. 1917 Cr., 13 P. R. 1915 Cr.

3. The authority empowered to grant sanction under S. 197, for the prosecution of Judge and public servants, cannot delegate to another the task of determining which offence the sanction should relate to. 16 M. 468.

2. By District Magistrate to hear appeals. S. 407 (2), Cr. P. C.

The District Magistrate may delegate his work of hearing appeal but not any revisional work. 2 Bom. L. R. 536.

3. Of powers by officer to whom commission is issued. S. 503 (4), Cr. P. C.

When a commission was issued to an officer representing the British Indian Government for the examination of a witness residing in a Native State, he could not delegate his powers under the commission to his subordinate, but had to personally execute such commission 1896 A. W. N. 106. (Old law).

DELIVERY.

1. Signs of.

1. The signs of recent delivery in the three last months of pregnancy, are observable by sexual organs, uterus, abdomen, the lochial discharge, state of the breasts, and secretion of milk. In the first day after delivery the labia major et minora are dilated, red, tumefied and sometimes inflamed, the vulva is open, the fourchette is partially or completely torn; the orifice of the womb is so dilated, as to admit the introduction of one or two fingers into the cavity of the organ, the posterior lip is elongated and thickened, and both lips are much thicker than during pregnancy.—Ryan's Med. Jur. 1836, P. 273.

2. The womb itself is more voluminous, can be felt above the pubis, or may be felt enlarged by placing one hand on the hypogastrium and a finger in the vagina. The size and flaccidity of the abdomen, its wrinkled condition, the lochia and milk, are signs of recent delivery, but all may be present after the expulsion of a mole or other morbid growth in the uterus. A woman may be delivered without her knowledge, if completely intoxicated; if stupified by narcotics; if attacked with apoplexy, syncope, delirium, idiocy, insanity or during sleep. Ryan's Med. Jur. 1836, P. 274.

2. Death of child before delivery.

A woman may suppose she feels the motion of the infant during delivery, yet a putrid infant may be produced. Various causes may act on the mother and destroy the infant, as unhealthiness of habitation, mode of dress, violent exercise, venereal excesses, intemperance, convulsions, syphilis, smallpox, falls, wounds, accidents etc. Pressure in difficult labour may destroy the infant; improper use of instruments, flogging, and diseases of the placenta will produce the same effect. But the infant may be born alive in despite of most of these causes. The following signs occurring during pregnancy are indicative of the death of infant:—want of motion in the foetus; the womb feels as if it contained a dead weight, which roll according to the position of the woman, the naval is less prominent, the milk disappears, the breasts are brown, flaccid, the mother experiences a sense of lassitude and coldness, accompanied with headache and nausea. If it is actually dead and long retained in the womb, putrefaction sets in, the membranes become black, and foetid discharges take place. Ryan's Med. Jur. 1836. P. 276.

3. Death of child after delivery.

If the death takes place after birth, there will be the characters of viability and complete development, signs of external violence fractures, bruises, perhaps omission of ligature on the cord; lungs spongy, rose colour, swimming in water, even after compression of them. Ryan's Med. Jur. 1836. P. 277.

10. A trial Judge in India has not the same opportunity of observing the demeanour of a witness as a trial Judge in England. 39 A. 426=31 I. C. 699.
11. Few men are really good actors, and there is a remarkable difference between the demeanour of a witness who is describing a scene or occurrence which he actually saw, and that of a witness who repeats from memory a story which has been taught to him. In the case of former, his eyes are lit with intelligence, his features are all in motion and his hands make unconscious indications. The latter stands motionless or is fidgety and restless, his features are impassive, the pupil of his eye is fixed, he gazes at empty space, he hurries on with his story lest he should lose the thread of it and is impatient of interruption. Occasionally as he forgets the cue, he thrusts out his tongue and hurriedly withdraws it and the apple in his throat rises and as suddenly falls. *Field's Law of Evidence in Br. India, 8th Ed. P. De NOVO TRIAL. S. 350, Cr. P. C.

1. Applicability of S. 350, Cr. P. C.

1. A person against whom proceedings under S. 107, Cr. P. C., are pending, can claim that upon the first Magistrate ceasing to have jurisdiction, the second Magistrate should hear the witnesses afresh. S. 350 is applicable to summons cases as well as warrant cases. 1925 O. 228=25 Cr. L. J. 580, 43 M. 511.
2. S. 350 is applicable to proceedings under S. 145, Cr. P. C. 37 C. 812, 13 C. W. N. 420. See 37 C. L. J. 128 and 1924 P. 786=25 Cr. L. J. 89, 73 I. C. 265.
3. S. 350 (a) applies every time a new Magistrate takes cognizance of the matter continued by his predecessor. 47 M. 245=1924 M. 247=25 Cr. L. J. 566.
4. S. 350 (1) (a) cannot be applied to proceedings in a warrant case before the charge has been framed. At that stage the proceeding is not a trial but an enquiry. 46 M. 719=1923 M. 660=71 I. C. 658=24 Cr. L. J. 192. See 25 C. 863, 32 M. 218.
5. S. 350 does not apply to cases tried by Benches of Magistrates. 1922 L. 137=62 I. C. 335, 1921 L. 135=2 L. 237=64 I. C. 132, 37 C. 754, 12 C. 558, 20 C. 870, 23 C. 194, 18 M. 394, 38 M. 304, 41 A. 116, 50 I. C. 677, 35 A. L. J. 237, 13 C. L. R. 212.
6. S. 350 applies to summon cases and summary trials. 3 L. 115 Cont. 1936 S. 40.
7. S. 350 applies when a S. 30 Magistrate dies and is succeeded by the District Magistrate. 46 I. C. 289, 35 C. 457, 32 M. 218, 40 A. 307.
8. S. 350 does not apply to the proceedings of a second class Magistrate to whom a case is transferred by a first class Bench trying a case summarily. 55 M. 795.
9. Where two Magistrates heard a case and the Bench was dissolved and the Magistrate who recorded the depositions proceeded with the case, S. 350 does not apply and no retrial can be claimed. 1935 C. 257=39 C. W. N. 57, 22 M. 47 Ref.
10. In an appeal against an order under S. 167, Cr. P. C., de novo trial cannot be entered by appellate Court. 1934 M. 202 (1)=34 Cr. L. J. 947.
11. In petty cases de novo trial is not necessary. 1934 L. 415.
12. S. 350 does not apply to proceeding when further inquiry is ordered. 1936 S. 147.
13. S. 350 does not apply to revision. 43 M. 511, 1923 C. 443, 1924 P. 777, 24 M. 311, 1925 C. 480, 32 M. 218, 40 M. 719, 1934 S. 406 Cont. 3 L. 115.

De Novo Trial—(contd.)

2. Change in the constitution of Bench of Magistrates. See Bench of Magistrate—2.

3. Commitment.

1. When the proceedings are in the nature not of a trial but merely of an enquiry preparatory to commitment the necessity of any provision for de novo trial does not exist. 32 Cr. L. J. 243=1930 C. 666, 32 M. 218, 14 P. R. 1903.
2. Where the Magistrate who recorded the statement of the accused, was transferred and the case was eventually committed to the Court of Sessions by his successor, held, that statement was admissible in evidence under S. 237 in view of S. 350. Cr. P. C. 7 L. 70=1926 L. 271=94 I. C. 403, 31 M. 40, 36 A. 315.
3. If a Magistrate trying a case finds that accused should be committed to the Court of Sessions, the proceedings are not to be commenced de novo. 2 A. 190, 31 M. 40.

4. Demand of—.

1. Accused has a right to demand that witnesses should be resummoned and their evidence should be recorded anew. To read out to them their previous statement and getting admission from them that they are correct is not sufficient compliance of the section. 59 I. C. 551=16 P. W. R. 1919 Cr.=22 Cr. L. J. 119.
2. Accused has right to demand that witnesses shall be resummoned and reheard not only in warrant cases but also in cases of summary trial and trial of summon cases and at the time when second class Magistrate commences his proceedings and not when a charge is framed. 1922 L. 49=3 L. 115=66 I. C. 826=23 Cr. L. J. 330.
3. The complainant cannot claim that accused must demand de novo trial from the beginning. 1925 M. 317=5 I. C. 366=26 Cr. L. J. 526.
4. Notwithstanding the demand of the accused to recall and rehear the witnesses, the Magistrate did not call them and acquitted the accused. The acquittal is illegal. 1921 A. 35=63 I. C. 460=22 Cr. L. J. 668.
5. When accused does not insist on de novo, there is no illegality. 1921 P. 472, 40 A. 307.
6. Magistrate is not bound to ask accused if he demands de novo trial. 6 P. R. 1884. See 35 I. C. 961.
7. Accused cannot demand de novo trial. He can only ask that certain witnesses should be reheard. Magistrate can also recommence trial and in that case accused cannot object to the examination of witnesses afresh. 1935 M. 318 (2)=1935 M. W. N. 179.

5. Effect of—.

1. Where accused exercise the right under S. 350 (a) and prosecution witnesses retract their former statements made before the first Magistrate, they are not evidence. 3 L. 115=1922 L. 49=66 I. C. 826=23 Cr. L. J. 330.
2. Where accused exercises his right under proviso (a) S. 350, he has the option of withdrawing from the exercise of that right. 1925 M. 317=26 Cr. L. J. 526.
3. Magistrate cannot deliver a judgment written by his predecessor without considering the evidence on the record and without hearing arguments. 1926 C. 537=27 Cr. L. J. 406, 50 C. 664=1924 C. 55=24 Cr. L. J. 489, 3 A. 563.
4. The accused demanded that prosecution witnesses should be resummoned and reheard. When they appeared, he said, he would be content to cross-examine them. Held, that accused could change his mind. 1926 M. 815=27 Cr. L. J. 659.
5. When a case is transferred after charge and de novo trial is demanded, the Magistrate should recommence the trial and not merely allow further cross-examination of witnesses and proceed with the stage of charge. 1926 S. 158=92 I. C. 748=27 Cr. L. J. 332=16 P. W. R. 1919 Cr., 38 M. 585 Dist.
6. If a de novo trial is held by Magistrate after the charge, the accused cannot have further opportunity for resummoning witnesses for further cross-examination. 1935 M. 258.
7. If no new matter in evidence is introduced in fresh trial, omission to examine the accused for second time at such trial does not vitiate trial. 1935 M. 22 (1)=58

De Novo Trial—(contd.)

6. Procedure.

1. District Magistrate can under provision (b) S. 350 set aside a conviction by a first class Magistrate, though no appeal lies to him. 9 B. 100, 12 C. 473, 7 A. 853, 8 M. 18.
2. As soon as a case is transferred from one Magistrate to another, the former ceases to exercise jurisdiction in the case. 35 C. 457, 39 C. 781, 32 M. 218, 40 A. 307, 36 A. 315.
3. It is usually desirable that the Court to which the case is transferred should commence hearing de novo. 51 I. C. 480, 41 A. 307, 32 M. 218, 39 C. 781, 35 C. 457.
4. Witnesses should be summoned without payment of fees. 15 Cr. L. J. 687.

7. Remand.

When case is remanded for taking further evidence to the trial Court, and the Magistrate or the trying officer is transferred and a new officer has taken his place the latter is bound to accede to the request of accused to try the case de novo 1927 P. 5=97 I. C. 645=27 Cr. L. J. 1125.

8. Retrial.

1. Accused cannot demand retrial on transfer of trying Magistrate on the ground that he had not heard his counsel. 1925 O. 62=81 I. C. 899=25 Cr. L. J. 1075.
 2. The trying Magistrate was succeeded by another, who granted de novo trial. The District Magistrate transferred the case to the original Magistrate. Held, that the original Magistrate could not take up the case from the point from which he left and must start de novo. 1925 M. 174=85 I. C. 254=26 Cr. L. J. 510, 1927 M. 81=99 I. C. 55, 52 I. C. 398, 53 I. C. 820=20 Cr. L. J. 820.
 3. The District Magistrate cannot impose without the consent of the accused, while transferring a case, a condition that there would be no de novo trial. 1930 L. 168=121 I. C. 374=31 Cr. L. J. 257.
 4. Sessions Judge directed further enquiry by the same Magistrate. The District Magistrate transferred the case from him. Held, that the Magistrate to whom the case was transferred could summon the witnesses afresh. 1930 M. 983=32 Cr. L. J. 226.
 5. De novo trial means a new trial. Permitting cross-examination alone is illegal. 1925 M. 1280=90 I. C. 668=26 Cr. L. J. 1596.
 6. Magistrate cannot pronounce judgment written by his predecessor without a de novo trial. 40 M. 108=33 I. C. 646.
 7. New trial does not mean the cancellation of charge and if the accused is let off, he is acquitted and not discharged. 32 I. C. 129, 38 M. 585.
 8. A Magistrate dismissed a complaint when the complainant failed to deposit process fee for summoning witnesses, although a charge was framed by his predecessor. Held, it did not amount to acquittal. 32 Cr. L. J. 603=1931 N. 39.
 9. Trial for the purpose of S. 350 does not commence at charge but when accused appears before Court. 1934 Sind 106=35 Cr. L. J. 1261. (Crus Law discussed).
9. Right of accused and complainant.
1. Where accused did not exercise his right of demanding de novo trial, the conviction is not illegal. 59 I. C. 370=22 Cr. L. J. 82.
 2. Where accused does not insist upon a de novo trial, a Magistrate succeeding another is entitled to act on evidence already recorded. 1921 P. 472, 40 A. 307.
 3. The accused has a right to demand that witnesses or any of them be recalled and reheard. 3 L. 115, 107 I. C. 16=29 Cr. L. J. 229.
 4. Accused demands that witnesses should be reheard. When they appeared, he said, he would only cross examine them. Held, that accused could change his mind and only cross-examine the witnesses. 1935 M. 815=94 I. C. 707.

De Novo Trial—(concl.)

5. Right of accused under the proviso to S. 350 of resummoning witnesses is confined to trials and does not extend to inquiries. 54 M. 512=1931 M. 488 (2).
6. After the accused has demanded that witnesses should be re-heard, if he does not want any witness to be re-heard, the Court cannot order that his evidence should be taken afresh. 1935 M. 318 (2)=1935 M. W. N. 179.
7. Accused has absolute right to demand de novo trial. It cannot be limited by imposing conditions that accused should pay process fee. 1935 R. 108.
8. Accused, after demanding de novo trial, can waive examination or part of it, of witness called under S. 350 and can say that examination in chief of a particular witness be treated as evidence. 1934 N. 209, 12 C. W. N. 138, 1924 L. 104=4 L. 376 and 1925 M. 1280 Dist.
9. Where a judgment signed by a Magistrate was pronounced by his successor. Held, that accused was not entitled to de novo trial. 1933 M. 251 (1)=34 Cr. L. J. 117, 1929 M. 201 and 18 M. L. J. 197 Rel. on. 40 M. 108, 1920 M. 337 and 27 M. 510 Ref.
10. Complainant has no privilege to demand de novo trial. 1925 M. 317, 1926 M. 815.

10. Use of record of former trial.

1. Magistrate retrying the whole case transferred to him cannot use both his own record and that of his predecessor. 1927 L. 238=100 I. C. 382=28 Cr. L. J. 302.
2. If in a de novo trial, the witnesses retract their previous statements made before the first Magistrate, their former statements are not evidence in the case, as the trial commences only when the new Magistrate starts the proceedings. 3 L. 115=1922 L. 49.

11. Waiver.

1. Where accused does not exercise his right of demanding de novo trial, the conviction is not illegal. 59 I. C. 370=22 Cr. L. J. 82.
2. Only the accused can claim or waive the right. A Pleader during arguments on the transfer application, stated his intention not to have a de novo trial in the Court to which the case was transferred and subsequently accused demanded a trial de novo. Held, there was no waiver of right. 19 Cr. L. J. 637.
3. Where a case is transferred to a Magistrate not competent to try it. In such a case there should be de novo trial and accused cannot waive his right. 45 I. C. 673.
4. A general allegation that a request for de novo trial was refused without any date or without any specific allegation as to date when and to whom the application was made is insufficient to show that a de novo trial was refused. 1923 C. 320=23 Cr. L. J. 502=68 I. C. 38.

12. Which Magistrate should try a case de novo. See Retrial—14.13. When charge framed.

Where a Magistrate who framed a charge is transferred, his successor cannot ignore charge. Accused has a right to recall an. witness. 1933 M. 841=35 Cr. L. J. 79, 38 M. 585 Rel. on.

14. When further inquiry is ordered.

There is no distinction so far as the applicability of S. 350 is concerned between an enquiry in the original Court and further inquiry ordered by Sessions Judge after discharge of accused. In either case the succeeding Magistrate has a discretion of acting on the evidence already recorded and frame a charge without commencing the enquiry afresh. 54 M. 512, 32 M. 218, 35 C. 437, 14 M. 334.

15. When case comes back to original Magistrate.

When a Magistrate is transferred and is succeeded by his successor and there he is retransferred and case comes back to him, he cannot proceed from the point he left it. 1934 M. 475=57 M. 1019, 1925 M. 174, 1927 M. 81, 20 Cr. L. J. 635=520.

DEPOSITION. S. 288, Cr. P. C.

1. Before Committing Magistrate. S. 288, Cr. P. C.

A Value and use of—.

1. Deposition of witness recorded by Committing Magistrate can be basis of conviction if admitted under S. 288. 53 C. 131=1926 C. 235=90 I. C. 537=26 Cr. L. J. 1577.
2. Unless there be evidence to show that evidence given before the Magistrate should be preferred and substituted for that given before the Sessions Judge, the evidence given before the Committing Magistrate cannot be utilized in support of conviction. 3 P. 781=1925 P. 51=84 I. C. 334=26 Cr. L. J. 270, 27 C. 295.
3. Deposition before Committing Magistrate contradicting evidence before Sessions Judge cannot be put in under S. 288, Cr. P. C. without putting it to the witness under S. 145, I. E. Act. 1930 P. 338, 1922 P. 40, 7 A. 862, 21 A. 111. See 23 A. 683.
4. Where the Sessions Court is satisfied that statements made before the Committing Magistrate are true and before it are false, it can rely upon the previous statements. 47 A. 276=1925 A. 183=85 I. C. 130=26 Cr. L. J. 650.
5. Where two boys gave an entirely different version before Sessions Court from what they gave before Police and the Committing Magistrate, the previous statement could be used as substantive evidence under S. 288. 46 B. 97. See 22 A. 445, 27 C. 295.
6. A conviction based solely on evidence given by the witnesses before the Committing Magistrate and retracted by them at the trial is unsustainable. 17 P. R. 1919, 51 P. R. 1887, 21 A. 111 23 A. 683, unless corroborated by independent evidence. 5 L. 324 (325)=1924 L. 609=12 M. 123, 27 C. 295, 1926 P. 440=94 I. C. 258.
7. Where the opposing parties in a riot case did not wilfully identify the assailants, their evidence before the Committing Magistrate was admitted under S. 288=47 M. 232.
8. If a witness in the Sessions trial resiles from his deposition given before the Magistrate, and states that the latter deposition was made under influence of Police, the Judge should exercise a wise discretion in making some enquiry from the Inspector of Police regarding the pressure put upon the witness, before admitting it as evidence. 4 C. W. N. 49.
9. Statement made before Police is admissible in evidence to corroborate the statement made before the Committing Magistrate when the witness resiles from it, in the Sessions Court. 5 L. 324, 1923 M. 20, 27 C. 295.
10. When the Sessions Judge thinks that the witnesses are gained over, their statements before the Committing Magistrate should be transferred under S. 288. 24 M. 414, 2 P. 517=1923 P. 550=24 Cr. L. J. 641.

16. Where wife admitted before the Committing Magistrate that her husband took part in murder but resided in the Sessions Court and attributed torture to the Police which she never complained to the Judge. S. 238 applied. 1923 M. 837.
17. Depositions before Committing Magistrate may on appeal be looked into by High Court if the cross examination in the Sessions Court is not full. 12 Cr. L. J. 503.
18. Evidence admitted under S. 238 may be treated as evidence for all purposes, though it cannot be effectively utilized in support of conviction. It does not invariably require some independent corroboration. 1935 A. 671=155 I. C. 657=36 Cr. L. J. 823, 1927 A. 479=49 A. 251=27 Cr. L. J. 1365 Rel. on. 3 P. 781=1925 P. 51=26 Cr. L. J. 270. Not foll. 12 W. R. Cr. 3.
19. To transfer statement under S. 288 witness must be examined before Sessions Court or it should be proved that he is capable of giving evidence under S. 33, Ev. Act. 1934 L. 212=35 P. L. R. 75.
20. If the evidence before Committing Magistrate and Sessions Judge is contradictory, the statement can be transferred but to base conviction there should be independent corroboration. 1934 O. 182=35 Cr. L. J. 797.
21. When depositions are transferred to Sessions file, they should be acted upon as evidence deposited before Sessions Judge. 1934 L. 743.
22. Even if the witness denies the correctness of his previous statement, court can treat it as substantive evidence. 1933 R. 57=11 R. 4=34 Cr. L. J. 286. 2 Weir 375, 1923 P. 550, 1925 A. 185, 1925 B. 266 and 1926 C. 235 Rel. on. 1928 C. 690 Dist.

B. Duly recorded.

1. Prosecution witnesses were examined in the hospital but accused refused to cross-examine them as he was sick. They were again tendered and were cross-examined by the accused. They went back on their previous statements and supported the defence. Held, that the statements were duly recorded. 1926 L. 590=99 I. C. 65.
2. Whether a statement is recorded with a view to commitment or in the ordinary course of trial, is evidence recorded under Chapter XVIII. 53 C. 181=1926 C. 235.
3. A statement made in the absence of accused cannot be used under S. 288. 3 P. R. 1904, Cr. 23 C. 361, 35 A. 260.
4. If the accused was not allowed to cross-examine, the evidence cannot be said to be duly taken. 21 C. 642.
5. A statement made by a witness at a search does not come under S. 288. 36 M. 159.
6. A statement made before a Police Officer or investigating Magistrate is not contemplated by S. 288. 31 M. 127.

C. Object and scope.

1. The object is to provide for the contingency that may arise when a witness holds back information at the Sessions trial. 2 A. 646.
2. Under S. 288 the whole of the statement is to be taken under S. 288 and not portions of it. 1929 N. 233=114 I. C. 609=30 Cr. L. J. 333, 1925 M. 879.
3. Court, without informing the prosecution or defence, brought on record, the evidence of a witness under S. 288. Held, that course adopted is contrary to practice and law. 1929 N. 233=114 I. C. 609=30 Cr. L. J. 333.
4. S. 288 has no application to the evidence of a witness not produced and examined in a Court of Sessions. 56 I. C. 52.

D. "Subject to the provisions of Evidence Act."

1. Magisterial depositions can be utilized in a trial Court only if the matter contained therein is, according to the rule of evidence as laid down in Evidence Act of evidential value. Hearsay evidence contained in the deposition will not be utilized. 3 P. 781 (788-790)=1925 P. 51=6 P. L. T. 53=26 Cr. L. J. 270=84 I. C. 334.
2. The amending words "for all purposes subject to the provisions of the Indian Evidence Act, 1872" merely mean that law of evidence enacted in the Act must be complied with. For instance, evidence which had been wrongly admitted by the Committing Magistrate, in violation of the provisions of Evidence Act, could not be

2. Correction of—

An honest witness should be allowed to alter or correct his statement and should not be deterred from doing so by fear of criminal damage. 10 C. 937.

3. Of a Civil Surgeon. See S. 49, Cr. P. C.

1. It is not the duty of a Civil Surgeon that is admissible. A letter written by him to the Sessions Judge expressing an opinion as to the nature of wound is not evidence. 5 C. 211.
2. The certificate of a medical officer as to the cause of death is no evidence. 1 Weir 659.
3. The report of a medical man on his post-mortem examination cannot be treated as evidence, though it may be used to refresh memory when giving evidence. 9 C. 455.
4. A certificate granted by the Professor of a Medical College as regards the bones submitted to him for examination is not admissible in evidence. He must be examined as witness. 24 Bom. L. R. 803=1923 B. 183=47 B. 74.
5. Before the deposition of a medical witness given before the Committing Magistrate can be admitted in the Sessions Court, it must be proved to have been taken and attested in the prisoner's presence. It should be merely presumed under S. 114 (e), Evidence Act, to have been so taken and attested. 9 A. 720, 18 C. 129, 8 C. 739, 4 C. W. N. 49, 10 A. 174.
6. If the cross examination of a medical witness is reserved for the Sessions Court the procedure of the Sessions Court in not summoning him is wrong. 1923 P. 116.
7. Failure of Magistrate to append certificate to the deposition of a medical witness does not itself make the evidence inadmissible. 1933 L. 131=34 Cr. L. J. 443. 18 C. 121 Dist. Cont. 10 A. 174, 18 C. 129, 9 A. 720.

4. Of a witness. See Examination of witness.

5. Presumption about. See Presumption.

1. There is a presumption under S. 80 and S. 114 (e) of Evidence Act that the deposition of a witness was duly taken, although the fact of its being on oath or reading over to the deponent does not appear on record. 1925 P. 378=4 P. 231, 1927 P. 100=28 Cr. L. J. 7, 28 P. R. 1918 Cr., 46 C. 893, 35 A. 575.
2. There is a presumption that the witness actually stated what is recorded in the deposition. 1930 S. 154=120 I. C. 524.

1. Certain persons were arrested by the Police on suspicion of having been concerned in a dacoity and afterwards the Police Officer reported to the Magistrate that there was no sufficient evidence, the Magistrate should not detain them any longer so that the Police might institute proceeding under S. 110, Cr. P. C. 43 A. 186.

2. When the accused were not allowed to leave the Thana or to go to their homes, held, that they were detained in custody. The mere fact that there not being a special guard over them would not alter the nature of their position. 19 W. R. 36.
 3. On the expiry of 15 days allowed under Ss. 61 and 167, Cr. P. C., the Police must either release the accused, security being taken if required or the Magistrate must take cognizance on a report under S. 173 or the Magistrate must release him. 1924 C. 614=83 I. C. 628=26 Cr. L. J. 68.
 4. The intention is that accused should be brought before Magistrate with the least delay. 51 C. 402=1924 C. 476=81 I. C. 220=25 Cr. L. J. 732, 11 M. 98, 6 M. 69, 36 C. 166.
 5. Detention in excess of 24 hours is unlawful 6 W. R. 88, 19 W. R. 36, 41 A. 483.
 6. An approver cannot be detained in the custody of Police. 32 P. L. R. 728=1931 L. 480, 12 L. 635=1931 L. 476=132 I. C. 519=32 Cr. L. J. 913.
 7. The idea of free detention is altogether mistaken. 1924 R. 173=25 Cr. L. J. 381.
 8. Where a Police Officer detains a person for more than that fixed under S. 61, the detention is illegal and he is liable under S. 29, Police Act. 41 A. 483, 36 P. R. 1870, 1885 A. W. N. 59.
 9. It is not necessary to prove that Police Officer detained the accused with any guilty knowledge. 19 Suth W. R. 36.
3. Of accused by Magistrate. See Remand, S. 167, Cr. P. C.
4. Of approver Ss. 337, 339, 541, 541-A, Cr. P. C.
1. The approver will be detained in custody until an order of discharge is made by a Magistrate or of acquittal by a Judge. 37 B. 146, 1932 S. 40, 1927 S. 173, 1931 L. 476=12 L. 635.
 2. A Sessions Judge is not justified, as soon as the trial is closed, in sending an approver in custody to the Magistrate with a view to taking action against him for breach of the conditions of pardon. He is entitled to be discharged at the close of trial, although he can be re-arrested. 30 B 611, 10 Bur. L. T. 46.
 3. It is improper to keep the accused in further custody after the termination of the original trial. 37 C. 845, 11 N. L. R. 59, 62 C. 430.
 4. The discretionary power of superior Courts to grant bail to approvers should be sparingly used. The Magistrate tendering pardon cannot grant bail. 1927 S. 178=101 I. C. 471=28 Cr. L. J. 439.
 5. An approver cannot be detained in the custody of Police. 12 L. 635=1931 L. 476, 1931 L. 480=135 I. C. 192=33 Cr. L. J. 162.
 6. S. 341 (1), Cr. P. C., does not apply to the custody of approvers. The notification of the Local Government directing the confinement of approvers "in that portion of the Lahore fort which is in occupation of the Police" is ultra vires. 1931 L. 476=12 L. 635=132 I. C. 519=32 Cr. L. J. 913.
 7. A notification issued by Local Government under S. 541, Cr. P. C., prescribing Police custody for approvers instead of detention in jail or judicial lock up is ultra vires. 12 L. 604=1931 L. 353=131 I. C. 625=32 Cr. L. J. 785.
 8. If the accused to whom pardon is tendered is already on bail, there is no necessity for sending him to lock-up, but if he is already in custody, the Magistrate is bound to remand him to custody and retain him there until the termination of the trial. 1932 S. 40=33 Cr. L. J. 906=140 I. C. 153, 37 Bom. 146.
 9. The nature of custody in which an approver is to be detained is judicial custody or confinement in prison. 12 L. 604=32 Cr. L. J. 785=1931 L. 353.
 10. As soon as pardon is granted to an accused person, he becomes a witness qua the case in which he is to be examined, till his pardon is forfeited. There is no law for detaining such an approver witness in Police custody. 12 L. 635.
 11. Detention of approver in custody ends with the trial and not till the time of appeal. 1935 C. 616=37 C. 616=37 P. 616=37 P. 616.

Detention—concl'd.)

12. An approver is not a convicted prisoner but when his detention is ordered by Court under S. 337 (3), Cr. P. C., he comes within the category of "criminal prisoner" as defined in S. 3 (2) of the Prison Act and S. 4 of the Act imposes upon the Local Government the duty of providing for prisoners accommodation in prison as ordained by the Act. 12 L. 635=1931 L. 476=32 Cr. L. J. 913.
5. Of married woman. See Enticing away married woman.
6. Of offenders attending Court. S. 351, Cr. P. C.
 1. If a Magistrate ordered Police to file a charge sheet against a witness in a case before him and tried the case on the Police Report, he took cognizance of the case under S. 190 (b) and not under S. 190 (c) or S. 351, Cr. P. C. 1921 Bom. 365=62 I. C. 875=22 Cr. L. J. 603.
 2. Where accused is not in attendance, S. 351 does not apply. 12 Cr. L. J. 92.
7. Of property. S. 517, Cr. P. C.

If no offence is proved in respect of the property produced in Court, the Magistrate cannot detain it until the title of the rightful owner is declared by a Civil Court. 22 Bom. 844.

DETENTION OF MOTOR CAR PENDING TRIAL. S. 516-A, Cr. P. C.

Where a motor driver is being prosecuted for an offence under S. 338, I. P. C., it cannot be said that his car was used in the commission of an offence within the meaning of S. 516-A, Cr. P. C. Therefore detention of car pending trial is illegal. 1931 L. 565=1931 Cr. C. 853, 4 P. L. R. 1904.

1. A list of stolen property handed to a Police Officer during investigation is not admissible in evidence. 1925 C. 959=85 I. C. 723=26 Cr. L. J. 579.
2. A map which contains upon it certain things which must have been supplied to the Police Officer by some person should not be admitted, unless there had been evidence of the person as to what he told the Police Officer. 1925 C. 959=26 Cr. L. J. 579.
3. Entries made in a personal diary kept by a Police Officer, who did not start or carry on the investigation does not fall under S. 172, and therefore not inadmissible. 1925 C. 959=85 I. C. 723=26 Cr. L. J. 579.

2. Applicability of— S. 172, Cr. P. C.

1. Ss. 162 and 172 do not apply to Calcutta Police. 1929 C. 257, 1924 C. 542.
2. S. 172 does not apply to the statements of persons and certainly does not over-ride the provisions of Evidence Act. 9 L. 389=1928 L. 257=29 Cr. L. J. 348.

3. Contents of—.

1. Statements made to a Police Officer by a witness under S. 161, Cr. P. C., should not be recorded in special diary. 33 C. 1023, 20 C. 642, 131 I. C. 17=1931 P. 150=32 Cr. L. J. 638 Cont. 19 A. 390.

When a criminal offence is alleged to have been committed in the course of revenue or civil proceeding, the rule is that the facts on which the criminal offence is founded, should as far as possible be finally determined in the Civil or Revenue Court. 26 Cr. L. J. 1565=1926 P. 25=90 I. C. 445=7 P. L. T. 199.
 3. The Court acting under S. 476 should apply its mind to the matter upon its merits. Merely acting on the remarks of the appellate Court is not enough. 83 I. C. 498=1924 A. 453=21 A. L. J. 930.
 4. The Court is bound to find that there is a prima facie case. 67 I. C. 205.
 5. The Judge taking action under S. 476 must himself make an inquiry. 115 I. C. 810.
 6. The officer making the complaint must state the evidence on which he relies. 11 Cr. L. J. 938.
 7. In a complaint of perjury passages complained of must be quoted. 30 Cr. L. J. 370=1929 M. 74=114 I. C. 834=28 M. L. J. 774, 1926 A. 21, 24 A. L. J. 122=26 Cr. L. J. 1506=90 I. C. 290, 48 M. 395=1925 M. 609=86 I. C. 449=26 Cr. L. J. 801, 126 I. C. 530.
 8. Sanction is improper where a prosecution must fail. 1927 L. 352=100 I. C. 373=23 Cr. L. J. 293.
 9. Prosecution should not be ordered when it is a matter of oath against oath. 26 Cr. L. J. 1007=1927 M. 995=105 I. C. 831=39 M. L. T. 414.
 10. Prosecution should not be launched to feed fat grudge of private individuals. 1934 O. 344 (2).
7. Expert report.
1. It is not always very safe to order prosecution where there is no other testimony than that of an expert to support it. 25 Cr. L. J. 796=1925 N. 359.
 2. The report of the Government expert who never came into the witness box and whose report is not supported even by affidavit is inadmissible in evidence and cannot form basis of the order directing prosecution. 24 Cr. L. J. 500.
8. Expediency of—.
1. In sanctioning a prosecution under S. 476, the Court has not only to consider whether there is a prima facie case but also whether it is expedient in the interest of justice to sanction prosecution. 1929 L. 676=30 Cr. L. J. 666=116 I. C. 711, 51 Cal. 276, 1930 M. W. M. 591.

jecting Prosecution—(contd.)

2. Magistrate should record finding that it is expedient in the interest of justice that an enquiry should be made under S. 476. 55 Cal. 1312, 1923 M. 783=29 Cr. L. J. 732=110 I. C. 588, 1933 C. 147.
3. If the order under S. 476 does not contain finding as required by S. 476 nor gives any reasons for such finding, the order is defective. 1929 M. 74=114 I. C. 834, 27 Cr. L. J. 1249, 1928 M. 783, 1930 C. 352, 1933 M. 67(1)=56 M. 157. 1931 M. 16 Diss.
4. It is sufficient that Court arrives at an opinion that there is reasonable prospect of the conviction of the accused and there is sufficient evidence to support prosecution. 127 I. C. 859=1930 L. 347=32 Cr. L. J. 60.
5. If it is in the interest of justice that a complaint should be made, then and only then a complaint should be preferred. 1928 Mad. 783=110 I. C. 588=29 Cr. L. J. 732.
6. Omission to write the words "expedient in the interest of justice" does not make the order illegal. 1935 A. 608 (1)=36 Cr. L. J. 781. Cont. 1935 N. 199, 55 C. 1312=1928 C. 862.
7. Mere reasonable hope of accused being convicted is not necessary. 1934 A. 385=35 Cr. L. J. 785=148 I. C. 866.
8. Express finding that in the interest of justice inquiry should be made into offence is essential. 1933 C. 147=34 Cr. L. J. 624, 55 C. 1312=1928 C. 862 and 1930 C. 352. Rel. on.

Grounds for and against.

1. Mere existence of contradiction in evidence is insufficient to order prosecution. 55 Cal. 1312=1923 Cal. 862.
2. Although there is some indication of accused's guilt yet if it does not amount to anything more than suspicion, prosecution should not be ordered. 109 I. C. 358, 16 Cal. 730, 31 Cr. L. J. 621.
3. The measure of proof to prove that a document is forged required in a Civil Court is very different from that required in the Criminal Court. Before ordering prosecution the Court must have direct evidence fixing offence upon the person to be prosecuted. 115 I. C. 174=30 Cr. L. J. 407.
4. There must be reasonable probability of conviction otherwise there would be waste of public time. 31 M. L. J. 440, 23 Cr. L. J. 509, 24 Cr. L. J. 823, 1935 M. 1044.
5. There must be reasonable foundation for the charge in respect of which prosecution is directed. 37 C. 250.
6. It is not necessary for the Court to go minutely into the evidence recorded in the suit. 2 Weir 587.
7. The Court taking action under S. 476 must be prima facie satisfied that the offence has been committed by definite individual. 23 C. 532.
8. The Court must come to finding that the individual sent for trial has committed the offence. 2 L. L. J. 63.
9. Where District Judge was of opinion that the forgery of document was committed by the plaintiff or by the defendant, ordering prosecution of both is illegal. 63 P. L. R. 1905.
10. Prosecution should not be ordered when it is a matter of oath against oath. 1927 M. 996=28 Cr. L. J. 1007, 1933 R. 119=34 Cr. L. J. 781.
11. The mere fact that medical evidence belies the eye witnesses, is not sufficient to order prosecution. 1927 M. 996=28 Cr. L. J. 1007=105 I. C. 831=39 M. L. T. 414=26 M. L. W. 479.
12. There should be reasonable probability of conviction. 1936 R. 473, 34 C. 551 and 37 C. 250 Foll.

otherwise, whether person making an application is a party in the original suit or not is immaterial. 8 P. 736=1929 P. 242=120 I. C. 623=11 P. L. T. 75.

2. Proceedings under S. 476 should not be undertaken on the application of private persons unless it is clearly in the interest of justice and is reasonably certain to result in conviction. 125 I. C. 838=1930 O. 404=31 Cr. L. J. 938.
3. Proceedings under S. 476 are for the purpose of indicating and ensuring the purity of the administration of public justice. 34 C. W. N. 914=1930 C. 721=129 I. C. 561=52 C. L. J. 87.
4. The Court cannot take proceedings under S. 476 against person who is not a party to the proceedings in any Court. 31 Cr. L. J. 938=125 I. C. 838=1930 O. 404.
5. It is the duty of the Court and not of the private party to bring the culprit to justice. 120 I. C. 45=1930 P. 194=30 Cr. L. J. 1144.
6. In case of escaping from the custody of peon, the peon of the Civil Court should file the complaint in an ordinary way. 47 A. 409=1925 A. 318=86 I. C. 801=26 Cr. L. J. 865.
7. Order passed by the Court on a complaint made by the Police is not complaint by Court. 4 P. 323=1925 P. 483=26 Cr. L. J. 389=86 I. C. 825.
8. Complaint was made under S. 471, I. P. C., but same facts constituted offence under other section. Held, that fresh complaint is not necessary. 1934 P. 536.
9. Objection to initiation of proceedings e. g. want of jurisdiction by Magistrate must be taken at the earliest stage. 1936 P. 346, 1929 C. 203 and 1932 C. 545 Foll.
10. Cognizance is to be taken of the whole case. If any other offence is proved or any other person besides the accused is proved to be the offender, the Magistrate can take cognizance. 1936 P. 346=15 P. 26, 1934 P. 467 and 1934 P. 536 Ref.
11. Even if the name of offender is not mentioned in the complaint, Magistrate can proceed against him. 1936 C. 147=37 Cr. L. J. 521, 42 I. C. 133 Foll. 23 C. 532 Not foll.

12. Limitation for or delay in.

1. S. 476 does not limit time within which action should be taken and there is no legal necessity to proceed under this Section immediately after the close of the trial. 29 P. R. 1916 Cr., 19 Cr. L. J. 989, 20 Cr. L. J. 724.
2. Where an appeal has been preferred against an original case, the Court is justified in waiting till the disposal of the appeal before directing prosecution. 29 P. R. 1916 Cr., 16 B. 729, 4 L. 58, 6 C. 308.
3. It is desirable that an order under S. 476 should be made at the close of the proceedings or so shortly thereafter that it may be reasonably said that the order is a part of the proceedings. 31 M. 140, 32 M. 49, 42 M. 422, 23 Cr. L. J. 184, 53 P. W. R. 216 Cr. But see 43 B. 300.
4. An order under S. 476 should not be passed many months after the trial. 40 C. 444, 46 A. 851, 38 A. 695.
5. The delay of two months was considered to be too long. 18 Cr. L. J. 331, 20 Cr. L. J. 276.
6. The High Court will set aside an order directing the prosecution if it is passed so long after the offence that the delay is oppressive or scandalous. 1919 M. W. N. 112.
7. There is no hard or fast rule that the prosecution should not be ordered on the ground of delay. 1935 O. 113=153 I. C. 346, 34 C. 551 and 31 M. 140 Ref.
8. Delay in starting proceedings should not be encouraged. 1934 O. 272, 1930 L. 316 Foll.
9. Whether delay is fatal depends on the circumstances of each case. 1933 O. 430=35 Cr. L. J. 121.

13. Notice or opportunity.

1. Under S. 476 it is entirely discretionary and not obligatory on a Court to issue notice. 1930 L. 55=31 Cr. L. J. 179=1535 O. 113, 15 Cr. L. J. 217.

Directing Prosecution—(contd.)

2. Want of notice is at best a mere irregularity in proceeding. 10 A. L. J. 247, 7 B. L. R. 84, 15 C. W. N. 691.
3. A complaint under S. 476 is not invalid merely because an opportunity of showing cause against the complaint was not given. 30 Cr. L. J. 545=1929 P. 92=115 I. C. 882=10 P. L. T. 77.
4. Accused is entitled to notice when the prosecution is on the evidence of witnesses which is not tested. 1927 L. 173=28 Cr. L. J. 227=99 I. C. 1027.
5. When a Magistrate dismisses a complaint and takes action under S. 476 he should give the complainant an opportunity of showing true or bona fide character of the complaint. 7 M. 189, 6 C. 496, 7 C. 87.
6. The proceedings would not be irregular if the accused was not given an opportunity of substantiating his cause. 7 Cal. 208, 8 A. 182, 7 M. 292.
7. As a matter of strict law no notice is necessary but it is desirable that notice should be given. 1925 Bom. 436=88 I. C. 709=49 B. 710, 1924 A. 435.
8. Whether a notice is to issue or not depends upon the particular circumstances of the case. 73 I. C. 976=1923 R. 79=24 Cr. L. J. 736.
9. Where the plaintiff's claim was true but an order for his prosecution under S. 467 and 471, I. P. C., was made on the ground that the note on which he sued was spurious, held, that the order directing prosecution without deciding genuineness or otherwise of the document was illegal. 60 I. C. 425.

14. Offences not covered by S. 476.

1. Prosecution can be ordered for offences under Ss. 353, 341 and 147. 1924 C. 501=39 Cr. L. J. 33.
2. Robbery and its abetment do not fall within the scope of S. 476. 65 I. C. 481=23 Cr. L. J. 97=1922 Sind 9.
3. Proceedings in respect of an offence under S. 409, I. P. C., cannot be started under S. 476. 96 I. C. 526=27 Cr. L. J. 974.
4. A complaint by Court under Ss. 183 and 185, I. P. C., is ultra vires. 27 Cr. L. J. 1247=1927 O. 51=98 I. C. 63.
5. A complaint under S. 476 cannot be made against persons who are only witnesses and not parties to the suit. 1935 M. 1044, 46 M. 561 Ref.

15. Pending proceedings.

1. Proceedings should not be started during the pendency of an appeal in a case in which the petitioner is alleged to have given false evidence. 1925 L. 323=26 Cr. L. J. 760, 16 B. 729, 6 C. 308, 29 P. R. 1916 Cr.
2. When the appeal is pending, proceedings under S. 476 should await disposal of appeal. 1927 C. 718=28 Cr. L. J. 840=104 I. C. 456.
3. Proceedings under S. 476 should not be taken till after the close of the case in which false evidence was given or forged document was used. 4 B. L. R. 778, 21 Cr. L. J. 29, 1934 A. 1017.
4. The hasty proceeding as placing a witness on his trial is bad because the necessary result of such a step would be to intimidate subsequent witnesses and defeat object of the trial. 9 S. L. R. 176, 21 Cr. L. J. 29, 8 B. H. C. R. 126.
5. If there is delay in the disposal of the suit in which an offence has been committed, proceedings may be started. 44 M. L. J. 74, 31 M. L. J. 440.

16. Preliminary enquiry.

1. Under S. 476 preliminary enquiry is not necessary, but as a matter of common prudence it should be held by every Court before it passed an order under S. 476. 1930 Cal. 282=127 I. C. 265, 20 Cal. 474, 34 Cal. 551, 34 A. 367, 15 A. 392, 1934 P. 536.
2. It is purely in the discretion of the Court to make a preliminary enquiry or not. 20 Cal. 249, 20 Cal. 474, 126 I. C. 553=1930 Cal. 515=31 Cr. L. J. 1055.
3. In each individual case the Court has to decide whether in the interest of justice

2. Finding of a competent Court that a document is forgery is a prima facie ground for an order under S. 195 or S. 476. 1926 A. 21=26 Cr. L. J. 1506.
3. The offence must be one which appears to have been committed in relation to a proceeding in Court. 46 A. 851=1924 A. 770=25 Cr. L. J. 1277.
4. S. 339 (1) does not cancel S. 476. 1927 N. 189=28 Cr. L. J. 645.

21. Second application under S. 476

1. An order refusing to proceed under S. 476, Cr. P. C., is not a judgment nor is it an order of autopois acquit, and there it does not debar the Magistrate from proceeding under that section later, if he changes his mind in that matter. 1930 Sind 315=130 I. C. 442, 1932 M. 130=33 Cr. L. J. 272=136 I. C. 313, 1929 P. 242=8 P. 736=120 I. C. 629, 153 I. C. 947, 1935 Pesh. 1=36 Cr. L. J. 470.
2. If the Magistrate has refused to take action under S. 476 on the request of a particular individual for directing prosecution of witness for perjury, he may suo motu or on the complaint of some body else take action. 1935 Pesh. 1=153 I. C. 947=36 Cr. L. J. 470. 29 M. 126 (F. B.) Rel on.
3. If the first complaint was by an authorized officer, a second complaint by an officer described in S. 195 (1) (a) is competent. S. 403, Cr. P. C., is no bar to it, as the first officer had no jurisdiction. 1934 P. 411 (1).
4. Complaint was made under S. 476, I. P. C., but the same facts constituted some other offence. Held, that fresh complaint was not necessary. 1934 P. 536.

22. Subordination of Courts.

1. A Munsif is subordinate to Sub-Judge, 1st Class, in respect of suits specified in the notification under Punjab Courts Act and to District Judge qua remaining cases. 2 L. 57.

DISAPPEARANCE OF EVIDENCE. S. 201, I. P. C. See Gift to screen offender—1.

1. Applicability.

1. S. 201 applies to the person who screens the principal or actual offender and not to the principal or actual offender himself. 1925 L. 209=27 Cr. L. J. 109, 22 C. 638, 27 M. 271, 1 L. C. 454 (1924), 21 N. L. R. 85.

Disappearance of Evidence—(contd.)

2. S. 201 does not apply to a criminal causing evidence of one's own crime to disappear. 1925 N. 407=27 Cr. L. J. 60.
 3. Section is intended to apply to acts to which Ss. 193—195 do not extend, and not to acts covered by those sections. 42 P. R. 1884.
- 2. Attempt.
- Stealing a forged promissory note from the record of a case is an offence under Ss. 201—511. 31 I. C. 647.
- 3. Charge.
1. It is highly undesirable to charge the same person in the alternative of murder and offence under S. 201. 1923 B. 262, 20 C. W. N. 166=32 I. C. 132.
 2. An accused charged both under Ss. 302, 201 may be convicted under S. 201 by the High Court, although he is acquitted by the Sessions Judge under S. 302. 6 C. 789, 1 P. R. 1904 Cr., 8 P. R. 1913 Cr., 54 A. 792, 46 C. 427, 6 L. 226=1925 P. C. 130, 2 A. 713, 7 A. 749, 8 A. 252 and 22 C. 638 Ref.
 3. A separate sentence under S. 201 along with a conviction of the accused of murder is illegal. 30 I. C. 135=16 Cr. L. J. 583, 2 A. 713.
- 4. Concealing corpus delicti. See—5.
- 5. Disappearance of evidence.
1. Since suicide is no offence, the removal or concealment of dead body is not punishable under S. 201. 17 P. W. R. 1911 Cr.=11 I. C. 609.
 2. A person advanced towards a thief who attacked him. The latter struck the thief with a stick and caused his death. Two of his brothers along with him carried the dead body in a sugarcane field and left it there. Held, they are not guilty as it was a justifiable homicide and the accused could not be convicted of screening him. 2 W. R. 43 Cr.
 3. Accused was discharged in a murder case for want of evidence, he could not be charged for concealing evidence by burning the dead body before the arrival of Police. 11 C. 619, 22 C. 638.
 4. Two accused along with four others were tried for murder—but the only evidence against them was that they removed the corpse in their cart which was found to be blood stained, they are guilty under S. 201, though they were acquitted of murder. 11 P. R. 1904 Cr.
 5. Accused after murdering C. removed the dead body to C's field to divert suspicion. They were not guilty under S. 201 because they had done so to screen themselves and secondly the removal of corpse did not cause any evidence to disappear. 2 A. 713.
 6. Accused removed the blood-stained sheet from the child's body murdered by her son and locked it in a room. Held, she was not guilty under S. 201. 53 P. R. 1905 Cr.
 7. Disappearance of evidence does not include keeping out of the way of a witness who would have given evidence in the case. 21 P. R. 1882 Cr.
 8. 'Causing disappearance' implies some active exertion and not mere passive acquiescence or neglect. Accused found a dead body near his field and did not give any information of the occurrence, although he had reason to believe that crime had been committed. Held, he is not guilty. 25 P. R. 1881 Cr.
 9. 'Evidence' means material object, making the crime evident and does not include statements of a witness and Panchnamas. 1921 B. 115=63 I. C. 145=22 Cr. L. J. 609.
 10. A forged document in a damaged condition is not said to disappear even temporarily under S. 201, if it is complete and fully available as evidence under Ss. 467, 477. I. P. C. 31 I. C. 647.
 11. Concealing or otherwise disposing of the body of the murdered person means causing disappearance of evidence 8 P. W. R. 1909 Cr.
 12. S. 201 does not apply to the principal offender but to others who by causing evidence of the offence to disappear, assist him to escape the consequences of his offence. 10 P. 140=1931 P. 172, 7 A. 749, 8 A. 252, 46 C. 427 and 8 B. H. C. R. (Cr.) 126,

Disappearance of Evidence—(contd.)

Foll. 6 L. 226 (P. C.)=30 C. W. N. 816 Ref.; 49 A. 57.

13. A person charged for murder can be convicted under S. 201, when there was some suspicion against him of his complicity in murder. 10 P. 140=1931 P. 172=32 Cr. L. J. 975. But see 46 C. 427.
14. For a conviction under S. 201, 1. P. C., it is not necessary that the principal offender should be some known person. 1931 P. 172=32 Cr. L. J. 975.
15. The mere fact that accused had been suspected or tried or acquitted of the principal offence would not in itself prevent his conviction under S. 201. But the statement he makes under a charge of murder in order to exculpate himself should not form the basis of his conviction under S. 201. 6 P. R. 1902 Cr.

6. Essentials and Evidence.

1. Accused helped a murderer by carrying the corpse to a ditch and buried it along with wearing apparel. Held, he is not guilty as he did not voluntarily do the act and was bullied to do it and that he had no intention of screening the offender. 1930 A. 45=120 I. C. 268=31 Cr. L. J. 37=1930 Cr. C. 61.
2. An intention to screen an offender unknown to the Crown is sufficient. 1927 S. 241=28 Cr. L. J. 674, 13 Cr. L. J. 721. See 1925 S. 257=26 Cr. L. J. 897.
3. When Crown has proved that an offence is committed and the accused caused disappearance of evidence or gave false information, a presumption arises in favour of the Crown that accused did act with the requisite intent. 1927 S. 241=28 Cr. L. J. 674.
4. A was charged with murder. He knew the place where dead bodies were. The jewellery removed from the body was produced by him and he confessed his guilt to Lambardar. Held, he is not guilty under S. 302 though under S. 201. 1928 L. 858=111 I. C. 449=29 P. L. R. 486=29 Cr. L. J. 865.
5. Tracker found tracks of accused near the dead body which was discovered at his instance. There was motive for murder. Held, evidence is not sufficient for murder though ample for S. 201. 1928 L. 476=29 Cr. L. J. 1019=9 L. 671.
6. The Court must find what offence the accused knew or had reason to believe had been committed and treat him to be a stranger to the crime, who had merely witnessed it. 1930 M. W. N. 489.
7. In case of grave and sudden death, the offender himself is under an obligation to give information. If he is found guilty of principal offence, no Court will think of convicting him under S. 201. But if the principal offence is not brought home, he is liable under S. 201. 1930 M. W. N. 489, 1927 S. 241=28 Cr. L. J. 674.
8. The mere removal of a dead body from one place to another so as to remove traces of the place where murder took place or indications which might implicate a particular individual is an offence under S. 201. 49 A. 57=1926 A. 737=97 I. C. 44, 47 A. 306, 1930 O. 113=123 I. C. 886=31 Cr. L. J. 575.
9. The principal offender of murder can be convicted under S. 201 for removing traces of the crime. 49 A. 57=1926 A. 737=27 Cr. L. J. 1068=97 I. C. 44.
10. Accused having found the dead body of a woman within the limits of their village removed it to a distant place in order to save themselves from the harassment and expense of Police investigation. It had the effect of putting the Police off the scent for a time. Held, they are not guilty. 46 C. 427, 5 N. W. P. II. C. R. 186.
11. If killing is justifiable, there can be no offence under S. 201. 2 W. R. 43.
12. A woman missing.
child. He having to account for the missing child. 6 C. 789.
13. Giving false information to Police implicating innocent persons and screening real offenders is an offence under Ss. 201-203-211, 1. P. C. 46 C. 427.
14. It is not necessary that there should be complete destruction of evidence. If a corpse is buried with intent to conceal the fact, an offence under S. 201 is committed. 13 Cr. L. J. 18=13 I. C. 210.

Disappearance of Evidence—(concl'd.)

15. Denial by prisoner of knowledge regarding offence in which he took part is not punishable under S. 201. 4 P. R. 1887 Cr.
16. S. 201 does not apply to a person refusing to give information respecting the offence. 42 P. R. 1884 Cr.
17. S. 201 does not apply to false information given by a witness in judicial proceedings. 42 P. R. 1884 Cr.
18. S. 201 does not apply to mere omission to give information of an offence without any positive act of concealment. 25 P. R. 1881 Cr.
19. Accused removed the dead body from the master's house who threatened to kill him he is protected under S. 94, I. P. C. 47 A. 306=1925 A. 315
20. Approver's evidence was that accused committed murder. There was corroboration as regards motive only. Accused pointed out spot where dead body was buried. Held, that offence under S. 201 was only proved. 1934 L. 23(2)=147 I. C. 215.
21. When a murder was committed and the informant did not know how body was removed to the house of third person, he was not guilty under S. 201. 1933 A. 30 =34 Cr. L. J. 445.
22. A person who secretly buries the headless body of man just murdered is prima facie guilty under S. 201. Knowledge or conviction of murderer is not necessary. 1933 L. 516=34 Cr. L. J. 683, 16 I. C. 755 and 9 L. 671 Rel. on.
23. Before there can be conviction under S. 201, it must be proved that an offence, the evidence of which is caused to disappear, has actually been committed. 1932 C. 850, 11 C. 619 and 3 C. 412 Rel. on.
24. In case of murder of child by either of two accused and disposal of body by both, they are guilty under S. 201 and not under S. 302. 1932 M. 748, 1930 M. 870, Rel. on. 22 C. 638 Dist. 8 Bom. H. C. R. 126, 46 C. 427 and 1931 P. 172 Ref.
25. Where there is a clear evidence of disappearance of evidence in order to screen some person known or unknown, conviction under S. 201 is legal, although accused had been tried and acquitted of murder. 10 L. 213, 54 M. 68, 1932 Cr. C. 91.

7. In Case of suicide. See Suicide—3.

Since suicide is no offence, the removal or concealment of body is no offence under S. 201. 17 P. W. R. 1911=11 I. C. 609, 1934 S. 139.

8. Procedure.

1. A separate sentence under S. 201 along with a conviction for murder is illegal. 30 I. C. 135.
2. Acquittal of principal offence is no bar to conviction under S. 201, I. P. C. 10 L. 213, 29 Cr. L. J. 746=1928 L. 906=110 I. C. 682, 8 P. R. 1913, 6 P. R. 1902 Cr., 1 P. R. 1904 Cr., 1925 P. C. 130, 1923 B. 262, 1926 A. 737 Foll. 22 C. 638 and 1925 N. 407 Diss from. 1926 L. 209=27 Cr. L. J. 109=91 I. C. 541 Dist.
3. A conviction under S. 201 is not illegal merely because it is suspected but not proved that the accused committed the principal offence. 1927 S. 241, 6 P. R. 1902 Cr.
4. Alternative conviction under Ss. 303-201 is not justified. 11 P. R. 1913 Cr.
5. A murderer cannot be charged under S. 201. If murder is not proved to be committed by him, he can be convicted under S. 201. 1934 S. 139.

9. Sentence.

Punishment depends on the offence that accused knew was committed. A person acquitted of principal offence should be treated as a stranger to crime, as one who had merely witnessed it. 1930 M. 870=129 I. C. 230=32 Cr. L. J. 263.

DISCHARGE.

1. Absence of complainant. See Absence of complainant.

2. Before taking all evidence. S. 253 (2), Cr. P. C.

1. If the case against the accused is groundless and Magistrate has before him the report of the Police in support of his view, it is not necessary that he should ask the complainant to prove his case. 1930 C. 515=155 I. C. 553=31 Cr. L. J. 1055.

Discharge—(contd.)

1926 A. 461=27 Cr. L. J. 541, 1926 L. 213, 12 Cr. L. J. 105.

2. There is no warrant for saying that Magistrate must examine all witnesses, that may be offered or available before taking action under S. 253. 52 M. 987=1929 M. 754=121 I. C. 619, 1926 A. 461, 68 P. R. 1900, 1928 L. 945.
3. Groundless evidence means such evidence that no conviction could be rested on it. It does not mean that evidence discloses no offence whatsoever. 52 M. 987.
4. To say that no case is made out is not tantamount to saying that charge is groundless. 51 M. 185, 1930 L. 461=123 I. C. 275=31 Cr. L. J. 481.
5. The mere fact that the matter is one of rendition of accounts and must be referred to Civil Court is obviously insufficient to justify an order of discharge under S. 253 (2) in a case of alleged breach of trust. 1930 L. 461=31 Cr. L. J. 481.
6. A Magistrate can discharge an accused at any stage before recording evidence or in the course of evidence if he is of opinion that the charge is groundless. 1930 C. 515=126 I. C. 553, 12 Cr. L. J. 105, 34 I. C. 305, 1930. L. 158.
7. Magistrate's personal knowledge that the complainant's witnesses were untrustworthy is no adequate reason for discharging the accused. 1929 C. 479=120 I. C. 458.
8. It is not proper to discharge accused merely on a statement by a prosecution witness of a prior admission by complainant that the case was a false one. It is better in such a case to hear the whole evidence. 1929 L. 623=117 I. C. 883.
9. Under S. 253 (2) a Magistrate can discharge an accused even before the date fixed for hearing if the Magistrate is satisfied from the record that the accused cannot possibly be convicted of the offence. 1925 P. 154=25 Cr. L. J. 696.
10. If the evidence recorded does not raise any presumption that the accused has committed any offence but merely leads to doubt, he should be discharged. 2 P. R. 1906 Cr.=3 Cr. L. J. 345=37 P. L. R. 1905.
11. When a Magistrate is reasonably convinced, on what has been already disposed that a criminal charge cannot be sustained, he can discharge the accused at any time. 12 Cr. L. J. 105, 32 C. 783, 1921 P. 474, 51 M. 185.
12. The Magistrate discharging an accused under S. 253 (2) without hearing all the evidence, is bound to record reasons. 9 Bom. L. R. 250, 52 M. 987.
13. Under S. 253 the Court has two alternatives either to discharge the accused under S. 253 (2) if the complaint is groundless or under S. 253 after recording whole of the evidence. He cannot act under both clauses. 1935 Pesh. 23=36 Cr. L. J. 632=1935 Cr. C. 172.
14. Magistrate when discharging accused under S. 253 (2) can take into account a Police report or a civil Court's judgment touching the dispute. 1925 A. 451=27 Cr. L. J. 541, 58 C. 346, 41 B. I.

By Committing Magistrate. S. 209, Cr. P. C.

1. Accused should be discharged if no prima facie case is made out. 15 M. 39, 2 Weir 255, 51 C. 849, 1922 M. 43=65 I. C. 993=23 Cr. L. J. 299.
2. Accused should be discharged if the evidence for prosecution is on the whole untrustworthy. 7 C. W. N. 77, 25 A. 564, 51 C. 849, 35 B. 163, 4 L. 69, 37 A. 355, 44 A. 57, 46 A. 537, 1922 M. W. N. 32, 1925 A. 464, 92 I. C. 450, 1923 L. 279=68 I. C. 825, 25 A. 191.
3. If no evidence is forthcoming owing to the absence of the prosecutor and his witnesses, accused should be discharged. 15 W. R. 53.
4. If the Magistrate is satisfied that the charge is without foundation, he should discharge the accused, even if the statements of witnesses make out a prima facie case. 25 Cr. L. J. 795=1924 A. 694=45 A. 537, 25 A. 564.
5. When the Magistrate is convinced that the evidence is false, it is his duty to discharge the accused. In case of doubt about the credibility of evidence, he should commit the accused to Sessions. 1925 C. 52=93 I. C. 973=27 Cr. L. J. 504.

4. By Magistrate in a warrant case. S. 253, Cr. P. C.

5. Conviction on—

1. Where incriminating article is discovered by reason of information, the conviction based on this evidence is legally sound. 1927 L. 900=23 Cr. L. J. 250. Cont. 1930 B. 244=31 Cr. L. J. 1104.
2. Conviction on discovery is not safe when the place pointed by accused is in the possession of another. 1930 L. 91=31 Cr. L. J. 774, or is accessible to the public. 1929 M. 846, as it is possible that some other person may have placed the thing, and accused might merely have knowledge of the place. 1 P. R. 1917 Cr., 1930 L. 91.
3. The mere fact that accused gave information of a place where incriminating thing is found, does not show that he put the article there himself. 1923 L. 238.
4. If accused produces stolen property from his house there is a presumption under S. 114 that either he is thief or receiver of stolen property. 1930 B. 244=31 Cr. L. J. 1104.
5. When it is difficult to say whether discovery was made before the confession or afterwards, confession ought not to be accepted. 1922 O. 202=23 Cr. L. J. 481.
6. The evidence of confession under S. 27 ought to receive very little credence by the Court. 120 I. C. 210
7. Exact spot was shown and articles were dug out by accused. His conduct is relevant under S. 8 and taken with other evidence is enough to warrant presumption of complicity in crime. 1936 N. 200=164 I. C. 964.

6. Custody.—See Confession to Police Officer—11, Detention.

1. The submission to the custody of a Police Officer within the meaning of S. 46 is custody within the meaning of S. 27. 19 C. 167, 1933 P. 149, 1931 L. 278.
2. For the purpose of S. 27, Evidence Act, custody does not necessarily mean detention or confinement, but submission to custody by word or action under S. 46 (1) Cr. P. C. 131 I. C. 93=1931 L. 278=32 Cr. L. J. 650.
3. Accused who was suspected after the first information report, made a statement and pointed out dead body to Police and his name was subsequently mentioned in the second report. Held, that he was not in custody of any kind and therefore the statement made by him was not admissible under S. 27. 1931 L. 278=131 I. C. 93=32 P. L. R. 347=32 Cr. L. J. 650.
4. A person suspected and treated as accused, though not formally arrested is in custody of Police and statements leading to discovery of things are admissible. 1934 L. 150 (1935 L. 310=152 I. 5. The fact of free detention is altogether not taken. 1924 P. 173=23 Cr. L. J. 341=77 I. C. 47.

6. The test is whether accused is at liberty to move from a particular place. A Police Officer secured the accused and handed him over to his master with instructions that he should not escape. Held, he was in custody. 1932 S. 149, 20 B. 165, 3 M. 11, C. R. 318 and 42 B. 1 Rel. on. 1921 S. 145 and 1724 R. 173 Ref. 1932 L. 609=33 Cr. L. J. 756.
7. Discovery—What is—of Material object. See—11.
 1. Discovery means discovery to or by Police. 1921 C. 111=62 I. C. 578.
 2. Places already known to Police are not places discovered within S. 27. 1929 N. 350=120 I. C. 210=31 Cr. L. J. 15, 120 I. C. 81
 3. Accused admitted that he had in his possession stolen property. The statement is admissible and it makes no difference whether the property is dug out by him or some one else on his information. 1926 M. 638=50 M. 274.
 4. Discovery of articles by accused in his house is a fact discovered within S. 27. 45 A. 303=1923 A. 352=73 I. C. 62=21 A. L. J. 143=24 Cr. L. J. 526.
 5. Once property has been discovered in consequence of information received from a suspected person, it cannot be rediscovered in consequence of information received from another. 1922 L. 315=64 I. C. 502, 120 I. C. 81.
 6. If the facts are known to persons other than Police Officers, such facts cannot be said to be not discovered in consequence of information received within S. 27. 49 C. 167=1922 C. 342.
 7. A person accused under S. 328, I. P. C., pointed out a dhatura tree and said that he had taken the fruit of it, the statement is inadmissible. 32 I. C. 136.
 8. Where accused took the Police to a shop and stated that she had purchased arsenic from it, it is inadmissible as there is no discovery of fact. 1933 A. 394=144 I. C. 357.
 9. S. 27 was applied to cases where a witness or co-culprit was traced. 1930 L. 157, 7 P. R. 1916 Cr., 1924 A. 207=25 Cr. L. J. 490. Cont. 43 I. C. 111=19 Cr. L. J. 79, 11 C. 635.
 10. "Fact" discovered means material thing 10 L. 283=1929 L. 344.
 11. Discovery of guns from license holders is no discovery. 1933 N. 252.
8. Discovery of irrelevant fact
S. 27 has nothing to do with the question whether the fact discovered is or is not relevant. 10 L. 283=1929 L. 344=115 I. C. 6=30 Cr. L. J. 414, 6 P. 611=1918 P. 22=105 I. C. 683=28 Cr. L. J. 971.
9. Discovery of places and things already known to Police.
 1. Places already known to Police are not places discovered within S. 27. 1929 N. 350=120 I. C. 210=31 Cr. L. J. 15, 120 I. C. 81, 11 C. 635, 1934 L. 786, 1929 S. 250, 1930 S. 225=126 I. C. 449.
 2. Once property is discovered in consequence of information from one suspected person, it cannot be rediscovered in consequence of information received from another 1922 L. 315=64 I. C. 502, 120 I. C. 81=1929 S. 250, 42 I. C. 1002.
 3. Where accused offered to show scene of murder and the places where deceased's things were concealed, both of which had already been discovered by an accomplice, the conduct of accused in this respect was inadmissible. 19 Cr. L. J. 42.
 4. If fact was known to others but not to Police, Section will apply. 49 C. 167 Cont. 1934 L. 423.
 5. Although the circumstance that the Prisoner's purchase of mattress in which dead body was wrapped was already known to Police, it would not prevent the discovery of purchase from being a discovery of fact under S. 27. 1935 M. 528, 49 C. 167.
 6. If a fact is disclosed to Police Officer by an approver, it can be deemed to be discovered subsequently by an accused person. 42 I. C. 1002=19 Cr. L. J. 42.
10. Duty of Court.
 1. Bold evidence introduced through the mouth of a prosecution witness to prove the confession of accused under cover of S. 27 ought to receive very little credence by the Court, when direct evidence to prove the same fact is available. 1929 N. 350 = 120 I. C. 210 = 31 Cr. L. J. 15.

2. The Court must know exactly what the statements relied upon are, because they are admissible only so far as they lead to discovery of some facts and no further. 31 Cr. L. J. 1101 = 1930 Bom. 244, 11 J.L. H. C. R. 212.
3. In cases of discoveries made on information given by accused, it is necessary to consider whether it has been the result of promise. If so, the evidence is worthless. 31 A. 592, 9 I. C. 718.

11. "Fact."

1. The expression 'fact' as defined in S. 3 includes not only the physical fact but also the psychological fact or mental condition of which any person is conscious. It is in the former sense that the word is used in S. 27. 10 L. 283 = 1929 L. 344.
2. A dead body was found wrapped up in a mattress. The Sub-Inspector said, "The accused pointed out the shop saying that it was in that shop that he purchased the mattress" and further "that it was this woman (coolie) that carried the mattress". Held, that the statements were admissible. 1935 M. 528 = 1934 M. W. N. 1479 = 68 M. L. J. 73, 10 L. 283 Ref. on.
3. The statement of the prisoner that he had pledged jewellery with a certain man was admissible in consequence of discovery of jewels with that man. 1929 L. 344 = 10 L. 283 = 30 Cr. L. J. 414.
4. The discovery of a witness to the crime or act of the accused on his information would not be discovery of fact under S. 27. 1934 M. W. N. 601.

12. "Information" which explains the thing.

1. The word "statement" is used interchangeably with the word "information." 10 L. 283
2. Statement can be made by gesture even. 1926 R. 112 = 27 Cr. L. J. 658.
3. Expression like "stolen property" 1925 O. 1; "Property obtained as share of booty" 52 P. L. R. 1918 = 19 Cr. L. J. 439; "The lathi with which I killed Ismail." 1929 Sind 175; "The chhavi with which I committed murder" 14 Cr. L. J. 190, 1933 O. 404, "The place where I murdered the deceased" 14 Cr. L. J. 190; 11 P. R. 1915 Cr., 57 C. 1062, are inadmissible.

13. Joint discovery.

1. Where more than one accused in custody of Police point out or produce property jointly, such evidence of joint discovery is not sufficient for conviction. 63 P. L. R. 1914 = 9 P. W. R. 1914 Cr., 8 P. W. 1909 Cr. = 153 P. L. R. 1909, 135 I. C. 267 = 1931 Sind 154, 6 A. 509 (549). 1935 C. 184, 59 C. 1040, 7 P. R. 1916, 1929 L. 665, 1930 B. 244.
2. When all the accused jointly pointed out a place where dead body was discovered, the evidence is not admissible against any of the accused. 1929 L. 665 = 116 I. C. 619 = 30 Cr. L. J. 639 = 30 P. L. R. 397, 1930 B. 244, 1935 C. 184, 7 P. R. 1916, 6 A. 509 (549), 1935 C. 184, 1931 S. 154.
3. Facts discovered from information of several accused will be deemed to be discovered from information of the first. 1927 L. 739 = 101 I. C. 488 = 28 Cr. L. J. 456 = 28 P. L. R. 187, 34 I. C. 993 = 52 P. L. R. 1916, 1932 M. W. N. 113, 1932 C. 297 = 36 C. W. N. 373, 1922 L. 315 = 23 Cr. L. J. 22, 1925 N. 407.

14. Pointing out or production of property. Sec—11.

1. Mere pointing out the place where stolen property is concealed is not sufficient. 1921 L. 385 = 73 I. C. 331, 1 P. R. 1917 Cr., 20 P. R. 1905 Cr., 17 A. 576, 7 Cr. L. R. 175, 1934 S. 159, 1930 S. 168.
2. Mere production of a stolen property by the accused from a jungle which was neither in his possession nor control is not sufficient. 46 P. L. R. 1912 = 22 P. W. R. 1912 Cr., 1923 L. 438, 92 P. L. R. 1902, 1 P. W. R. 1906 Cr.
3. Where accused knew where stolen property was buried and produced it but falsely stated that he did it under instructions from Police who themselves had buried it is sufficient for conviction. 1930 S. 168=31 Cr. L. J. 947=126 I. C. 53.

4. Pointing out of dead body is no evidence of murder, but the fact of his knowledge of place is material circumstance against him. 1922 L. 169=23 Cr. L. J. 617.
5. When a man points out unknown matters, it is presumed under S. 114 that he is connected with the crime unless he gives explanation of his knowledge. 1923 B. 183=47 B. 74=24 B. L. R. 803.
6. Where several accused charged of theft went with the Police Officer and merely took out property from the place where it was buried at one and the same time, but there was no evidence to show that any one of them made a statement where it was buried, the property cannot be said to be discovered in consequence of information given by them within S. 27. Moreover, joint discovery has no value against any one of the accused. 1931 S. 154=135 I. C. 267.
7. Accused produced a gandasa from a pond and it was not blood-stained nor proved to have been connected with the crime. Held, that the confessional statements were not admissible in evidence. 1935 L. 433=37 P. L. R. 83.
8. Pointing out or production of article is by itself relevant under S. 8, Ev. Act, as conduct. 1935 C. 184, 15 L. 310, 31 A. 592, 10 B. 595, 12 Cr. L. J. 429. See 1933 C. 148=34 Cr. L. J. 675, 1932 L. 609=33 Cr. L. J. 756.

15. Pointing out place of occurrence.

1. Statement made by accused to Police showing place in jungle where occurrence took place are not admissible being confession made to Police Officer while in custody. 1933 C. 146=34 Cr. L. J. 638, 1929 L. 794=31 Cr. L. J. 269, 1926 C. 320=27 Cr. L. J. 263, 20 Cr. L. J. 681.
2. Accused pointed out places where he had taken the abducted woman and other places connected with the offence, while he was in Police custody. Held, that it was really evidence of confession and was inadmissible. 152 I. C. 473, 1920 C. 320=27 Cr. L. J. 263, 20 Cr. L. J. 681, 14 B. 260, 1935 O. 1, 1933 C. 146, 1929 L. 794, unless a relevant fact is discovered.
3. But if the accused leads the Police to a place where weapon with which murder was committed was discovered, 1925 M. 574=26 Cr. L. J. 840 or ornaments worn by deceased, 31 A. 592; or some stolen property, 35 I. C. 962; or the concealed body of the murdered man is discovered, 55 M. 903, the evidence is admissible under S. 8, Ev. Act, as conduct. Cont. 1935 O. 1, 14 B. 260.
4. Where no material fact is discovered, evidence of pointing out is inadmissible. 1929 L. 794=31 Cr. L. J. 269, 1926 C. 320, 1933 C. 146, 20 Cr. L. J. 681.
5. Places were pointed out by accused in Police custody to a Magistrate. Held, it is admissible. 1932 L. 488=142 I. C. 699, 1929 L. 794=31 Cr. L. J. 269.
6. From the statement "This is the place where I killed the deceased", there is no discovery. 3 B. 12. See 57 C. 1062=1930 C. 291.
7. Whether section includes discovery of a fact other than material object. See 58 M. 612=1935 M. 528. (F. B.).

16. Production of property without statement.

A number of accused charged with theft went together with the Police Officer and took out the property from the place where it was buried, without making any statement. Held, that property was not discovered in consequence of information under S. 27, 1931 S. 154=135 I. C. 267, 7 Cr. L. R. 175.

17. Rediscovery.

1. If the discovery of fact is already known to Police, production of the stolen property by accused is valueless. 7 P. L. R. 1902, 153 P. L. R. 1909, 11 C. 635.
2. Fact was discovered in consequence of information by one accused and the other gave the same information. Fact cannot be said to be discovered from the information of both. 1930 B. 244=32 Bom. L. R. 574=31 Cr. L. J. 1104, 1922 L. 315=64 I. C. 502, 120 I. C. 81, 120 I. C. 210, 11 C. 635.
3. When the Police succeed in discovering property in consequence of information received from an accused, it is not competent to the Police to replace the property in the place whence it is discovered and to ask the accused to produce the property. 2 Bom. L. R. 1089, 34 I. C. 474.

4. Police should not enquire the fate of asking the accused to point out the place, already discovered by another accused. 10 S. L. R. 7 (9), 9 Bom. L. R. 1039.

18. Scope.

1. Out of the statement containing confession only such portion as leads to discovery is admissible. 57 C. 1062=1930 C. 291, 1929 L. 338=30 Cr. L. J. 395.
2. S. 27 does not relate to statement of accused prior to his arrest or detention. 1929 N. 17=114 I. C. 273=30 Cr. L. J. 258.
3. S. 27 qualifies Ss. 24, 25 and 26 and the confession although through inducement becomes admissible for the truth of confession is guaranteed by the discovery of facts in consequence of the information given. 1923 L. 476=29 Cr. L. J. 1019=9 L. 671=112 I. C. 347, 10 L. 283=1929 L. 344, 57 C. 1062, 9 L. 671, 1925 M. 574. Cont. 1925 M. 574=86 I. C. 664, 11 Cr. L. J. 41.
4. S. 27 is not affected by S. 162, Cr. P. C. 51 M. 967, 1929 N. 17=114 I. C. 273, 1929 R. 116, 1925 L. 84, 1925 M. 574, 1923 N. 109, 1934 L. 695, 55 A. 463, 55 M. 903, 5 P. 63, 54 C. 237, 51 M. 967.
5. A statement though admissible under S. 27 should be excluded if under S. 24 the accused was under the influence of the village Magistrates promise to save him from punishment. 1925 M. 574 (2)=86 I. C. 664=25 Cr. L. J. 840, 31 A. 592, 4 I. C. 759=11 Cr. L. J. 41.

19. Statements accompanying pointing out or production of property. See—3.

1. Statements accompanying pointing out scene of crime or production of property are inadmissible although the acts of pointing out or production may be given in evidence as conduct relevant under S. 8, Evidence Act. 11 B. 11, C.R. 242, 3 B. 12, 16, 17, 14 B. 260 (263), 4 A. 198.
2. If the recoveries are made in consequence of information supplied by the accused, the statements are admissible. 1923 L. 434, 112 I. C. 55.
3. Statements can be made by gestures even. 1926 R. 112=94 I. C. 706=27 Cr. L. J. 658.
4. If the accused himself produces a thing and simultaneously makes some statement concerning it, the act of production is itself admissible, but the accompanying statement is inadmissible under S. 27 or S. 8. 56 B. 172=1932 B. 286, 11 B. H. C. 242, 171 P. L. R. 1913, See 31 A. 592, 1935 C. 184 and 50 M. 274.
5. Accused stated that he robbed A of Rs. 48 out of which he spent Rs. 8 and he produced Rs. 40 before the Police Officer. Held that the statement was inadmissible. 11 C. 635.
6. Accused gave knife to Police saying he committed murder with it. Held, it was inadmissible. 4 A. 198. See 11 B. H. C. 242.
7. Where accused took the Police to the house of another person and asked him to hand over the article which he had given him, the statement is admissible. 55 A. 463=1933 A. 440=34 Cr. L. J. 875.

20. Statement before arrest. See Confession to Police—6.21. Statement leading to no—.

Mere statement which led to no physical discovery is inadmissible. 3 B. 12, 1931 O. 119=131 I. C. 439=32 Cr. L. J. 697, 32 I. C. 136.

22. Statement that article was given to another.

1. If one of the accused states that 'incriminating article is in the possession of the other accused, and the article is found in the possession of the latter, the statement is inadmissible under S. 27 against the former. 54 I. C. 479=21 Cr. L. J. 79, 1934 N. 71=35 Cr. L. J. 1097. Cont. 10 L. 283, 55 A. 463.
2. Where accused took the Police to the house of another person and asked him to hand over the article which he had given him, the statement is admissible. 55 A.

DISCREPANCY. See Evidence—32.

1. Between English and Urdu records. See Record—22.

2. Clearing up by Court or Police. See Court's duty—11.

1. When the Magistrate saw the Police diary and observed that certain discrepancies in the evidence of prosecution witnesses were not material, the conviction must be set aside. 1931 P. 96 = 131 I. C. 535 = 32 Cr. L. J. 735 (1), 44 C. 876.
2. The Police Officers should not try to remove all discrepancies in the evidence of witnesses as originally recorded with the object of presenting to Court a picture of witness making consistent and coherent statement. It is absolutely futile. 1935 L. 230 = 150 I. C. 1056 = 35 Cr. L. J. 1180.

3. Immaterial.

1. Discrepancies like sitting or standing, facing north or south or who snatched the daug, etc., at the occurrence are immaterial. 1923 C. 463 = 71 I. C. 657 = 24 Cr. L. J. 193.
2. Prosecution evidence should not be rejected on immaterial discrepancies or probabilities. 1923 O. 217 = 74 I. C. 434 = 24 Cr. L. J. 770, 1933 O. 333.
3. Where illiterate villagers come forward to depose as to evidence which was crowded into their memory for a few moments, any little discrepancy or contradiction should not be taken as a proof of their mendacity. 1931 L. 38 = 32 Cr. L. J. 522 = 130 I. C. 140 = 32 P. L. R. 259
4. Where evidence for the prosecution has been implicating the accused, he should not merely rely on discrepancies or exaggerations in the prosecution story but must lead evidence. 1928 P. 100 = 6 P. 627 = 107 I. C. 305 = 29 Cr. L. J. 239.
5. A slight change in the statement as to date of birth is not necessarily to be discredited. 1924 O. 385 = 81 I. C. 484 = 11 O. L. J. 297.
6. Where the discrepancies between witnesses as to dates is not unnatural, it is an indication of bonafides. 1930 P. C. 18 = 121 I. C. 205 = 1930 M. W. N. 60.
7. There are discrepancies of truth as well as discrepancies of falsehood and too minute attention to immaterial discrepancies may lead to failure of justice. 15 P. R. 1909 Cr. = 37 P. W. R. 1909 Cr.
8. Minor discrepancies will always be found where honest witnesses come to depose. 1933 S. 166 = 34 Cr. L. J. 808.
9. If witnesses are tutored, care is always taken that they tell the same story. Discrepancies are not less informative of testimony, because a greater sagacity on the part of witnesses would have avoided it. 11 B. H. C. R. (Cr. C.) 146.
10. Memory is fallible and whenever two persons attempt without previous arrangement to relate an incident, discrepancies will invariably be discovered. 1935 S. 145 (158) = 1935 Cr. C. 753.
11. Minor discrepancies upon immaterial points do not discredit the witness. On the contrary witness should be regarded with suspicion if upon such points as this, no discrepancies can be detected in their statements. 1935 S. 145 (158).
12. When accounts of a transaction come from the mouths of different witnesses, it is seldom that it is not possible to pick out apparent or real inconsistencies between them. On the contrary a close and minute agreement induces the suspicion of confederacy and fraud. Field's Law of Evidence in British India, 8th Ed. Page XXI of Introduction.
13. If a person talks over the incidents of some startling accident or other abnormal occurrence to some persons who were also present there, he will find that he observed some things which did not attract the attention of some of his fellow observers, while some of them have seen matters which escaped his observation. Ibid.
14. The angle of view at which each observer stands, the objects that more or less intervene, the number of surroundings and distracting circumstances, and the difference between the powers of observation and keenness of sight of different individuals, together with other causes will readily account for this circumstantial variety, while all are agreed about the broad incidents of the substantial truth. Ibid.

15. Experience tells us that a certain variety in detail accompanies and even indicates truth, while a close and minute agreement is significant of conspiracy and falsehood. Ibid at page XXII.
16. In a case of assault five witnesses described the incident and all detailed the names of the eleven accused in the same order. It may safely be said that, without concert, this could not possibly happen. It appeared that the Mukhtar obtained a copy of the complaint made some days previously and, in order to guard effectually against discrepancy, he had made each of the five witnesses commit to memory. Ibid at page XXIII.
17. Where several witnesses bear testimony to the same transaction and concur in their statement of a series of particular circumstances, there can be only two conclusions—either the testimony is true or the coincidences are the result of concert and conspiracy. To determine which is the case, there are two valuable tests. First, are the witnesses independent and acting without concert? Second, are the coincidences natural and undesigned? Ibid at page XXII.
18. In case of omissions in the evidence, it will be important to see whether the omission to mention a particular fact arises from wilful suppression or from witness's attention being rivetted upon some other facts, with describing which his mind has been wholly engrossed. If the fact be one which could not possibly have escaped his observation, supposing him to be a true witness, and if, on being indirectly questioned, deny such knowledge, the supposition of inadvertence is scarcely possible, and a discrepancy is apparent. Field's Law of Evidence in British India. 8th Ed., page XXVI.

4. Material.

1. In case of material discrepancies in prosecution story accused gets the benefit of doubt. 1923 L. 195.
2. Statement of a witness in hopeless conflict with his previous one should be rejected. 1925 L. 483=92 I. C. 577=26 P. L. R. 659=27 Cr. L. J. 289.
3. In case of discrepancies between First Information Report and complaint and subsequent evidence, the accused should get benefit of doubt. 188 P. L. R. 1915=34 P. W. R. 1915, Cr., 92 I. C. 209, 7 L. L. J. 96, 172 P. L. R. 1914.
4. Where material discrepancies occur between statements of corroborating witnesses before the Police and the Court there is no corroboration of approver's story. 36 P. W. R. 1910 Cr.=11 Cr. L. J. 580.
5. It is not permissible to reject the prosecution story owing to immaterial discrepancies or improbabilities. 1923 O. 217=74 I. C. 434=24 Cr. L. J. 770=10 O. L. J. 65.
6. Discrepancies in the statements of witnesses on material points must not be lightly passed over as they seriously affect their testimony. 36 A. 187.
7. Where material discrepancies exist between the statements of corroborative witnesses before Police and the Court, there is no corroboration. 35 P. W. R. 1910 Cr.
8. Expression of opinion that discrepancy between complaint and subsequent evidence does not affect prosecution case is misdirection. 1934 C. 77=35 Cr. L. J. 483=147 I. C. 832.
9. Discrepancy between statements of approver and witness cannot be explained away by reference to statements before Police. 1934 L. 102=35 Cr. L. J. 517.

5. Transfer of deposition under S. 288 fer—. See Deposition.

6. Witness can correct—

There is no provision of law which requires that witness should be given an opportunity to explain discrepancies in his evidence. He can correct it when it is read to him. 1921 C. 30=122 I. C. 274=31 Cr. L. J. 373.

DISCRETION.

1. Discretion must be guided by law. It must be governed by Rules and not by

- humour. It must not be arbitrary, vague and fanciful but legal and regular. 5 C. 259, 42 B. 172, 38 M. 489, 48 B. 37.
2. In using judicial discretion, the Courts have to bear in mind not only the statutes but also the great rules and maxims of law, such for example, as those of logic or evidence or public policy. 14 B. 331 (344—352).
 3. Discretionary power of Magistrate should not be interfered in Revision. 10 P. R. 1896 Cr., 6 P. R. 1905 Cr.
 4. Power of Revision under S. 439, Cr. P. C. is discretionary. 19 P. R. 1914 Cr., 31 P. R. 1890 Cr., 313 P. L. R. 1913.
 5. Power of proceeding against surety of a person convicted under S. 4, Gambling Act is discretionary. 27 P. R. 1881 Cr.
 6. The Magistrate has the discretion to realize or not the penalty on forfeiture of bond. 2 P. R. 1883 Cr.
 7. Notice to accused before passing order for further enquiry is in the discretion of the Court. 17 P. P. 1895 Cr.
 8. It is a wrong exercise of discretion of Magistrate, when he discharges an accused on evidence prima facie sufficient for conviction. 14 P. R. 1908 Cr., 10 P. R. 1909 Cr.
 9. A discretion conferred by statute cannot be whittled away by ruling 1931 M. 439 = 131 I. C. 461 = 32 Cr. L. J. 756 = 1931 M. W. N. 399.
 10. Discretion does not depend upon resolutions of the Executive Government. 42 B. 172.
 11. When there is no indication of discretion in the Act or Rules, it is mistake for the Courts to lay down any hard and fast rules or grounds in that regard. 41 C. 446.
 12. Where legislature concedes wide discretion it also imposes heavy responsibility. 1933 S. 49 = 34 Cr. L. J. 591.

DISEASE. See Public Nuisance—38.

1. A prostitute had connection with the prosecutor to whom she communicated syphilis. Held, she was not guilty under S. 269 because she could not spread it without the complicity of the prosecutor, but may be guilty of cheating if there was misrepresentation or of hurt. 11 B. 59.
2. When drunkenness becomes disease, it is a good defence. 29 C. 493.

DISHONESTLY OR DISHONESTY. S. 24, I. P. C.

1. Definition or Meaning.

1. S. 24 is not an exhaustive definition of 'dishonestly.' It includes cases of intention of causing wrongful gain or loss 1929 P. 60 = 110 I. C. 712 = 30 Cr. L. J. 236.
2. The word 'dishonestly' does not necessarily imply wrongful gain to accused himself. 1925 O. 469 = 88 I. C. 833 = 26 Cr. L. J. 1217 = 2 O. W. N. 469.
3. The obtaining of acquittal is very distinctly the obtaining of an advantage and that brings the case within the definition of S. 24. 1929 P. 60 = 113 I. C. 712 = 30 Cr. L. J. 236.
4. An act, whether dishonest, is determined by intention. 1932 S. 169.
5. The word 'dishonestly' applies only to wrongful gain or loss. 1932 B. 545.

2. Gain.

1. Gain must be taken to mean material gain. 1925 R. 9 = 76 I. C. 225.
2. For "dishonesty" there may be wrongful loss though no wrongful gain. 22 C. 1017.

3. Intention.

1. Intention to cause wrongful loss by itself amounts to dishonesty. Loss is no ingredient of the offence under S. 406, Penal Code. 1924 L. 353, 28 P. R. 1916 Cr.
2. The primary and not the more remote intention of the accused must be looked at. 8 A. 653, 19 C. 383.
3. A candidate gaining admission to an examination by presenting a forged certificate

Second, are the coincidences natural and undesigned? Ibid at page XXII.
18. In case of omissions in the evidence, it will be important to see whether the omission to mention a particular fact arises from wilful suppression or from witness's attention being rivetted upon some other facts, with describing which his mind has been wholly engrossed. If the fact be one which could not possibly have escaped his observation, supposing him to be a true witness, and if, on being indirectly questioned, deny such knowledge, the supposition of inadvertence is scarcely possible, and a discrepancy is apparent. Field's Law of Evidence in British India. 8th Ed., page XXVI.

4. Material.

1. In case of material discrepancies in prosecution story accused gets the benefit of doubt. 1923 L. 195.
2. Statement of a witness in hopeless conflict with his previous one should be rejected. 1925 L. 483=92 I. C. 577=26 P. L. R. 659=27 Cr. L. J. 289.
3. In case of discrepancies between First Information Report and complaint and subsequent evidence, the accused should get benefit of doubt. 188 P. L. R. 1915=34 P. W. R. 1915, Cr., 92 I. C. 209, 7 L. L. J. 96, 172 P. L. R. 1914.
4. Where material discrepancies occur between statements of corroborating witnesses before the Police and the Court there is no corroboration of approver's story. 36 P. W. R. 1910 Cr.=11 Cr. L. J. 550.
5. It is not permissible to reject the prosecution story owing to immaterial discrepancies or improbabilities. 1923 O. 217=74 I. C. 434=24 Cr. L. J. 770=10 O. L. J. 68.
6. Discrepancies in the statements of witnesses on material points must not be lightly passed over as they seriously affect their testimony. 36 A. 187.
7. Where material discrepancies exist between the statements of corroborative witnesses before Police and the Court, there is no corroboration. 35 P. W. R. 1910 Cr.
8. Expression of opinion that discrepancy between complaint and subsequent evidence does not affect prosecution case is misdirection. 1934 C. 77=35 Cr. L. J. 483=147 I. C. 832.
9. Discrepancy between statements of approver and witness cannot be explained away by reference to statements before Police. 1934 L. 102=35 Cr. L. J. 517.

5. Transfer of deposition under S. 238 for— See Deposition.

6. Witness can correct—

There is no provision of law which requires that witness should be given an opportunity to explain discrepancies in his evidence. He can correct it when it is read to him. 142 C. 2=122 I. C. 279=31 Cr. L. J. 373.

DISCRETION.

1. The report must be read to the jury. It must be governed by Rule 34, S. 131.

Discretion—(concl'd.)

- humour. It must not be arbitrary, vague and fanciful but legal and regular. 5 C. 259, 42 B. 172, 38 M. 489, 48 B. 37.
2. In using judicial discretion, the Courts have to bear in mind not only the statutes but also the great rules and maxims of law, such for example, as those of logic or evidence or public policy. 14 B. 331 (344—352).
 3. Discretionary power of Magistrate should not be interfered in Revision. 10 P. R. 1896 Cr., 6 P. R. 1905 Cr.
 4. Power of Revision under S. 439, Cr. P. C. is discretionary. 19 P. R. 1914 Cr., 31 P. R. 1890 Cr., 313 P. L. R. 1913.

DISOBEDIENCE TO ORDER DULY PROMULGATED. S. 188, I. P. C.1. Applicability.

1. The disobedience of a prohibitory order under O. 21, r. 46, C. P. C., is not punishable under S. 188, as section does not apply to orders of Civil Court. 11 Cr. L. J. 56=4 I. C. 824, 39 M. 543, 6 C. 445.
2. The operation of S. 188 is limited to the public orders relating to safety, health or convenience of the public. A guardian disobeying an injunction of a Court not to marry a ward does not fall within S. 188. 16 Cr. L. J. 668=30 I. C. 652=17 Bom. L. R. 676, 6 C. 445.
3. S. 188, I. P. C., does not apply to the disobedience of an order by an attaching Court to produce the property. 1921 O. 123=61 I. C. 237=22 Cr. L. J. 381.
4. S. 188 does not apply to orders made in civil suits. 6 C. 445, 17 Bom. L. R. 676, 9 Bom. L. R. 639, 24 O. C. 18.
5. If an injunction of a Civil Court is disobeyed, the remedy is a committal for contempt. 8 Bom. L. R. 638.

2. Complaint.

1. Complaint in writing under S. 195, Cr. P. C., is not dispensed with by S. 11 of the Prevention of Intimidation Ordinance. 55 B. 322, 58 C. 971=1931 Cal. 122.
2. A complaint is necessary if a person is proceeded against for continuing nuisance in disobedience to the order of Court, under S. 188. 1930 L. 1055=129 I. C. 224.

*Disobedience to order duly promulgated—(contd.)3. Disobedience long after order.

Orders passed under S. 144, Cr. P. C., being intended to provide for cases where speedy remedy was desirable, do not have more than a temporary operation. A conviction long after the order is laid. 22 Cr. L. J. 2=5 C. 7, 10 A. 115, 2 M. 140.

4. Essentials and Evidence.

1. It should not merely be proved that there was an order which was duly promulgated but also that the accused was aware of it. The promulgation of the order is not sufficient to establish this knowledge. 54 C. 152=1927 C. 28=99 I. C. 36, 1927 C. 306=100 I. C. 830, 22 Cr. L. J. 705=63 I. C. 865.
2. In case of disobedience of order under S. 144 the offence is made out only when annoyance, injury or obstruction is caused thereby. 1922 P. 84=67 I. C. 205.
3. It is not sufficient to prove that a person was a member of a crowd which disobeyed a lawful order. But it must further be found that the disobedience of the order was intended to cause danger to human life, health or safety or tended to cause a riot or an affray. 10 L. 231, 32 Cal. 793, 1928 M. 591.
4. Where having regard to the circular issued by the accused and his admission that he convened the meeting there is adequate ground for drawing the inference that the accused knew that the disobedience of the order of the Commissioner of Police would at least result in conflict with the Police. The disobedience of the order under S. 23 (3), Police Act, in such a case falls under S. 188. 1929 Bom. 433.
5. If the order under S. 145 is illegal there can be no conviction under S. 188. 92 P. L. R. 1913.
6. Disobedience of the order and risk of breach of peace must be proved. 1930 C. 131.
7. It is duty of the prosecution to prove by positive evidence that accused had knowledge of the order with the disobedience of which he is charged. 63 I. C. 865.
8. Petitioner was ordered to remove obstruction from the road-way who maintained that the road-way was not public. He was asked to show cause against the prosecution, pleaded that he had removed the obstruction. The order for prosecution is bad and must be set aside. 1933 P. 131=73 I. C. 327=24 Cr. L. J. 583.
9. Evidence on the point of breach of peace must be definite and the fact that there is a dispute between two rival samundars concerning two huts was likely to lead to a breach of peace is insufficient. 32 Cal. 793.
10. Breach of lawful order issued by a Police Commissioner under S. 62-A, (4), Calcutta Police Act and S. 93-A, Suburban Police Act is an offence under S. 188, if such disobedience causes injury to any person. 58 C. 1303=1931 C. 410=132 I. C. 174=32 Cr. L. J. 844.
11. Mere disobedience of an order does not constitute an offence. It must be shown that it caused annoyance, or injury to a person lawfully employed. 58 C. 971, 6 A. W. N. 251.

5. Jurisdiction.

The Magistrate promulgating the order cannot himself punish a man for disobeying his order. 4 C. W. N. 226, 20 C. W. N. 931.

6. Legality of order. Valid or invalid orders.

1. To determine of question where an offence is committed in disobeying an order depends upon its legality. 45 A. 526=1923 A. 636=24 Cr. L. J. 689.
2. The legality of order under S. 144, Cr. P. C., can be gone into if accused is prosecuted under S. 188, I. P. C. 1921 Cal. 258=67 I. C. 200=34 C. L. J. 578.
3. Order under S. 144 must be in writing and duly served or promulgated to the public. 36 P. R. 1905 Cr. See 13 Cal. 175.
4. A Magistrate having received a report of an accident to workmen employed in quarrying stone from hill issued verbal order through some clerk to stop work. On receiving a report of its continuance summoned the accused and fined him. Held, that the order and trial were both illegal. 36 P. R. 1905 Cr.
5. If the order is not served personally that fact alone vitiates it so as to render dis-

8. Time for order.

1. It is not essential in law that an order under S. 522 should find a place in the actual judgment. But it should be immediate and without any fresh material having been produced. 14 Cr. L. J. 172, 20 Cr. L. J. 115.
2. Order can be passed after conviction of the accused. 15 P. R. 1914 Cr.
3. If a Magistrate passes an order under S. 522 beyond the prescribed one month though the order is illegal, the High Court as Court of Revision can order restoration of possession. 4 P. 438=91 I. C. 809=1925 P. 689=27 Cr. L. J. 137.
4. Where appeal was filed against conviction to a first class Magistrate and dismissed and Revision to the High Court was also dismissed, an order of restoration passed by the High Court within one month of the date of dismissal of Revision is valid. 1927 N. 131=99 I. C. 863=28 Cr. L. J. 191.
5. An order of restoration of possession cannot be made one month after the conviction. 33 Cr. L. J. 191=1932 L. 210, 1932 C. 750=30 Cr. L. J. 868.
6. Appellate Court has jurisdiction to pass an order under S. 522 (3) when appeal is pending before it. 1932 C. 750=33 Cr. L. J. 191=140 I. C. 66.
7. An application for possession under S. 522, Cr. P. C., was consigned to record room, because it was held not desirable to proceed with it when a civil suit was pending. The Magistrate passed an order for possession the application being removed. Held, that no doubt 20 months had elapsed between conviction and order for possession but delay was fully explained. The order was not illegal. 15 P. R. 1914 Cr., 23 B. 494, 14 C. L. J. 172.
8. It is not necessary that an order under S. 522 must be made at the time of conviction. It is enough if it is made without unreasonable delay after conviction. 49 I. C. 99=20 Cr. L. J. 115.
9. No time limit is fixed for an order by an appellate Court even after the disposal of appeal. 1934 P. 154=35 Cr. L. J. 1158.
10. The order by the trial Court must be made within one month. An application within month is not sufficient. 1934 P. 154=35 Cr. L. J. 1158, 1933 P. 617 Ref.

DISPUTE AS TO EASEMENT. See Easement.

DISPUTE RELATING TO IMMOVEABLE PROPERTY. S. 145, Cr. P. C.

1. Applicability of S. 145.

1. S. 145 applies only to dispute about actual and physical possession and not to dispute about joint possession. 1928 L. 818=29 Cr. L. J. 775, 1930 B. 172.
2. If the dispute is about possession of land and not a right to erect it, the case falls under S. 145. 1930 C. 59=125 I. C. 857=31 Cr. L. J. 944.
3. If there is dispute as to the right of worship only the proper section to prevent a breach of peace is S. 147 and not S. 145. 1925 M. 779, 29 M. 237, 11 M. 323.
4. When there is ample time for obtaining a civil remedy criminal action is not justified. 76 I. C. 691=1924 O. 341=25 Cr. L. J. 227.
5. The claim to weigh grain in a market and to realise the weighing dues is not covered by S. 145. 1922 A. 430=68 I. C. 836=23 Cr. L. J. 612.
6. Dispute as to mines and minerals falls within the scope of S. 145. 1922 C. 83=71 I. C. 236=24 Cr. L. J. 108, 71 I. C. 871, 24 Cr. L. J. 263.
7. S. 145 does not apply to dispute between co-sharers as to their shares. 1922 O. 192=69 I. C. 90=23 Cr. L. J. 650.
8. S. 145 only contemplates cases where one party claims to be in actual possession of the property in dispute as against his opponents. 63 I. C. 321=22 Cr. L. J. 625.

dispute relating to Immoveable Property—(contd.)

9. Where parties claimed the land on the strength of recent sale-deed from the original holder, an order under S. 145 is sound. 68 I. C. 34=1921 P. 410.
10. Dispute relating to a possession of temple comes within S. 145. 2 Weir 110.
11. Dispute about the exclusive right to collect the entire toll from half of the market falls under S. 145. 30 C. 593.
12. A dispute about fishery or jalkar right falls under S. 145. 35 C. 117.
13. Dispute about standing crops comes under S. 145 but not the crops severed from land and stored on the thrashing floor. 30 C. 110, 15 A. 394, 28 A. 268 Cont., 2 Weir 108.
14. Trees severed from land do not come under S. 145. 22 P. W. R. 1917.
15. Trees growing on land come within this section as being produce of land, but lac is not a produce of land or crop. 24 C. W. N. 1039.
16. Dispute as to collection of rent is dispute concerning land within the meaning of S. 145. 11 C. 413, 12 M. 88, 15 C. 527, 16 C. 513, 27 C. 892.
17. Dispute about the right of succession to a mutt and its appurtenances does not fall under S. 145. 11 W. R. 23.
18. A dispute as to the right to collect fees from the sellers of a market is not a dispute as to the profit of a market within the meaning of S. 145. 36 A. 143.
19. A dispute relating to the rights to the offerings of public worshippers only is a dispute relating to moveable property and is outside the scope of S. 145. 38 C. 387, 37 C. 578.
20. A dispute concerning the right to take Sandalwood paste from an idol does not fall under S. 145. 2 B. L. R. 438.
21. S. 145 does not apply where there is no dispute as to the possession who is entitled to collect rent from the tenants. 36 C. 986, 36 A. 943.
22. Disputes as regards easement fall more appropriately under S. 147 than S. 145. 21 Cr. L. J. 697, 22 Cr. L. J. 868.
23. Share in annual produce of mango grove is not specific tangible property susceptible of exclusive possession 1935 N. 44=17 N. L. J. 216.
24. An inquiry under S. 145 should be confined to the question of possession only. 1935 P. 83=36 Cr. L. J. 513=154 I. C. 426.

2. Actual possession.

1. Possession by tenant is not that of landlord in case there is dispute between them. 2 Weir 107.
2. In case of dispute between two rival Zamindars regarding a constructive possession through their tenants, Magistrate may proceed under S. 145 (5). 1921 C. 637.
3. In a case under S. 145, the Court is concerned only with actual possession. 1932. S. 145.

3. Attachment.

1. If Magistrate is unable to satisfy himself as to which of the parties was in possession at the date of preliminary order, he should continue the attachment already made till a competent Court has determined the rights of the parties. 1928 N. 325=111 I. C. 445=29 Cr. L. J. 861.
2. The property should be attached only if there is imminent danger of the breach of peace. 7 L. 134=1926 L. 205=27 Cr. L. J. 751=95 I. C. 281.
3. If Magistrate finds that there is no danger of breach of peace and files proceedings he has no jurisdiction to direct that the attached property should be delivered to one of the parties. In such a case property should remain in his custody till the decision of a Civil Court. 1923 N. 297=48 C. 522.
4. A Magistrate's order that neither party should work on the land is not correct. If the case is emergent he can attach the land. 1925 R. 111=84 I. C. 348.
5. A Magistrate should be reluctant to make use of S. 146. 82 I. C. 367=1924 P.

18. Police report.

1. Court is not confined to Police report in starting proceedings, nor bound to rely on the whole of it. 30 Cr. L. J. 1027=1929 C. 468=119 I. C. 372, 28 A. 406.

2. Police report must be the result of their inquiry and not merely copy of reports received. The Magistrate must state his own satisfaction of the truth of report. 1935 N. 78=17 N. L. J. 231, 1926 N. 371=27 Cr. L. J. 68 and 1928 N. 81=28 Cr. L. J. 929 Dist. 33 C. 352 and 33 C. 33 Ref.

19. Possession.

1. Magistrate's duty is to find peaceful possession. Ouster of a person lawfully in possession by a trespasser does not confer on the latter any rights which can be recognised under this section. 4 C. 417.
2. S. 145 does not cover a case of joint possession. 1934 N. 196.
3. The recent occupation of a trespasser is not a possession which a Magistrate can direct the party to retain under this section. 8 P. R. 1876.
4. Court should take into consideration present possession—Order in previous proceedings under S. 145 will not bar initiation of fresh proceedings. 1935 C. 494=157 I. C. 674.

20. Symbolical possession.

The Criminal Court need not record the symbolical possession of the decree-holder. 49 C. 177, 1925 C. 186=81 I. C. 928=25 Cr. L. J. 1104.

21. Preliminary order.

In preliminary order under S. 145 Magistrate should briefly state reasons as to how he was satisfied as to likelihood of dispute. Omission is not fatal but only irregularity curable under S. 537. 1934 N. 112=151 I. C. 348, 1927 R. 177, 36 M. 275 and 32 A. 132 Rel. on. 1922 C. 382 Exp.

22. Review of order.

A Criminal Court has no authority to review a final order passed under S. 145, Cr. P. C. 1935 R. 447, 35 C. 350 Foll.

23. Transfer of case.

1. S. 526 does not empower the High Court to transfer proceedings under S. 145 of the Cr. P. C. Such proceedings cannot be described as a criminal case in which a person is accused of an offence. 1925 L. 48=76 I. C. 868=25 Cr. L. J. 276.
2. Although a case in clause 8, S. 526 included proceedings under S. 145 a party in a proceeding in S. 145 cannot apply for adjournment under clause 8. 6 P. 553.
3. The fact that the trying Magistrate is believed to have made up his mind that there is no likelihood of breach of peace is not sufficient ground for transfer. 1923 O. 161=76 I. C. 562=25 Cr. L. J. 194.

24. Revision.

1. Revision against an order under S. 145 abates on the death of petitioner. 23 P. R. 1919 Cr.
2. High Court will interfere in revision when proceedings are irregular and Magistrate acts without jurisdiction. 40 P. R. 1917 Cr.
3. High Court will not interfere with irregular proceedings under S. 145 on revision. 68 P. L. R. 1914, 1933 O. 253. See 123 P. L. R. 111.
4. Where there was evidence that both parties were attempting to cultivate the land. Held, that this was likely to cause breach of peace and the mere fact that the Magistrate had not made this clear in his order did not justify the High Court interfering in revision. 1925 N. 448=87 I. C. 923=26 Cr. L. J. 1035, 1922 A. 31.
5. Where the Magistrate failed to decide as to which party was in possession on the date of preliminary order, High Court will interfere in revision. 1923 M. 142, 2 L. 372, 23 Cr. L. J. 620, 18 M. 41, 16 Cr. L. J. 239, 7 Cr. L. J. 450.
6. Mere omission by Magistrate to state that he was satisfied from the Police report that there was likelihood of the breach of peace is not reversible. 59 I. C. 401.
7. High Court cannot interfere with the decision of the Trial Court on the factum of possession as long as there is evidence in support of that finding. 93 I. C. 695=27 Cr. L. J. 471=27 P. L. R. 102, 23 I. C. 651, 19 Cr. L. J. 113.

Dispute relating to Immoveable Property—(contd.)

8. Finding based on evidence in mutation proceedings is bad and is open to revision. 1922 O. 25=69 I. C. 268=23 Cr. L. J. 684.
 9. Where the Magistrate had gone at length into the question of ownership and his order did not explain how a breach was apprehended it should be set aside on revision. 1927 L. 822=100 I. C. 712=28 Cr. L. J. 323=28 P. L. R. 107.
 10. An arbitrary refusal to examine more than a certain number of witnesses effects the exercise of jurisdiction and the order is revisable. 61 I. C. 718=22 Cr. L. J. 430.
 11. On a difference of opinion in matters under S. 145 the Senior Judge's opinion prevails as the jurisdiction exercised by High Court is under S. 107 of the Government of India Act and not under Ss. 435 and 439, Cr. P. C. 22 Cr. L. J. 99.
 12. Refusal to adjourn a case is not sufficient to set aside an order. 1932 S. 145.
 13. If no prejudice is caused whole proceedings should not be set aside. 1932 A. 446.
 14. Where there was no question of law and on facts the reasons given by Magistrate were not unsound, High Court refused to interfere. 1934 P. 33=35 Cr. L. J. 611.
 15. Refusal to summon witnesses cited by complainant even before prosecution evidence has begun, amounts to grave error. 1936 N. 192.
- 25. Security for keeping peace.
1. It may sometimes be necessary to bind the parties under S. 107 even though proceedings under S. 145 have been taken. 61 I. C. 240=22 Cr. L. J. 384.
 2. S. 145 does not apply when one party is clearly in possession and the other party wants to take forcible possession. The proper remedy is to take proceedings under S. 107. 59 I. C. 374=22 Cr. L. J. 86.
 3. One of the parties within two months prior to the proceedings obtained sanction from the municipality and proceeded to dig a tank on the land in dispute, held that it was a forcible and wrongful possession. 20 C. W. N. 978.
 4. First party was in possession more than two months preceding the date when proceedings under S. 145 were instituted although the second party obtained possession from the Civil Court one year ago, held that the Magistrate should pass order in favour of the first party. 49 C. 177 (181)=1922 C. 364.
 5. It is not necessary that actual force of violence should have been used to some person before the dispossession can be said to be forcible. There can be forcible possession by a show of criminal force. 25 C. W. N. 601.
 6. For S. 145 there should be a forcible as well as wrongful dispossession, for some wrongful dispossession the remedy lies in the Civil Court. 3 P. 809 (813-14).
- 26. Title.
- Questions of title are of little importance except in so far as they determine actual possession. 1934 C. 95=35 Cr. L. J. 489.
- 27. The ingredients of S. 145.
1. Where there is no likelihood of the breach of peace proceedings under S. 145 are incompetent. 1927 C. 944, 64 I. C. 288, 1926 S. 85.
 2. The two essential conditions for S. 145 are firstly that there should be dispute over land or water and secondly such dispute is likely to cause breach of peace. 1926 S. 53=89 I. C. 156=26 Cr. L. J. 1292.
 3. Religious nature of dispute leads to no inference that there is likelihood of breach of peace, although past conduct of the parties is good evidence. 75 I. C. 990=1924 L. 678=25 Cr. L. J. 78.
 4. The Magistrate's jurisdiction ceases when apprehension of the breach of peace does not exist. 1923 C. 577=76 I. C. 963=25 Cr. L. J. 291.

7. The grant of letters of administration is no bar to a further prosecution under S. 477. 4 R. 251=1926 R. 202=97 I. C. 1054=27 Cr. L. J. 1230.
8. Accused concealed the will and did not get probate. He gave an affidavit that testator died intestate. His explanation was held sufficient. Held, he could not come within the purview of S. 477. 1934 C. 217=35 Cr. L. J. 716.

5. Contents of— S. 144, Ev. Act.

Contents of a document cannot be proved, if objected to, unless the document is produced. S. 144, Ev. Act.

6. Definition of. S. 29, I. P. C.

1. Letters imprinted on the trees and intended to be evidence that the trees had been passed by the Forest Ranger and so could be removed from the place are a 'document'. 1925 B. 327=87 I. C. 838=26 Cr. L. J. 1014.
2. A draft complaint purporting to be written by a fictitious person charging a Raja with the murder of a Faqir was a 'document' and being false document, it was a forgery. 2 B. L. R. (A. Cr.) 12.

7. Destruction of documentary evidence. S. 204, I. P. C.

1. The disfigurement or destruction of a document is a serious offence. But there must be evidence of Criminal intention. 17 I. C. 1008=13 Cr. L. J. 913.
2. A person has the right to destroy or secret his property but he cannot do so without incurring the penalty of law, if his intention was to prevent the document from being produced or used as evidence. 24 P. R. 1889 Cr., 35 C. L. J. 158.
3. A 'Panchayat Nana' drawn up by the Police Officer during investigation was destroyed by him for interlineations and scratches and got it re-written by the same scribe and signed by the anchors. He is not guilty under S. 204. 14 Bom. L. R. 1163=13 Cr. L. J. 913.
4. A Sub-Inspector tore up the report of dacoity and substituted that of a simple theft. His intention was to keep from the knowledge of his officers that a dacoity was committed. He is guilty under Ss. 204 and 218. 20 A. 307.
5. Defendant was required by the Arbitrator to show the bond to the witness but he ran away with it. Held, he is guilty under S. 204. 3 M. 261.
6. The fact that a man perjures himself by denying the existence of a document, which to his knowledge is in his custody, is a cogent piece of evidence. 55 C. 1051.

8. Inspection of—

1. In a warrant case, before a charge is framed, the accused has no right to call for inspection of documents in the possession of the complainant, but not produced by the prosecution in support of their case. 25 I. C. 101=15 Cr. L. J. 245, 5 Bom. L. R. 978, 8 S. L. R. 267. Cont. 1935 S. 13=35 Cr. L. J. 551.
2. The jurisdiction of the Court to order the production of a document or thing carries with it the jurisdiction to allow the right of inspection. 1935 S. 13=35 Cr. L. J. 551=154 I. C. 762. 5 Bom. L. R. 978 Rel. on.

9. Omission to produce—before public servant. S. 175, I. P. C. See—10.

1. The intentional non-production of a document by a person legally bound to produce it is an offence under S. 175, I. P. C., and not under S. 174, C. P. C. 12 B. 63.

Document—(contd.)

2. If the Court fines a person without preparing any record of the facts and the statement of offender, his sentence cannot be maintained. 4 M. H. C. R. 222.
 3. Accused cannot be compelled to produce a document incriminating himself and his refusal is not punishable under S. 173. 12 C. W. N. 1016.
 4. A Sub-Registrar has no power to call for original document which was registered in his office to compare it with the copy of the deed in the Registering Office when the Registrar suspected to have been tampered with. The refusal to produce was punishable. 2 C. L. J. 221.
 5. Court issued a summons to a junior member of the joint Hindu family to produce account books of a partnership. He was held justified in failing to produce it as the father was the manager of the family. 1899 A. W. N. 171.
 6. The offence under S. 173 must be tried or disposed of by a Court other than that in respect of whom the contempt was committed. 13 M. 21.
 7. A witness was summoned to produce document. He attended but did not produce it, saying that he could not find it. He, he was not guilty. 10 B. 63.
- 10. Production of—or summoning by accused.
1. Accused has right to file documents along with his written statement and Court must consider them although they have not been proved in the regular way. 1923 M. 1135=29 Cr. L. J. 1041, 10 Cr. L. J. 492.
 2. When a document is in the possession of accused, e. g., account books, and he does not produce it, the inference is that if produced it will not support his plea that period of defalcation covered more than one year. 1934 P. 132=35 Cr. L. J. 693=148 I. C. 519.
 3. Accused can call for relevant document from a witness. 16 Cr. L. J. 245.
 4. Accused is entitled to production of Court record instead of being put to the expense of obtaining copies. 1923 L. 420=24 Cr. L. J. 686.
- 11. Production of— S. 94, Cr. P. C.
1. Under S. 94 any party can at any stage apply to call for the production of a document or other thing and he is entitled to its production if he satisfies the Court that it is desirable for the purpose of inquiry or trial. 1935 S. 13=154 I. C. 762=36 Cr. L. J. 581. 1914 S. 135=28 I. C. 101=16 Cr. L. J. 245 Expl.
 2. S. 94 and S. 257, Cr. P. C., are not antagonistic but interdependent. Under S. 257 accused can call for the production of a document after charge unless his application is for the purpose of delay or vexation, but under S. 94 he can call for even before or after charge. 1935 S. 13=154 I. C. 762=36 Cr. L. J. 581.
 3. Whether the production of a document or thing is desirable is to be determined by Magistrate. His discretion must be exercised judicially. 5 B. L. R. 950, 1935 S. 13.
 4. The object of trial in every case is to ascertain the truth by estimating evidence. Nothing that is calculated to assist it in doing so ought to be excluded, unless for reasons of public policy, the law expressly requires its exclusion. 11 Bom. H. C. R. 120.
- 12. Refusal to produce—after notice. S. 164, Ev. Act.
1. It is doubtful if S. 164 Ev. Act applies to criminal proceedings. 1933 C. 65, 58 C. 96=1930 C. 370.
 2. In a case under S. 408 complainant called upon accused to produce certain documents. He evaded but produced them at the time of cross-examination. Held, cross-examination could not be refused. 1933 C. 65=60 C. 341.
- 13. Secretion of. S. 477, I. P. C. See—4.

DRAWING BOY BY NECK.

Accused put his safa round the neck of a boy on his refusal to accompany him to a certain place and dragged him for 50 or 60 yards, as a result of which he died. Held, that accused was not guilty under Ss. 302—394, 304-A., or 325 but under S. 357, I. P. C. 1931 L. 275=134 I. C. 772=32 Cr. L. J. 1248.

DROWNING—

1. Death from causes connected with —

1. A person may have been stunned by the fall into the water or even may have been actually killed by this means, or by his body striking some solid object in its fall. Taylor's Med. Jur. 1928, Vol. II, P. 630.
2. He may have been so intoxicated (or otherwise rendered insensible) as to have been unable to help himself. Ibid, P. 631.
3. The fright at finding himself in dangerous position may have caused such a shock as to have actually killed him by sudden stoppage of the heart, especially if this organ were weak or definitely diseased. Ibid, P. 631.
4. The cold to the skin may equally have caused internal congestion of organs incompatible with life.
5. Cramp in the muscles of the limbs may have prevented a struggle for life. Ibid, P. 631.
6. Such cramp may have spread rapidly to or even started in the glottis or the respiratory muscles. Ibid, P. 631.
7. He may have died from some totally independent cause, such as apoplexy, fits, epileptic or otherwise, etc., and his position at the moment of death may have been such as to cause him to fall into the water. Ibid, P. 631.
8. He may have been killed and thrown in. Ibid, P. 631.

2. Post mortem appearance in—

1. The sub-pleural hæmorrhages (petechiæ) noticed under the heading of asphyxia are seldom observed in drowning, but when present they offer strong corroborative evidence of this form of death. Taylor's Med. Jur. 1928, Vol. I, P. 638.
2. In examining the abdomen, it will commonly be found that the stomach contains water, which appears to enter into this organ by the act of swallowing during the struggle for life. Ibid, P. 639.
3. In some instances no water whatever is found in the stomach. The absence of water may probably indicate a rapid death, in which there has been no power to swallow. Ibid, P. 639.
4. (a) On opening the head, the brain displays a darker colour than usual. (b) There is an unusual accumulation of black blood in the pulmonary arteries and veins. The left ventricle is only half filled with the same kind of blood, sometimes completely empty. (c) Some water mixed with frothy matter, and occasionally coloured with blood, is found in the trachea. (d) Little or no water is found in the stomach; and when it is present, it can in no way have contributed to death. There is even less chance of water being found in this organ, if the body have been thrown into the water after death. Ryan's Med. Jur. 1836, Pp. 348-349.

3. Time required for death in.—

1. One minute and a half complete submersion is fatal, provided that ordinary respiratory efforts are made while submersion is complete. Taylor's Med. Jur. 1928, Vol. 1, P. 632.
2. If respiratory efforts (by which water or air and water enter the mouth) are completely suspended, simple deprivation of air for as much as four minutes need not be fatal. Ibid, P. 632.
3. For as air escapes from the lungs, water penetrates into the minute air-tubes, and so no air can enter to supply the place of that which has already expended its oxygen on the blood. Hence this fluid must circulate, in the first few minutes after submersion, in a state unfitted for the continued support of life (unaerated); but the person lives, and is for a short time after immersion susceptible of recovery. Ibid, P. 629.

4. Was death caused by—

1. If materials are found grasped within the hands of the deceased which have evidently been torn from the banks of a canal or river, or from the bottom of the water in which the body is found, we have strong presumptive evidence that the person died in the water. Taylor's Med. Jur. 1928, Vol. 1, P. 640.
2. When a dead body is thrown into the water, and has remained there some time, water, fine particles of sand, mud, weeds, etc., may pass through the windpipe into the large air-tubes. Water in these circumstances, however, does not penetrate into the substance of the lungs as by aspiration during life. Ibid, P. 642.
3. The general impression among non-medical persons appears to be that, whether in drowning or suffocation, there ought to be some particular visible change in some parts of the body to indicate at once the kind of death; but this notion is founded on false premises. Ibid, P. 643.
4. It may be thus summarised, if, after careful and complete examination, water (and things in the water of the locality) is found aspirated into the lungs, death was certainly due to drowning. Ibid, P. 644.
5. If there is no evidence of aspiration of water the person was not drowned, but died from something else which it may or may not be within the reach of evidence to determine. Ibid, P. 644.
6. The absence of water from the stomach cannot, however, lead to the inference that the person had not died from drowning because in some instances the victim may be deeply unconscious and unable to swallow. Ibid, P. 644.
7. That a large quantity of water of the same nature as that in which the body is found is strong presumptive evidence of immersion during conscious life, and therefore of death from drowning. Ibid, P. 645.
8. That small quantities give no very certain indication unless the inspection is made very shortly after death. Ibid, P. 645.
9. That the quality, i. e., dissolved or suspended matter is of much more importance than the quantity. Ibid, P. 645.

5. Was it due to accident, suicide or homicide.

1. Dead bodies taken out of wells often present considerable marks of violence when the deceased persons have fallen in accidentally, or have thrown themselves in intentionally. The presence of these marks must not create a hasty suspicion of murder. Taylor's Med. Jur. 1928 Vol. 1, P. 649, Lyon's Med. Jur. 1935, P. 321.
2. Fractures of bones may be accidental, as in diving into shallow water with a hard supporting basis. Ibid, P. 650.
3. The violence inflicted by fishes, rates, molluscs, etc. on a body in the water is generally fairly easy to distinguish. The edges of the raw surface are more eroded than ragged or sloughy there may be the actual marks of the teeth, or possibly even shell-fish in situ. Ibid, P. 651.
4. If the marks of ligatures bear the evidence of violent constriction, especially on both wrists, or on the fore part of the neck, the presumption of murder becomes strong. Ibid, P. 653.

Drowning—(contd.)

5. The supposed external signs of death by drowning are very deceptive, and, if they prove anything, they prove only that the body has been a longer or shorter time in the water. Criminal Investigation, Third Edition P. 437.
 6. Again, the lowering of the temperature supposed to be observed on the corpses of drowned persons proves nothing. Ibid. P. 437.
 7. As to the extreme paleness which is said to be a characteristic sign of drowning, it has certainly been occasionally noted by experts, but most frequently it is non-existent. Also it is often found in corpses where death has been caused from quite different causes, hence this proves nothing. Ibid. P. 437.
 8. Perhaps the strongest piece of evidence is the great contraction of the penis, or in the case of a woman of the breast nipples. When this is found it must be admitted that the person has entered the water while yet alive or perhaps immediately after death. Ibid. P. 438.
 9. A withered umbilical cord, which the water cannot soften, leads to the conclusion that the body of the infant has been exposed to the air several days before being placed in the water; in water or damp earth the umbilical cord decays but does not dry up. Ibid P. 438.
 10. It is so common as to be considered an almost certain test of suicide, that a Hindu woman before throwing herself into the water, draws her cloth tightly between the legs and fastens it firmly at the waist so as to prevent any indecent exposure of the person on discovery of her body. The same feeling renders it most improbable that a woman committing suicide in the manner suggested in the next paragraph would divest herself of her clothing. Ibid, P. 435.
 11. It is impossible to decide whether a person has fallen into the water by accident, or, has thrown himself in, or is the victim of homicide. Ryan's Med. Jur., 1836 Pp. 349—354.
6. Water in stomach—Whether body thrown alive ?
1. Whether death is due to asphyxia from the entry of water into the air passages or to spasm of the glottis, water will generally be found in the stomach. Lyon's Med. Jur., 1935, P. 320.
 2. It is highly improbable that after death water can enter the stomach, hence the presence of this post-mortem appearance indicates that death was due to drowning. Ibid, P. 320.
 3. To be of value as an indication of drowning the water must resemble in character that from which the body was recovered. Ibid, P. 320.
 4. If the body has been thrown into the water after death there is little or no chance of the water being found in the stomach. Ryan's Med. Jur., 1836, Pp. 349—354.
 5. Absence of frothy mucus is not a conclusive proof that the body was dead before submersion. Ibid.
 6. Buoyancy of human body is another factor which determines whether the body found in the water was drowned or thrown in after death. Ibid.
 7. If the body has been drowned while living the following will be the appearance when taken out of the water.—The whole body is cold and pallid; the face especially the eyes are half open and the pupils much dilated; the mouth and nostrils contain a good deal of frothy fluid; the tongue is protruded between the teeth and approaches to the under edge of the lips. Ibid.

DRUNKENNESS. Ss. 85, 86, I. P. C. . . .

1. Affecting sentence.

1. Voluntary drunkenness is no reason for not inflicting sentence. 7 L. 141=1925 L. 428=95 I. C. 234=27 Cr. L. J. 764.
2. Accused who was a habitual Ganja smoker, murdered a child by dashing him several times on the ground. He was awarded a lesser sentence. 1923 C. 460.
3. Intoxication may be ground for leniency in sentence. 1923 L. 294.

Drunkenness—(concl'd.)

4. Drunkenness may be pleaded in mitigation of sentence. 28 P.R. 1917 Cr., 12 Cr. L. J. 477=12 I. C. 85.
 5. Drunkenness does not make the offence more heinous. (1871) 16 W. R. 36.
 6. Although S. 86 attributes to a drunken man the same knowledge as sober man, it does not give him the same intention. It is a sufficient excuse for not exacting the extreme penalty of Law. 35 P. W. R. 1917 Cr., 27 C. W. N. 290, 41 P. R. 1866 Cr., Cont. 7 L. 50=1926 L. 232=27 Cr. L. J. 630.
 7. If the accused followed the deceased and cut him then and there, it is not extenuating circumstance. 1934 R. 361. 1926 L. 428 Dist.
2. As defence.
1. Drunkenness to be defence must be such as to result in incapacity to intend the crime charged with. 1929 L. 637=116 I. C. 707=30 Cr. L. J. 652, 8 P. 911=1930 P. 168=31 Cr. L. J. 243, 1932 L. 244, 7 L. 50.
 2. Evidence merely establishing that the accused was a drunkard is not sufficient unless it is proved that drunkenness incapacitated the accused to form an intent, it cannot be pleaded as a defence or palliation. 7 L. 50=1926 L. 232=27 Cr. L. J. 630.
 3. For drunkenness to operate as a ground of immunity the accused's mind should be so much affected by the drink that he must be incapable of understanding what he is doing. 32 I. C. 641=17 Cr. L. J. 49=8 Bur. L. T. 220.
 4. Voluntary drunkenness is a circumstance to be considered in determining whether the act was pre-meditated. 41 P. R. 1866 Cr.
 5. If the plea of drunkenness is proved, it negatives intention to murder. 23 P. R. 1917 Cr.
 6. Ordinary drunkenness makes no difference to the knowledge with which a man is credited and if the accused knew what the natural consequences of his act were, he must be presumed to have intended to cause them. 1930 P. 168=8 P. 911=121 I. C. 452=31 Cr. L. J. 243.
 7. Voluntary drunkenness is a defence only when it causes incapacity in the accused to form the intent necessary to constitute the crime. 1932 L. 244=32 Cr. L. J. 378=137 I. C. 86 (1).
 8. If the accused knew the nature of offence, followed the girl with a knife in his hand and thereafter tried to stab her brother as well, the plea of drunkenness was of no avail. 1931 M. W. N. 113, 33 P. L. R. 130.
 9. No further intention than what can be ascribed to a sober man can be ascribed to a drunkard. 1929 L. 433=120 I. C. 183=31 Cr. L. J. 44.
 10. Voluntary drunkenness may be relied upon to show that the intention was absent. 1928 M. 196=106 I. C. 559=29 Cr. L. J. 63=55 M.L.J. 228.
 11. If a drunkard does not know the nature of his act, it cannot be presumed that he intended the consequences. 17 I. C. 800=13 Cr. L. J. 864.
 12. Voluntary drunkenness is no excuse for crime. 41 P. R. 1866.

may throw light on the case. 42 C. 957, 30 L. C. 124.

5. It is the duty of Local Government to supply information, when there is allegation regarding the custody of apprentices. 12 L. 625=1931 L. 473=132 L. C. 515.
6. It is not the duty of Prosecution to produce every person examined by Police. But in murder cases witnesses supporting the plea of alibi must be produced. 1934 A. 208.

2. Burden of Proof to prove guilt. See —7.

1. Prosecution must prove their case. Because an accused loses his head or gets frightened and does not tell the truth, he cannot on that account be convicted. 1922 A. 21=65 L. C. 842=23 Cr. L. J. 193, 45 A. 323.
2. Prosecution is not only to establish prima facie case but to go further to establish the guilt of the accused conclusively. 44 L. C. 455=19 Cr. L. J. 344.
3. The onus of proving everything essential to establish guilt is on the prosecution. The gravest suspicion is not sufficient for conviction. 1930 O. 321=31 Cr. L. J. 1078, 1923 O. 373, 1933 O. 372, 1932 C. 833.
4. An area of 1,101 bighas was attached and the accused cut ghalsi within that area. Prior to cutting accused obtained possession of 345 bighas. He was prosecuted for theft. Held, that the onus was on the prosecution to prove that accused did not cut from his area. 1928 P. 249=29 Cr. L. J. 259.
5. Prosecution must succeed on the strength of its own case and not on the weakness of defence. 54 M. 931=1931 M. 687=33 Cr. L. J. 51, 1931 L. 361=32 P. L. R. 83=134 L. C. 782=32 Cr. L. J. 1233.
6. If the prosecution proves some facts but not all, the Court must see that the offence is proved. 1932 P. 215=33 Cr. L. J. 864, 1932 C. 833.
7. Case for prosecution must be proved by evidence of Crown witnesses. The conviction cannot be based on partial admission of accused in defence. 1928 O. 373.
8. Prosecution must prove every link in the chain of evidence against the accused. 1932 L. 243=33 Cr. L. J. 411.
9. In civil cases a mere preponderance of probability is sufficient, but in criminal cases moral certainty beyond doubt is necessary. 1929 N. 113, 19 Cr. L. J. 344.
10. It is not the duty of accused to prove his innocence. 1920 P. 533, 60 C. 656.
11. Case must be proved by positive affirmative evidence and not suspicion. 1931 L. 406, 1923 L. 42, 9 L. 531, 1927 L. 862, 1929 P. 112, 1934 L. 693, 1933 A. 394, 7 L. 84.
12. Guilt of accused is not only to be proved beyond a possibility of doubt, but also to be proved strictly in accordance with law. 33 Cr. L. J. 514=667, 1921 P. 406, 26 Cr. L. J. 1042.

3. Changing ground.

1. The prosecution cannot be permitted at the last moment without notice to the accused to change its ground. 51 A 463=1928 A. 696.
2. Prosecution should not be allowed to change its case. It should not be allowed to put in witnesses or documents to discredit the accused's defence in the Sessions Court, after knowing the nature of defence in the Committing Magistrate's Court. 1927 M. 533=100 L. C. 365=28 Cr. L. J. 285.

4. "Padding" Evidence.

Prosecution should not deceive Court by Padding cases. 1936 L. 330=37 Cr. L. J. 562.

5. Production of evidence.

1. Public Prosecutor should produce the whole of material evidence and all eye witnesses whether favourable or hostile to the prosecution. 8 P. 625=1929 P. 343=120 L. C. 37=30 Cr. L. J. 1136, 8 P. 279=116 L. C. 70, 1931 M. W. N. 727, 1933 O. 265=145 L. C. 470.
2. Omission to call eye witnesses is a circumstance against the prosecution. 1929 M. W. N. 587, 6 C. 121.

Duty of Prosecution—(concl'd.)

3. It is the duty of the Prosecution to see that matters such as previous conviction are brought definitely to the notice of the Court at the proper time. 1929 A. 270.
4. If material witnesses are withheld and no reason is given by the prosecution for not examining them. Held, it is sufficient to discredit the prosecution revision. 1928 P. 98=28 Cr. L. J. 906=105 I. C. 234, 42 C. 422, 12 P. R. 1916.
5. Prosecution must produce all witnesses excepting those who are unnecessary or untruthful. 1924 M. 239=75 I. C. 987=25 Cr. L. J. 75.
6. It is of course not for the Police or Public Prosecutor to champion a particular theory and to suppress the evidence of a reliable witness simply because his testimony is inconsistent with it. 2 P. 309=1923 P. 413, 11 Cr. L. J. 410.
7. It is the duty of the Public Prosecutor to produce in Sessions Court witnesses examined before the Committing Magistrate. 3 L. 144=1922 L. 1.
8. If the prosecution has called witnesses who establish the guilt of the accused no point can be made for the defence out of the fact that one more available eye witness was not called. 1932 B. 279=34 B. L. R. 571=33 Cr. L. J. 613.
9. The search witnesses and search list should invariably be produced by the prosecution. 1932 A. 185=140 I. C. 245=33 Cr. L. J. 943.
10. Prosecution is not bound to cite every witness who knows something about the case. Court cannot call such witness at the instance of defence as prosecution witness. 1935 R. 506.

6. Threatening accused or his Pleader.

It is highly improper for persons in charge of a prosecution to threaten or intimidate accused or his Pleader. 52 I. C. 54=20 Cr. L. J. 566.

7. Weakness of defence.

1. Weakness of defence cannot help prosecution, which must prove the guilt. 1925 O. 78=84 I. C. 49, 1923 M. 365=24 Cr. L. J. 426, 19 Cr. L. J. 689, 46 A. 64, 1931 L. 361, 1922 A. 24=23 Cr. L. J. 193, 1932 L. 243, 1933 O. 226=34 Cr. L. J. 935, 1933 O. 257=34 Cr. L. J. 661, 1933 O. 333=35 Cr. L. J. 45, 28 B. 533, 1928 N. 257, 1920 P. 553, 1933 L. 871, 1933 L. 808, 51 C. 458.
2. Conviction should be based on the prosecution evidence and not on the partial admission of accused in defence. 1928 O. 373=29 Cr. L. J. 763.
3. Conviction must rest on the prosecution evidence and not on the absence of explanation from the accused. 1928 N. 257=109 I. C. 497=29 Cr. L. J. 561.
4. Even in revision accused can say that prosecution has not proved its case. It is not for the defence to point out to the prosecution any missing link in the chain of proof. 1935 B. 233=37 B. L. R. 362.

DYING DECLARATION. S. 32, Evidence Act.1. Admissibility.

1. A statement by a dying person not about the circumstances of his death but about a dacoity that was taking place at the time of his death is not admissible under S. 32 (1) in a trial for dacoity. Nor can those statements be admissible under S. 32 (3) unless they would have exposed him to Criminal prosecution. 14 Cr. L. J. 510.

3. By accused.

Dying declarations of persons accused of crime are inadmissible in evidence. Law only provides for the dying declaration of victims. 1935 O. 477.

4. By Punjabi.

Dying declaration of inhabitants of Punjab is unsafe as basis of conviction. 1925 L. 549=26 Cr. L. J. 890, 1929 P. L. R. 536, + L. 451.

5. Cause of death.

1. Deceased made a statement prior to her death, which made reference to the motive of accused, it is inadmissible under S. 32 because it is not a statement as to the cause of her death or as to circumstances resulting in death. 54 M. 931=1931 M. 689=134 I. C. 1143=33 Cr. L. J. 51, 1924 L. 253=4 L. 451.
2. Dying declaration is admissible only when the declarant's cause of death is in issue. A statement of deceased as to accused stabbing another person is inadmissible. 17 P. R. 1901, 4 L. 451, 1931 M. 233, 1930 O. 249, 1924 N. 115.

6. Declarant surviving.

1. A woman mortally wounded, made a dying declaration naming certain persons as assailant. She made a statement in Court that she did not recognize the assail-not. Held, that her previous statement was inadmissible under S. 11, Evidence Act against the persons named before the Magistrate. 21 Cr. L. J. 183.

Dying Declaration—(contd.)

2. It is not necessary that the statement should be made by "dying man". 1935 L. 94, 50 B. 683.
3. Dying declaration does not cease to be operative merely because the declarant lingers for a few days and then dies. 1929 L. 64.
4. If the declarant survives it is inadmissible under S. 32, though it may be used under S. 157 or S. 155 Evidence Act. 4 Bom. L. R. 434.

7. False.

When a person made a false dying declaration but did not communicate it to the authorities the intention to procure conviction of capital offence cannot be presumed. 1930 P. 550=129 I. C. 87.

8. First information report as—

1. First information report is admissible under S. 32 (1) as the statement of a person (since deceased) relating to the circumstances of the transaction which resulted in his death. 1930 L. 450=123 I. C. 123=31 P. L. R. 83=31 Cr. L. J. 475.
2. F. I. R. can be tendered under S. 32 (1) as a declaration as to the cause of informant's death. 54 C. 237, 1931 L. 103, 1927 C. 17=25 Cr. L. J. 899.
3. B made a report to Police that he was shipped by C as he refused to deliver keys and next day was found murdered by C. Held, the report discloses the motive for the murder and is admissible. 88 I. C. 353=1924 N. 115=26 Cr. L. J. 1121.
4. The silence of accused himself in his first information report regarding guilt of accused is a circumstance of which the accused must get benefit. 1922 L. 28.

9. Presumption about record of.—S. 80 Evidence Act.

1. When a dying declaration is taken as a deposition in judicial proceedings or under S. 164, Cr. P. C., the presumption under S. 80 arises and declaration is admissible without further proof. 1934 A. 340=152 I. C. 249.
2. But it has been held that dying declaration must be proved by the Magistrate who took it down. 1931 M. 430=54 M. 678, 1930 C. 228, 5 C. 211, 49 C. 358, otherwise it is inadmissible. 6 C. W. N. 921, as S. 80 does not raise any presumption that the statement was made by a particular person. 9 P. R. 1900 Cr.
3. If there is a certificate appended to dying declaration that it was read over and signed by Magistrate, there is a presumption under S. 80. 16 Cr. L. J. 759.

10. Procedure in Recording—

1. Form of dying declaration should show distinctly the questions put to the declarant and his answers to them. It should be clear how much was suggested by the Magistrate and how much was the production of the person making the statement. 52 C. 987=88 I. C. 1000=1925 Cal. 876=29 C. W. N. 738.
2. Where dying declaration is elicited by questions, the questions and answers should be set out and if possible it should be taken in the presence of accused who should be allowed to cross-examine. 6 C. W. N. 72, 52 C. 987.
3. A third class Magistrate is not authorised to record statements under S. 164, Cr. P. C. The statement is yet relevant under S. 32 (1). 120 I. C. 274=1930 L. 60=31 Cr. L. J. 79.
4. Statement of a deceased must be taken in the presence of the accused, if not so taken the writing cannot be admitted to prove the statement, which may be proved by a person who heard it. The writing may be used for refreshing the witnesses' memory. 8 C. 211, 13 P. R. 1886 Cr., 6 C. W. N. 921.
5. Statements relating to the cause of death made during investigation of a criminal case and recorded by Police are admissible against the accused. 17 P. R. 1886 Cr.
6. He should not be prompted or aided. 1934 A. 908.

11. Proof of—

1. Dying declaration can be proved by examining the person recording it or person who heard being made. 1930 C. 224=50 C. L. J. 581=125 I. C. 743.

2. The statement may be proved by a person who heard it and the writing may be used for the purpose of refreshing the witnesses' memory. 8 C. 211, 13 P. R. 1865, 6 C. W. N. 921, 52 C. 415=84 I. C. 890=1925 C. 821, 1924 L. 12=67 I. C. 577, 34 C. 698, 36 C. 659.

3. If the witness who heard a dying declaration made and swears that the written statement correctly reproduces the words used by the deceased and was read over to the deceased and admitted by him to be correct. Held, it is sufficient proof. 49 C. 358=1922 C. 352=71 I. C. 645=24 Cr. L. J. 221.

4. Dying declaration recorded by a Magistrate is not evidence unless proved by the Magistrate, though he is himself the Committing Magistrate. Dying declarations are not covered by the provisions of Chap. XII of Cr. P. C. 239 P. L. R. 1912=14 Cr. L. J. 131=18 I. C. 883, 17 P. R. 1911 Cr.

5. Dying declaration may be proved by one who heard it or recorded it. 31 I. C. 359.

6. A dying declaration made to Police Officer is exempt under S. 162 Cr. P. C. and can be proved by him. 1923 C. 463, 1930 L. 60, 13 P. R. 1886, 3 P. R. 1370, 1927 C. 17=54 C. 237.

7. To prove a dying declaration, it is not necessary that the witness should repeat in his own words what the deceased had said. It is enough if he proves the recording of that statement. 1930 L. 450=31 Cr. L. J. 475, 1926 L. 310.

8. Dying declaration properly recorded by a Magistrate is "evidence" and can be admitted under S. 80, Evidence Act without proof. 1934 A. 340, 8 C. 211. See 34 C. 698.

9. "Written statement by person who is dead" means that written statement must have been actually written or dictated by deceased. 1936 R. 42=37 Cr. L. J. 293, 1931 M. 430 and 1922 C. 382 Rel on.

10. The dying declaration made on oath before a Magistrate, signed by him, is not admissible without legal proof. 11 B. H. C. R. 247.

12. To doctor or other persons.

1. Statement made by accused to the doctor just before his death is admissible as dying declaration but in order to convict the accused, there must be independent corroboration of facts and circumstances to prove the offence. 1929 P. 249.

2. Statements made by accused to Sub-Inspector and then to a private person and then to a Magistrate as to the cause of his death are admissible under S. 32. 1935 L. 94.

13. Value of—conviction on—

1. It is unsafe to convict a person merely on the dying statement when it is not recorded in the deceased's own words and contains a note of the substance of what deceased told the Police. 1930 A. 532=31 Cr. L. J. 862.

2. If a third person is present at the time of recording dying declaration and prompts the deceased to give out names of certain accused, it would be unsafe to attach any weight to such a dying statement. 1926 L. 498=96 I. C. 215=27 P. L. R. 484=8 L. L. J. 296=27 Cr. L. J. 903.

3. No reliance would be placed on the dying declaration when it is made at a time when the deceased must have been well aware of the fact that the accused has been named as his assailant. 99 I. C. 322=23 Cr. L. J. 114.

4. Reliability of dying declaration depends upon circumstances in which declaration was made and nature of its record. 52 C. 987=1925 C. 876=88 I. C. 1000.

 11. The Magistrate cannot remove obstruction through the agency of Police. 36 C. 923.
 12. An order can be passed between parties to the proceedings only. 20 Cr. L. J. 110.
 13. An order is bad in form, if it contains no restriction of time for which it is to operate. 14 B. 25.
6. Parties—
1. A Magistrate is not competent to add parties to a proceeding under S. 147. 5 C. W. N. 67.
 2. It is sufficient if persons who claim for themselves the right, though that right be derived from others (e.g., right to fish in a bhil) are made parties. The proprietors of bhil may not be added as parties. 23 C. 55.
7. Prohibitive order.
1. Magistrate can make a prohibitive order against a party who is found not to have any right he claims. 1929 P. 351=10 P. L. T. 376, 20 Cr. L. J. 251.
 2. Magistrate has no power of directing one of the parties to do a positive act such as demolishing a wall. 1925 C. 991=88 I. C. 1041=26 Cr. L. J. 1265.
 3. A Magistrate can pass a prohibitory and not a mandatory order to do some positive act. Order to remove tin chapar within 4 feet of the west well of Dispensary is illegal. 1934 C. 556. 1925 C. 991 Rel. on. 1933 C. 752 Ref.
8. Procedure.
1. If a witness states that there would be a fight if the other party demolishes a bund, it is sufficient material for the Magistrate to take action. 1926 L. 550=93 I. C. 465=27 Cr. L. J. 801.
 2. Proceedings under S. 145 can be converted into one under S. 147. 1925 C. 1022=85 I. C. 654=26 Cr. L. J. 558.
 3. The Court amended the proceedings and included the whole of pathway, although it originally related to a portion of it and the Court did not give any notice to the other party. Held, that the final order was not binding on the party affected. 1925 C. 263=81 I. C. 162=25 Cr. L. J. 674.
 4. Taking of ex parte evidence without giving opportunity to the other party is illegal. 1924 P. 717=77 I. C. 807=25 Cr. L. J. 455=4 P. L. T. 419.
 5. Finding of fact cannot be traversed in revision. 1926 M. 154, 1922 P. 214.
 6. Magistrate need not find that the right of easement is established. 1930 M. 865=59 M. L. J. 430=1930 M. W. N. 987=129 I. C. 68=32 Cr. L. J. 215.
 7. If the Magistrate stays proceedings, he cannot revive them unless there is a fresh dispute likely to cause breach of peace. 15 C. W. N. 271.
 8. Magistrate cannot summarily deal with the case after local inspection. He must take evidence. 4 C. W. N. 779.
 9. Magistrate can make a local inspection prior to taking evidence in the case but finding must be based on evidence duly recorded and not on the impression formed on local inspection. 24 Cr. L. J. 487.
 10. Actual notice should be given to the parties. Notice to servant is insufficient. 21 C. 727, 105 P. L. R. 1909.
 11. If civil suit is instituted to establish right of easement, the Magistrate should drop the proceedings. 1932 N. 83=33 Cr. L. J. 556.
 12. If the right to use thoroughfare was stopped by the Magisterial officer three years back, the complainant is barred by the proviso from demanding an inquiry.

Exemption—Disputes as to—(contd.)

133 I. C. 5=1031 M. 405=32 Cr. L. J. 972.

9. Revival of proceedings.

When during the pendency of proceedings under S. 147, the parties referred the dispute to arbitration and the Magistrate ordered the stay of proceedings, and after one year again continued the proceedings. Held, that the Magistrate could not revive the proceedings unless there was a fresh dispute likely to cause a fresh breach of peace. 15 C. W. N. 271.

10. Right to Fishery.

Right to fishery is in the nature of exemption and comes within the ambit of S. 147 and not S. 145. 1931 P. 86=35 Cr. L. J. 481, 23 C. 557 and 20 Cr. L. J. 199. Rel. on.

3. Personation at— S. 171-D., I. P. C.

1. A voter asked for a ballot paper by giving wrong name of his father. Held, he is guilty under S. 171-D. 1929 L. 52=117 I. C. 883=30 Cr. L. J. 853.
2. When a person obtains a voting paper by putting a thumb impression in the name of another and passes it on in that name, he commits forgery. 47 A. 268=26 Cr. L. J. 362=1925 A. 230=84 I. C. 714=22 A. L. J. 1106

4. Undue influence and personation at— S. 171-F.

1. Candidate identified the voter without ascertaining his identity. He is guilty of abetment of personation at election. 1928 A. 150=30 Cr. L. J. 933.
2. The fact that abetting of personation at election was done by a M. L. C. is no justification for enhancing the sentence. 1928 A. 150=118 I. C. 577.
3. The offender can be tried under S. 171-F. or under S. 465, I. P. C. for false preparation of signature at an election. 47 A. 263=1925 A. 230=84 I. C. 714.
4. Fraudulently obtaining signature slip when accused did not give out his name but produced a certain piece of paper which bore a certain number is not an offence under S. 17-F read with S. 511. 1925 A. 226=26 Cr. L. J. 359.
5. Where the corrupt intention is absent the offence of persuasion cannot be committed. 1930 M. 246=121 I. C. 763=1930 M. W. N. 174=31 Cr. L. J. 329.
6. Candidate attesting voting slip after honestly making due enquiries of voter's identity in polling officer's presence is not guilty of abetment. 1926 A. 226.

5. Misconduct. S. 171-G., I. P. C.

1. If the election manifesto contains words that K and his son have no property and they would not shrink from committing even murder and K has been making forgeries and are eating unjustly Government and temple money, the accused should be proceeded against under S. 500 and not under S. 171-G. 1932 M. 511=138 I. C. 604=33 Cr. L. J. 665.

Election—(concl'd.)

2. S. 171-G does not apply to defamatory statement made about persons who are not candidates. No previous sanction is necessary. 1936 M. 316=37 Cr. L. J. 629.
 3. Statement that complainant committed fraud in respect of money and was removed by general body is statement of facts. But, that he removed from voter's list names of those who did not vote for him was only general imputation of misconduct. 1936 M. 316, 1932 M. 511 Phil.
 4. That complainant if elected would take no part in panchayat proceedings except to nod his head is not a statement of fact and is not punishable under S. 171-G. 1936 M. 316=37 Cr. L. J. 629.
 5. Statements of facts are those statements of the falsity of which prima facie proof is possible. 1932 M. 511=33 Cr. L. J. 665.
6. Sentence.

The system of election in India is still in its infancy, if not in its experimental stage. The Court should take lenient view in awarding punishment. 1928 A. 150=118 I. C. 577=30 Cr. L. J. 933.

ENHANCED PUNISHMENT. S. 75, I. P. C.

1 Applicability.

1. S. 75 does not apply to attempts punishable under S. 511. 106 I. C. 340=29 P. L. R. 51=29 Cr. L. J. 4, 1926 A. 44=88 f. C. 724, 64 I. C. 142, 7 A. 123, 34 P. R. 1894 Cr., 1933 L. 433 (1).
2. S. 75 does not apply to an accused who commits a second offence after the date of the first offence but before his conviction for the latter. 1926 B. 365=95 I. C. 54=27 Cr. L. J. 726=28 B. L. R. 484.
3. S. 75 is not applicable when the two convictions are not for offences comprised in Chapters XII and XVII. If a person with a previous conviction is again convicted under S. 304 he would be awarded enhanced sentence. 235 P. L. R. 1911.
4. S. 75 is not applicable to convictions under special or local law. 17 P. R. 1904 Cr., 10 C. L. R. 392, (1877) 1 Weir 39.
5. S. 75 is not applicable to attempt not specially made offences in chapters XII and XVII of the Code. 14 P. R. 1906, Cr. See 13 P. R. 1919 Cr., 29 P. L. R. 54, 22 Cr. L. J. 750, 23 A. L. J. 926.
6. S. 75 is not applicable where second conviction is in respect of an offence of a date prior to that of previous conviction. 39 P. R. 1882 Cr.
7. S. 75 does not apply to previous conviction by the Court of a Native State. 54 I. C. 624=28 Cr. L. J. 144, 2 P. R. 1884, (1889) 1 Weir 40.
8. S. 71 does not apply to conspiracy under S. 120-B 1933 N. 252.
9. Offence under S. 511 must be punished entirely irrespective of S. 75. 17 A. 123, 17 A. 120, 14 P. R. 1906, 13 P. R. 1918.

2. Charge. S. 221 (7) Cr. P. C., S. 255 (A) Cr. P. C.

1. If the date and place of previous conviction is not stated in the charge the Court can add it at any time before sentence is passed. 7 M. L. T. 77, 19 W. R. 41.
2. If the fact, date and place of previous conviction are not mentioned in the charge accused cannot be legally sentenced to enhanced punishment. 139 P. L. R. 1911.
3. Unless a separate charge under S. 75 is framed and recorded there is not sufficient compliance with the law. 9 M. 284, 40 P. W. R. 1911.
4. Reading the previous conviction to jury before the close of trial is sufficient to vitiate it. 5 C. 768, 11 A. 393.
5. Where a Magistrate frames charge under S. 392 and does not charge the accused specifically under S. 75 though he admits previous conviction but eventually convicts him under S. 369 without amending the charge. The conviction is invalid as S. 369 is not a minor offence in relation to S. 392. 1930 L. 544=32 Cr. L. J. 301.
6. If the previous conviction is not specified in the charge, the defect is not curable under Ss. 535—537. 29 P. R. 1917 Cr.
7. Accused must be called upon to plead to charge of previous conviction under S. 255. A. Cr. P. C., 4 B. L. R. 177, 1932 5 107=33 Cr. L. J. 902.

3. Essentials and Evidence.

1. A previous conviction of the accused in Native State cannot be proved in British India for the purpose of S. 75. 1930 M. W. N. 173, 17 P. R. 1913 Cr., 2 P. R. 1854 Cr., 54 I. C. 624—21 Cr. L. J. 144.
2. Intention of the accused and his character and attitude towards society rather than the value of the property stolen should be considered in awarding sentence after previous conviction. 23 P. W. R. 1908 Cr., 4 P. L. R. 1914.
3. If accused is convicted under S. 326, I. P. C., for the second time, the Magistrate can take into consideration the previous conviction at the time of awarding sentence independently of S. 75. 6 R. 391=111 I. C. 453=1928 R. 200=2 Cr. L. J. 869.

4. In case of trivial offences enhanced sentence on account of previous conviction should not be awarded. 11 L. 115=1929 L. 787=121 I. C. 419=1930 L. 100=31 P. L. R. 333, 1929 L. 768=119 I. C. 429=30 Cr. L. J. 1082.
 5. One previous conviction does not necessarily mean that the convict is a habitual criminal though previous conviction can be taken into accounts to award punishment. 1926 L. 336=94 I. C. 365=27 Cr. L. J. 621=27 P. L. R. 287.
 6. If the previous conviction is under S. 380 and the subsequent under S. 448, S. 75 is not applicable. 1924 P. 665=84 I. C. 346=26 Cr. L. J. 282.
 7. Enhanced sentence is not necessary in all cases of previous conviction. Punishment should be proportionate to the offence. 54 I. C. 623=21 Cr. L. J. 143.
 8. Before passing an enhanced sentence under S. 75 the improvement or otherwise in the accused's character subsequent to prior conviction must be considered. 45 I. C. 847.
 9. Conviction by Council of Elders under the Frontier Regulations amounts to a previous conviction. 42 I. C. 141=18 Cr. L. J. 909=11 Bur. L. T. 205.
 10. Previous conviction can be used in determining the quantum of sentence even in the case not provided for in the I. P. C. 1929 M. 306=30 Cr. L. J. 471.
 11. Previous conviction for theft should not be taken into account in increasing sentence for a subsequent offence of cheating by personation. 1927 L. 220.
 12. A previous conviction under S. 369 cannot be taken into consideration for enhancement of sentence. 1923 L. 286=75 I. C. 368=24 Cr. L. J. 944.
 13. An accused person though he has several convictions behind him is entitled to have his case treated as it was not a foregone conclusion that he is guilty. 1930 A. 17=120 I. C. 202=31 Cr. L. J. 8=1930 A. L. J. 82.
 14. Binding over under S. 110, Cr. P. C., is no ground for enhanced punishment. 1923 L. 294, 110 I. C. 804=29 Cr. L. J. 772, 1930 S. 58=31 Cr. L. J. 763=125 I. C. 46, 1934 S. 195.
 15. It must be something apart from the nature of the offence such as youth, age, illness, sex and the interval of time which has lapsed between the accused person coming out of prison and the commission of the offence that should be considered for reduction of sentence. 1929 M. 841 (2)=53 M. 80.
 16. Where a subsequent offence was a technical theft, the Court would not be justified in passing more than a nominal sentence. 4 P. L. R. 1914.
 17. Where two sentences were passed in respect of two offences and matter arose out of the one of the same act it was doubted whether sentence was justified. 1924 B. 385=83 I. C. 342.
 18. Accused, a previous convict, entered an open thorned enclosure in which goats were kept, but the owner being disturbed, he was arrested there. Held, he was guilty under Ss. 379—511 I. P. C., and therefore S. 75 had no application. 13 P. L. R. 1919 Cr., 14 P. R. 1906 Cr.
 19. Magistrate is not bound to consider the previous convictions of accused outside British India. These convictions cannot be made the basis of charge under S. 75. 1935 M. 198=68 M. L. J. 176=1934 M. W. N. 1355.
 20. It is the intention of the accused and not the value of the property which should be considered in awarding sentence. 28 P. R. 1903 Cr.
4. Jurisdiction.
1. The jurisdiction of the Magistrate is not enlarged by S. 75. The fact that the enhanced punishment is legal does not, therefore, apply though it is legal even though inflicted by a Magistrate not possessing the power to inflict it. 6 Bom. L. R. 548, 41 P. R. 1572.
 2. Whenever Magistrate considers the infliction of sentence beyond his competency he should commit the case to Court of Sessions. 11 A. 393, 2 B. H. C. R. 126.

*Enhanced Punishment—(contd.)5. Old previous conviction.

1. Previous conviction of 18 years old is no ground for heavy sentence. 19. 31 Cr. L. J. 763=125 I. C. 46.
2. A previous conviction which took place a considerable time before a s offence, does not warrant the applicability of S. 75 which is directed at habitual offenders. 1929 L. 278=114 I. C. 719=30 Cr. L. J. 376, 192=99 I. C. 416.
3. S. 75 does not apply if the previous conviction was recorded 12 years before. L. 617=96 I. C. 400, 106 I. C. 448=29 Cr. L. J. 32, 1934 S. 195.
4. Where a period of 8 years lapsed between serving the last punishment and the commission of the offence the punishment of transportation was reduced to 5 years. 53 M. 80, 1926 M. 455.
5. Previous conviction of 13 years old should not be considered. 1932 S. 107.

6. Procedure.

1. The section does not empower the Sessions Judge to amalgamate a sentence; he is empowered to pass upon a prisoner with a sentence which he has undergone and then commute the amalgamated sentence condemning a to a longer period of imprisonment than he is liable for the last offence. C. R. 36.
2. Person jointly tried is also to be committed to the Court of Sessions if the with previous conviction is being committed. S. 348 Cr. P. C.

7. Proof of previous conviction. Ss. 511—3, Cr. P. C. S. 310 Cr. P. C.

1. Previous conviction must be proved strictly and in accordance with law 1128, 17 Cr. L. J. 179.
2. Although accused admits previous conviction it should be proved according to Cr. P. C. 1929 L. 768=30 Cr. L. J. 1082, 129 I. C. 300.
3. Previous conviction should be proved by copies of judgments and the examination of the accused in respect of those convictions. 28 C. 689, 28 B. 129.
4. If the accused denies a previous conviction it should be proved by certificate and by the identity of the accused. 1881 A. W. N. 144.
5. Mere "Kasfiat" from the Record Office is not sufficient. 15 W. R. 53.
6. Previous conviction may be proved by finger impressions. 32 C. 759, 1 C. 33, 3 N. L. R. 1, 6 C. P. L. R. 3, 3 P. L. R. 1906, 21 C. W. N. 469.
7. In order to prove previous conviction accused's finger prints may be proved similar to those of the person previously convicted. Expert evidence on it alone is not sufficient. The finger prints on record must be proved to be the person last convicted. 39 I. C. 302=16 Cr. L. J. 462.
8. Previous conviction can be proved (1) by certified extracts from judgment certificate by Jail authority, (3) warrant of commitment. Identity of accused also be proved. 1928 L. 107=105 I. C. 673=28 Cr. L. J. 1961.
9. The practice of prosecution not to inform Magistrate about previous conviction before trial is right. But where Magistrate is intimated of these, he should have evidence of such conviction. 1935 B. 37=154 I. C. 577=36 Cr. L. J. 527.
10. Mere admission of accused is not sufficient. Some documentary evidence of previous conviction must be on record. 1934 L. 693, 28 C. 689.
11. Previous conviction before Court Martial cannot be considered under S. 75. Pesh. 6=141 I. C. 445.

8. Trivial offence.

In case of trivial offence of stealing cotton, with a previous conviction under S. 75 sentence of 2 years is sufficient. 1933 L. 147, 1929 L. 768, 1930 L. 100, 1931 L. 717 Ref.

9. Whipping.

1. S. 75 does not give authority for passing a sentence of whipping in addition other punishment. 1894 P. J. L. B. 78.

Enhanced Punishment—(concl'd.)

2. But now provision is made for passing a sentence of whipping under the Whipping Act, VII of 1864, Ss. 3 and 4.

ENHANCEMENT OF SENTENCE. Ss. 423—439, Cr. P. C.1. After expiry of Sentence.

Where accused has completed his sentence, the practice of Chief Court (now High Court) is not to enhance the sentence and send him back to jail except in exceptional cases. 1 L. 453. 16 Cr. L. J. 712 Ref.

2. By Appellate Court. S 423, Cr. P. C.

1. No Appellate Court can enhance the sentence passed by the lower Court. 4 W. R. 20, 2 Weir 486.
2. When High Court exercising its powers as appellate Court thinks that sentence should be enhanced, it can exercise its revisional powers under S. 439 because the matter has come to its knowledge. 1935 P. C. 35=153 I. C. 936=39 C. W. N. 350.

3. By Appellate Court—What amounts to—.

1. If accused is convicted and sentenced by lower Court on two charges and Appellate Court reverses the conviction on one of the charges, the retention of the same sentence amounts to an enhancement of sentence. 22 B. 760, 24 C. 316, 45 P. R. 1887, 31 P. R. 1916 Cr. 30 M. 48, 49 A. 484. See 1928 M. 651=111 I. C. 399.
2. Accused was convicted of rioting and theft and was sentenced to four months for rioting and two months for theft. The District Magistrate on appeal acquitted the accused of rioting and upheld the sentence of six months and the conviction for theft. Held, it amounted to enhancement of sentence. 24 C. 316, 45 P. R. 1887 Cr., 22 B. 760, 30 M. 48, 24 C. 316, 1925 Bom. 345, 3 N. L. R. 67.
3. Substitution of rigorous imprisonment in place of simple amounts to enhancement of sentence. 45 A. 594=1924 A. 130=76 I. C. 1032=25 Cr. L. J. 312. "
4. The Appellate Court in altering a sentence cannot award a sentence which the original Court could not have passed. It amounts to enhancement of sentence. 45 A. 594, 39 C. 157, 12 M. 45, 7 N. L. R. 109, 2 Weir 487, 1936 L. 729.
5. If the term of imprisonment is reduced and solitary confinement is added by the Appellate Court, it amounts to enhancement of sentence. 1890 A. W. N. 170. Cr.
6. The addition of a sentence of whipping by the Appellate Court, although a sentence of imprisonment is reduced, amounts to enhancement. 2 Weir 487, 15 W. R. 7. 114 I. C. 523=1928 R. 265.
7. Appellant was convicted of causing simple hurt and was sentenced to fine only. The Appellate Court altered the conviction under S. 325, I. P. C. and in order to make the sentence legal under that section recorded a sentence of one day's rigorous imprisonment. Held, that the Appellate Court had no power to enhance the sentence. 2 Weir 486.
8. The Lower Court imposed fine and imprisonment and the Appellate Court in lieu of imprisonment, imposed an additional fine. Held, it amounted to enhancement of sentence. 2 Weir 487, 1936 L. 729=37 Cr. L. J. 950.
9. Alteration of sentence of fine into one of imprisonment is an enhancement of the sentence. 18 A. 301, 18 B. 751.
10. A sentence of fine is lighter than a sentence of imprisonment. 23 B. 439.
11. Where an Appellate Court reduced a sentence of 4 months' rigorous imprisonment into one of 3 months but added a sentence of fine or in default six weeks' rigorous imprisonment, it amounted to enhancement of sentence. 17 A. 67, 1887 A. W. N. 100, 23 A. 497.
12. Accused was sentenced to 2 months' rigorous imprisonment and a fine of 50 Rupees or in default one month's imprisonment and the Appellate Court changed it to an imprisonment of one month with a fine of 200 Rupees or in default 2 months' rigorous imprisonment. Held, it amounted to enhancement of sentence. 3 P. 638 (638)=1924 P. 553, 1925 L. 543=95 I. C. 476. Cont. 23 B. 439.

Enhancement of Sentence—(contd.)

13. One week's imprisonment awarded by a first class Magistrate after it being served out was altered by Appellate Court into a fine of Rs. 50 and in default one week's imprisonment. Held, it amounted to enhancement of sentence 5 P. W. R. 1916 Cr.=34 I. C. 324=17 Cr. L. J. 212.
 14. Substitution of 30 stripes for a sentence of one year's rigorous imprisonment is ordinarily not an enhancement of sentence but substitution of 30 stripes for 7 months' rigorous imprisonment is enhancement. 7 R. 319=1929 R. 177=119 I. C. 209=30 Cr. L. J. 986, 17 A. 67, 23 B. 439, 27 C. 175, 30 M. 103, 36 A. 485.
 15. Alteration of a sentence of imprisonment to one of whipping is an enhancement of sentence and is not authorised by S. 423 (1) (b) and S. 423 (3). 1928 R. 265=114 I. C. 523=30 Cr. L. J. 323.
 16. If the accused is ordered to furnish security, it cannot be enhanced by Appellate Court. 1923 O. 44=64 I. C. 236=9 O. L. J. 28
 17. Altering a sentence of 3 months' imprisonment to one month's imprisonment and 100 Rupees fine may in the case of a poor man amount to enhancement, but generally it is not enhancement. 7 P. R. 1915 Cr., 21 C. 622, 29 M. 190, 30 M. 48.
 18. If a sentence of fine is substituted for that of imprisonment, no general rule can be laid down whether it is enhancement. 1934 A. 1031.
 19. Whipping cannot be ordered in addition to imprisonment for theft. Substitution of legal sentence for whipping by the Appellate Court amounts to enhancement. 1935 R. 64=12 R. 607=36 Cr. L. J. 366=153 I. C. 516.
- 3. By Appellate Court.—When does not amount to—
1. Alteration of 3 months' rigorous imprisonment to one month and a fine of Rs. 60 and in default two months' imprisonment is not enhancement. 1930 M. 193=31 Cr. L. J. 203, 23 B. 439. 1924 P. 563, 23 A. 497 and 36 A. 485 Dist.
 2. Substitution of 30 stripes for a sentence of one year's rigorous imprisonment is not enhancement of sentence. 1924 R. 177=7 R. 319=30 Cr. L. J. 986.
 3. An additional order passed by the Appellate Court to furnish security to keep the peace does not amount to enhancement of sentence 21 P. R. 1905 Cr., 20 Cr. L. J. 302=50 I. C. 350, 20 Cr. L. J. 760.
 4. An order passed by Appellate Court directing the accused to pay the costs of the complainant under S. 545-A, Cr. P. C., does not amount to enhancement of sentence. 22 M. 153, 47 M. 914=1925 M. 136=25 Cr. L. J. 1213, 26 M. 421
 5. Where the Appellate Court altered the original sentence of one year's rigorous imprisonment and Rs. 50 or in default six months' imprisonment to a sentence of six months' rigorous imprisonment and a fine of Rs. 500 or six months' further imprisonment. Held, that there had been no enhancement of sentence 12 L. 449, 30 M. 103, 23 B. 439 and 1924 P. 563 Foll. 23 A. 497 Not Foll.
- 4. By Revisional Court. (High Court) S. 439 Cr. P. C.
1. High Court can enhance a sentence not as a Court of Appeal but as a Court of Revision. 11 C. 530.
 2. High Court has power to enhance a sentence, as to alter its nature 6 A. 622.
 3. High Court when hearing an appeal against a conviction may alter the finding under S. 423 and then as a Court of Revision enhance the sentence. 37 M. 119.
 4. Sessions Judge convicted the accused of culpable homicide not amounting to murder and sentenced him to seven years' rigorous imprisonment, the High Court altered the conviction to one of murder and sentenced him to transportation for life. 11 P. R. 1871 Cr., 1 R. 436=76 I. C. 711=1924 R. 93=25 Cr. L. J. 247.
 5. The High Court will enhance the sentence, only if it is manifestly inadequate. 7 P. R. 1889, 17 P. R. 1898, 1928 L. 951=29 Cr. L. J. 764, 10 S.L.R. 207.
 6. The mere fact that High Court would have inflicted a heavier punishment if the case would have come before it for trial is no ground for enhancement of sentence. 1928 L. 951, 7 P. R. 1889, 89 I. C. 452, 1928 L. 1927, 1934 L. 613, 7 P. R. 1919 Cr.
 7. Where evidence of previous conviction was not adduced at the trial and was discovered after conviction, the High Court will not interfere and order a retrial, in order to enable the Prosecution to supplement the record by producing fresh evidence on the question of punishment. 19 P. R. 1905 Cr., 36 P. R. 1884 Cr., 43 P. R. 1905 Cr., 21 W. R. 47.

8. The High Court will not enhance the sentence, when the convicted person has undergone the full term of imprisonment or has paid the fine imposed on him, although the order of Lower Court is wrong in law. 20 P. W. R. 1913 Cr., 1 L. 453, 14 P. W. R. 1909 Cr.=11 Cr. L. J. 99. Cont. 1925 B. 256=93 I. C. 1053.
9. The High Court is slow to interfere in cases, where the interference would involve the imprisonment of persons already discharged from Jail. 7 P. R. 1889 Cr.
10. When the High Court considers the question of enhancement of sentence, it generally accepts the conviction as conclusive. 32 B. 162.
11. When High Court enhances the sentence beyond the limit of the power of trying Magistrate, it should satisfy itself whether conviction is correct. 16 Cr. L. J. 712.
12. If no sentence has been passed by the trying Magistrate but accused has been released on probation under S. 562, Cr. P.C., the High Court cannot substitute a sentence of imprisonment or whipping in revision. 37 A. 31, 20 Cr. L. J. 97=48 I. C. 979.
13. The power of enhancement can be exercised under S. 439 if the sentence is legal one. A sentence of imprisonment for a period passed by accused as under-trial prisoner is not a legal sentence. 27 P. R. 1919 Cr.
14. The trial Magistrate sentenced the accused to 6 months' rigorous imprisonment under S. 457, I. P. C., without giving due consideration to his previous conviction which was 2½ years old. Held, that the sentence need not be enhanced. 1929 A. 270=115 I. C. 868=30 Cr. L. J. 529.
15. If prosecution is negligent in bringing facts (previous conviction) justifying enhanced sentence to Court's notice, the High Court should not enhance. 1929 A. 267=115 I. C. 614=30 Cr. L. J. 505.
16. A Kori branded his wife with hot iron tongs. He was convicted and fined. The District Magistrate moved the High Court for enhancement of sentence. The parties put in a compromise before the High Court. Held, that the case was a fit case to be compounded in view of the nearness of relationship between parties. 1929 N. 278=118 I. C. 681=30 Cr. L. J. 960.
17. High Court is precluded from converting the finding of acquittal under S. 302 into one of conviction if there is no appeal by the Government. 1926 A. 332=94 I. C. 132=27 Cr. L. J. 564=24 A. L. J. 414.
18. High Court may enhance sentence even if the District authorities consider the sentence sufficient. 1928 A. 417=30 Cr. L. J. 222.
19. Sentence cannot be enhanced except on very serious grounds. 1925 S. 188.
20. On conviction under S. 324, I. P. C., only fine was imposed, though imprisonment was necessary. The origin of quarrel was not satisfactorily established and complainant was the aggressor. Five months since conviction elapsed, the sentence should not be enhanced to one of imprisonment. 1929 L. 102=118 I. C. 540=30 Cr. L. J. 939, 29 P. W. R. 1913 Cr., 7 P. R. 1889 Cr.
21. Where the sentences are inadequate but not grossly inadequate, the High Court should not interfere in revision. 1931 L. 132=32 Cr. L. J. 943, 7 P. R. 1889, 17 P. R. 1898, 7 P. R. 1919 Cr., 19 P. W. R. 1910 Cr., 313 P. L. R. 1913 Ref.
22. When the High Court purports to set aside the sentence under one count but enhances the same under another, it is its duty to comply with the provisions of Cl. (2), S. 439. 1931 C. 450=132 I. C. 247=32 Cr. L. J. 890.
23. - 8. Connivance.
1. A conviction under S. 498 is not bad merely because the husband connived at the taking away or concealing of the wife. 54 I. C. 619=21 Cr. L. J. 139.
 2. Mere negligence or inactivity is not sufficient to establish connivance. It must be proved that husband acquiesced in adultery by wilfully abstaining from taking steps to prevent it, although he may not be privy to the actual commission of adultery. 1926 A. 189=91 I. C. 533=27 Cr. L. J. 101.
- 9. Consent of wife.
1. Willingness or consent of wife is immaterial. 1934 S. 72=35 Cr. L. J. 1254, 2 M. H. C. R. 331, 1 W. R. (Cr.) 45 Ref., 1935 C. 345.
 2. If a married woman chooses to remain in accused's house for an immoral purpose, he is not guilty under S. 498. 1934 O. 258=35 Cr. L. J. 932.
 3. Accused is guilty even if the advances and solicitations proceeded from the woman and he for sometime refused to yield to her. 2 M. H. C. R. 331.

10. Control of husband.

The enticement must be from the control of the husband. The wife feeling a preferential fondness for the accused drove the husband away and then permitted the accused to live with her. Held, that accused could not be convicted under S. 498, 1934 S. 10=35 Cr. L. J. 816=148 I. C. 753, 1927 O. 318=28 Cr. L. J. 703 Rel. on. 1923 L. 45=23 Cr. L. J. 730 and 1933 O. 256 Dist.

11. Death of husband during trial. See abatement—2.

1. A criminal prosecution under S. 498 does not abate on the death of the injured party, i.e., the husband. 4 L. 7=1924 L. 72=24 Cr. L. J. 29, 25 P. R. 1919 Cr.
2. S. 89 of the Probate and Administration Act has no application to a criminal prosecution. 44 M. 417, 4 L. 7=1924 L. 72=24 Cr. L. J. 29.

12. Detention.

1. To detain means to keep back from somebody or to restrain. Where a woman is living with another to the knowledge of her husband for a period of six years and the husband takes no steps to get her back, it cannot be said that she is detained. 1927 O. 318=103 I. C. 559=28 Cr. L. J. 703.
2. Where a woman was living with another of her own free will and had no desire to return to her husband and when the husband went to claim her, she turned her back on him and walked into accused's house and the accused did not make her over to the husband. Held, that accused was not guilty of detaining her. 56 I. C. 209=18 A. L. J. 311=21 Cr. L. J. 383.
3. Detention does not imply restraint. 1923 A. 194, 23 P. R. 1895 Cr.
4. Mere detention without criminal intent specified in S. 498 is insufficient. 319 P. L. R. 1913=36 P. W. R. 1913 Cr.=14 Cr. L. J. 595=21 I. C. 467.
5. Detention or concealment may be brought about by allurement or blandishments or it may be the result of coercion and restraint. 4 M. 11. C. R. 20, 1923 L. 45=69 I. C. 458=23 Cr. L. 730.
6. The offence is complete whether the woman is merely enticed away or is merely concealed and detained, provided that accompanying intention is in each case the same. 10 A. 580, 16 P. R. 1891 Cr.
7. Where a woman is abducted and detained an acquittal on a charge of abduction is no bar to trial of accused on a charge of detention. 1924 L. 330=74 I. C. 444=24 Cr. L. J. 780.
8. Detention is a continuing offence and therefore a previous acquittal for detention on one occasion does not bar a subsequent trial. 1921 L. 183=4 L. J. 535, 22 P. L. R. 1910 Dist.
9. Acquittal under S. 498 is no bar to trial for subsequent detention of the abducted woman. 106 I. C. 339=29 P. L. R. 52=29 Cr. L. J. 3.
10. If a man keeps the wife of another under his protection in a house, he detains her. 319 P. L. R. 1913=14 Cr. L. J. 595=21 I. C. 467, 10 A. 580, 16 P. R. 1891 Cr., 23 P. R. 1895 Cr.
11. Concealing or detention includes concealing or detention from the husband. 1934 S. 72=35 Cr. L. J. 1254, 4 M. H. C. R. 20 Rel. on.
12. If the wife chooses to live with accused willingly, he is not guilty. 1934 O. 258.
13. Accused detained another's wife for illicit intercourse. Subsequent refusal of wife to accompany husband is immaterial. 1933 O. 256.
14. Where the woman has entire freedom and accused does not obstruct her from going wherever she likes, it is no "detention". 1933 B. 489=147 I. C. 43 (1868). 4 M. H. C. R. 20, (1865) 2 M. C. H. R. 331, 4 Bom. L.R. 435, 1927 O. 318, 1920 A. 43 Ref.
15. For "detaining" there must be evidence that accused did something which had the effect of preventing the woman from returning to her husband. 1936 C. 450.

13. Discarded wife or Discarded husband.

1. A person who entices away a married woman who had long ago been discarded is not guilty under S. 498. 129 P. L. R. 1915=5 P. W. R. 1915 Cr.=27 I. C. 840=16 Cr. L. J. 216, 1 C. W. N. 498 (500).

Enticing or detaining a Married Woman—(contd.)

2. Where the husband absolutely abandons his wife and she marries another, the second husband can complain about abduction from him. 1930 A. 834=129 I. C. 370=32 Cr. L. J. 315.
3. If the woman had been turned out before enticing away, there is no offence. 15 P. R. 1883 Cr.
4. If the discarded wife is living in her father's house, and not in the custody of her husband or on his behalf, enticing away is no offence. 5 P. W. R. 1915 Cr.=16 Cr. L. J. 216=27 I. C. 840.

14. Divorced wife

1. If the husband is found to have divorced his wife after abduction, he is disqualified to complain under S. 498. 27 P. R. 1879 Cr.
2. A Mohammdan had six wives. The first two were not divorced. The accused in enticing away the sixth wife is not guilty. 1 P. R. 1875 Cr.
3. Among Khatiks who are low class Shudras a divorce can be carried out by a written decl. They do not follow strict Hindu Law. 181 P. L. R. 1914=31 P. W. R. 1914 Cr.=24 I. C. 947=15 Cr. L. J. 539.

15. Enticement.

1. The mere fact that wife went away of her own accord from her husband's house and was accompanied part of her way by the accused is not sufficient evidence of "enticing or taking away." 1935 C. 345
2. The mere fact that girl is living in the same house as accused does not prove that she was enticed away by any one of them. 1934 L. 83=35 Cr. L. J. 1032.
3. Accused is guilty even if advances and solicitations proceeded from the woman and he for sometime refused to yield to her. 2 M. H. C. R. 331.

16 Essentials and Evidence.

1. The gravamen of the offence consists in depriving the husband of his proper control over his wife for the purpose specified in S. 498. 1923 L. 45=69 I. C. 458 23 Cr. L. J. 730.
2. Where a girl of 16 travelled with the accused from place to place willingly and stayed with them for six months, there is no abduction. 1925 L. 406=90 I. C. 156=26 P. L. R. 517=7 L. J. 21=26 Cr. L. J. 1500.
3. If a woman is living with another of her own free will and refuses to go back to her husband, there is no offence under S. 498. 1928 A. 154=107 I. C. 689=23 Cr. L. J. 273=26 A. L. J. 403, 56 I. C. 209
4. It must be proved that woman was enticed away from her husband's house for illicit intercourse. The mere fact that she was seen outside the accused's house is not sufficient. 55 I. C. 863=21 Cr. L. J. 383.
5. Enticing away with intent that the woman should be disposed of in marriage to some one else is an offence under S. 498. 28 I. C. 651=19 Cr. L. J. 315
6. A complainant cannot prosecute another man under S. 498 unless he establishes that he is the lawful husband. 1 P. L. R. 1910=11 Cr. L. J. 155
7. Evidence of complainant and his wife even if not subjected to cross-examination is sufficient to warrant a conviction under S. 498. 42 I. C. 709=15 Cr. L. J. 1016.
8. Taking or 'enticing away' would include every form of elopement whether the first proposal came from the paramour or the faithless wife. 2 M. H. C. R. 331, 5 P. W. R. 1915 Cr.=16 Cr. L. J. 216.
9. "Any such woman" in S. 498 means not a woman who has been taken or enticed away but a woman whom the offender knows to be the wife of another man. 16 P. R. 1891 Cr.
10. Wife's complicity in the transaction is no more material on a charge under S. 498 that it is on a charge of adultery. 2 M. H. C. R. 331.

Enticing or detaining a Married Woman—(contd.)

11. If the wife leaves her husband's protection before any attempt is made to take or entice her away, her subsequent seducer cannot be dealt with under S. 498 though he may be guilty of adultery. 5 P. W. R. 1915=27 I. C. 810, 15 P. R. 1883, 2 W. R. 35.
12. In this country where Polygamy is sanctioned, a man may keep his wife in a separate house, maintaining her there. She will be still under his protection even if he may not continuously reside with her. 5 W. R. Cr. 50.
13. A woman of 20 years being disgusted by her lot in the house of her husband, who used to maltreat her, left him and wanted to become a prostitute. The procuress who led her to a brothel is guilty under S. 498. 1 W. R. 45.
14. It is not necessary that the woman should actually have intercourse or that she should be aware of the purpose for which she was taken away. 9 P. R. 1899 Cr.
15. Witnesses who depose that they saw the accused and the abducted woman at different times and places should not be believed, as they are generally bolstered up and their evidence cannot be fully cross-examined. 100 P. L. R. 1916.
16. The fact that woman accompanied the accused of her own free will does not diminish the criminality of the act. 4 Bom. L.R. 435.
17. The person enticing away is guilty, even though the woman and her paramour may never meet, when the intention was that she should have illicit intercourse. 9 P. R. 1899 Cr.
18. There must be an intention that the woman should remain away indefinitely from her husband. 145 P. L. R. 1917.
19. If a Mahomedan wife renounces her religion, her marriage is dissolved and therefore taking her away after conversion is not punishable. 1933 A. 433=34 Cr. L. J. 869, 33 A. 90.
20. The father of accused admitted before an Honorary Magistrate that the abducted girl was with his son and he was ready to pay Rs. 260 and requested him to get the case compromised. Held, that the statement of the Magistrate was inadmissible. 1935 Pesh. 73.

17. Jurisdiction.

Jurisdiction for trial in case of detention or concealment of a married woman is in the district where such detention or concealment took place. 51 P. L. R. 1918, 3 A. 251.

18. Knowledge about marriage.

1. There must be evidence that accused knew that the woman was the wife of another man. Mere presumption that he must have known it is not sufficient. 32 Cr. L. J. 1210=1931 L. 194=134 I. C. 589, 22 Cr. L. J. 412, 1933 C. 880=34 Cr. L. J. 1092, 1920 C. 979 Ref.
2. When the accused lives in a neighbouring village and belongs to the same brotherhood as that of the abducted girl, he must be presumed to have the necessary knowledge that she is the lawful wife of her husband. 1923 L. 395=29 Cr. L. J. 762.

19. Marriage— See Adultery—10, Bigamy 16—17.

1. Marriage must be strictly proved. 100 I. C. 236=28 Cr. L. J. 268=5 Bur. L.J. 190, 55 I. C. 736, 36 A. I, 5 C. 566, 2 C. W. N. 245.
2. Statement of parties is insufficient to prove marriage. 5 A. 234, 20 A. 165. See 14 N. L. R. 28.
3. Evidence that husband put vermilion on woman's forehead and that there was a feast is insufficient proof of marriage. 1930 C. 447=126 I. C. 761=31 Cr. L. J. 1091.
4. Admission of the accused that the abducted woman is the wife of complainant coupled with the statement of the woman is insufficient to prove marriage. 1925 O. 701=89 I. C. 464=26 Cr. L. J. 1376=5 C. 566.
5. Where a man and woman co-habited for a long time and are taken as wife and husband, it is sufficient to establish marriage among Jats in the Punjab. 146

Enticing or detaining a Married Woman—(contd.)

20. Procedure.

1. If a girl wife is enticed away from the lawful guardianship of her husband, the accused can be convicted under S. 366 though husband has complained under S. 498. 20 C. 483, 5 A. 233, 24 O. C. 232. See 2 P. R. 1918 Cr.
2. A person convicted under S. 497 cannot upon the same facts be convicted under S. 498. 2 W. R. 33.
3. S. 498 is a continuing offence and the offender is always liable to prosecution for each act of detention and an acquittal in respect of one detention is no bar to a fresh charge for a subsequent detention. 73 I. C. 514=24 Cr. L. J. 636=1921 L. 186.
4. Where a woman is abducted and detained on a charge of abduction is no bar to a trial on a charge of detention. 1921 L. 331=24 Cr. L. J. 780.
5. Magistrate is competent to issue warrant, instead of summons for the attendance of abducted woman but he must record reasons under S. 90, Cr. P. C., otherwise the warrant is nullity. 50 P. L. R. 1418, 34 C. 789, 22 P. W. R. 1907. See 51 C. 1.
6. Omission to record reasons for issuing warrants against abducted woman in the first instance is an irregularity curable under s. 537, Cr. P. C. 59 I. C. 415.
7. On a complaint under S. 366, accused can be convicted under S. 498. 20 C. 483. Cont. 29 C. 415, 31 B. 218, 27 M. 61 38 A. 276, 2 P. R. 1918 Cr.
8. Conviction under S. 498 cannot be altered into one under S. 366-A or S. 373. 1934 L. 122.
9. Magistrate dismissed the complaint after making verbal inquiries from accused and complainant's wife. Held, that the procedure was entirely illegal. 1934 O. 88.
10. On a complaint under S. 366 a conviction under S. 493 is legal. 1934 A. 472, 27 M. 61 Dist.
11. On a charge under S. 366-A a conviction under S. 498 without complaint of husband is illegal. 1933 A. 629

21. Sentence.

1. If the woman abducted is of bad character and married to an immature boy, the sentence should be lenient. 29 P. W. R. 1911 Cr.=12 Cr. L. J. 500.
2. If the woman was an active abettor in her own abductions the accused should be treated with leniency. 1927 L. 91=23 Cr. L. J. 52, 20 P. W. R. 1914 Cr.
3. If the wife is neglected by her husband and they were not on good terms and the husband did not take any action on the commission of the offence till the lapse of many months, it is not necessary to inflict a heavy punishment. 1926 L. 176=91 I. C. 1008=27 Cr. L. J. 192=26 P. L. R. 429.
4. If the woman, not on good terms with the husband, goes to the accused of her own accord a nominal sentence is sufficient. 24 P. R. 1910 Cr.=11 Cr. L. J. 597.

L. T. 290=1919 M. W. N. 695=20 Cr. L. J. 208.
 4. A person before arrest is entitled to know under what power the Constable is arresting him and if he specifies a power which the Constable has not got, the escape from such custody is not punishable. 47 M. 442=1924 M. 555=81 I. C. 51.
 5. A warrant issued by a Revenue Officer for the arrest of a defaulting witness which does not contain the name of the person to be arrested is illegal and escaping from custody is no offence. 51 C. 972=1924 C. 959=26 Cr. L. J. 2. See 45 A. 142.
 6. A peon arrested a judgment-debtor and at night slept by his side. The judgment-debtor escaped. Held, he was guilty. 9 L. 214=1927 L. 708=28 Cr. L. J. 755.
 7. Accused, who was arrested by a process-server was released by a number of his friends. He disappeared and surrendered himself next morning. Held, he was guilty. 11 L. B. R. 449.
 8. A judgment-debtor was brought before a Court under arrest. He applied for two days' time. The Court made him over to the custody of a peon and the judgment-debtor paid his own diet-money for two days. Subsequently he escaped. Held, he was not guilty. 47 A. 409=1925 A. 318=26 Cr. L. J. 865.
 9. Escaping from arrest made after sunset in pursuance of a Civil Court warrant is not punishable as the arrest is illegal. 49 M. L. J. 39.
 10. Where a bailiff did not touch the accused and merely told him that he was under arrest, the arrest is illegal. 9 S. L. R. 141=17 Cr. L. J. 87=32 I. C. 679.
 11. A surety applied for his discharge. The Court discharged him and ordered the arrest of judgment-debtor until he produced another surety. The judgment-debtor left the Court. Held he was not guilty. 30 Cr. L. J. 663=1929 L. 163.
 12. If a warrant is not shown to the judgment-debtor, the arrest is unlawful and escape is not punishable. 5 C. W. N. 843, 47 M. 442, 25 C. W. N. 815, 14 A. L. J. 731.

Escape—(concl'd.)

13. If a Police Officer can arrest a person suspected to be a deserter from army, the person rescuing such person is guilty. 20 P. R. 1911 Cr.
 14. If the arrest is not justified by law, the escape is not punishable. 89 1. C. 400=1925 L. 623=26 Cr. L. J. 1360.
 15. Refusal to accompany bailiff and sitting down on ground after arrest does not amount to attempt to escape. 1933 L. 123 (1)=34 Cr. L. J. 632, 33 P. R. 1918 Cr.
 16. Complaint under S. 225-B can be made by any person who is aware of the offence having been committed 1933 L. 884=35 Cr. L. J. 86.
 17. When no name or description of person to whom warrant is given appears on the warrant, release of person is no offence under S. 225 B. Inability of person arrested to read the warrant is immaterial. 1932 A. 692. 1932 A. 227 and 1926 P. 237 Rel. on.
 18. Escape by persons detained for offences not punishable under Penal Code, is punishable under Penal Code. 3 M. H. C. R. App. 11.
 19. A person cannot be convicted of escape unless the custody in which he was detained was lawful. 25 Cr. L. J. 462, 47 M. 442, 51 C. 902, 45 A. 142, 47 A. 409.
5. Jurisdiction.

A person escaping from custody must be tried for the offence in the district within which he escaped. 1 B. H. C. R. 139.

6. Unlawful return from transportation. S. 226 I. P. C.

If a person escapes from custody while being transported he is not guilty under S. 226 but S. 224. 4 M. H. C. R. 152.

EUROPEAN BRITISH SUBJECT.

1. A subject of the King born in England, naturalized or domiciled or any of its self-governing colonies is a European British subject. 14 I. C. 197.
2. A European British subject is liable to be tried in the High Court of Bombay for an offence under Penal Code, committed in a Native State. 8 Bom. H. C. R. 92.
3. Accused was the great-grandson of John Turnbull, said to have been sergeant in the service of the King, but there was insufficient evidence to establish lawful marriage between him and a native Christian woman. Held, that the evidence was insufficient. 6 M. H. C. R. 7.
4. No other special privileges are given to Europeans other than European British subject. 1933 N. 136=34 Cr. L. J. 505.

1. The lower Court is the proper and in general the final Judge of the credibility of evidence. 1930 M. 194=126 I. C. 613, 1929 M. W. N. 696.
2. The finding of fact by the Trial Court on the oral evidence should not be lightly interfered, as that Court is in a much better position to gauge the truth and value of the evidence than the Appellate Court. 1927 P. C. 266=107 I. C. 349. 1927 S. 219, 1923 P. C. 62, 1932 S. 143.
3. Although as a rule very great value would be attached by High Court to the finding of fact by the Lower Appellate Court, yet it can upset the finding on the facts. 2 R. 495=1925 R. 71=88 I. C. 167.

2. If the deposition is different in Sessions Court from that of Committing Court, the latter is to be invariably preferred. 1928 P. 326=103 I. C. 81=29 Cr. L. J. 325.
 3. The evidence against each accused in a joint trial should be scrutinised. 1924 M. 350=81 I. C. 310=25 Cr. L. J. 790=45 M. L. J. 728.
 4. A few casual and somewhat ambiguous phrases in a deposition cannot destroy the very clear effect of the whole deposition. 1923 N. 265=79 I. C. 422.
 5. The absence of external marks of injury is not necessarily destructive of the case that the injury was caused by brick. It is possible that blow in the abdomen is less likely to leave a mark than one on a less elastic and resilient part of the body. 1923 P. 413=74 I. C. 705=2 P. 309=24 Cr. L. J. 801.
 6. Men without deliberately intending to falsify facts are extremely prone to believe what they wish, to confound what they believe with what they heard and to ascribe to memory what is merely the result of imagination. 1922 O. 178=66 I. C. 222=8 O. L. J. 439.
 7. Where oral evidence is itself convincing, the absence of documentary evidence in support of it is immaterial. 1924 L. 265=69 I. C. 331, 3 L. 48.
 8. The evidence of alibi of witnesses who were not persons who would remember the date precisely should not be believed unless supported by documentary evidence. 1923 L. 232=81 I. C. 347=25 Cr. L. J. 811.
 9. Generally when the evidence is given by the witness in his own language, the Vernacular record is always treated as more reliable and entitled to greater weight though the maxim may not be safely applied to the Magistrate taking down the evidence simultaneously in English who understands the language. 1923 L. 167=73 I. C. 513=24 Cr. L. J. 625.
 10. When the story of confession was not told by the witness until after a fortnight of the occurrence, the evidence is unreliable. 1 P. 630=1922 P. 582=71 I. C. 219=24 Cr. L. J. 91=4 P. L. T. 76.
 11. There is no distinction between what a prudent man would believe out of Court and what a Judge may believe. 1922 N. 146=65 I. C. 561=23 Cr. L. J. 129.
 12. Cases ought to be decided upon tangible evidence, be it positive or circumstantial. The Court is not justified in convicting the accused upon facts which are not on record, and are in conflict with the medical evidence and which are the result of nothing but speculation. 1930 A. 45=120 I. C. 268=31 Cr. L. J. 37.
 13. It is not safe to assume that a case must be false if some of the evidence in support of it appears to be doubtful or is clearly untrue. There is on some occasions a tendency among litigants to back up a case by false or exaggerated evidence. 24 C. W. N. 626, (P. C.)
 14. In India where references to time are generally mere approximations there is a large margin of honest error. 15 Bom. R. L. 297=19 I. C. 328.
 15. When an attempt is made to charge a dead person in a matter in which if he were alive, he might have answered, the evidence ought to be looked at with great care. 12 C. L. J. 470=8 I. C. 796.
 16. Where a party comes into a Court with a story which cannot be believed in its essential details, it is impossible to rely on a part of story for convicting the accused. 47 I. C. 73=19 Cr. L. J. 877=1918 P. 288.
 17. In weighing the evidence adduced, regard should be paid to (1) what is stated against the accused in the initial report made to the Police, (2) the state of feelings between the parties, (3) the facility with which he could be falsely implicated, (4) and the motive for implicating him. 90 P. L. R. 1939=19 P. W. R. 1909 Cr.

19. A person was examined as witness, a statement said to have been made by him to another is inadmissible when no question was put to the witness. 1934 S. 100.
20. Where the evidence is entirely oral and of interested persons and there is no circumstantial evidence against the accused, he should not be convicted. 1935 L. 922.
21. Statements of High Government officers should be considered like the statements of other persons. Courts should not surrender its discretion or judgment to such officers. 1935 S. 223.
22. When a witness makes a reckless statement which is false, his evidence should not be relied upon. 1934 O. 388.
23. Where the lower Court had the advantage of seeing and hearing the witnesses there is no material discrepancy, its finding should be accepted. 1935 P. 95=153 I. C. 466=36 Cr. L. J. 348.
24. In appreciating the evidence, the ability of the witness as well as his intellectual capacity and his powers of perception, judgment, memory and description must be considered. Bentham P. 162, Starkie P. 824 Field's Law of Evidence in Br. India, 8th Ed. P. XXXV.
25. When the question is as to a fact, we have to look chiefly to the honesty of a witness his accuracy and his means of gaining information. In the case of an opinion, his ability to form a judgment is to be taken into account. Ibid P. XXXVI. See Whately's Rhetoric, Part I Chap. II, S. 4.
26. There is no better criterion of truth, no better rule for investigating cases of conflicting evidence, where perjury and fraud must exist on one side or the other than to consider what facts are beyond dispute, and to examine which of the two cases best accords with those facts according to the ordinary course of human affairs and usual habits of life. 1 Moo. I. A. 19=5 W. R. P. C. 26-29.
27. Probabilities are an important element of consideration where the evidence appears unreliable or is directly conflicting, but a case should not be decided upon probabilities alone, apart from the evidence which the parties have submitted to the Court. 21 W. R. 436.

There is a difference between civil and criminal cases. In civil cases a preponderance of evidence justifies decision in favour of one party where the right is doubtful or there is no prima facie right on either side. In criminal cases the evidence ought to be conclusive in order to sustain conviction, and when there is a doubt, the accused should have the benefit of it. Field's Law of Ev. in Br. India, 8th Ed. at pp. XLVII & XLXII.
28. The Court has not only to satisfy itself that the facts constituting the offence have been established but also to see if proved or admitted facts bring the case within the exceptions of the Penal Code, e.g. Right of private defence, etc. 1922 L. 314=22 Cr. L. J. 507, 50 C. 1013, 1 Cr. L. J. 300, 1926 P. 433, 1927 L. 786, 1925 R. 133.
29. Regard should be had regarding the weight and quality of evidence rather than the number of witnesses. 1928 M. 1135=27 Cr. L. J. 1041, 16 Cr. L. J. 266, 1934 L. 158, 1930 L. 892, 33 A. 598, 1925 L. 295, 27 Cr. L. J. 223, 3 L.L.J. 482, 21 Cr. L. J. 33, 22 Cr. L. J. 647, 1525 O. 501.
30. Court can rely on the evidence of an interested person. 51 M. 956, 1930 C. 645, 1929 M. W. N. 587, 1931 L. 529=32 Cr. L. J. 1032.
31. Court can discard the evidence on the ground of unreliability of witnesses. 1925 L. 397 1929 L. 436. 1929 P. 705, 1927 L. 874.
32. Court should not base judgment on its own theories unsupported by evidence. 1924 P. 813, 1 P. R. 1917, 1924 C. 611, 1930 A. 45, 1930 O. 460.
33. Judge should not base judgment on personal knowledge. 1925 L. 166, 1931 S. 127, 27 P. R. 1903, 1 Cr. L. J. 589, 1933 C. 36.
34. Judgment should not be based on hypothetical state of facts which were never put forward by the prosecution. 11 Cr. L. J. 245, 27 Cr. L. J. 1346=98 I. C. 466.

Evidence—(contd.)

35. The standard of proof required in criminal cases does not vary with the magnitude or enormity of the crime. 1933 S. 166=34 Cr. L. J. 808, 19 Cr. L. J. 81, though it is usual and prudent to observe the rule "the fouler the crime is, the clearer and plainer ought the proof of it to be." 1920 P. 616=22 Cr. L. J. 154.
36. Where the action of accused is open to two constructions, the Court should not assume that it was criminal. The presumption of innocence should prevail. 1927 P. 292=28 Cr. L. J. 611, 1930 S. 99, 1931 O. 385, 54 M. 931, 1924 M. 816, 14 Cr. L. J. 251.

3. Concocted.— See Motive—10. Discrepancy—3, Wound—37.

1. Where the manipulation in the personnel of the actors in a crime is extremely easy and extremely difficult to refute, the question of motive is of extreme importance. 1926 O. 120=27 Cr. L. J. 529=93 I. C. 1025.
2. Prosecution witnesses who deliberately set about implicating innocent persons run a grave risk of their evidence being rejected in toto, even against persons whom the Court suspects as offenders. 1931 L. 38=130 I. C. 410=32 Cr. L. J. 522.
3. An approver can easily substitute an innocent person for a real offender. 1931 L. 408=32 Cr. L. J. 818=132 I. C. 185=1931 Cr. C. 648.
4. In a murder case when witnesses implicate the accused when they are faced with the necessity of exculpating themselves, their evidence is open to grave suspicion. 1930 P. 338=129 I. C. 666.
5. There is tendency in N. W. F. Province to include innocent with the guilty and to ascribe principal part to guilty persons and minor part to innocent relatives. 1935 Pesh. 75, 1935 Pesh. 50=1935 Cr. C. 351.
6. In weighing evidence regard should be paid (1) what is stated against the accused in first information report, (2) feeling of enmity between the parties, (3) the facility with which he could be implicated and (4) the motive for implicating him. 90 P. L. R. 1909=19 P. W. R. 1909 Cr.=11 Cr. L. J. 130.
7. Where the defence does not cross-examine prosecution witnesses concerning defence version, it is usually safe to conclude that it is an after thought and the defence evidence is concocted one. 1935 R. 393.
8. False charges are usually supported by carefully concocted details, sometimes of such an incredibly minute character as to be obviously of a "too perfect kind." Though as a rule much less ingenuity is displayed in perpetrating and concealing the crimes than would be expected from the subtle cunning and deceit practised in the smaller affairs of every day life. Lyon's Med. Jur. 1904, P. 17.
9. A very common form of conspiracy is to cause a person to disappear, and then to charge with murder some person against whom a spite is cherished. A plausible explanation is given of the disappearance of the body of the alleged murdered person, or a putrid corpse is obtained from the adjoining river and gashing it in several places, it is brought forward as the remains of the missing individual. In such conspiracies circumstantial details are not infrequently sworn to by several persons, testifying as eye-witnesses to alleged facts of the murder, to the burial of the corpse, etc., so that conviction for the murder may be duly passed, and the falsity of the whole proceedings not be discovered until the reappearance alive of the alleged murdered person. Lyon's Med. Jur. 1904 P. 17.
10. In India severe, even mortal injuries are sometimes inflicted on an individual with his consent, by another or others, for the purpose of supporting a false charge. Lyon's Med. Jur. 1901, P. 153, Lyon's Med. Jur. 1935, pp. 220—238.
11. One mark of a false case is not uncommonly the extraordinary number of persons who are said to have seen the occurrence, which in the natural course of things would have been witnessed by a limited number of persons only. But sometimes two or three persons are easily found, then a larger number, who, from motives of interest or malignity, will combine to aggrandize themselves or to ruin an opponent. Field's Law of Evidence in Br. India, 8th Ed., P. XXX.
12. In a case of assault five witnesses described the incident and all detailed the names of the eleven accused in the same order. It may safely be said that, without concert this could not possibly happen. It happened that the Mukhtar obtained a copy of the complaint made some days previously and, in order to guard effectually against discrepancy he had made each of the five witnesses commit it to memory. Field's Law of Evidence in Br. India, 8th Ed., P. XXIII.

Where several witnesses bear testimony to the same transaction and concur in their statement of series of particular circumstances, there can be only two conclusions—either the testimony is true or the coincidences are the result of concert and conspiracy. To determine which is the case, there are two valuable tests. First, are the witnesses independent and acting without concert? Second, are the coincidences natural and undesigned? Ibid at P. XXII.

corroboration of. Ss. 157—156, Evidence Act. See Accomplice, Confession.

It is impossible to treat statements by a witness as corroborating his own evidence these being merely parts of that very evidence itself. 1928 P. C. 127=107 I. C. 457=47 C. L. J. 288.

Where there are two factions each trying to support its own candidate, the oral evidence given on either side should not be believed unless corroborated by documentary evidence. 1927 M. 820=103 I. C. 134.

No reliance should be placed on the uncorroborated testimony of a criminal who has undergone a sentence of imprisonment and is under Police surveillance especially when he is produced by Police under whose supervision he is. 1922 L. 397=9 I. C. 311=26 Cr. L. J. 1335=26 P. L. R. 518.

Where the alleged eye-witnesses are inimical to accused or belong to opposite faction, it is not safe to rely on their uncorroborated testimony. 1930 L. 311=30 P. L. R. 582=1930 Cr. C. 343.

The law does not say that when some body has stabbed another, the stabbed person's evidence has got to be corroborated by other witnesses. Court can convict upon it, if he is undoubtedly telling the truth. 125 I. C. 621=1930 M. 520=1929 M. W. N. 587=58 M. L. J. 658.

Where admittedly there is enmity between the parties and the prosecution have implicated wholly innocent persons, their evidence cannot be fully relied on without some strong independent corroboration. 1925 L. 42=84 I. C. 937=26 Cr. L. J. 393=6 L. J. 326.

Where there are two sets of evidence, neither of which alone can be accepted, without corroboration, they cannot each in its turn be taken to corroborate the other and joined together so as to justify any Court in basing conviction on such evidence. 27 C. 295, 1927 P. 257=101 I. C. 881=28 Cr. L. J. 497.

If a complainant owing to undue influence or corruption goes back on his story of crime, he should be declared hostile and should be cross-examined. If from cross-examination certain evidence is elicited which supports the prosecution, the evidence of corroboration on the part of third parties would then be admissible. 6 R. 481=1928 R. 295=112 I. C. 456=29 Cr. L. J. 1012

When the evidence of a witness stands discredited on a crucial point, it cannot be relied on a less important point; unless there is some strong independent corroborative evidence. 1930 M. W. N. 723.

A conviction on the uncorroborated testimony of a single witness, once before discredited, cannot be sustained. 12 Cr. L. J. 485=121 C. 96.

The proof of motive for the crime is not corroboration of the evidence of an eye witness. 131 I. C. 439=1931 O. 119=32 Cr. L. J. 677=8 O. W. N. 107.

Corroborative evidence of a false witness can be accepted if it is free from the taint of suspicion. 1935 N. 81=17 N. L. J. 274.

If former statement is admitted under S. 157, it cannot be used as substantive evidence against the accused. It can only be used to corroborate the witness. 1935 P. 19=152 I. C. 832=36 Cr. L. J. 195, 1927 A. 705=105 I. C. 677=23 Cr. L. J. 965 Foll.

11. One mark of a false case is not uncommonly the extraordinary number of persons who are said to have seen the occurrence, which in the natural course of things would have been witnessed by a limited number of persons only. But sometimes two or three persons are easily found, then a larger number, who, from motives of interest or malignity, will combine to aggrandize themselves or to run an opponent. Field's Law of Evidence in Br. India, 8th Ed., P. XXX.
12. In a case of assault five witnesses described the incident and all detailed the names of the eleven accused in the same order. It may safely be said that, without concert this could not possibly happen. It happened that the Mukhtar obtained a copy of the complaint made some days previously and, in order to guard effectually against discrepancy he had made each of the five witnesses commit it to memory. Field's Law of Evidence in Br. India, 8th Ed, P. XXIII.

13. Where several witnesses bear testimony to the same transaction and concur in their statement of series of particular circumstances, there can be only two conclusions—either the testimony is true or the coincidences are the result of concert and conspiracy. To determine which is the case, there are two valuable tests. First, are the witnesses independent and acting without concert? Second, are the coincidences natural and undesigned? Ibid at P. XXII.

5. Corroboration of. Ss. 157—156, Evidence Act. See Accomplice, Confession.
 1. It is impossible to treat statements by a witness as corroborating his own evidence these being merely parts of that very evidence itself. 1928 P. C. 127=107 I. C. 457=47 C. L. J. 288.
 2. Where there are two factions each trying to support its own candidate, the oral evidence given on either side should not be believed unless corroborated by documentary evidence. 1927 M. 820=103 I. C. 134.
 3. No reliance should be placed on the uncorroborated testimony of a criminal who has undergone a sentence of imprisonment and is under Police surveillance especially when he is produced by Police under whose supervision he is. 1922 L. 397=9 I. C. 311=26 Cr. L. J. 1335=26 P. L. R. 518.
 4. Where the alleged eye-witnesses are inimical to accused or belong to opposite factions, it is not safe to rely on their uncorroborated testimony. 1930 L. 311=30 P. L. R. 582=1930 Cr. C. 343.
 5. The law does not say that when some body has stabbed another, the stabbed person's evidence has got to be corroborated by other witnesses. Court can convict upon it, if he is undoubtedly telling the truth. 125 I. C. 621=1930 M. 520=1929 M. W. N. 587=58 M. L. J. 658.
 6. Where admittedly there is enmity between the parties and the prosecution have implicated wholly innocent persons, their evidence cannot be fully relied on without some strong independent corroboration. 1925 L. 42=84 I. C. 937=26 Cr. L. J. 393=6 L. L. J. 326.
 7. Where there are two sets of evidence, neither of which alone can be accepted, without corroboration, they cannot each in its turn be taken to corroborate the other and joined together so as to justify any Court in basing conviction on such evidence. 27 C. 295, 1927 P. 257=101 I. C. 881=28 Cr. L. J. 497.
 8. If a complainant owing to undue influence or corruption goes back on his story of crime, he should be declared hostile and should be cross-examined. If from cross-examination certain evidence is elicited which supports the prosecution, the evidence of corroboration on the part of third parties would then be admissible. 6 R. 481=1928 R. 295=112 I. C. 466=29 Cr. L. J. 1042
 9. When the evidence of a witness stands discredited on a crucial point, it cannot be relied on a less important point unless there is some strong independent corroborative evidence. 1930 M. W. N. 723.
 10. A conviction on the uncorroborated testimony of a single witness, once before discredited, cannot be sustained. 12 Cr. L. J. 488=12 I. C. 96.
 11. The proof of motive for the crime is not corroboration of the evidence of an eye witness. 131 I. C. 439=1931 O. 119=32 Cr. L. J. 697=8 O. W. N. 107.
 12. Corroborative evidence of a false witness can be accepted if it is free from the taint of suspicion. 1935 N. 81=17 N. L. J. 274.
 13. If former statement is admitted under S. 157, it cannot be used as substantive evidence against the accused. It can only be used to corroborate the witness. 1935 P. 19=152 I. C. 832=36 Cr. L. J. 195. 1927 A. 705=105 I. C. 677=28 Cr. L. J. 965 Foll.

Evidence—(contd.)

14. If a single witness attest several circumstances, each of which is capable of corroborating evidence, and if no such corroborating evidence is produced, there must be great confidence in the integrity and veracity of this single witness, before we can believe all these circumstances on his sole testimony, where if they were true, there would naturally be concurrent evidence to strengthen and confirm his statements. Gilbert on evidence P. 180. See also 1925 L. 295=26 Cr. L. J. 292, 1921 O. 115=22 Cr. L. J. 647, 12 Cr. L. J. 488.
 15. A statement used for contradicting or corroborating evidence, is not substantive evidence and cannot be made the basis of finding as to the existence of facts mentioned in the statement. 1935 P. 19, 1934 C. 124, 34 C. 129, 76 I. C. 416, 53 M. 550, 1932 O. 99=23 Cr. L. J. 381.
 16. Where there is nothing in witnesses' statement in Court which may be corroborated by a previous statement of his, the statement is inadmissible under S. 157. 1934 S. 100, 53 C. 372=1926 C. 139.
 17. When a prior statement is given in evidence under S. 238, Cr. P. C. or S. 33, Evidence Act, the deposition is testimony within the meaning of S. 157. Evidence Act and a former consistent statement may be given in evidence to corroborate it. 45 M. 766, 5 L. 324=1924 L. 609. See 34 B. 599.
 18. If a witness, though examined has not been questioned regarding a particular matter, his previous statement as to that matter is not admissible to corroborate him. 1934 S. 100=35 Cr. L. J. 1332. See 53 C. 372=1926 C. 139.
6. Credibility of witness.
1. Where the evidence of a witness stands discredited on the crucial point, it cannot be relied on a less important point unless strongly corroborated. 1930 M. W. N. 723, 1930 M. W. N. 417, 27 C. 637 (646), 47 I. C. 73 42 C. 313.
 2. An Indian villager never says "there was general kicking and beating" but works out an analysis of fists and feet and right sides and left sides which is easily shown to be ridiculous but which does not prove him to be telling lies. It is merely his habit of thought and speech. 1930 M. W. N. 74=123 I. C. 43=31 Cr. L. J. 447.
 3. To discredit witnesses merely because they are Policemen is impossible. 3 L. 144=1922 L. 1=68 I. C. 113=4 L. L. J. 91=23 Cr. L. J. 513.
 4. No reliance can be placed upon the statement of a man, who can be very easily influenced to make a statement at one time and shortly after to disown it. 1921 P. 499=2 P. L. T. 125.
 5. A witness is not discredited merely because the cross-examining counsel asked some questions impeaching his character, when the answers to those questions are satisfactory. 1929 P. 180=118 I. C. 333=30 Cr. L. J. 896.
 6. When a witness for 15 days after the death of the deceased did not say anything as to what he saw, although in the meantime he was present at the hospital and when inquest report was made, his evidence is incredible. 95 I. C. 598=27 P. L. R. 719=27 Cr. L. J. 822=8 L. L. J. 186.
 7. The question of the credibility of a witness is eminently one for the trial Court. 1926 O. 215=91 I. C. 233=27 Cr. L. J. 57.
 8. The High Court must be guided as regards the credibility of oral evidence mainly by the Court that heard it. 1925 O. 715=89 I. C. 261=26 Cr. L. J. 1317.
 9. An accused should not be convicted on the strength of evidence which is disbelieved so far as other accused are concerned if the ground for disbelieving is common to all of them. 20 P. W. R. 1909 Cr.=11 Cr. L. J. 131.
 10. If the greater portion of the evidence is found to be false the accused should not be convicted on the residue without any corroboration. 42 C. 784, 42 C. 313.
 11. Statements made in the course of trial only while they were not made in Police investigation are not to be believed. 54 P. L. R. 1916=47 P. W. R. 1915 Cr.
 12. Evidence of a person, who knew the accused previously and who had ample opportunity of observing the accused at the dacoity and who immediately named him to the villagers and Police as one of the dacoits, is credible. 11 Cr. L. J. 623.

Evidence—(contd.)

13. Evidence of respectable persons with special means of knowledge should not be viewed with suspicion owing to the relationship to the parties. 25 I. C. 650.
14. A witness who changes sides or makes statements both in favour of accused and prosecution is unreliable. 1925 O. 723=88 I. C. 852=26 Cr. L. J. 1235
15. Where a witness keeps quiet for many days after the occurrence and comes forward after the Police had made discovery is not reliable. 1923 L. 438=84 I. C. 321=26 Cr. L. J. 257=5 L. L. J. 325.
16. In estimating the value of the evidence given by a witness, he should be absolutely considered to be innocent if he was acquitted in some previous case. 49 C. 235=1922 C. 12=26 C. W. N. 113=66 I. C. 774.
17. The fact that a witness makes mistake in identification is no reason for discrediting his evidence in other matters. 1923 A. 352=45 A. 300.
18. It is improper that the successor of a Judge who has believed the evidence should order his prosecution for perjury. 1931 L. 404=32 Cr. L. J. 652.
19. The following are the most important tests of the credibility of witnesses as laid down by Archbishop Whately :—(a) Whether they have the means of gaining correct information, (b) whether they have any interest in concealing the truth, (c) whether they agree in their testimony, (d) is the evidence consistent with the usual and known principles of human action and with the common experience of mankind? (e) Is the evidence consistent with itself? Vide Historic Doubts relative to Napoleon Bona Parte, P. 14, 6th Edition. See Law of Evidence in British India by Field, Eighth Edition at P. XXI of Introduction.
20. "The usual character of human testimony" says Dr. Paley, "is substantial truth under circumstantial variety. When accounts of a transaction come from the mouths of different witnesses, it is seldom that it is not possible to pick out apparent or real inconsistencies between them. On the contrary a close and minute agreement induces the suspicion of confederacy and fraud. Ibid."
21. When we find a witness over-zealous on behalf of his party, exaggerating circumstances, answering without waiting to hear the question, for getting facts where he would be open to contradiction, minutely remembering others, which he knows cannot be disputed, reluctant in giving adverse testimony, replying evasively or flippantly, pretending not to hear the question, for the purpose of gaining time to consider the effect of his answer, affecting indifference or often avowing to God, and protesting his honesty—we have indications more or less conclusive, of insincerity and falsehood. On the other hand, in the testimony of witnesses of truth there is calmness and simplicity, a naturalness of manner; an unaffected readiness and copiousness of detail as well in one part of the narrative as another, and no evident disregard of either the facility or difficulty of vindication or detection. Taylor on Evidence, Vol. I. 8th Ed. S. 44, S. 52. Field's Law of Evidence in India, 8th Ed. P. XXXIII and P. XXXIV.
22. The three most important points to be ascertained in deciding on the credibility of a witness are : first, whether they have the means of gaining correct information; secondly, whether they have any intention in concealing the truth; and thirdly, whether they agree in their testimony. Then another important test will apply, namely, "is the evidence consistent with the usual and known principles of human action and with the common experience of mankind" Field, Ev. 8th Edition, Introduction XXI, quoting from Archbishop Whately's Historic Doubts relative to Napoleon Bona Parte 6th Ed., 14.
23. It is impossible to rely implicitly upon the recollection of a witness as to conversation alleged to have taken place where there is no documentary evidence of any kind to corroborate such recollections and especially when documentary evidence is in direct contradiction thereof. 1935 P. C. 175=157 I. C. 4.

7. Cumulative effect of—

Although each of the facts is inconclusive, their cumulative value may establish the guilt and exclude other possibilities. 95 I. C. 311=27 Cr. L. J. 775.

10. Disappearance of—. See Disappearance of evidence.

11. Disbelieved in part.—Partly false.

1. When the prosecution cannot be believed in its essential details, conviction cannot be based on part of the story. 1924 P. 813=25 Cr. L. J. 724, 47 I. C. 73. Cont. 10 P. 590=1931 P. 384=135 I. C. 81=33 Cr. L. J. 111.
2. Evidence should not be rejected wholesale simply because some of it is unreliable, if the story told by witnesses is in the main true. 1926 N. 129=89 I. C. 663.
3. The fact that a witness makes mistakes in identification, is no reason for discrediting his evidence in other matters. 45 A. 300=1923 A. 352=24 Cr. L. J. 526.
4. Where prosecution witnesses are untruthful as to the greater part of their evidence it would be dangerous to convict: them on the residue without corroboration. 42 C. 784, 1930 O. 460=32 Cr. L. J. 94, 1933 O. 457, 1935 A. 747, 55 A. 379, 1931 L. 38=32 Cr. L. J. 522, 28 Cr. L. J. 185, 45 A. 300, 1927 L. 797, 1921 P. 406, 1924 N. 33, 1929 O. 218, 1933 A. 401, 1932 B. 424, 1930 M. W. N. 723. See 1931 P. 384=10 P. 59.
5. When the greater part of the story is disbelieved, a Court cannot reconstruct a story wholly inconsistent with that told by witnesses. 1924 P. 813=25 Cr. L. J. 724.
6. When the evidence of a witness stands discredited on the crucial point it cannot be relied on a less important point without strong corroboration. 1930 M. W. N. 723, 42 C. 313, 42 C. 784.
7. If the Judge has discredited the accounts of the occurrence as given by the prosecution and based the conviction on a narrative of his own, framed on surmise and conjecture, the conviction will be set aside. 17 C. W. N. 538, 81 I. C. 212=1924 P. 813=25 Cr. L. J. 724.
8. It is permissible for a Court to accept part and reject the rest of any witness's testimony. 78 I. C. 542=1924 N. 129=20 N. L. R. 63.
9. Where the major portion of the evidence is false, no case can be built on it. 1934 O. 124=35 Cr. L. J. 804.
10. Evidence of perjured witness should not be discarded altogether. Court must sift truth from falsehood. 1934 O. 507. 1933 A. 896 Diss. from.
11. Simply because of existence of some deliberate falsehood evidence cannot be totally rejected. 1933 O. 269.
12. Evidence of perjured witness is of no value by itself or by way of corroboration. 1933 A. 834=55 A. 639, 1933 A. 401 Rel. on.
13. If the prosecution case is false and perjured in material particulars and is supported by perjured evidence, the whole case must be thrown out. 1933 A. 896=146 I. C. 914, 1933 A. 314, 1933 A. 401. 14 C. 164 and 1933 C. 463 Ref.
14. If an individual were to invent a story entirely, the result would be his inevitable detection; but if he build a structure of falsehood on the foundation of a little truth, it may put honest man's life in jeopardy. The most effectual way of laying a plot, is not to swear too hard or too much or to come too directly to the point but to knit the false with the true, to interlace reality with fiction and to escape detection by taking most especial care never to have two witnesses to the same effect and also to make the facts as moderate and as little offensive as possible. Rhetoric, Part I, Chap. III, S. 1; Field's Law of Evidence in Br. India 8th Ed. XXXVIII.
15. The maxim Falsus in uno falsus in omnibus (false in particular false in all) is a dangerous one, especially in India, for if a whole body of testimony were to be rejected because the witness was evidently speaking untruth in one or more particulars, it is to be feared that witnesses might be dissuaded with. There is always embroidery to a story, however true in the main. When main part of the deposition is true it should not arbitrarily be rejected because of a want of veracity on perhaps some very minor point. Field's Law of Evidence in Br. India, 8th Ed. pp. XL & XLI.
16. But the case will be different if one of the essential circumstances in the story be clearly unfounded. This to use a felicitous expression of Mr. Hallam's "is to pull a stone out of an arch, the whole fabric must fall to the ground". Ibid. See also, Constitutional History of England. Vol II. P. 687. 4 Moo. J. A. 441.

17. Ordinary legal and reasonable presumptions of facts must not be lost sight of in the trial of Indian cases, however untrustworthy much of the evidence submitted to the Courts may commonly be; that is, due weight must be given to evidence, and it should not be rejected due to general distrust nor to perjury widely imputed, without some grave grounds to support the supposition. 14 Moo J. A. 354.
18. "There is no better criterion of the truth, no safer rule for investigating cases of conflicting evidence, where perjury and fraud must exist on one side or the other, than to consider what facts are beyond dispute, and to examine which of the two cases best accords with those facts according to the ordinary course of human affairs and the usual habits of life." 1 Moo J. A. 19=5 W. R. P. C. 26-29
19. Probabilities are an important element of consideration where the evidence appears unreliable or is directly conflicting; but a case should not be decided upon probabilities alone, apart from the evidence which the parties have submitted to the Court. 21 W. R. 436.
12. Disbelieved regarding one accused.
 1. Evidence disbelieved as to one accused need not necessarily be rejected altogether. 30 P. W. R. 1914 Cr.
 2. Evidence disbelieved against five accused must be convincing before the 6th person could be convicted. 1931 L. 38=130 I. C. 410=32 P. L. R. 259=32 Cr. L. J. 522, 1934 O. 13=35 Cr. L. J. 681
 3. A accused should not be convicted on the strength of evidence which is disbelieved so far as other accused are concerned, if the ground for disbelieving it is common to all of them. 20 P. W. R. 1909 Cr., 30 P. W. R. 1914 Cr., 1921 P. 406.
 4. If evidence of eye-witnesses is accepted against some accused but not against others, it does not necessarily vitiate the judgment. 1932 L. 421=33 P. L. R. 475=119 I. C. 128=33 Cr. L. J. 744.
 5. Where there is conclusive proof of perjury on the part of alleged eye witness, with regard to one accused, Court would refuse to convict others on their evidence. 1934 A. 908.
 6. If a witness has deliberately committed perjury in falsely implicating one accused, it is impossible to accept his evidence against another accused. 1935 L. 922. Appeal No. 320 of 1934 approved. 1935 A. 314=55 A. 379 and 1933 A. 401=34 Cr. L. J. 765 Relon.
 7. If prosecution witnesses are considered unreliable in case of some accused, their evidence must be closely sifted as regards others. 1933 O. 59=34 Cr. L. J. 213
 8. If the approver substituted an innocent person and his evidence has been rejected against him, the entire evidence against other accused should also be rejected. 1933 L. 871=35 Cr. L. J. 137.
 9. Evidence discarded against some accused should not be relied on against others. 1933 O. 404=35 Cr. L. J. 192.
13. Discrepant. See Discrepancy.
 1. It is impossible to base a conviction merely on track evidence when the main evidence is extremely discrepant. 27 Cr. L. J. 946=95 I. C. 493.
14. Documentary. See Document.
 1. When a witness merely referred to a certain document in which he stated his evidence was to be found and the documents were put on record as evidence, the course adopted was illegal. 5 L. 3=6=1925 L. 19=27 Cr. L. J. 170=91 I. C. 954.
 2. Documents filed by accused cannot be brushed aside, when they are filed by him along with his written statement. 1925 M. 1135=112 I. C. 465.
15. Doubtful. See Benefit of doubt.
 1. Where witnesses in a murder case implicate the accused only when they are faced with the necessity of exculpating themselves, their evidence is open to grave suspicion. 1930 P. 335=129 I. C. 666.

Evidence—(contd.)

2. If evidence is doubtful accused is entitled to acquittal. 9 P. 474=1930 P. 217.
3. When two sets of witnesses make divergent statements about one and the same incident, the matter becomes doubtful and the accused should be given the benefit of doubt. 106 I. C. 800=29 Cr. L. J. 208.
4. Where the inference suggested by what happened at the interview is equivocal and where the explanation put forward by the accused is reasonably possible, the theory of innocence cannot be said to have been negatived. 1923 Bom. 44=23 Cr. L. J. 466=67 I. C. 816=24 B. L. R. 534.

16. Events leading to occurrence.

The events preceding and leading up to assault on deceased should be considered. 1934 R. 44=35 Cr. L. J. 855.

17. Exaggerations in.

1. It occasionally happens that the unreliability of a witness's testimony is shown by his proving too much. In his eagerness to assist the side on which he is called, he states some fact which to him in his ignorance appears calculated to promote this result, but which taken with other facts proved or admitted, has a tendency directly the opposite, or he makes a statement from which is deducible not only the conclusion sought to be established, but another which is absurd and inadmissible. Field's Law of Evidence in British India, Eighth Edition, Page xxvii.
2. Much reliance should not be placed on the exaggerated evidence of a witness who tries to prove too much. 2 Moor I. A. 126.

18. False—. See False Evidence.

19. Filling up gaps.

Judge should not fill up gaps in prosecution evidence by making presumptions against the accused. His decision must rest upon legal testimony.

1. Where two of the complainant's party were seriously injured and detained in Hospital for 25 days, the absence of medical evidence was a serious defect. 51 C. 418=1924 C. 323=81 I. C. 264=25 Cr. L. J. 776.
2. Where the part assigned to the accused is falsified by the medical evidence, the accused must be given the benefit of doubt. 1927 L. 617=28 Cr. L. J. 685.
3. Where the opinion of the doctor was that the patient was incapable of doing a particular act next day and the eye witnesses deposed to the contrary. Held, that the hypothetical opinion of doctor should not prevail. 1924 Bom. 457=83 I. C. 616.
4. Opinion of medical man should not outweigh the testimony of respectable and disinterested eye-witnesses. 50 C. 100-1924 B. 457=83 I. C. 616.
5. Evidence of medical witness should not be considered as conclusive against the testimony of eye-witnesses. 1927 M. 996=28 Cr. L. J. 1007=11 W. R. Cr. 25.
6. Medical evidence should be used as corroborative and not as evidence of charge. 1934 Pesh. 27=35 Cr. L. J. 961.
7. Medical evidence should not be recorded carelessly. 18 Cr. L. J. 105.

26. Not on oath. See Oaths Act.

Unsworn testimony of a witness, so far as the maker in his evidence does not confirm and repeat it, cannot be used at all against the accused as proof of the truth of what it asserts. 1931 C. 401=131 I. C. 575=35 C. W. N. 731.

30. Of negative character.

1. Very little weight should be attached to the evidence of a negative character. 15 C. L. J. 621=13 I. C. 678.
2. When one witness deposes to certain facts having occurred and another witness, stating that he was present at the same time, denies that any such fact took place, greater weight, other things being equal, is to be attached to witness alleging the affirmative. Because it may be explained that his attention was not drawn at the time. 3 Moor 1 A. 357. Field's Law of Evidence in Br. India, 8th Ed., P. xxix.
3. Negative evidence is regarded of little or no weight when opposed to affirmative evidence of credible persons. A fact may have taken place in the very sight of a person who may not have observed it or forgotten it. Will's Circumstantial Evidence, 1912, P. 435.

2. If the fact be one which could not possibly have escaped his observation, and if, on being indirectly questioned, he evinces no knowledge of it, or being directly questioned, denies such knowledge, the supposition of inadvertence is scarcely possible, and a discrepancy is apparent. Field's Law of Evidence, in Br. India, 8th Ed., P. xxvi.
3. The negative circumstance of a witness's omitting to mention such things, as it is morally certain he would have mentioned, had he been inventing, adds great weight to what he does say. Ibid.
4. If several circumstances capable of corroborating evidence are attested by single witness, there must be great confidence in the integrity and veracity of this single witness. Ibid. See also Gilbert on Evidence, P. 180.
5. Where a case is supported by several parallel chains the want of a link in any one of them renders that particular one wholly useless, and throws the whole strain on the others, but where the entire weight depends upon a single chain only, the failure of one link, however strong the remaining links may be, must be fatal; and even where the link is not wholly wanting, but merely partly defective, it is well to remember that a chain is not stronger than its weakest part. Ibid.

33. Piece-meal.

1. When the evidence for prosecution is recorded piece-meal, there is every opportunity for each succeeding witness to know what the statement of the previous witness was and also what the line of cross-examination was. Such a procedure is irregular. 1928 L. 152=106 I. C. 792=29 Cr. L. J. 200.
2. Evidence should not be recorded piece-meal. 42 C. 313, 21 C. W. N. 694.

34. Quantum and quality of—. See Witness.

1. When there are many witnesses to corroborate certain facts, it is not necessary that prosecution must summon every body that has seen the occurrence. 1923 P. 46=104 I. C. 708=28 Cr. L. J. 868.
2. The question of evidence in a criminal case is not greater than or different to that required in a civil suit. 6 A.V. R. 57.
3. The quantum of evidence does not depend on the enormity of crime but still it is safer to follow the rule that "the fouler the crime, the clearer and the plainer the proof ought to be." 59 I. C. 858, 1933 S. 166=34 Cr. L. J. 808.

4. It is the weight of evidence and not the number of witnesses which the Court has to consider in a case. 1921 O. 115=22 Cr. L. J. 647, 1925 O. 501, 1925 L. 275, 1934 L. 158, 1930 L. 892, 53 A. 598, 19 Cr. L. J. 946, 1920 P. 366.

5. Conviction can be based on the evidence of complainant alone. 1934 O. 244.

35. Record of— See Record.

Conviction on evidence recorded by subordinate Magistrate is illegal. 17 P. R. 1867.

36. Suggestions by accused or Pleader.

Mere suggestions by a Pleader for the accused do not amount to evidence, unless partly or wholly accepted by the witnesses for the prosecution. 1932 C. 375=35 C. W. N. 106=139 I. C. 245=33 Cr. L. J. 725.

37. Suppressing of— See Abetment—16.

1. If prosecution deliberately suppresses part played by deceased, the story put forward by accused should be believed. 1934 L. 696.
2. If there are number of facts which lead one to suspect that real truth has not been placed before the Court and story put forward by accused is not inconsistent, it is not just to convict him. 1935 C. 304.

38. Track— See Track.

39. Tutored— See Witness—105.

40. Uncontradicted—

1. Ordinary legal and reasonable presumptions of facts must not be lost sight of in the trial of Indian cases, however untrustworthy much of the evidence submitted to these Courts may commonly be; that is, due weight must be given to evidence, and it should not be rejected due to general distrust nor to perjury widely imputed, without some grave grounds to support the imputation. 14 Moo. I. A. 354.
2. If some evidence is wholly uncontradicted, it should be believed, when no evidence to impeach it has been produced, although it was capable of contradiction. 7 Moo. I. A. 167.

41. Using against co-accused.

The evidence of defence witnesses produced by one accused cannot be treated as prosecution evidence against other accused. 1925 A. 769=26 Cr. L. J. 1018, 1926 L. 627=96 I. C. 989=27 Cr. L. J. 1037.

42. Using in another file. See Record—II-A.

1. Depositions taken in one case cannot be used in another. 50 C. 223=4 L. 376, 1923 M. 327, 50 A. 457, 56 M. 159, 1924 C. 813.
2. If witnesses are not examined and depositions are filed in another case, it is no evidence. 1923 M. 327=72 I. C. 525=24 Cr. L. J. 413.
3. When evidence in a case is treated as evidence in the counter case, the procedure is illegal and not curable under S. 537, Cr. P. C. 4 L. 376=1924 L. 104=25 Cr. L. J. 68, 17 Cr. L. J. 439, 1928 L. 34.
4. It is only a curable irregularity to consolidate more than one similar complaints and to record evidence by consent of accused is one of them and use it in another. 50 B. 174=1926 Bom. 231=98 I. C. 407=27 Cr. L. J. 1335.
5. Where parties consented to treat evidence in one case as evidence in the other and no injustice followed from it, the trial is not bad. 50 A. 457.
6. If depositions are filed in another case with the consent of parties and witnesses are called and examined and they swear to the truth of their previous statements, there is nothing illegal or irregular in the procedure. 53 M. 775, 9 A. 609, 1923 M. 32 Expl., 1927 L. 781, 1924 L. 164 and 1926 B. 231 Dist.
7. In two dacoity cases material witnesses were examined separately and carbon copies of statement of formal witnesses in one case were filed in another. Held, it was mere irregularity. Sessions Judge can rectify it by summoning and examining them. 1935 O. 9 (1)=36 Cr. L. J. 175, 55 A. 1040=1933 A. 690 Ref.

EXAMINATION OF ACCUSED. S. 342, Cr. P. C. See Defence.

1. Accused. See—17.

1. Two persons were shown in the charge sheet as accused persons but were not sent up for trial. No process was issued against them. They were examined as prosecution witness. Held, they were not "accused" for the purposes of S. 342. 1935 B. 186=59 B. 355, 16 B. 661 and 33 C. 1353 Rel. on.
2. Accused means the accused then under trial and under examination by the Court. 23 B. 213, 45 C. 720, 1920 N. 255, 17 Cr. L. J. 256.
3. Co accused tried separately is a competent witness. 1925 R. 122.
4. It cannot include accused over whom Court is exercising jurisdiction in another inquiry or trial. 56 C. 400, 20 A. 426, 35 C. 161, 45 C. 720, 58 C. 1214.
5. Where a person is not on trial. 1920 N. 255, 38 P. R. 1887; or is given pardon under S. 337, 21 P. R. 1904 or is discharged, 16 B. 66 or convicted, 58 C. 1214, he is not accused person.

2. After alteration of charge.

1. It is not necessary to examine the accused again after the charge is altered, although some of the witnesses after the alteration or addition to the charge have been recalled under S. 231, Cr. P. C. 1 P. 54=1922 P. 393=23 Cr. L. J. 146.
2. Where a Magistrate finds that a charge of house breaking with intent to commit theft is untenable, but finds that there was different object, he must give notice of that to the accused. 41 C. 743.

3. After further cross-examination.

If the prosecution witnesses were recalled for further cross-examination, and accused was not examined afterwards, the trial is vitiated 1934 L. 648 (1), 1925 L. 230, 7 L. 564=1926 L. 551, 1 R. 666 Foll. 4 L. 61 Ref.

regard to the confessional statements made before the Committing Magistrate and another Magistrate under S. 164. Held, the procedure is illegal. 1922 A. 266=73 I. C. 497=24 Cr. L. J. 609.

5. Sessions Judge should not cross-examine accused to confront them with statements made to the investigating officer. 1935 A. 717=155 I. C. 560=36 Cr. L. J. 773.

6. If the questions in the nature of cross-examination are put, they should not be taken into account. 4 L. 55, 8 Cr. L. J. 62, 10 Cr. L. J. 325.

11. Joint trial—Joint Statement. See—9.

1. Statement of one accused cannot be taken into consideration against the other accused. 54 B. 531=1930 Bom. 354=31 Cr. L. J. 1137=127 I. C. 105.

2. The trial Court examined several accused separately before charge but jointly after the closing up of prosecution evidence and recorded a joint statement of theirs under S. 342. Held, that the procedure is illegal. 109 I. C. 117=10 L. L. J. 305=29 Cr. L. J. 469=29 P. L. R. 436, 1926 L. 155 Foll.

3. Two co-accused on a trial for the same crime are not debarred from giving a concerted statement. When a Magistrate was examining an accused, he found that the other two accused were exchanging remarks. Held, that the course that the accused attempted to follow was not an illegal or improper and that the Magistrate was not entitled to remove the second accused from the Court and examine the first accused in his absence. 1925 N. 403=91 I. C. 242=27 Cr. L. J. 66.

4. Under S. 42, Factories Act, a manager or occupier initially charged, can go into witness box not as accused but as a complainant against the other person whom he has brought in to prove that he committed the offence without his knowledge. 56 C. 400=1928 C. 557=117 I. C. 673=32 C. W. N. 922.

12. Gaps in prosecution—filling up by—.

1. The accused should not be examined for filling up gaps in the prosecution. 26 C. 49, 1925 N. 403, 27 Cr. L. J. 65, 9 P. 504=1930 P. 498, 27 M. 238, 36 M. 457, 42 A. 52, 4 L. 55, 28 C. 689, Cont. 1935 C. 687.

2. Accused should not be examined for supplementing evidence when it is deficient. 1 C. L. R. 436, 10 M. 295.

3. Where in a charge of defamation the prosecution is unable to prove that accused published the defamatory matter, it is illegal to examine the accused for supplying this defect in the prosecution. 27 M. 238, 4 L. 55=1923 L. 225.

4. It is improper to question the accused for the purpose of proving his identity, when prosecution has not let in evidence to that effect. 4 Cr. L. J. 471.

5. Where the prosecution has not let in evidence implicating the accused in the offence with which he is charged the Magistrate is not entitled to put questions to him under S. 342. 39 M. 770, 4 L. 55, 9 M. 244.

13. Improper questions.

1. The Magistrate cannot put any questions with the object of trapping him into some sort of admission after he has resiled from his confession. 2 L. 129.

2. It is objectionable to put questions to the accused in regard to the matter which he had previously mentioned in his confession and which he had repudiated as untrue. 7 C. W. N. 345.

2. Where the prosecution has adduced an evidence implicating the accused in the offence, the Magistrate has no right to put questions to him or to invite him to make a statement, the answers given by him to such questions are inadmissible in evidence against him. 39 M. 770, 4 L. 55, 9 M. 224.

4. It is improper to examine the accused for filling up gaps in prosecution or supplementing evidence. 4 L. 55, 26 C. 49, 9 P. 504, 14 M. 295.

5. It is improper to question the accused to ascertain from him the names of witnesses or what evidence they will give or what his defence is. 14 A. 242, 13 A. 345, 27 M. 238, 1925 N. 403=91 I. C. 242=27 Cr. L. J. 66.

6. It is improper for a Magistrate to put questions to the accused, before his conviction in the present trial, about his previous convictions, either with a view to take them into consideration for the purpose of conviction or to dispense with the formal evidence as to the alleged previous conviction and as to the identity of the accused in the event of conviction. 23 B. 129, 23 C. 687. Cont. 4 N. L. R. 163.

7. An examination of the accused of an inquisitorial nature or for filling up gaps in prosecution is improper and illegal. 1925 N. 403 14 A. 242.
8. Questions in the nature of cross-examination should be avoided. 1930 S. 225=126 I. C. 449, 31 Cr. L. J. 1026, 2 L. 129.
9. Embarrassing questions to draw admission from accused are improper. 1925 S. 116=81 I. C. 249=25 Cr. L. J. 761.
10. It is highly improper to subject the accused to a very embarrassing and cruel series of questions intended rather to puzzle him. 6 Bom. L. R. 94.
11. Putting one long composite question is irregular. 1927 L. 650=103 I. C. 847.
12. No judicial officer should attempt to compel accused to make admission detrimental to his interest. 19 A. 291.
13. Magistrate cannot ask accused about his previous conviction. 23 C. 689, 23 B. 129, 5 C. W. N. 239, 5 C. W. N. 864, 2 Cr. L. J. 227.
14. Incomplete chalan.

A was charged with murder. Police put in incomplete chalan before a Committing Magistrate who after examining some of the prosecution witnesses examined the accused under S. 342, who confessed. But when he was again examined, he retracted. Held, that an attempt by Police to get over the mandatory provisions of S. 164 must be deprecated and confession should be ruled out. 1928 L. 724=110 I. C. 329=20 P. L. R. 388=10 L. J. 311=29 Cr. L. J. 697.

15. Inducement in. S. 343, Cr. P. C.

1. Eliciting of admission by putting words in accused's mouth is unfair. 5 C. P. L. R. 11.
2. Accused is not bound to produce absconding co-accused and Court cannot exercise pressure on him. 1930 L. 953.
3. As to what is the consequence of inducement. See 17 Cr. L. J. 256.

16. Nature of questions. See—19.

1. The Magistrate asked "what have you to say regarding the statement of the witnesses". Held, this was not a sufficient compliance with the law. 1 R. 689=1924 R. 172=77 I. C. 887=25 Cr. L. J. 487.
2. The specific points which weigh against the accused must be mentioned for if this is not done he cannot be expected to explain those points. The general question "what have you to say?" is insufficient. 1 R. 689=1924 R. 172.
3. To all the accused, the question was put separately "what is your defence?" To which the accused replied "I am innocent. I will file written statement." Held, that this was sufficient compliance with S. 342. 1926 C. 424=90 I. C. 294=26 Cr. L. J. 1510, 1923 C. 470.
4. A general question to accused is sufficient, Court need not put specific questions. 1927 M. 613=100 I. C. 991, 1925 C. 361, 1927 N. 71=91 I. C. 997. Cont. 1926 L. 447, 1925 L. 361.
5. When accused is defended by Counsel, failure of Magistrate to put explicit questions is immaterial. 1933 M. 233=56 M. 231.

17. Oath to accused. See—1, Witnesses—77.

If after close of examination, evidence against accused is given and he is not examined, the trial is illegal from that stage. 1934 L. 631, 1928 L. 230, 15 L. 60=1934 L. 96, 7 L. 564=1926 L. 551 and 1928 L. 382 Rel. on. 1933 L. 1002, 1930 L. 153 (2) 1928 N. 162 and 1926 P. 29, 1925 S. 127, 1924 P. 374, 1925 N. 433.
22. If evidence against accused is entirely circumstantial, important circumstances, which if unexplained would lead to conviction should be specifically pointed out to accused and explanation elicited, otherwise conviction cannot be sustained. 1936 M. 628-629, 1936 M. 715, 1933 P. C. 124, 1923 P. 91.
Deceased was last seen with accused selling ornaments on deceased's person same day. If accused is not examined on this point, conviction is bad. 1936 M. 629=59 M. 631 (ii) 1933 P. C. 124 fol.
24. S. 342 does not apply if no evidence has been given by prosecution. 13 A. 345, 5 C. W. N. 684, 6 L. 183, 39 M. 770, 22 Cr. L. J. 146, or when no evidence implicating the accused has been given. 4 L. 55=1923 L. 225, 1929 N. 350=31 Cr. L. J. 15.
25. In a petty or technical case, case should not be remanded for complying with the provisions of S. 342. 52 C. 522, 1934 L. 618, 1934 L. 415, 1925 C. 980, 1933 L. 1002, 1933 N. 192.
26. If further evidence is taken after the examination of accused, it should be rejected. 1927 L. 916.

20. Privilege—Defamation during—or contempt of Court.

1. If the accused gave a defamatory answer to a question put by the Court and was relevant to the matter in issue, held, that S. 342 (2) applied and he was not punishable for defamation. 1927 A. 707=50 A. 169, 36 M. 216 and 1923 C. 1 Rel. 1926 A. 557 Dist. 1924 B. 141 Dist. from.
2. Relevant statements made by an accused person under S. 342 or contained in a written statement are not absolutely protected for being the subject of a charge of defamation. 20 B. 162=1926 B. 141=93 I. C. 151, 48 C. 382.

Examination of accused—(contd.)

3. A statement which amounts to contempt of Court will render the accused liable to punishment. 46 Ll. 973=1922 Ll. 261=23 Cr. C. J. 325.
- 21. Proceedings after irregularity.
- Evidence taken after examination of the accused without further explanation from him cannot be taken into account. 1927 L. 916=106 I. C. 347=29 Cr. L. J. 11.
- 22. Public Prosecutor or Prosecutor conducting—
1. Where a Magistrate does not discharge the statutory function under S. 342 in a judicial manner and acts as the mouthpiece of the Public Prosecutor in conducting the examination of the accused, it is a good ground for transfer of the case. 1930 L. 166=123 I. C. 570=31 Cr. L. J. 560, 10 M. 121.
 2. Court and not the prosecution must put questions, only in exceptional circumstances. Magistrate should accept suggestions from prosecution as to questions to be put. 1934 N. 213=151 I. C. 778, 1933 N. 269.
- 23. Record of— S. 364, Cr. P. C.
1. Omission to comply with the provisions of S. 364, Cr. P. C., vitiates the trial. 1926 C. 430=87 I. C. 920=26 Cr. L. J. 1032=29 C. W. N. 939.
 2. A record of the examination of accused made under S. 364 is obligatory. 52 C. 446=1925 C. 821=88 I. C. 860=25 Cr. C. J. 1244.
 3. Of an examination of the accused under S. 342 there was no record except that "the accused declined to make a statement in this Court and on being asked whether they would adduce any evidence they replied in the negative." Held, that the provisions of S. 364 were violated and the trial should be held afresh. 52 C. 403=1925 C. 575=86 I. C. 345=26 Cr. L. J. 761=41 C. L. J. 50.
 4. Under S. 342, all the questions and answers shall be reduced into writing and shall be read over to accused. If he does not understand the language of the Court, it shall be interpreted to him. 1921 P. 109=61 I. C. 705=22 Cr. L. J. 417.
 5. The whole statement of an accused charged with murder should be taken down. He should be allowed some latitude. 139 I. C. 228.
 6. Where there has been no enquiry, the accused cannot be questioned. A Magistrate before whom an accused was produced asked him "Did you on 27th August commit murder of S. with a hatchet." Held, that the confessional statement is illegal, as there were no facts before the Magistrate nor any evidence to formulate such questions. 1930 L. 454=123 I. C. 540=31 Cr. L. J. 533.
 7. It is obligatory on the Magistrate to read over or show the statement to the accused, otherwise the statement is inadmissible. 1923 P. 13=24 Cr. L. J. 497.
 8. Under S. 364 the accused is entitled to explain or add to his statement when read over or shown to him. 10 L. 223=1929 L. 382=29 Cr. L. J. 769=110 I. C. 801.
 9. Statements of accused or witnesses are governed by S. 164, Cr. P. C. 45 M. 230=1922 M. 40=23 Cr. L. J. 680=69 I. C. 264.
 10. S. 364 only lays down that every question asked and answer given must be recorded in full, but it does not compel a Magistrate proceeding under S. 164 to put a series of questions and record answer. The confessing person should be allowed to narrate his story as a whole without interference. 137 I. C. 95=1932 L. 180=33 P. L. R. 16=33 Cr. L. J. 414.
 11. The accused in reply to the Committing Magistrate said "I have nothing to state here. I have fired two shots at His Excellency...I do not think that this would be taken down in my statement." Held, that the whole statement was rightly recorded. 1932 B. 279=34 Bom. L. R. 571=138 I. C. 503=33 Cr. L. J. 613.
 12. Irrelevant answers may be refused by judge. 1933 A. 690.
 13. Every piece of incriminating evidence must be brought to the notice of accused. Practice of taking written statements must be condemned. 1936 O. 405.
- 24. Refusal to answer question. See Public Servant—42.
1. Accused is entitled to refuse to answer questions put to him. 1931 L. 178, 4 P. 231.

Examination of accused—(contd.)

2. A counsel may legally advise the accused not to answer questions. 3 Cr. L. J. 134 (135).
3. Where accused declines to answer questions put to him, the fact should be noted on the record. (1871) 15 W. R. Cr. 16.
4. There is great risk in refusing to answer questions, as the Court and Jury may draw inference against the accused. 16 Cr. L. J. 724, 1931 L. 178=32 Cr. L. J. 684, 19 Cr. L. J. 189, 20 Cr. L. J. 465, 1924 L. 257.
5. Refusal to answer questions is not punishable. 1 Bom. L. R. 435.
6. The fact that accused declines to make a statement does not mean that he would not like to answer specific questions. 57 C. 1074=1930 C. 209.

25. Refusal to sign statement—See Public Servant—43.

Refusal to sign statement is punishable under S. 180. 1935 A. 652.

26. Retrial.

1. The appellate Court is bound to order retrial from the point the illegality was committed. 1 P. R. 1918, 1926 L. 551, 1925 C. 692, 15 L. 60.
2. Where accused's statement was taken before many of the prosecution witnesses were examined but no statement was recorded afterwards, the trial should be held afresh 1925 C. 574=75 I. C. 367=28 C. W. N. 118=24 Cr. L. J. 943.
3. If the provisions of S. 342 are not complied with, the conviction should be set aside and case should be remitted for disposal according to law. 45 C. 672, 1921 C. 605. =77 I. C. 982, 1922 P. 158.

27. Revision.

1. The Court of Revision is not bound to interfere if the accused is not prejudiced by the illegality. 1928 L. 230, 1926 L. 553, 1932 O. 113, 1921 P. 374.
2. When the provisions of S. 342 are not complied with, the High Court will interfere in revision, whether or not the accused is prejudiced. 50 C. 223 (227)=1923 C. 196=24 Cr. L. J. 198, 1925 P. 342=35 I. C. 155, 1924 N. 51=81 I. C. 201.

28. Second time on De novo trial.

1. If no new matter is introduced in evidence in first trial, omission to examine accused for second time at such trial does not vitiate trial. 1935 M. 22 (1)=58 M. 427 =153 I. C. 297=36 Cr. L. J. 307.
2. Accused should be examined second time on de novo trial. 1927 L. 727.

29. Sessions Court.

1. The Sessions Judge, in cases tried by jury must carefully examine the accused in his own Court. 1926 O. 57=26 Cr. L. J. 1576, 1927 R. 19, 1920 P. 471.
2. Accused cannot file written statement in Sessions Court. 1935 C. 687=29 C. W. N. 1309.

30. Statement of co-accused. See Confession by co-accused.

1. Statement of co-accused, though can be used as link in the chain cannot form basis of conviction. 1934 Pesh. 11=35 Cr. L. J. 719.
2. Statement cannot be used against co-accused unless provisions of S. 30, Evidence Act, are satisfied. 54 B. 531, 1931 N. 169=32 Cr. L. J. 1222.
3. Where each accused was examined in the absence of the other and convicted chiefly on the statement of co-accused, conviction was set aside. 7 C. 65.

31. Summary trial. S. 263, Cr. P. C. See—4.

1. There is nothing in the Code which requires that the full statement of the examination of accused should be put on the record. 1927 O. 42=99 I. C. 103=23 Cr. L. J. 76. See 1926 S. 1=90 I. C. 434=24 Cr. L. J. 1554.
2. The examination of accused in summary trial is imperative. 41 C. 743, 3 P. L. T. 347, 15 L. 60, 1935 A. 217, 1923 A. 222, 1931 L. 153.
3. Examination need not be detailed one. 6 P. 504=1927 P. 169, 1922 P. 5.

Examination of accused—(contd.)

4. Failure to comply with the provisions of S. 312, Cr. P. C., in a summary trial is fatal. 1926 S. 1=26 Cr. L. J. 1554, 54 C. 286, 15 L. 60.
5. Examination of accused in a summary trial is essential, though it need not be taken with all formalities of S. 364. Mere statement of prisoner's plea without recording it in the form is not compliance with this obligation. 1935 S. 193=1926 S. 1=26 Cr. L. J. 1554 and 9 C. W. N. 76 (notes) Rel. nn.

32. Summons case. See—4.

1. S. 342 applies to summons case. 54 C. 236, 1926 A. 358=93 I. C. 69, 1926 L. 667=96 I. C. 856, 1923 C. 480, 1926 S. 281=98 I. C. 186, 1926 S. 1=90 I. C. 434, 85 I. C. 943, 46 B. 441, 1921 B. 370=61 I. C. 501, 61 I. C. 715, 45 B. 672 Cont. 1927 L. 268=101 I. C. 608=23 Cr. L. J. 408.
2. If summons case is begun as warrant case, omission to examine accused after further evidence after charge is fatal. 1933 N. 192=34 Cr. L. J. 340.

33. Time for—

1. Accused cannot be examined before any evidence is recorded, because there is nothing which he can be asked to explain at that stage. 9 M. 224, 1883 A. W. N. 232, 6 L. 183=1925 L. 432=25 Cr. L. J. 1238.
2. Where accused was examined after two prosecution witnesses and then another prosecution witness was examined. Held, that the omission to further examine the accused is fatal. 49 C. 1075=1923 C. 164=24 Cr. L. J. 3.
3. Accused should be examined after the cross-examination of the prosecution witnesses, even where the cross-examination is adjourned at the request of the accused. 1924 P. 376=72 I. C. 891=24 Cr. L. J. 475.
4. The Magistrate began to question the accused before the close of prosecution evidence, with regard to his confession made by him under S. 164, Cr. P. C. Held, that the stage at which confession should have been considered was when the prosecution case was closed. 1922 A. 266=73 I. C. 497=24 Cr. L. J. 609.
5. The examination of the accused must take place at the close of the prosecution case and before the accused have entered upon their defence. 51 C. 933, 50 B. 42, 101 I. C. 449, 1930 B. 241, 50 C. 939, 52 C. 522, 50 C. 518, 50 C. 223, 1926 C. 537, 29 Cr. L. J. 382, 1 P. R. 1918 Cr., 1922 L. 45, 1925 L. 282, 7 L. 564, 1926 L. 684, 1931 L. 153=32 Cr. L. J. 708, 1931 M. 241, 1924 N. 301, 1934 O. 457, 1934 P. 330.
6. An omission to examine the accused at the stage indicated by S. 342 is an irregularity covered by S. 537, Cr. P. C. 1927 C. 330=100 I. C. 827=45 C. L. J. 591, 49 A. 551 Cont. 1928 B. 140, 1926 B. 57.
7. Where the accused was examined before charge but after charge, when the case was posted for further cross-examination, the accused only put in list of defence witnesses. Held, the provisions of S. 342, were not complied with. 1929 Bom. 447=122 I. C. 424=31 Cr. L. J. 402=31 Bom. L. R. 1134.
8. The accused need not be examined after the case is adjourned for further cross-examination. 56 C. 1157=1930 C. 219=122 I. C. 291.
9. According to practice in the Punjab, if no fresh witnesses are to be taken, the accused need not be examined again after further cross examination. 1929 L. 371=30 Cr. L. J. 625, 1924 L. 84, 1926 L. 154 and 1923 M. 609 Foll. 1926 L. 551 Dist.
10. A confessional statement of accused before the examination of witnesses is inadmissible in evidence. 1930 L. 454=123 I. C. 540=31 Cr. L. J. 533.

34. Undefended accused.

If the accused is undefended, the Court may point out to him the elements of the evidence adduced against him which demand explanation but should not examine him at length when defended by Pleader. 1923 M. 694=25 Cr. L. J. 7.

35. Use and value of statement.

1. Statement cannot be used to supplement prosecution evidence, if there is no evidence on the point. 51 A. 313=1929 A. 1=30 Cr. L. J. 101=113 I. C. 213.

Examination of accused—(contd.)

2. The answers given by accused during his examination may be taken into consideration at the trial and proper inferences may be drawn therefrom and even in subsequent trial for any other offence they may be used as evidence for or against him. 1921 P. 122=61 I. C. 785=22 Cr. L. J. 433=15 B. 66.
 3. Statement cannot be used to fill up gaps in prosecution. 26 C. 49, 27 M. 238, 39 M. 449, 120 I. C. 95=1929 S. 255, 4 L. 55, 36 M. 457.
 4. In case of circumstantial evidence, Court should always take the explanation of accused into consideration. 49 B. 878.
 5. Burden of proving exceptions is on accused, which may be discharged by the circumstances and his statement. 1927 A. 119, 1929 S. 90, 1933 R. 142, 6 L. 171.
 6. Where the answers given satisfactorily explain the prosecution evidence, there can be no conviction. The entire statement should be considered. Court cannot select passages to corroborate prosecution evidence. 51 A. 313=1929 A. 1, 1933 A. 401=34 Cr. L. J. 765, 21 C. 955, 39 C. 855, 12 Cr. L. J. 142, 33 Cr. L. J. 570=138 I. C. 217.
 7. Statement can be used for or against accused. 1921 P. 122.
 8. It cannot be used against any person other than the one who made it. 21 C. 955, 13 P. R. 1878, 27 P. R. 1869, 2 N. W. P. H. C. R. 336.
 9. Accused can make admission of fact at his trial which may relieve the prosecution from bringing evidence to prove such admitted facts. 4 Cr. L. J. 471.
 10. Judge cannot take into consideration circumstances appearing in the evidence, if he did not call attention of accused to explain them. 34 Cr. L. J. 411=142 I. C. 785.
- 36. Who can examine—
1. Only the Court conducting the trial or inquiry can examine the accused. Neither the complainant nor his counsel is authorized to put questions to the accused. 10 M. 121. See 1934 N. 213, 1933 N. 269.
 2. If the Magistrate acts as the mouthpiece of the Public Prosecutor in conducting the examination of the accused, the procedure is illegal and it is a good ground for transfer. 1930 L. 166=123 I. C. 570=31 Cr. L. J. 363.
- 37. Written statement. S. 256 (2), Cr. P. C.
1. Though written statement can be put in and accepted by the Court, still it cannot be allowed to take the place of the examination of accused under S. 342. 42 C. 957, 22 Cr. L. J. 276, 1922 P. 5=65 I. C. 546, 69 I. C. 377, 2 P. L. T. 455.
 2. Since the written statement is drawn up by the legal advisers or friends of the accused, and not by the accused themselves, the object of S. 342 is defeated. 50 C. 518, 19 C. W. N. 1043, 16 Cr. L. J. 9 and cannot have the same value as coming direct from accused's mouth. 16 Cr. L. J. 724.
 3. The promise to file written statement made at the time of the plea, does not exempt the Court from its duty of examining him under S. 342. 50 C. 518=1923 C. 470, 1921 P. 415=61 I. C. 794=22 Cr. L. J. 442.
 4. Where the accused persons were not examined under S. 342, after the prosecution evidence but filed written statements at that stage and also after the examination of defence witnesses. Held, that the accused not having been prejudiced, there was no miscarriage of justice and the High Court will not interfere in revision. 1 P. 31=1922 P. 388=69 I. C. 383=23 Cr. L. J. 703=4 P. L. T. 60.
 5. A Magistrate asked the accused whether he had to say anything besides the written statement. Held, that the procedure though not right is not illegal. 60 I. C. 676=22 Cr. L. J. 276.
 6. The accused was asked whether he had to say anything more after the cross-examination and re-examination of the prosecution witnesses and he also filed written statement. Held, that the written statement filed by the accused would have relieved the Magistrate from asking him the oral question. 4 P. 488=1925 P. 414=86 I. C. 459, 1926 A. 358=93 I. C. 69, 120 I. C. 753.

9. The filing of written statement by the accused at the close of the trial is not tantamount to oral examination of the accused required by S. 342. 1931 M. 241.
10. Accused cannot file written statement in Sessions Court. 1935 C. 687, 1926 P. 566=27 Cr. L. J. 1041. Cont. 1933 A. 690.
11. Gaps in prosecution can be filled up by written statement of accused. 1935 C. 687.
12. Practice of taking written statements of accused is to be condemned. 1936 O. 405.
13. S. 256 (2) provides for the filing of written statement by the accused. 2 Weir 255 (1900).
14. Court is bound to put the written statement on file. 1928 M. 1135, 55 A. 1040.
15. Great weight should be attached to the written statement of accused, but does not preclude him from raising any other defence. 1928 A. 222=30 Cr. L. J. 530, 12 Cr. L. J. 535, 1930 C. 442.
16. Accused can file any documents, and Court must consider them although they are not regularly proved. 1928 M. 1135=29 Cr. L. J. 1041.
17. A legal practitioner is not entitled to file written statement in proceedings under the Legal Practitioner's Act or Letters Patent. 5 L. 271.

EXAMINATION OF APPROVER. *See Pardon—2-A.EXAMINATION OF COMPLAINANT. Ss. 200, 244, 252, Cr. P. C.

1. An order dismissing the complaint without examining the complainant is illegal. 48 B. 360=81 I. C. 608=25 Cr. L. J. 960, 13 B. 590, 30 C. 923, 1921 S. 84=66 I. C. 179=23 Cr. L. J. 243, 23 C. W. N. 392, 9 C. W. N. 199.
2. Merely cross examining the complainant or his witnesses in the preliminary enquiry is not sufficient. 30 C. 923.
3. When deposition in the shape of complaint is made orally or in writing and is sworn to, it is sufficient compliance. 9 A. 566.
4. The object of examination of complainant is to see whether there is a prima facie case against the accused. 11 P. R. 1911 Cr.=12 Cr. L. J. 217.
5. A Magistrate is bound to examine the complainant. 13 C. 334, 4 M. H. C. R. 162.
6. Mere calling upon the complainant to attest the complaint is not sufficient. 18 A. 221.
7. If the complainant is Paida Nashin lady, she may be examined by commission under S. 503, Cr. P. C. 42 C. 49. See 10 P. R. 1896 Cr. 1935 O. 6.
8. A complaint which is not signed by the complainant cannot be accepted. 42 C. 19.

EXEMPTION FROM PERSONAL ATTENDANCE. S. 205, Cr. P. C.

1. Appearance by Pleader.

1. On service of summons the accused need not personally attend but may appear by Pleader. Such appearance is a valid appearance and the Magistrate cannot prosecute the accused under S. 174, I. P. C. for non-appearance. 27 C. 985.
2. The Pleader appearing for the accused may perform all the acts which devolve on the accused in the course of trial. He can answer questions put under S. 342, Cr. P. C., and can plead or refuse to plead guilty. 6 S. L. R. 206, 4 R. 506=1927 R. 73, 1934 B. 212, 50 B. 250=1926 B. 218.
3. If the Court dispenses with the personal appearance of the accused, it can act upon the plea given by his Pleader. 50 B. 250=1926 B. 218=27 Cr. L. J. 440.
4. If personal appearance of accused is dispensed with Magistrate is not bound to question him personally under S. 342. 1934 B. 212, 1926 B. 218, 1927 R. 73. Cont. 1934 A. 693 (2)=35 Cr. L. J. 879.
5. Bond cannot be taken from the Pleader. 5 B. H. C. R. 64.

2. Applicability of S. 205, Cr. P. C.

1. S. 205 applies only where a summons has been issued to the accused. It is illegal to dispense with personal appearance when warrants are issued in the first instance. 36 P. R. 1917 Cr., 2 P. 793=1924 P. 46=24 Cr. L. J. 872.
2. Personal attendance can be excused in cases where a summons is issued in the first instance to accused, irrespective of the fact whether he appears in answer to the summons or has to be brought in by a warrant of arrest subsequently. 1930 N. 61=121 I. C. 651=30 Cr. L. J. 234.
3. If in a warrant case, the Magistrate issues a summons to a parda nashin lady, he can dispense with her personal appearance. 21 C. 553, 20 P. W. R. 1903.
4. If the complaint against three women under S. 494, I. P. C. is vague, the Magistrate should excuse their personal appearance. 24 I. C. 947=15 Cr. L. J. 539.
5. S. 205 should be freely utilized where the prosecution is to gratify malice. 1931 S. 37=131 I. C. 137 (1)=32 Cr. L. J. 665.

3. Conviction in absence.

1. Where an accused is absent throughout the proceedings and a co-accused was allowed to represent him, the conviction of the absent accused should be set aside, as the Magistrate can dispense with absence of the accused only where he is represented by Pleader. 1921 R. 383=85 I. C. 669=26 Cr. L. J. 845, 106 I. C. 545.
2. Where a Court dispenses with the personal attendance of accused, under S. 205, it can convict him on the plea given by his Pleader. 50 B. 250=1926 B. 218.

4. In a case under S. 110, Cr. P. C. See S. 110, Cr. P. C.

5. Inherent power of High Court for— S. 561-A, Cr. P. C.

High Court can under its inherent powers, pass an order excusing the personal attendance of the accused and permitting him to represent himself in Court by a Pleader. 1930 N. 61=121 I. C. 651=31 Cr. L. J. 234, 14 Bom. L. R. 236, 1927 R. 73, 50 B. 250 and 17 C. W. N. 1248 Rel. on.

6. Parda Nashin Lady.

1. A parda nashin lady cannot as of right claim exemption from personal attendance in Court. 5 A. 92.
2. In summons cases the Magistrate should use his discretion under S. 205 by dispensing with Parda Nashin Lady's personal attendance until he has before him clear and prima facie proof of an offence committed by her. 6 A. 59, 5 P. W. R. 1903 Cr., 20 P. W. R. 1903 Cr.
3. In Sessions cases also she may be permitted to appear by a Pleader in the Comm. or Magistrate's Court and the Sessions Court. 17 C. W. N. 1248, 45 M. 352.

Exemption from personal attendance—(concl'd.)

4. Where a Magistrate has refused to excuse the personal attendance of a farda nashin lady, High Court will interfere in a proper case. 1927 A. 149=28 Cr. L. J. 94.
 5. A Magistrate issuing summons instead of a warrant by inadvertence has power to make an order under S. 205. 21 I. C. 476=14 Cr. L. J. 604.
 6. The mere impression of the Magistrate that accused is not farda nashin is not sufficient to refuse her the benefit of S. 205, Cr. P. C., which should be freely exercised in Sind. 11 Cr. L. J. 157=1927 A. 149.
 7. A Criminal Court should not compel the attendance of a farda nashin woman unless and until the case has reached the stage where her presence is clearly required. 5 P. W. R. 1909 Cr.
7. Recording reasons for.

The Magistrate must note on the record that permission under S. 205 has been given and should not leave the point to mere noting on the application. 50 B. 250=1926 Bom. 218=27 Cr. L. J. 440=93 I. C. 232.

8. Revocation of concession.

1. The concession should not be revoked merely on the ground that the Pleader attacks the jurisdiction of the Court or wants the case to be tried by some other Magistrate. 75 I. C. 150=24 Cr. L. J. 902=38 C. L. J. 9.
2. When the attendance of the accused has been excused, his personal appearance should not be insisted upon in order to make statement under S. 342, Cr. P. C. 4 R. 506=1927 R. 73=99 I. C. 1026=23 Cr. L. J. 235.

EXHIBITION.

Entry into Exhibition without ticket is not an offence under S. 415 or S. 447, I. P. C. 6 Bom. H. C. R. 6.

EXHUMATION. S. 176 (2), Cr. P. C.

1. There is practically no limit of time to the utility of an exhumation, for so long as the bones remain, these may in many cases afford valuable evidence, by which the innocence of suspected persons may be proved or the exhumation may prove murder by arsenic or other mineral poison. Lyon's Med. Jur. 1901, pp. 90-91.
2. In exhuming a body, it is desirable that a medical officer be present from the commencement, also any relative or acquaintance of the deceased person who can identify the corpse; and if buried in coffin, the carpenter who made the coffin should be present. Some earth below and above the body should be taken and preserved in cases of suspected poisoning for analysis. Lyon's Med. Jur. 1904, p. 90.

EXORCISING EVIL SPIRIT. See Culpable homicide—10EXPENSES OF WITNESSES. S. 344, Cr. P. C.*1. Called for further cross-examination under S. 256, Cr. P. C.

1. S. 256, Cr. P. C., gives the accused absolute right to recall witnesses for prosecution at the expense of the prosecution. It is not open to the Magistrate to order the accused to pay for recalling those witnesses. 1920 L. 466, 12 P. R. 1937 Cr.
2. Expenses incurred on recalling witnesses after charge should be paid by the Government. The Magistrate cannot demand from the complainant expenses to be incurred.

Expenses of Witnesses—(contd.)

ed by his witnesses. 1928 L. 175, 1929 L. 706.

3. If the prosecution is absolutely private one (e. g., for an offence of using false trade mark), and the offence is bailable, the complainant may be ordered to pay the expenses of the witnesses. 51 I. C. 418 = 1924 N. 114 = 25 Cr. L. J. 912.
4. A Magistrate has no power to ask the accused to deposit expenses of witnesses called under S. 256. 5 P. 110 = 1924 P. 214 = 27 Cr. L. J. 499, 1924 N. 114 = 25 Cr. L. J. 912, 4 C. W. N. 351, 1920 L. 466.

2. For defence. S. 257, Cr. P. C. See Defence witness—3.

1. Although under sub-cl. 2 S. 257 a Magistrate may before summoning any witness on the application of accused require that his travelling expenses be deposited in Court, but where the witnesses have already been summoned at the Government expense and are actually present in Court, the Magistrate is not justified in refusing to allow them to be cross-examined unless the accused had paid their expenses. 1929 L. 578 = 115 I. C. 76 = 30 Cr. L. J. 380.
2. After a charge had been framed against the accused under S. 500, I. P. C., he applied to the Court to issue summons to 19 witnesses. The Magistrate allowed 13 witnesses to be summoned provided, he paid the necessary expenses and process fee. Held, that the order is wrong because in warrant cases the usual rule is that the costs of accused person's witnesses are usually borne by the Crown. 105 I. C. 907 = 29 Cr. L. J. 459 (L.), 1929 L. 23 = 117 I. C. 667 = 30 Cr. L. J. 814.
3. Inability or refusal to pay the expenses of witnesses would not be an adequate ground for refusing to summon the defence witnesses. 7 P. R. 1898 Cr. 24 Cr. L. J. 831 = 74 I. C. 861. See 24 Cr. L. J. 686 = 1923 L. 420 = 73 I. C. 782.
4. If once the Magistrate allowed witnesses to be summoned under S. 257 without demanding expenses from the accused and if by chance witnesses are not examined on that date, he cannot order that on the next date of hearing witnesses shall not be summoned except on payment of their expenses by the accused. 22 Cr. L. J. 711 = 63 I. C. 871.
5. A person proceeded against under S. 110, Cr. P. C., is entitled to have his witnesses summoned at Government expense unless the Magistrate for any reason declines to do so. 1932 L. 577 = 138 I. C. 765 = 33 Cr. L. J. 679 = 33 P. L. R. 742.
6. The Magistrate should summon so many witnesses at one hearing as he thinks will be able to examine on that hearing, in order to save the expenses of parties. 24 Cr. L. J. 686 = 1923 L. 420 = 73 I. C. 782.
7. Accused should not be burdened with the costs of expert if his demand is not unreasonable. An expert is bound to attend when summoned by Court. 1936 L. 919, 1929 L. 23 = 30 Cr. L. J. 814, 29 Cr. L. J. 459 and 1932 L. 481 Rel. on.
8. Expenses of witnesses are usually borne by crown. 1929 L. 23 = 30 Cr. L. J. 814, 1932 L. 481 = 577, 7 P. R. 1898, 1924 P. 142, 29 Cr. L. J. 459. See 1923 L. 420.

3. In De novo Trials.

When due to the hasty action of a Magistrate in not giving short adjournment under S. 526 (8), the case has to be transferred, the costs of complainant should be borne by crown. 1936 N. 233.

4. In private prosecution—.

1. All criminal prosecutions are at the instance of the Crown and the Crown is really the prosecutor in a criminal case and all costs ought to be paid by the Crown for summoning witnesses for prosecution. 1924 P. 695 = 77 I. C. 810 = 25 Cr. L. J. 458 = 5 P. L. T. 487.
2. In private prosecution the complainant must pay the travelling expenses and diet money of his witnesses in advance. 1928 O. 226 = 110 I. C. 216 = 29 Cr. L. J. 664 = 5 O. W. N. 26.
3. A Court ordering a party to deposit the travelling allowance of a witness should state the amount of travelling allowance to be deposited. 1925 P. 553 = 87 I. C. 421 = 25 Cr. L. J. 965 = 6 P. L. T. 215.
4. When a private prosecution was ordered to be taken up by crown, the cost of expert witnesses should be paid by Crown. 1935 P. 455.

Expenses of Witnesses—(concld.)

5. S. 544, Cr. P. C., and rules framed by Local Government under this section, give a discretion to the Magistrate in the matter of expenses of complainant and witnesses, but such discretion should be exercised not arbitrarily but on sound Judicial principles. 9 Bom. L. R. 353.

5. Recovery of—from a party. S. 546-A., Cr. P. C.

1. There is no provision in the Code under which the Court can order payment of diet money to a witness. The power is vested in the Court under the general rules of the High Court and therefore a suit for recovery of such money is maintainable in a Civil Court. S. 547, Cr. P. C., does not apply to such a case. 1926 C. 289=90 I. C. 488=29 C. W. N. 1033.
2. The witness's fee should not be included in the costs under S. 546-A, Cr. P. C. 1935 R. 163=156 I. C. 598=36 Cr. L. J. 970.

EXPERT. S. 45, I. Ev. Act.

1. Court acting as—.

1. The practice of Court acting as handwriting expert has been disapproved. 1925 C. 485, 1925 C. 145=85 I. C. 525, 49 C. 235. See 1925 C. 768 and 9 Cr. L. J. 498.
2. Opinion of Court on medicines is valueless. 1924 C. 611=26 Cr. L. J. 71.
3. In case of thumb impression Court can apply magnifying glass to verify the result submitted to it by witnesses. 46 M. 715=1923 M. 178, 32 C. 759, 50 M. 462=1927 M. 696.

2. Excise officer as—.

Excise Sub-Inspector is expert for distinguishing liquors. The Court must ascertain grounds of expert's opinion. The evidence recorded in the connected case cannot be imported into the other. 1935 N. 13=154 I. C. 341=36 Cr. L. J. 511.

3. Expert—who is.

1. Judge should not himself compare signatures without the help of other evidence, as Court is not an expert. 1925 C. 485=78 I. C. 668, 1924 P. 284=72 I. C. 748.
2. In law the term 'expert' has a special significance and no witness is permitted to express his opinion unless he is an expert. 1930 A. 587=128 I. C. 441.
3. An Assistant Mint Master is an expert. 88 I. C. 848=1925 O. 616=25 Cr. L. J. 1232.
4. A Court's opinion based upon its own knowledge that a certain amount of arsenic would produce poisoning, collapse and unconsciousness is valueless when untrained in medicine. Similarly it cannot say by reference to medical books what medicine should be prescribed for biliary colic. 1924 C. 611=83 I. C. 631=26 Cr. L. J. 71 28 C. W. N. 579.

4. Evidence and value of—.

1. Expert evidence on commission loses much of its value. 1928 L. 533=108 I. C. 369=29 Cr. L. J. 377=10 L. L. J. 235.
2. An expert opinion not based on any well defined inexorable laws of nature cannot be taken as decisive, where there is direct evidence opposed to it. 1926 L. 313=96 I. C. 641=27 Cr. L. J. 977.
3. Opinion of a medical witness must not depend on which party calls him as witness. 1925 C. 768=87 I. C. 534=41 C. L. J. 300.
4. Evidence of a person who is not 'expert' in art of handwriting can be ruled out as inadmissible. 1930 L. 336=31 P. L. R. 109=127 I. C. 368.
5. Expert opinion on foreign law or local law need not be called for, when it is elaborately laid down in the Code. Court should itself interpret such law. 1930 M. 146=123 I. C. 600, 1925 A. 720=47 A. 823=89 I. C. 590=23 A. L. J. 768.
6. Opinion of expert as to identity of palm impression is admissible. 52 B. 223=1928 Bom. 158=108 I. C. 508=29 Cr. L. J. 410=30 Bom. L. R. 321.

7. The opinion of an expert given for the purposes of a suit in a previous suit is not substantive evidence and when the accused has not the opportunity of cross-examining the expert its value is very little. 1928 L. 921=29 Cr. L. J. 778.
8. Reports of experts are not legal evidence, unless they appear and are examined in Court. 1928 L. 427=106 I. C. 493=29 P. L. R. 125.
9. Chemical Examiner's negative report regarding absence of trace of blood in the earth and leaves taken from the alleged place of occurrence will not displace strong direct evidence of the place of murder. 1924 C. 625=83 I. C. 485=26 Cr. L. J. 5.
10. Report of finger print bureau is not admissible if not subjected to cross-examination, though parties agree to abide by it. 1924 N. 183=73 I. C. 641, 22 C. W. N. 745.
11. The report of the Government Expert who never came into the witness box and whose report is not even supported by affidavit is inadmissible. 1923 A. 601=75 I. C. 148=24 Cr. L. J. 900, 1 R. 290=1924 R. 17=76 I. C. 425=25 Cr. L. J. 185.
12. Evidence of thumb-impression expert is valuable. 1929 L. 210=30 Cr. L. J. 52.
13. Though it is unsafe to convict the accused upon the sole testimony of an expert, yet the Court cannot refuse to convict on the evidence of finger expert. 6 P. 305=1928 P. 129=104 I. C. 626=28 Cr. L. J. 850. See 9 Mys. L. J. 444.
14. When the evidence of Finger Print Expert as to age of thumb-impression is opposed to date on the document, Court should be careful to accept expert opinion, 1926 P. 575=97 I. C. 335.
15. Conclusion from thumb-impression can be basis of conviction. 46 M. 715=1923 M. 178=69 I. C. 374=23 Cr. L. J. 694=1922 M. W. N. 642, 32 C. 759.
16. Although finger prints sometimes afford valuable evidence of identity, great caution must be exercised when there were eye witnesses to transaction. Their evidence should not be lightly brushed aside. 1923 C. 240=70 I. C. 194=36 C. L. J. 9.
17. Where the Court did not believe the evidence on either side, and relied on the report of the thumb-impression bureau to whom it sent the document. Held, the procedure is illegal. 28 I. C. 132.
18. Expert evidence by itself is not sufficient to base a conclusion. 1928 P. 368.
19. Under Land Acquisition Act, an expert's evidence is useless if unsupported by data. 5 L. 227=1924 L. 548=79 I. C. 74, 33 B. 325, 11 C. W. N. 875, 10 Bom. L. R. 907 Foll.
20. Opinion of an expert is not infallible and he is likely to be partial to the party calling him. 1921 L. 126=59 I. C. 220=1933 L. 561=144 I. C. 331.
21. Medical evidence cannot give precise age of a person. 1928 L. 250=113 I. C. 53=10 L. L. J. 183, 1924 O. 353=83 I. C. 840.
22. An expert must be examined orally like other witnesses. Prosecution cannot put in evidence, statement made by a medical expert in another trial in the absence of the accused. 94 I. C. 139=27 Cr. L. J. 571=26 P. L. R. 80, 8 I. C. 713.
23. In murder cases, medical evidence must be given viva voce before the Jury. 56 C. 566=1929 P. C. 244=119 I. C. 378=30 Cr. L. J. 1031=38 C. W. N. 632.
24. Where the medical evidence tends to two explanations, it is not very important. 1929 O. 248=120 I. C. 820=31 Cr. L. J. 181.
25. The effect of medical testimony is to render other evidence as to the age of the person probable or improbable. 56 I. C. 313=7 O. L. J. 219.
26. If a Finger Print Expert has not been cross-examined as to the grounds of his opinion and as to the test to which he had put a particular finger print, the weight attached to such evidence cannot be diminished by applying to it considerations to which the witness's attention was never directed. 55 I. C. 273=21 Cr. L. J. 257.
27. Where the general condition and state of health of a testator is in issue, isolated extracts from medical works ought not to be preferred to evidence of a medical man. 51 I. C. 419.
28. Technical works cannot be used to refute an expert witness's opinion unless the

5. Time for giving—.

There are three occasions upon which accused has opportunity of giving explanation of his conduct or of mentioning any defence he may have. First, when he is originally charged, whether by an employer, any other person or Police Officer making enquiries or affecting his arrest. Secondly, when formally charged at the Police station; and thirdly, after the evidence is given against him before a Magistrate. It is a common trick of advocacy to say in answer to question by Court, "I reserve my defence, I call no witnesses here and I offer no evidence." Such a beginning is, to say the very least, a bad introduction to a true story. Wills on "Circumstantial Evidence" Sixth Edition at P. 102. 1935 S. 145 (154).
